REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

COUNTY, at Exeter, January 23d.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 19th.

Secretary Sherman gives notice that from the 25th inst. until further notice, he will receive subscriptions for the four per cent. U. S. funded loan, in denominations as stated below, at par and accrued interest in coin. The bonds are redeemable in thirty years from July 1, 1877, and bear interest, payable quarterly, on the 1st day of January, April, July and October, and are exempt from taxes or duties under United States, State, Municipal or local laws.

The subscriptions may be made for coupon bonds of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000, and for registered bonds of $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10.000.

Two per cent. of the purchase money must accompany the subscription, the remainder to be paid at the pleasure of the purchaser, at any time within thirty days thereafter, with interest on the amount, at four per cent. per annum, to date of payment, when the bonds will be transmitted free of charge to the subscribers, and a commission of one-fourth of one per cent. will be allowed upon the amount of all single subscriptions reaching $1,000 or above.

Forms of application will be furnished by the treasurer at Washington, the assistant treasurer at Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, New Orleans, New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis and San Francisco, and by the national banks and bankers generally. The applications must specify the amount and denominations required, and for registered bonds, the full name and post office address of the person to whom the bonds shall be made payable.

The interest on the registered bonds will be made payable to the order of the holder, mailed to his address. The check will be paid on presentation, properly endorsed, at the offices of the treasurer and assistant treasurer of the United States.

The payments may be made in coin to the treasurer at Washington, or assistant treasurers at the points above named.

For the convenience of subsribers the Department will also receive, in lieu of coin, called bonds of the United States, coupons past due or maturing within thirty days, or gold certificates issued under the act of March 3, 1863; and national banks will be designated as depositories under the provisions of section 5, 153, revised statutes of the United States, regulations to be hereafter prescribed.

The fragmentary report on the Chinese question found in Senator Morton's papers, and presented in the Senate, Thursday, as a minority report, takes strong grounds in favor of the Mongolian immigrant. It gives evidence of research into the history of the Chinese and favorably contrasts China with medieval Europe. His overflow into California is claimed to have been decidedly beneficial to that State, and any restriction upon immigration is opposed as repugnant to the genius of our institutions. The report claims that the evidence taken by the Commission shows the Chinese as industrious, temperate and honest, as a rule; that nearly all agricultural and railroad work in California would have to be suspended without him; that his presence has tended to elevate, rather than degrade white labor; and that the bitterest enmity against him exists among the worst elements of San Francisco's population. In this connection I may mention that a bill to restrict Chinese immigration was introduced by Mr. Davis of North Carolina, in the House, Thursday.

About all the time Wednesday and Thursday in the Senate was consumed in eulogizing deceased Senators Bogy and Morton; and the feeling appears to be quite general outside of Congress that a portion of the time thus frittered away in formal speech-making, could have been much more profitably devoted to the many vital problems now awaiting Congressional solution, without any impairment of the post mortem prospects of either of the dead Senators. Much time is devoted in the lower House to the introduction of private bills and of public bills relative to the most trivial matters, by members apparently anxious to impress their constituents with their Representative's devotion, or ambitious to shine in the Record as author of a bill; and the health of a majority appears unequal to the strain of a session of more than three or four hours' duration.

Wood's various committees under his investigation resolution, are organizing for a grand hunt after derelict republican officers; and if found, we may rest easy as to any danger that the real magnitude of their offences will not be promptly and fully made known.

A special message is soon expected, recommending that members of the Cabinet be allowed seats in the House, to enable them to personally explain the necessity of such appropriations as they urge in their annual reports, and to give information upon other matters of their jurisdiction calling for legislation. The case of Thomas Jefferson as Secretary of State, is cited as furnishing a precedent for such an innovation; and it is claimed that members could thus prepare themselves to vote on measures much more intelligently than now. KNOX.

The Eastern War.

The Russian capture of Adrianople is confirmed.

The Servians have captured Kershumli by storm, killing 500 Turks and capturing 500 more. On entering the place they found twenty-two Servian soldiers and two officers impaled.

The Roumanians have completed the investment of Widdin, and are bombarding that city.

It is reported that Sulieman Pasha's army has escaped toward the Black Sea. The Porte is ordering more troops to Constantinople.

A Russian official despatch of the 19th says Gen. Ghourko fought Sulieman Pasha three days in the Rhodope mountains, killed 4000 Turks, and took 8000, and 49 guns, driving Sulieman back into Roumelia.

Congress.

In the Senate, Monday, Mr. Barnside called up his motion to reconsider the resolution directing the judiciary committee to investigate the facts connected with the restoration of Major Runkle to the army. After very spirited speeches by Messrs. Conkling and Burnside, the latter withdrew his motion to reconsider. Many private and unimportant measures were introduced in both houses.

The Greenbackers made an exhibition of their strength in the House and voted, 154 to 96, in favor of a bill enacting that after Jan. 1, 1879, all duties on imports shall be paid in legal-tender. The soft money men held a caucus in the evening, and Gen. Butler's extreme financial utterances were warmly endorsed. Propositions were introduced in both Houses to put an end to further payments for the sinking fund.

Gen. Banks has introduced a bill in the House, which provides for a subsidy of $15,000 per mile for a proposed 600 miles extension of the Galvestou, Harrisburg and Antonio Railway from San Antonio to El Paso, Texas.

New Hampshire Items.

In Barnstead, on Saturday, a man named Merrill was killed while chopping in the woods by a tree falling upon him.

The Selectmen of Hopkinton have offered a reward of $300 for the arrest of the party who committed the crime upon William S. Curtis on the 30th of December.

Coroner Clement summoned the jury in the Jesseman-Dow tragedy at Rochester to the house Monday afternoon, where Drs. Whittemore and Whipple worked three hours upon the body, but did not succeed in recovering the bullet, which is the only thing that will show conclusive proof that Jesseman did not shoot Mrs. Dow. Ida Jesseman is much more rational. There is considerable talk about lynching Jesseman, as the feeling is very intense against him.

News and Notes.

The Mexican authorities have given up to the American officers the murderer Cordova, one of the band of highwaymen who long ago killed six persons in San Antonio county, Texas.

Mrs. Thomas Lord and husband are at last heard from; they are reported to have passed through Wilmington, N. C., on their way north, from which it would seem that the wedding tour has been a southern one. They arrived in New York on Monday night.

Schooner Rubina, from Fayal, Western Islands, has arrived at Boston with fifty-nine deserters from whaleships, sent home by the consul. They state that most of them are deserters from Provincetown and New Bedford vessels, and that owing to excessive cruelty and ill-treatment, they ran away. They also charge that Capt. Secor, of schooner Rubina, represented to the United States consul at Fayal that he had laid in provisions for fifty days; but at the expiration of twenty-two days it was all gone, and they were obliged to rely on the contributions of passing vessels. These charges are denied by the captain of the Rubina, who alleges that his passengers amused themselves by throwing away provisions.

THE OLD "TEMPLE."

In the year 1806 the First Christian Society of this city was organized, and erected a church on the corner of Chestnut street (then called Prison Lane) and Warren street. This society was started in 1802, under the auspices of Rev. Elias Smith. Mr. Smith's views, which were considered liberal in those days, drew a large and interested congregation around him. Up to 1806 he had preached in Jefferson and Assembly Halls, the Court House, and other places. This building was sixty feet by eighty, plain and unpretentious in appearance, and without a belfry, though one was built in 1828. The house contained about one hundred pews, of the old fashioned, high and straight back style, the pulpit being at the western end. This church, under the pastorates of Rev. Elias Smith, Rev. Moses How and Rev. Abner Jones, was in a very prosperous condition, and its congregation was so large that it was termed by some "The Bee Hive," from the large number (or swarms) that were obliged, for want of accommodations, to go to other churches. In 1839, when under the pastorship of Rev. David Millard, the society divided, the younger members called themselves the Independents, and bought the brick church on Pleasant street since converted into dwelling houses and occupied by Thomas H. Odion and others. The Chestnut street building at this time was sold to Messrs. Benjamin Cheever and Joseph M. Edmonds. It continued to be occupied by the First Christian Society, under the preaching of Elders Dame, Wiggin, Barry, Payne and others.

In 1844 it was extended some thirty feet in front and twenty on the side. The interior was also modernized, the pews taken out, and the seats arranged in amphitheatrical style, running up a gradual slope from the stage to near the roof. The stage was placed on the side; and after this the hall was always considered one of the best arranged halls in New England. At the suggestion of Rev. T. H. Miller it took the name of "Temple;" and although not so elaborate in structure and decoration as the building of the same name at Jerusalem, yet the title was not inappropriate, as like the other it was a place where all classes met.

Among the secular entertainments at the Temple in its early days we find: Lecture on Peace, Le Roy Sunderland, Abby Kelley, Hutchinson and Baker families, Fred. Douglass, Swiss Bell Ringers, Dr. Valentine and Signor Blitz, Rogers Family, Dr. Baker on Teeth, Fourier Association, Native American Party, Ned Kendall, Shaker Singers, Thomas P. Moses, Perham Burlesque Opera Troupe, etc.; while in later years we find our city talent is somewhat conspicuous in entertainments,—as the Amphions, Granite State Bards, Musical Societies, tableaux vivant, etc. The price of the Temple in years ago averaged from three to eight dollars an evening.

In February, 1859, Mr. Cheever sold to Mr. Joseph M. Edmonds, who in 1864 sold to Messrs. George Wallace Haven and Clement March, Mr. Cheever having the entire management of it. The interior was again changed; the floor was lowered, leaving a gallery extending around the hall and giving some two hundred and fifty more seats; the stage was also made deeper, affording better facilities for dramatic entertainments. In March, 1867, Mr. Benjamin Norton purchased it, and in November, 1868, he disposed of it to Mr. John W. Stavers, who introduced a set of scenery with a large and handsome drop curtain, decorated the walls and ceiling with designs in fresco, and made other improvements which added greatly to its attractiveness. He also fitted up a bowling saloon on the ground floor on the south side, which became a favorite resort for those who preferred this kind of exercise to that of base ball or boating, which were popular recreations at that time. Mr. Stavers continued its owner until it was burned, December 25th, 1876, and then disposed of his interest in the land to Messrs. W. A. Pierce, E. H. Winchester and others, who have built thereon the new and elegant

MUSIC HALL.

Portsmouth can now claim (and with no small degree of pride) having a building devoted exclusively to entertainments, not only substantial in its structure and containing all of the modern improvements, but in the general arrangements and decorations of its interior rivalling any other of its size in New England. The architecture approaches the Gothic style. It is built of brick, the wall being sixteen inches, and (including the pilastres) twenty inches; foundations from three to four feet thick, according to depth of cellar. It has a front of seventy-five feet, sides one hundred and three feet, height from thirty to forty feet, with a hip roof, slated. It is ornamented with black brick running in belts around the building and interspersed in the caps. There are ten windows on front, (the lower ones single and the upper double,) and fourteen on the side, all having the Gothic arch. The two main entrances (eleven feet by seven) are on Chestnut street and open into vestibules 20x16. The stairs are square, with platform quarters 7x7; the treads and risos are made of hard pine; finished with ash sheathing three and a half feet high on the sides, with heavy black walnut Gothic posts and rails. These run up on either side into the

which runs crosswise of the building and is 17x72x46 feet inside of stairs. The ticket office is in the centre, and there is ample room to avoid the rush of a crowd. There are triangular rooms on the side; that on the north side is designed for a coat room, and one on the south for the ushers, etc. The stairs continue here and run up to the balcony and gallery. There are three double doors; the centre seven and a half feet, the side ones six feet, covered with crimson enamelled cloth, ornamented with brass tacks. These lead into the

which is 72x55 feet. The back is circular, the circle verging from the sides at eight feet from a straight line, leaving a passage-way of about four feet. The sides are straight—the western end or proscenium wall running obliquely toward the stage. There are four aisles; two leading from the side doors and one on each side. The intervals between the entrance doors are finished with ash sheathing three and a half feet high. The steam pipes are laid in the walls, commencing at the side doors and extending along the sides and western end to the stage. These are enclosed or covered with an ornamental iron netting, painted in crimson and gold, with an ornamental ash capping and base. The slope or incline from the entrances to the stage is five feet six inches. There are nineteen rows containing six hundred and seventy-four chairs. These are of iron frames with riding seats 19x15 1-2 inches, upholstered, and covered with crimson enamelled cloth, with a fancy design of scrolls on the top of the back, and in the centre a medallion containing the number. In front of the stage is the orchestra, 21x6 feet, seating nineteen. There are doors on each side, the one on the south leading into Warren street, and that on the north giving egress into Congress street.

THE GALLERY

extends around the sides. It is eighteen feet above the main hall, with a fall of seven feet. Its width in the rear is twenty-two and a half feet, with six tiers of seats, and fifteen feet on the sides with two rows of seats. These are upholstered and covered with enamelled cloth same as chairs, and will seat three hundred and fifty-one, with ample standing room behind. It is is supported by nine iron columns which are placed three feet from the front, upholding a beam chamfered on each side and ornamented with a course of dentils.

THE BALCONY

comprises three rows of chairs, one hundred and eighty-nine in all, and of the same pattern as in the auditorium. The front is of ornamental iron of a lyre design, with a heavy black walnut cap. The points in this, to those who are observant, are the symmetry of its shape, the beauty of design and the grace of its curves. It is one of the attractions, and the architect or designer may well feel proud of his success. The ceiling is arched, with an eight feet rise in the centre, from which hangs the CHANDELIER.

This was made by Mr. J. R. Shirley of Providence, R. I., the pattern being one of the specialties of that manufactory. It has three gilt circular bands, the upper three feet in diameter, the second seventeen inches; from these radiate eighty gas jets; the third circle is nine inches; and from them hang long glass pendants, giving a very chaste and fragile appearance. The ventilator and reflector are iron, enamelled with white porcelain, and add to the general effect of the whole.

THE STAGE

is a most important feature in such a building as this, its arrangements and accommodations either largely adding to or detracting from the effect of all entertainments, and here the architect has fully shown his knowledge of the wants and needs of those whose taste and ambition leads them to the life of public entertainers. It is twenty-four feet high, depth twenty-nine feet, with an opening of thirty-five feet. There are six dressing rooms, four traps, a working bridge, and all the paraphernalia of gear required in the working of the scenery, with ample space on the sides for any extras which may be needed, more especially in the rendering of spectacular plays. The general arrangements and stage machinery have been completed under the supervision of Messrs. Weld and Boyson of Boston, as was also the painting of the

which comprises the usual number of changes, such as drawing room, chamber, kitchen, street, landscape (or rustic scene) and prison, with side pieces of rocks and cottage, and including thirty-two wings. The scenery borders are sky, rustic, and drapery. The front border is in imitation of pearl satin, with heavy fringe of orange and brown, with blue figures above; and looping from the top are heavy draperies of crimson velvet, and in the centre is the coat of arms of the State of New Hampshire. The drop curtain is of heavy green rep. The though not massive with wood carvings or decorated with stucco designs and figures, is in equally good taste and harmonizes with its surroundings. The sides are five feet three inches in width, eighteen feet in height, with an elliptic arch spanning the stage. The height of the subbase is eleven inches, surmounted with fluted pilasters and finished with cappings and neckings, above which are pilasters with raised pannels with ornamented caps, cornices and tablatures. It has an inner frame or border seven inches wide, elaborately carved and extending around the whole proscenium, giving an elegant finish and adding materially to the beauty of its appearance. The whole building is brilliantly lighted with which number some two hundred and thirty, including the eighty in the chandelier. There are sixteen footlights, three rows of border lights, and two chandeliers in the main hall, besides those used in the vestibules; these, with the rooms, stage area, etc., necessitating a use of from 2000 feet to 3000 feet of gas pipe. The turn offs are on the stage, so that those regulating the scenery have the light in charge and can modulate it as required. The fitting of the gas pipes was done by Mr. N. D. Miller, of this city, who excels in his branch of business. The house is heated by STEAM.

The boiler used is of twenty-five and two-thirds horse power, patented by G. B. B. Rayton and manufactured by the Exeter Machine Company; four pounds of steam is sufficient to heat the whole building in the coldest weather. The boiler is placed in the cellar, under the stage. There has been used in the building over two thousand feet of steam pipe, and the work has been performed in a manner which will defy competition.

DECORATIONS.

The walls of the vestibules and main hall have a back-ground of a cold brown tint. On the top is a pendant design in light and dark browns. The lower border over the sheathing is of mediæval style, in browns; over this is a frieze in drab trimmed with a blue-gray pencil-line. The ceiling is a warm brown shade, panelled with pencil-lines of blue and dark browns; scrolls of blue and crimson in the corners, and colored rosettes in centre. Under the gallery is a cornice with buff or salmon shade in the hollow, and borderings of blue-gray, cold and warm drabs. Over the sheathing is a border in gothic pattern, in brown shade. The ceiling under the gallery is panelled, with a blue-gray ground work, edged with lines of light and dark red. In the centre of these are ventilators, around which are rosettes in Egyptian designs in colors of dark brown, gray, salmon and red. The iron front of the balcony is painted of a cool gray, intermingled with brown and gold. The wood work is drab, with lines of crimson, gilt, and purple. The dentil, and the beam which rests on the columns, are ornamented with crimson, brown and drab. The panels on the proscenium wall, extending up to the ceiling, have borders in imitation of wood moldings or stucco work. In the centre of the upper border is a design of stucco and acanthus leaf, and on the corners are acanthus leaves and balls. The border around the ceiling is a blue hollow with stucco work in white, with lines of brown, buff, blue, green and gray. It is in the ceiling that the artist has given his conception of the beautiful, and here is where the pen fails in description of the shades and blending of innumerable colors, the many elegant designs and conceits, all of which are gems gathered from revels in the dreamland of fancy; the brush has given utterance to the mind, and art and nature have commingled and canopied the poetry and grace of design, and made it bloom into brightness with its many beautiful colorings. It is divided into eight diagonal designs. Over the cornices are panels of blue-gray with shaded moldings of brown, the imitation being so perfect as to deceive the eye. This is one of the leading features in frescoing, and is considered d'œuvre de l'art to produce the true effect. The corner design is similar in shape to a harp, with lengthened sides extending to the centre. It rests on a base of stucco work in bas relief, over a crimsoned back-ground. It is covered with what is termed the diaper pattern in imitation of yellow and pink satin, and is exquisitely shaded. Around this is a frieze tinted on a green. The side panels have a light blue ground work with frieze of shaded browns, green and gilt, with a very elegant design of surface work of blue and crimson, with figures of gilt radiating around the sides representing rays of light. Around the borders of these panels are figures of stucco on a crimson back, which assist by contrast in bringing out its points of beauty. Between the arches of the panels are mouldings in brown and drabs. The centre-piece is square in its general effect, with curved sides ornamented with stucco, and with a circle of surface work in rich colors of green, crimson, orange and blue, inside of which is a wood molding with gilded figures. The proscenium has a ground work of light brown; the lower panels are drab, brown and crimson, with gilded fluted columns, and tablatures. The upper panel is frescoed in diaper pattern, shading on the pink and orange, with a border of blue, crimson and gold, with gilded pilasters, and rosettes of green and gold. The caps and corners are highly ornamented in gilt, etc. The panels on the arch are shaded in blue and drab, with a heavy figured border in crimson, edged with a gilt band. In the centre of these is a design representing music, in browns and drabs, which is a work of true merit. The borders are tastefully decorated with figures in gilt and brown. The inner frame has a crimson ground, the carving being richly covered with gilt, giving a most beautiful finish to its elegant surroundings. This work has been performed by Messrs. W. S. Henay & Son of Concord, and any description is but meagre compared to its artistic beauty and merit.

The architect of the Music Hall is Mr. William A. Ashe of this city, and aside from a few minor points its erection has been under his direct supervision. Too much praise cannot be awarded to him; his plans and specifications have been carried out to the letter, their absolute accuracy requiring no change of plans or increase of estimates. It is a model in the perfection of its every detail, and its acoustic qualities are said to be without fault. Mr. Ashe has won laurels for himself, and his efforts will be greeted with the admiration of architects.

Every attention has been paid to securing the essentials of convenience and safety, no expense having been spared to make the building strong beyond the possibility of accident; and thorough ventilation, and easy and safe egress for the largest audience that can be gathered in the hall, are assured. The proprietors aimed to erect a public hall which should compare favorably with any other in New England, and have succeeded,—by a liberal outlay of money, and the employment of the very best talent and mechanical skill that money could procure. Portsmouth can now boast of a Music Hall worthy the name; and we hope its public-spirited proprietors may reap a fair reward for their enterprise.

POLICE COURT.

Tuesday, Jan. 22d; Batchelder, J.

Peter O'Donnell was arraigned for an assault on John H. Bright, the complainant appearing in court with a rather serious looking eye and swollen face. The trouble took place on Russell street, and originated in some dispute about the alleged "cutting under" of one of the parties in the rates for discharging coal from vessels. O'Donnell acknowledged striking Bright, but claimed to have acted in self-defence, Bright being the aggressor. As the evidence was not clear that O'Donnell's story was not true, he was discharged. The case excited much interest among the friends of the parties, a large crowd of them being in and about the court during the trial.

THE MILL-PONDS.

The following petition to the Board of Mayor and Aldermen is being circulated by John A. K. Hanson, Esq., and signed by prominent citizens who fear that after all the grand splurge made in getting a skilled engineer from Boston to plan an effective system of drainage, nothing will be done to obviate the nuisance referred to until it again makes itself patent to the olfactories, on the advent of warm weather:

We respectfully urge you to keep in mind the nuisance which both of the mill-ponds have become in the warm season, and to adopt prompt and efficient means to abate the same.

The effectual and permanent purification of the city cesspools is a big job and a costly one, but it has got to be done at some time, and the postponement of the time of commencing it will only result in the annual aggravation of the nuisance without any final saving of the municipal pocket-book.

SUPREME COURT--JAN. TERM.

Tuesday, Jan. 22d; Bingham, J.

Case Creswell and others, assignees of the Freedmen's Savings Bank, vs. James Pike, was given to the jury; verdict not announced. The payment of the note in suit was resisted on the ground that it was given as collateral security for the note of the defendant's son. The evidence (with the exception of the testimony of the defendant) consisted of depositions taken at Washington. Page and Hatch for plaintiff; Small for Pike.

Gordon vs. Boston & Maine Railroad. These are two actions brought to recover damages for injuries received by two ladies who were driving along the street in Exeter where the B. & M. R. R. crosses at grade, next east of its passenger station. The horse which was being driven, was frightened by the noise of escaping steam issuing from a locomotive standing on the track just east of the street through which the plaintiffs were passing and on the roadway of the railroad. The two actions are consolidated, the same evidence being applicable to each. The plaintiffs having amended the writs, and a jury being empanelled, they were sent to view the locality, the cases to proceed on Wednesday morning. Marston and Wood for plaintiffs; Hatch for the railroad.

THE CITY.

Tickets for the Cantata, 15 cents.

Mr. Robert E. Rich has been appointed permanent Librarian of the Portsmouth Athenæum.

Rev. John A. Goss of this city addressed the Reform Club at Manchester on Tuesday evening.

Mr. John S. Whidden has been elected clerk of the Board of Inspectors of Checklists, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Joseph H. Gardiner.

Warm as the weather is and has been for the season, the present seems hardly the time of year for going in swimming, but Horace Jenkins of Kittery, a youth of about seventeen years, tried it on Tuesday and seemed rather to like it. He was digging clams on Pumpkin island, early in the forenoon, and was so intent on his work that he failed to notice that the rising tide had floated his boat off, until she was some two hundred yards away, and rapidly going further. Without wasting any time he stripped himself, swam to the boat and climbed in amid the applause of a lot of folks on the Kittery shore, went back to the island, dressed himself, and carried off his mess of clams in triumph.

THE VICINITY.

The frame of the Congregational parsonage at South Seabrook has arrived, and will soon be put together, the cellar and foundations being finished.

Mr. George G. Merrill, for some months past station agent of the Eastern Railroad at Seabrook, and for three years previous telegraph operator at the station, has been notified that the road has no further need of his services. The people of the town have gotten up a petition for his retention, he having made himself very popular with all having business with him during his term.

The Kittery Reform Club will give an entertainment on Saturday evening, Jan. 26th, at Trefethen's Hall, when the temperance drama "Out in the street" will be presented, and another piece entitled "Doing for the best." Appropriate scenery and properties will be provided, and the whole entertainment will be under the management of Mrs. B. P. Lewis. Those who attend will doubtless get the worth of their fifteen cents, which is the price of admission.

Capt. John Lord, who is over eighty years of age and has lived in the vicinity of York beach for sixty years, never before saw the sea run so high at the beach as it did on the night of the 17th inst., and thinks he never felt the wind blow so hard. The house of Ephraim Hodgdon, Esq., of South Berwick, was lifted from its foundations (next Sea Cottage) and moved five feet, yet strange to say neither lamps, glass nor crockery in the house were broken, nor the furniture much displaced. At Concordville the barn of Mr. Warren Shattuck was blown down; and at Union Bluff the house of Mr. Chandler was canted forty degrees from the perpendicular. The doors of Mr. George H. Shattuck's barn at Birch Hill were blown in, and a heavy wagon body, with springs attached, was lifted from its wheels and carried a long distance; the doors of Mr. Leonard C. Cook's shed were also blown in.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur

Liniments.

They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.

The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have yet ormed more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pain in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specially restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are wonderful to marvels. We will give the Liniments to any person who ever heard of a miracle. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey

To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.

COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.

MESSRS. J. B. ROSE & CO., N. Y.

I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.

Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all Bruises, Sores, and muscle ailments. Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria, it is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

STANDARD

REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior article can not secede a superior article. By reason of superiority, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Pectoral.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is a Chalagogue, or Liver Stimulant.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Tonic.

Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers and Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Cough, and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties regulate the liver and speedily Bilious Colic, Tropid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If your food, doesn't digest, dyspepsia, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills, alternate feel with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite, and feeling costive, or suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness," in many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a rule for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Anti-bilious Purgative Pellets, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, but one is enough in most cases.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Dull Taste in Mouth, Accumulation in the Bowels, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

O ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; then renews the growth, and always restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expansion; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thicken-; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or has fettered the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the whole system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The wonderful hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed where all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the acidified blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.
NORSCOTT BLOCK, SO. FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the four popular remedies receiving the approval of medical practitioners, who, in private, not only freely commend it but use it in their families in preference to any of the preparations now accepted by physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my obligations to the Medical Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure; but I feel indebted to such relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised its use, and presume I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN:—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but in the present case meets the wants of those, and we think those afflicted should be convinced of its great merit; a healthy suffering will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything for Catarrh, but yours leads all the rest. If you use proper you, may use this letter or any part of it you wish.

Very truly yours, J. D. BALDWIN & CO.

A Wonderful Mule.

"Speaking about mules," remarked a six-footer in Arkansas, as he cracked his whip at market, "I've got a mule at home which knows as much as I do, and I want to hear somebody say I'm half a fool." No one said so, and he went on. "I've stood around here and heard men blow about kicking mules till I got disgusted. When you come down to kicking, I want to bet on my mule. A friend came along and took dinner with me one day, and as he seemed a little downhearted, I took him out to see Thomas Jefferson, my champion mule. I was telling the good man how that mule would flop his feet around, and he said he would like to see a little fun. He'd passed his whole life in the South, but had never seen a mule lay his whole soul into a big time at kicking. Well," he said, after borrowing some tobacco, "I took Thomas out of the stable, backed him up agin a hill, gin him a cuff on the ear, and we stood by to see the amusement. It was a good place to kick, and what d'ye s'pose he did? In ten minutes by the watch he was out of sight. In five more we couldn't feel him with a twelve foot pole, and right here under my arm is a pound of tallow candles which are to light for to go in after Thomas; but I got a word not an hour ago that the hind feet of a mule were sticking out of a hill thirty-nine miles off as the bird flies from where my mule went in."

—A lady who would please herself in marrying was warned that her intended, although a good sort of man, was very singular. "Well," replied the lady, "if he is very much unlike other men, he is much more likely to be a good husband."

Robinson's Confession.

The man whose murder was confessed by John H. Robinson on his death-bed at Newmarket on the 18th inst., was named Jewell, and was twenty-three years old at the time of his disappearance, which took place twenty years ago. The murder was committed in the Langford road school district, the western part of Raymond and the eastern portion of Candia. Jewell was a native of Derry and for a number of years he was a peddler, in which occupation he was supposed to have accumulated quite a sum of money. During the winter of the murder he was at work as a shoemaker. One bitter cold Saturday night three acquaintances of Jewell called at Mr. Langford's and asked him (Jewell!) to go with them to Mr. Burbank's, on the Jersey road. Jewell at first hesitated, but finally consented to go, and as a result thereof was murdered by Robinson, who killed him with an axe, the three assassins then sinking the body in Dead Pond. The four were together at Burbank's, drinking, and when the three villains left they forced Jewell, who did not want to accompany them, to go along without either coat or hat. The people of the neighborhood, suspecting that Jewell had been murdered when he did not return to his home next day, suspected the right persons as being the murderers, their theory being that Jewell was forcibly taken into a patch of woods near the house where he was last seen alive, murdered, and his body sunk in the pond, which was actually the case. The murdered man's body could not be found, however, and his brutal assassins escaped human punishment for their crime. Many people will take a grim satisfaction in reflecting that Robinson, the actual murderer and the last survivor of the trio of cut-throats, on his death-bed acknowledged that his life for twenty years had been made utterly wretched by remorse and fear.

"Assistant Inspector General?"

Mr. Editor: I noticed in the GAZETTE recently a communication under the above heading, signed "David Urch, Assistant Inspector General, N. H. V. M.," in which that gentleman rather "went for" Gov. Prescott for appointing Col. Vaughan to a position which Major Urch considered himself "fairly entitled to" "not only by the law of the land but by hard work and long service in this particular branch of the State government." He also makes a vigorous fling at "the dabbling political emissaries who, ignorant of all that pertains to military," "presumed to recommend and dictate" Major Vaughan's appointment as Inspector and Mustering Officer of the New Hampshire Militia. That's me! "Ignorant of all that pertains to military"—that's me, sure, for I should throw a whole army corps into confusion were I in the ranks at drill; I am also a "dabbling political emissary," for I never miss voting and always vote right; and I was one of those who "presumed to recommend" the appointment of Colonel Vaughan to Gov. Prescott, as one eminently fit to be made—in fact, I believe I made that recommendation before the bill creating the office had passed. In doing this, however, I sinned solely through ignorance. I knew that Major Vaughan was a gentleman, and a soldier of experience—his experience having once put him in the way of trying to stop a rebel grape-shot with his head—he did it, too, and I believe captured the grape-shot; hence I considered him an eminently proper man to recommend to the Governor. I don't know if Mr. Prescott ever read my letter; if he did he probably then for the first time learned of my existence, my prominence in politics not being excessive; but, anyway, I wrote,—but it was in entire ignorance that the office of Inspector of Militia by right belonged to Major Urch. True, I did know, having read it in the papers, that Mr. Urch had some time before been appointed Assistant Inspector General of the First Brigade of the First Regiment, (I don't know which,) with the rank of Major on Gen. Clough's staff; but I did not know that this appointment gave him a pre-emptive right to the position of "Inspector and Mustering Officer" of the entire militia of the State, an office which was created by the Legislature at its last session, and which Major Urch claims was "already legally filled" by himself before it was created. Major Urch finds fault with the Governor, who, "claiming to have received his authority to make this appointment * * by an act of the last General Court," made it; but the fact is that acts of the General Court have always been considered good and sufficient authority by Governors of New Hampshire. However, I don't know much about this business, as I said before; I'm no great at politics or soldiering; I am not one of the "stone-house politicians," and only know enough of a soldier's duties to load and fire a gun—but for the life of me I can't keep my eyes open when I shoot, so I never could hit anything. Had I known I was trespassing on Major Urch's preserves I wouldn't ha' done it; but I do think his letter would have been quite as effective had he left out his covert—not so very covert, either—sneers at Major Vaughan, whose military service for aught I know has been equal to Major Urch's. PENITENCE.

News and Notes.

Thomas Crapo, master of the schooner New Bedford, and his chief mate and crew, Mrs. Crapo, who made the foolhardy trip across the Atlantic last summer, have returned from England to New York, bringing their cockle-shell with them.

The investigation into the sad shooting affair at Newburyport on Sunday, the 20th inst., was opened on the morning of the 22d in the Police Court before Judge Currier. Four or five witnesses were examined, but nothing of importance was elicited except from George Hennessey, a sixteen-year-old brother of Jimmie, who testified to loading and firing the gun several times on Friday, and finally loading it with shot and hiding it where Jimmie found it Sunday, his intention being to go out to shoot squirrels Monday.

The United States Vice-Consul at Hong Kong writes the Department of State, in reply to the trade circular of last August, that the market for American goods in China is practically unlimited, except by the question of prices, especially for such articles as drills, jeans, shirtings, iron of all kinds, petroleum, quicksilver, gold and ginseng. It is only necessary that they should be offered as cheap as similar exports from other countries, or cheaper, to develop a prosperous trade.

King Alfonso of Spain, and his cousin the Princess Mercedes, were married on Wednesday with great ceremony.

Jacob and John Huntzinger, late President and Cashier of the Miners' Trust Company, of Pottsville, Pa., have been sentenced each to two years' imprisonment, and to pay a fine of $500; also to refund to Thomas Kerns, prosecutor, $24,000 with costs.

American ship Baring Brothers has been in collision with Spanish steamer Ponce, off Liverpool. The Ponce was sunk, with the loss of two men, and the Baring Brothers badly injured, though the latter got into port with the aid of a tug.

Captain H. W. Chisholm, the United States vice-consul at St. John, N. B., has been presented with an elegant gold watch and chain, appropriately inscribed, in recognition of his gallantry in saving life and property during the great fire in that city on the 20th of last June.

Cleopatra's needle has arrived in the Thames.

A party of young people who charivaried a young couple twenty miles north of Iowa City, Ia., got an order for a keg of beer on Kember, a neighboring saloon keeper. They drank the beer and demanded more, which the saloon keeper refused, whereupon they attacked him with stones, beat his wife and children, and literally tore his house to pieces. Kember was fatally injured. Two ringleaders of the bride were of the party. Warrants are out for all the parties, and one has been captured.

Third Assistant Postmaster General Hazen has prepared for the consideration of Congress a bill proposing that the basis of compensation of fourth-class postmasters, or all whose compensation is less than $1,000 a year, shall be the face-value of the stamps cancelled in their respective offices, instead of the value of stamps sold by them; also imposing severe penalties for making false returns and trafficking in stamps.

There are now ninety-four vacancies at the Annapolis Naval Academy, of which two belong to Maine, four to Massachusetts and one to Rhode Island. Appointments for examination are to be made by Congressmen, and the examinations will be commenced on the 21st of June.

Charles Meyer, German Consul in Philadelphia, stands a good chance of removal, because of a speech he recently made at the annual dinner of a German society in that city, in which he ridiculed and denounced the United States Government.

The House military committee have received a communication from General Pope in which, responding to a circular letter of the committee, he sets forth his views regarding army organization. He suggests that the committee for the present limit itself to determining what regular force shall be maintained, and whether it shall consist of a complete and compact organization or be divided up into skeleton organizations capable of a large expansion of the enlisted force without an increase of officers. Without specifying what he considers a sufficient force, he expresses the opinion that 25,000 men are too few for the needs of the country. The question of staff organization and administration should be investigated by a board of officers of rank and experience, to be designated by an act of Congress, and submit a plan for enactment into a law. More such officers, however, are needed here than in Europe, because of the necessity of buying in distant markets and transporting thousands of miles by rail, by river and wagons, the supplies needed for each of our small posts and detachments. General Pope also invites attention to the manifest propriety of adopting a military system which will be in harmony with the spirit of our government and the feelings and habits of our people.

The Maine Legislature has passed to be engrossed a bill allowing husband and wife to maintain actions against each other.

The late Robert P. Parrott of Cold Spring, N. Y., the inventor of the Parrott gun, who, at his own expense, built the Episcopal house of worship in that place, bequeathed $100,000 to the same church.

A Victoria despatch says that the steamer California has arrived from Wrangel and Sitka. The people of Sitka are in fear from want of protection of the Government of Sitka, and the Hutzinu Indians were at war when the steamer arrived, but ceased hostilities while she lay there. They commenced again as soon as she left. Large numbers were seen assembling in war paint. The indians are destroying many Government and other buildings which are empty. The people are not strong enough to prevent the troubles. Dennis, United States Custom House officer at Wrangel, made a raid on the Houtzinos whiskey-makers, both Indians and whites, and discovered and destroyed twenty-one stills.

General Sherman states that five companies of cavalry at Fort Ellis last year, notwithstanding their absence on field service a portion of the time, raised $9,000 worth of vegetables.

The "American Journal of the Medical Sciences," (quarterly) for January, is issued by Henry C. Lea, Nos. 706 and 708 Sansom street, Philadelphia; $5 per year, postage paid. Each number contains about 300 pages of reading matter, of interest and value to the medical profession, including illustrated articles in all the latest discoveries in medicine and surgery.

Political.

The Circuit Judges of South Carolina have always hitherto (until last year) been elected viva voce. The democratic Supreme Court of the State has now decided that they must be elected by ballot, a decision which most conveniently ousts every republican judge, and will enable the democrats to make the courts of the State solidly democratic. Conciliation progresses with startling rapidity.

There seems to be considerable looseness in the Boston registry laws. At the last city election the officers of Ward 13, a democratic stronghold, reported that only 74 of the 2100 registered voters failed to cast their ballots. When the voting lists were unsealed the other day, it was found that 220 names were unchecked, showing that the ward officers had returned 146 votes more than were lawfully cast.

The Washington Republican says: "Governor Vance, of North Carolina, turned over a new leaf on New Year's Day. He made a clean sweep of every republican in that State holding office by appointment of the Governor. He evidently does not coincide with the President in the opinion that the public interest can be best subserved by dividing the offices of an administration among both parties." Well, no democrat, that we ever heard of, in State or Nation, ever even pretended to think that way when his party was in power; but it is an excellent theory to support when and where the republicans hold the fort.

Commissioner Raum says the tax on whisky and tobacco should not be reduced. He is right. There is nothing that bears taxation so well as whisky and tobacco. Let the democratic party help support the Government through its own peculiar institutions.—Nat. Repub.

Speaker Randall's star as the democratic candidate for President in 1880 seems to be in the ascendant. His cause is being fettilized and his chances increased by the assaults made upon him, and it would not be surprising if that is what they are intended to do.

Congressman A. M. Waddell of North Carolina some time since introduced an act to erect a monument to Gen. Custer, and received a resolution from brother rebel officers and soldiers emphatically endorsing his course in the matter. In an appropriate note Congressman Waddell has forwarded the resolutions to Mrs. Custer.

Testimony to come before the Senate will show that Wade Hampton was not a citizen of South Carolina at the time of his election, but of Mississippi, where he became bankrupt. Yet, in spite of the law, he was inaugurated governor.

Ex-Governor Bullock, of Georgia, has been honorably acquitted of the charges, on which his trial, at Atlanta, closed last week.

Senator Beck, Justice Harlan and Ex-Secretary Bristow were all sworn in as members of the United States Supreme Court bar at the same time, when Chase was Chief Justice. Chief Justice then twitted them on being "three such big Kentuckians." Each of them weighed upward of 200 pounds and one nearly 300. Neither had then held any important office, and felt themselves in an awful presence when taking the oath before the full bench of Justices of the United States Supreme Court. Since then one has gone to sit beside those Justices, one is a Senator, and the other has been Secretary of the Treasury.

A Washington special says it is rumored the President is getting tired of the pressure upon him from certain quarters to dismiss the Secretary of the Interior and Postmaster General, and if this continues, he is not unlikely to ask for the resignation of some other members, retaining those above named. The President intended nominating Packard to some office at the same time he sent in the nomination of Williamson for Collector of New Orleans, but did not, because it would look like verifying the charges of a bargain made in Mr. Chandler's document. Another dispatch says Packard will be nominated, this week, for either the mission to Central America, for Assistant Treasurer at New Orleans, or the internal revenue collectorship there.

New Hampshire Items.

The jury in the case Creswell et als. vs. Pike, after being out all night until six o'clock in the morning, unable to agree, were then discharged.

Of the 86,000 men who are entitled to vote in New Hampshire, it is estimated that more than 15,000 do business and habitually reside outside of the State.

Mr. John D. Philbrick, for twenty-nine years Superintendent of Grammar Schools in Boston, was on Tuesday evening superceded by Mr. Samuel Eliot. Mr. Philbrick is a native of Gilmanton, in this State.

The Difference.

There is a vast difference in the conduct of a man and woman in new clothes. When a woman gets a new suit, she immediately prances down town, and for hours will walk contentedly along a crowded thoroughfare, receiving fresh impulses of joy every time another woman scans her wardrobe. But a man is so different! He won't put on his new clothes for the first time until it is dark; then he goes down town so cautiously as to almost create the impression that he is sneaking along. If he sees a crowd on the corner, he will slip across the way to avoid them; and when he goes into his grocery, he tries to get behind as many barrels and boxes as he can. All the time he is trying his level best to appear as if the suit was six months old, and all the while realizes that he is making a great failure of it.

How to Make a Telephone.

Anybody can make a telephone useful at a distance of 100 yards if he follows the directions given by Professor Barrett in a recent lecture. The materials needed are cheap and easily obtained—two wooden tooth-powder boxes, two disks of tinned sheet-iron, two bar magnets, two small silk reels, and some iron wire. Cut a hole about the size of a half dollar piece in the lid and bottom of one of the wooden boxes, place one of the disks of tin on the outside of the bottom of the box, and fix the cover on the tin; on one end of one of the bar magnets place the reel and wind on the reel the iron wire, leaving the ends loose; and, lastly, attach the other end of the magnet as near as possible to the disk, but take care that it does not touch the disk. One end of the telephone is now finished. Follow the same directions in making the other end. Connect both ends of the telephone with the wire, and the machine is complete.

—There are some people who when they see a gilded youth standing on the corner, smiting his delicious boot with a lithe cane, say he is good for nothing else. They are ready to retract however when they observe the born-heroism of his action, as he unflinchingly shoots the ivory billiard balls along the emerald table or leans upon his cue as Hercules did upon his club. People are often too hasty in jumping at conclusions.

—The death of Walter S. Harley of Walterboro, S. C., recalls the prediction of an old slave of his father. The latter was a very passionate man, and once, becoming enraged at one of his female slaves, sold all of her children to punish her. In her sorrow and anger she cursed her master, telling him that the children of a man so merciless as he would surely come to some bad end. Thomas Harley, one of the sons, moved to Texas after the war, got into a quarrel, fought a duel and was killed, and now Walter has gone the same way.

THE CITY.

See the "Fairy Bridal" to-night in the Universalist vestry. Tickets 15 cts.

The meeting of the Young People's Association of the North Church, announced for to-night, is postponed until further notice.

The San Francisco Golden Era, of which Mr. John O. Hanscom, formerly of this city, is associate editor, comes to us in a new dress and looking neat and spruce in the extreme.

The cantata "The Fairy Bridal," to be given by the Hutchings Association this evening, is pronounced by musical people a very pleasing entertainment. Some of our best local talent are in its representation.

Forty degrees above zero in this city at eight o'clock Wednesday morning; zero at eight o'clock Wednesday evening, and a gale of wind blowing. And yet there are people who, living in districts where a petty variation of twenty degrees in as many hours is accounted remarkable, sneer at our New Hampshire weather.

This is the way the Mirror talks of the historic ship-of-war Kearsarge: "J. Albert Folsom showed us this morning a piece of Chinese hard tack, which was made for the crew of the Kearsarge, a vessel recently wrecked off Portsmouth. It looks like a cake of baked clay, and as for hardness, our common ship bread is sponge cake compared with it." This is fearful. "The Kearsarge, a vessel!" etc. Such is fame.

Rev. Parker Pillsbury, one of the original anti-slavery advocates, will lecture upon Temperance in Franklin Hall, on Sunday evening, Jan. 27th. An admission fee of five cents will be charged. The reverend gentleman is an original thinker, and one whose age and experience should add value to his opinions. His subject, on the occasion referred to, will be "One more side of temperance, the under side."

The sale of season tickets for the opening nights at the New Music Hall commenced at Preston's Wednesday morning; at ten o'clock in the forenoon about 200 had been engaged, and by evening 300; and as the sale of single tickets begins this morning no doubt every seat will be taken before night. There is but very little choice in the seats, as a good view can be had of the stage from every part of the Hall.

Schooner Clara E. Simpson, Capt. Swett, which arrived at Charleston, S. C., on the 16th inst., from Boston, had very heavy weather on the 1st inst., losing her boat, having fore-gaff broken and jib-boom and cutwater carried away, sails split, cabin filled with water, and sustaining other damages. Schooner Jesse Williamson, Jr., recently ashore at Vineyard Haven, will go on the marine railway for inspection before continuing her voyage.

We counted twenty-eight men, young and not so young, standing on Thacher's corner of Market street at one time on Monday evening. The junction of Vaughan and Congress streets, once the favorite stand for corner loafers, is not half so well patronized now as it used to be, and even the sidewalk in front of Frye's block seems to have less attraction for the curb-stone brigade than formerly, the head of Market street being now the favorite stamping ground.

The entertainment given by Mr. J. E. Lord, of Providence, before the Portsmouth Lyceum at Franklin Hall, Tuesday evening, surpassed even our expectations, which were raised to a high pitch by the warm praises we had heard of him. Nothing could have been more touching than his "Story of the Little Stowaway," nor more amusing than his exquisitely dramatic presentation of "Father Phil's Collection;" this piece was invested with more points of amusement and interest than we have ever heard from any other delineator. If he had given Trowbridge's "Vagabond," instead of his "Arabella," we should have called the entertainment perfect. The management is under great obligations to the quartette under the direction of Mr. Newell for their delicious harmony. The next entertainment will be the lecture on the telephone, which so many persons have expressed themselves impatient to hear; and there is an expectation of enjoying the last entertainment of the series at the new and beautiful Music Hall. The holders of season tickets will be entitled to seats in the new hall without additional cost. Season tickets 80 cents.

ABOLISH THE NAVY YARD.

Referring to the estimates made by the Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks for this navy yard, the Biddeford Post says: "The cheapest and best thing the government could do might be to consolidate these four appropriations, making $47,000 in all, and give that sum to any responsible man, who will blow up and float off, or sink, the whole concern known as the Kittery Navy Yard." We can remember hearing lots of just such talk as that from democrats in this city and Kittery within the past eight years, (they didn't talk that way at all during the Johnson times, when they thought to fix it so that nobody but a democrat could get a look at the yard,) but there has been mighty little of it heard around here for three years past. The democratic merchants and mechanics of Portsmouth, Newcastle, Kittery, Eliot and York have discovered that ten or twenty thousand dollars a month disbursed on the yard is not a bad thing for them, even if it is not all paid to democrats in the first place. The Post would have had a loud echo to its cry, "abolish the navy yard," five years ago; but it only feebly stirs the local democratic pulse now.

NAVAL MATTERS.

Lieut. C. M. Anthony is ordered to examination for promotion.

The U. S. S. Powhatan, Rear Adm. Trenchard, is ordered to the West Indies for a three months' cruise. Chief Engineer David B. Macomb is Fleet Engineer; Capt. Henry J. Bishop, Fleet Marine Officer; C. P. Wallach, Fleet Paymaster.

The U. S. Senate on the 22d inst. confirmed Lieut. George R. Durand to be Lieut. Comdr. in the navy.

THE VICINITY.

Cod fish have struck in again near Wells beach, and parties are taking from four hundred to six hundred pounds to the dory per day.

During a recent cold spell a dory was observed off Hart's beach, Kennebunk. Toward night it drifted in shore and men started down to the beach to take a look at it. As they came near they found a young man crawling upon the beach, so benumbed he could not walk. He had been out fishing, became benumbed with the cold, but fortunately the boat drifted in shore and he was just able to throw himself out of the boat as it came ashore. He was taken to a hotel and kindly cared for. He belongs in Wells.

Residents near the head of York river complain that whereas they used to have good smelt-fishing in the winter they now cannot get a mess at all, as parties stretch very fine-meshed seines clear across the river at the bridge, and catch every smelt that attempts to run up. It is said the same style of fishing is adopted on Spruce creek; and the unlucky souls who live up above where the seines are stretched don't like it. It is probable that a few winters of such fishing as this will drive the smelts away entirely.

Mr. Joseph Frost, who lives in Eliot near the York line, fell on the ice two years ago and fractured his hip, and has been bed-ridden ever since. He is now eighty-two years old, and for over sixty years was a subscriber for the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE, his father having taken the paper a number of years previously. The house in which Mr. Frost lives was built by his grandfather one hundred and nine years ago. Before that time, for many years, his ancestors had lived in a "garrison" house which is still to be seen on the premises, for a number of years past having been used for a cider-house.

A correspondent at Rye Beach sends us an account (too long for our columns without a good deal of condensation) of a case of heartless cruelty to a young spaniel by a summer resident at one of the cottages there. According to this account the man was enraged with the dog because the animal preferred the company of a neighbor's children, who petted him, to the company of his master, who abused him; and when the man left his cottage and went back to Boston, he left the dog behind in an outhouse, anchored with a sixteen-pound weight tied to his neck. The poor brute, when nearly starved, managed to get out and drag the weight to the neighbor's house one evening, and made his presence known by yelping; he was relieved from the heavy weight, taken into the house and kindly cared for and is now a fine big fellow and an excellent watch-dog, and highly valued by the well known newspaper correspondent whom he adopted as his master after his inhuman desertion by his first owner.

Trouble over Brigham Young's Estate.

A first class wrangle over Brigham Young's estate is promised. All the apostles, except E. Taylor and the three who are acting as the prophet's executors, are understood to be in favor of a rigid examination of his financial "huggermugger" as trustee-in-trust Brigham, and Brigham, the individual; and also of the restitution to the church of what he had without consideration transferred from himself as church trustee to himself as citizen Brigham. Mr. Ellerbeck, for many years his confidential agent, offers to open a short cut through the whole maze by pointing out how the prophet took from the church, by a few enormous grabs, $2,500,000, one of which was when he charged it in a lump $50,000 a year for eighteen years' services as prophet, seer and revelator; in other words, as ecclesiastical "boss." At other times he charged the church and credited himself with items of $100,000 or so on account of the poor.

—Upright legislator—"What, sir! You take me for one who can be bribed? You insult my sense of honor,—but in case I really were such a man, how much would you give me?"

—The Hartford Courant has got itself into business. A few days ago it noticed the disembowelling of a pin cushion by some lady or other, which resulted in the discovery of over 200 needles, and now everybody else in the city with nothing better to do is ripping up these articles of furniture and sending the result to the paper. The latest discovery was 500 needles in a pin cushion which had been in use for ten years.

A Tooth for a Tooth,

That is to say an artificial tooth for a real one, is not a good exchange. Therefore, keep your natural teeth unimpaired, and in order to do so use that famous preservative tooth-wash, Sozodont. It is a wholesome botanical preparation, unrivalled as an anti-putrescent and antagonist of decomposition and decay.

An interesting explanation is given of the plan of the next drawing of the celebrated Louisiana Lottery.

The numbers from 1 to 100,000, corresponding with those numbers on the Tickets, printed on separate slips of paper, are encircled with small india rubber tubes, and placed in one wheel. The first 830 Prizes, similarly printed and encircled, are placed in another wheel. The wheels are then revolved, and a number is drawn from the wheel of numbers, and at the same time a prize is drawn from the other wheel. The number and prize drawn out are opened and exhibited to the audience, and registered by the Commissioners, the prize being placed against the number drawn. This operation is repeated until all the prizes are drawn out.

The next drawing takes place on Tuesday, February 11th, 1878, and any further information will be given by addressing M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans. See scheme in another column.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. Sherar, 128 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. febl3

Portsmouth Chronicle

Brain Stimulant.

The best possible thing for a man to do when he feels too weak to carry anything through is to go to bed and sleep as long as he can. This is the only recuperation of brain power, the only recuperation of brain force; during sleep the brain is in a state of rest, in a condition to receive and appropriate particles of nutriment from the blood, which take the place of those which have been consumed by previous labor, since the very act of thinking burns up solid particles as every turn of the wheel or screw of the steamer is the result of consumption by fire of the fuel in the furnace. The supply of consumed brain substance can only be had from the nutritive particles in the blood which were obtained from the food eaten previously, and the brain is so constituted that it can best receive and appropriate to itself those nutritive particles during the state of rest, of quiet and stillness of sleep. Mere stimulants supply nothing in themselves; they goad the brain, and force it to a greater consumption of its substance, until it is so exhausted that there is not power enough left to receive a supply.—Herald of Health.

—A gentleman said when a pretty girl trod on his toes that he had received the stamp of beauty.

—The Boston Journal says that a gentleman well-known in that city, and who is in a position to know whereof he speaks, relates the following incident of a recent entrance examination at Harvard College: "There was a question in geography asking the name of the highest mountain in the world. 'I knew the boys would miss on that,' said a Professor in high glee, 'it is a mountain in Asia, discovered within three months by an English traveller, and the fact is not yet generally announced.'"

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Gravel and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Ulcers, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but power ul to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole living. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all scurf, dandruff, and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "It competes with nothing and nothing for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur

Liniments.

They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.

The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a single case. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Honey

To the taste but death to Grubs and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gripes nor gripes.

COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.

Messrs. J. B. ROSE & CO., N. Y.

I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give the certificate on account of the benefits I have derive by the use of your admirable preparation.

Very truly yours, NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever prepared for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, stiff Joints, etc. While the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria, it is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specific in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial property of man? An inferior article may succeed a superior article, by a season or two, but Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported looks up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Pectoral.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Tonic.

Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin as Scrofulous King's Evil; Tumors, Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchitis, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequalled remedy for Biliousness, Tropid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is still warm and covered with blotches in pimples, or, where there are scrofulous swellings and Tumors, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternating with hot flashes, low spirits and loss of energy, irregular appetite, costiveness, bowels constipated, suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness," in many cases of "Liver Complaint" this portion of the system is the seat of the disease. A course of the Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Solium in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, unhealthy, sickening pills, here before so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninjured for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills, which have put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets will eradicate those obstinate cases of scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. Thus, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

The remedial management of those diseases peculiar to women has afforded a large experience at the World's Dispensary, of which Dr. Pierce is the chief consulting physician. Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the decay of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; failing hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or has ruined the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the much vaunted constitutions, ignored because but little understood by most physicians, impotently assisted by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The long and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his Radical Cure has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the acrid blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.

NORSCOTT BLOCK, 80, FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen, who prescribe it not only freely recommend it but use it in their families in preference to any of the preparations usually prescribed by physicians.

"I am are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my obligations to the Mass. Medical Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure; but since I received so much relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised its use, and personally I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN,—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but as a preparation meets the wants of mankind, and we think deserves all it claims, we are convinced of its great merits; that the suffering will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything for Catarrh, but none have made all this for it. If you are proper you can use this letter or any part of it in any way wish.

Very truly yours, W. D. BALDWIN & CO.

BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine and the gums of the forest are well known to every prescription. Their grateful, healing, soothing, and strengthening properties are known to thousands. In this respect this Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

How Morrissey Resented an Insult.

A letter from Florida referring to Senator Morrissey says that he remains quiet and retired and is seldom disturbed, but adds: One day, however, when at Savannah, the traditional Georgia blossom appeared at the hotel. He came from up country, near the Muscogee district, and was on his annual spree. He was six feet high, well built, and in his own country was a man of considerable consequence. Away from home he attracted general attention by the loudness of his voice, the violence of his actions, and his odd appearance. He heard the guests of the hotel commenting on Senator Morrissey, and imagined that his own light was eclipsed by the unobtrusive gentleman from New York. The Muscogee blossom made no effort to conceal his chagrin. He roared in the corridors over the cotton crop, and ostentatiously aired himself in the ladies' parlor. All in vain. No one gave him the slightest consideration. Disappointed and exasperated, he entered the dining hall and sat down at a prominent table, apparently determined to create a sensation. Senator Morrissey was quietly eating his dinner in his usual place. The Georgian, recognizing an acquaintance across the room, began a conversation with him, "cracker" fashion, in a loud voice. The talk drifted upon politics, the recent election in New York serving as a pivot.

"New York city," said the Muscogee blossom, "is the slum-hole of politicians. No respectable man can hold office there." Raising his voice, "Why, no man can be elected to the Legislature from New York city unless he is a thief or a gambler."

The object of these remarks was so palpable that every eye was turned upon Mr. Morrissey. The Senator did not raise his eyes, but finished his meal as though totally unconscious of the conversation. Incensed by his silence, the Muscogee blossom became so personal in his allusions that several ladies left the dining room. After dessert Mr. Morrissey walked out to the office and lighted a cigar. One of the proprietors of the hotel began to apologize for the scene in the dining room, but the Senator interrupted him by saying, "Don't give yourself the slightest uneasiness. You certainly are not responsible for the drivel of a blackguard, and I hope you will say nothing more about it."

While the Senator was leaning upon the cigar-stand, the gentlemen from Muscogee came down the corridor and purposely brushed against him in passing. Mr. Morrissey tapped him on the shoulder, saying, "I beg your pardon, sir; but I overheard your remarks at the dinner table concerning New York and New Yorkers. Probably you were not aware that I am from New York city."

"Oh, yes, I reckon I was," said the Muscogee blossom.

"Then," continued Senator Morrissey, "when calling the city members of the New York Legislature thieves and gamblers, you were not aware that I was one of those officials."

"Oh, yes I reckon I was," repeated the Muscogee blossom very unconcernedly.

"Probably you know who I am, and your remarks at the table were meant for me," said the Senator.

"I reckon you're right," replied the blossom, with refreshing insolence, "They were just meant for you, sure, and no one else."

He stood with his fingers in his pistol pocket. Morrissey never raised his hands. For two seconds he remained motionless as a statue, and then the Muscogee blossom fell to the floor bleeding and senseless, a flower without a stalk. The Senator had used one of the tricks of his early days, and "bucked" him. Like lightning he had buried his head against the skull of the Georgian, and the latter dropped like a pig of lead. He was carried to his room insensible, and for hours it was a question of life or death. One of his doctors told Mr. Morrissey that the injured man could not live twenty-four hours. "I congratulate the citizens of Georgia," he replied. Six hours afterward the doctor met the Senator and said that the man would recover. "I condole with the citizens of Georgia," was the response. "I shall go to Jacksonville within a few days; but if I am wanted a telegraphic dispatch will receive prompt attention."

The next day, as Mr. Morrissey entered the dining hall he was shown to his table by the head-waiter. The table was a bed of rare and beautiful flowers, the gift of the ladies of the hotel. The Senator was so confused by this delicate attention that he could make no response. His manner, however, spoke louder than words, and when he went to Jacksonville his departure was universally regretted.

A State Committee of two from each county was appointed, to which committee was referred the subject of Senatorial, Councillor and County nominations.

Congress.

Senator Blaine on Wednesday introdnced a bill authorizing the coinage of unlimited numbers of silver dollars, each dollar to be worth a dollar, and providing that such dollars shall be legal tender, as by the existing law, in common with gold coin for all sums up to and including five dollars, and for all sums exceeding five dollars; the debtor shall have the right to tender in full payment and the creditor the right to demand one-half the amount in gold coin and one-half in silver dollars. The bill also provides that the profit arising from the coinage of silver shall go to the United States.

The question of Chinese cheap labor came up in the House as incident to the steamboat bill. Mr. Luttrell of California wanted to tack an amendment prohibiting vessels flying the American flag from engaging or employing in any capacity whatever any Chinese or Mongolians. He wanted to exclude these people altogether from the Pacific mail steamers, but was squelched by his party friends. Mr. Luttrell is a first-class demagogue—about on a level with Stanley Matthews.

Mr. Briggs, of the Second Congressional District of New Hampshire, has introduced a bill for the relief of Ex-United States Attorney Rolfe of this State.

The Eastern War.

The British fleet has been ordered to Besika bay, at the entrance of the Dardanelles. It is announced that the British government is determined to protect Gallipoli and Constantinople.

Constantinople is full of wild rumors about the Russians being close to Gallipoli, one account saying their scouts have been seen near the city, and another that their armies had arrived at Keshan on the 23d and would be at Gallipoli on the 26th. These stories are almost incredible, Gallipoli being situated on the shore of the Dardenelles at its entrance into the Sea of Marmora, and it seems impossible the invaders should have progressed so far.

Terrible Local Epidemic.

A terrible epidemic of diphtheria has been raging and still prevails in Ferrisburgh, Vt., and vicinity. A peculiar feature of the scourge has been that, in almost every instance where it has appeared in a family, it has carried off all of them but one person. Over twenty families have been thus afflicted, some of the sufferers dying in horrible agony. Its first appearance was in the family of Orange Gage, and in one week his entire family, consisting of his wife and three daughters, were dead. His near neighbor, John T. Preston, lost his entire family the next week, composed of three persons. J. Durand lost his entire household about the same time, as did also Jared Booth. D. Walker lost all his family. Notwithstanding the strenous efforts by physicians of all the different schools, the deadly epidemic has not yet been brought under control. Often it attacks a patient who is apparently in perfect health, and within an hour the throat will be coated with a fungus growth of white matter spreading over the membranes and lining of the throat, and in from twenty-four to forty-eight hours death ensues.

News and Notes.

Mr. Houghton, of the Atlantic Monthly is frequently quite happy in his sayings, a trait developed by contact with the brilliant men whom he so often meets. We have often thought that by the services of a short-hand reporter near his table in the publication rooms there would be saved to the world smart things enough to fill pages of apprciable gossip. Recently, in talking with Mr. Longfellow, concerning Mark Twain's speech at the Atlantic dinner, the former in good naturedly remarking as to the sensation caused by the startling story of Clements said, "fancy my going off with that fellow's boots!" "Yes," said Houghton, "leaving footprints on the sands of time."

The family record of Mrs. Hatch, of West Winstead, Conn., is a strange and tragic one. Two of her brothers were murdered, and a third drowned by accident; her sister's husband was killed in the war; her husband fell dead from his chair; and her only son, an engineer, lost his life in the recent accident at Tariffville.

Tabitha Anne Holton of Jamestown has been admitted to the bar of North Carolina after a very successful examination. She is the first woman lawyer of that State, and is the daughter of a clergyman.

Gov. Holliday of Virginia, being a childless widower, with no use for a fine house, finds it more comfortable to live at a hotel than at the Governor's Mansion, but the Virginians are very much scandalized thereat.

Abraham Voorhees, President of the defunct State Bank of New Brunswick, N. J., was married Tuesday to Miss Mattie Van Nostrand. The groom is seventy, and the bride twenty-three. Mr. Voorhees is reported to be worth $150,000, while the lady belongs to a poor working family.

Last Saturday night Mr. George Morris, an industrious burglar, broke into the house of Mr. Wm. J. Buckley, of Paterson, N. J. The next day, being Sunday, as Mr. Morris was entering an emporium for stolen goods in this city, his corpulence attracted the attention of an officer, and as he reappeared his sudden emaciation excited still further notice. He was arrested and found still enveloped in several layers of raiment, and in one of his frequent pockets was discovered a tell-tale draft with Mr. Buckley's name and address. Mr. Buckley was summoned by telegraph, and identified his own, and Mr. Morris obligingly went to Paterson once more. On Monday the Grand Jury of Passaic County promptly indicted Mr. Morris, and Tuesday morning Mr. Morris was arraigned. He pleaded guilty, and in a few minutes was convicted and sentenced to five years of productive labor in the State Prison. Who scoffs at Jersey justice now?—N. Y. Tribune.

Edward K. Collins, founder of the once famous Collins line of transatlantic steamships, died suddenly in New York on the 22d inst.

Political.

Another instance of democratic reform is furnished by the House committee on elections. They have decided to give the contested seat from California to the democratic candidate. To do this they must overlook the certificate of the democratic Secretary of State of California to the republican candidate, and the decision of the Supreme Court of California, with a democratic Chief Justice and a majority of democratic justices, also in favor of the republican candidate. This is on a par with the Colorado case. Perhaps it is a good way to secure party supremacy, but it looks as if there might be a risk in it.

There was an odd scene in the Senate on the 22d inst., when Maine had the day in both houses of Congress to make speeches on presenting the statue of Governor King to the National Gallery. During his speech, Senator Blaine took occasion to pay off some scores against Massachusetts, which he did with all the skill of a trained pugilist. Senators Hoar and Dawes replied with spirit and effect, while Senator Blaine rejoined with fresh blows. On the whole it was a lively contest, enjoyed by the Senate and gallery spectators, who have a decided relish for a fisticuff, and Mr. Blaine had the best of it; but we don't see of what use it can be.

The repudiationists of Virginia—"readjusters" they are called, by those people who do not like to term a thief a thief—have been heavily defeated in their attempt to make the Mother of Presidents a wholesale swindler. The candidates for State officers nominated by the caucus of conservative (honest debt-paying) members of the Legislature have all been elected; and this crushing defeat of the repudiation party it is thought will break its back. The fact that the mere talk about robbing the State's creditors put the State's credit so low that she found it impossible to borrow a paltry $200,000 on any terms whatever, notwithstanding the highfalutin twaddle of the repudiators about "maintaining Virginia's honor" and "equitable re-adjustment," seems to have opened the eyes of a good many of her citizens.

New Hampshire Items.

Concord had a fire Wednesday evening, the wind at the time blowing a gale and the mercury standing at seven below zero. The people were a good deal scared, but the fire was put out after burning a barn and painter's shop. Damage, about $2000.

There was a good attendance at the State poultry show at Keene Wednesday. The fowls and chicks were superior, but there were not so many entries as at former exhibitions. The professionals will pocket most of the prizes. Plymouth Rock and Houdans seem to be the favorites.

A new interest in the Curtis tragedy in Hopkinton has been awakened by the appearance in town of Thomas West, who is supposed to be the person meant in a recent statement in print that a Boston man was suspected of the murder of Mr. Curtis. Mr. West is a son-in-law of Mr. Curtis, and it is said declares his willingness to meet his accusers. He was formerly a resident of Hopkinton, and bore the reputation of a good citizen. West's name being mentioned unfavorably with the recent tragedy, on account of a reputed difference between him and his father-in-law, steps were taken toward investigation, which were abandoned for want of evidence.

J. O. Evans of Piermont lost a fine steer in a singular manner a few days ago. He had chopped a hole through the ice on his trough to allow the cattle to drink; as the water was low the steer had to force his nose clear to the bottom, and in so doing caught his horns under the ice, when the water ran in and drowned him.

The Manchester liquor dealers have lost the battle before the Supreme Court, and nearly all have retreated, plead guilty, and propose to settle with the State. At the conclusion of the proceedings Thursday morning, Hale, the Massachusetts detective and main witness for the State, was arrested on a complaint charging adultery. He was privately arraigned before the Police Court, waived examination, and was bound over in $600 to the May term of the Supreme Court. Two prominent citizens became bail. Other proceedings are rumored.

The Quadruplex Gold and Silver Mining and Tunnel Company.

The Black Hills, of Dakota, have been attracting the attention of miners and prospectors, for some few years back. Even before the region was opened by the government to emigration, miners found their way there, in spite of the almost certain hostility of the warlike Indians who held the land as a favorite hunting ground. And when at last the Federal land office threw off restrictions, hitherto imposed, the region was quickly thronged by thousands of those enterprising men, from all sections of our country, ever ready to carry their energy to any new field for the acquisition of new mines of the precious metals; and very soon city-like mining towns, Deadwood for example, sprang into existence as by magic, while with equal rapidity, stamp mills have been introduced for the crushing of the rich quartz ores which had been so extensively developed.

Among the most notable mines, is that known as the Quadruplex Gold and Silver Mining and Tunnel Company, located on Bullion Hill, North Castle Creek, within twenty-two miles of Deadwood, and thirty-two miles of Custer City. This property consists of four distinct lodes and a tunnel. The lodes are named respectively: Waverley, Windsor, Belcher and Crown Point—while the tunnel is known as the Oriental Tunnel.

The Crown Point lode was among the earliest discovered in the Black Hills, or in July 1876. A number of open cuts and shafts have been sunk on the vein, the croppings of which project above the surface, fully ten feet wide, for the distance of 1500 feet. The Belcher lode, an extension of the Crown Point, has about the same amount of work done upon it as on the former, which it closely resembles in appearance. The Waverley and Windsor lodes are also on the same Bullion Hill, parallel veins with the former, at a distance of about 400 feet to the southward. The character of the ore of all the lodes is that of a free milling ore, containing iron, but not in sufficient quantity to interfere with the proper milling and treating of the precious metals by the ordinary milling process. The width of the veins is from ten to eighteen feet, and it can be traced and distinctly seen on the surface for over half a mile.

The facilities for milling are excellent. North Castle Creek, within 300 yards of the base of the hill, has sufficient water for every necessary purpose throughout the entire year. Timber, also, is in great abundance—covering the entire mountain—or sufficient for the consumption of years, within a mile of the mine. Assays made at the mint from an average lot of ore, picked promiscuously from the entire length of the croppings, without regard to appearance, show from $5 to $18 in gold per ton; and the lowest assays made, showed from $10 to $270 silver to the ton. These ores, with the notable mill facilities at hand, can be milled at a cost not exceeding $5 per ton; while the ore can be mined and delivered at the mill at not to exceed $1 per ton. Two men, in two weeks, mined and piled up over 450 tons of good milling ore with twelve days labor. The ore coming from the croppings above the surface made this possible.

There are enough of these outcroppings to produce the same result for a year to come, without hoisting any ore from the shafts.

The Oriental Tunnel claim is situated at the base of Bullion Hill, and in its course will cut the two first mentioned lodes of the company, at a distance of about 150 feet. This tunnel is now in and under cover thirty feet, and, to the surprise of the owners, a large ore-body has already been reached, from which several hundred tons of pay-ore were taken in a few days, while the head of the tunnel, we are assured, is still in solid ore. The company have set aside 50,000 shares of the capital stock to be sold, and from the proceeds a 20-stamp mill will be erected. This when completed, the coming spring, will mill, on an average, thirty tons of ore per day. But as soon as the proceeds shall suffice, an additional mill will be put up.

A railroad is being constructed to the Black Hills, which, in all probability will be completed during the present year. This road will pass within five miles of these mines. The Quadruplex Gold and Silver Mining Company was incorporated, under the laws of the State of New York, in August, 1877, with a capital stock of $3,000,000 divided into 300,000 shares of $10 each.

The officers and directors of the company are Eugene H. Angamar, President, William Hinds, Vice President, Geo. W. Marston, Treasurer, George Tuthill, Secretary.

These, with Hon. Alex. McDonald, constitute the Board of Directors.

The stock has lately been listed at the New York Mining Stock Exchange, and will be called in a short time. The character of the Black Hills mineral lodes may be judged by the fact, that after a very thorough examination of them, a number of well-known money capitalists of San Francisco are purchasing claims and starting mills in that quarter.—Mining Journal.

—Two tramps who were sentenced to the stone pile at Iowa city stripped all their clothing off a few days ago, and tore it into rags, so that they could not be brought in their nakedness to the rock heap. They were then locked into two of the airiest cells in the jail and dieted on ice water and cold bread till they came to time.

—Here is a western romance in real life. John Sullivan and Annie Clem, aged respectively seventeen and fourteen, eloped together from Portland, Oregon. They embarked on a steamer for San Francisco. A storm arose. John went into a stall to quiet a frightened horse, and was kicked to death. Annie was so shocked and grieved that she became insane.

THE CITY.

The purchase money has been paid for Star island and the title passed to Mr. Rymes.

Mr. Edward F. Hall, who has for some time been acting as teller of the Portsmouth Trust and Guarantee Company, has been appointed to a similar position in the Mechanics and Traders Bank. Mr. Charles F. Shillaber takes Mr. Hall's position in the former banking institution.

The famous apostle of the Free Thinkers, or the "Free Religionists," as they are called, Parker Pillsbury, will hold services in Franklin Hall on Sunday afternoon, at the usual hour of church gathering. His subject will be, "The Popular Religions, and what shall be instead." Admission free. All are invited.

Laighton Brothers' little steamer Mollie started for a trip to the Shoals on Wednesday, but gave it up after getting outside of Whale's-back. It was lucky for some fishermen, though, for she picked up and towed in four dories, the occupants when picked up being pretty well used up by hard pulling against the gale and the severe cold.

The Nowell Brothers, of this city, through the courtesy of the proprietors, will have the honor of giving the first vocal and instrumental concert in the Music Hall, on the evening of Feb. 5th, assisted by the following eminent musicians: Mr. Wulf Fries, violoncello; Mr. Carl Pfluger, tenor; Miss Lillian Bailey, soprano; Mr. Theodore Castelhune, basso.

The Masonic Mutual Relief Association has elected the following additional officers for the ensuing term: Trustees, Charles W. Norton, John R. Holbrook, Marcellus Eldredge, Samuel C. Whittier, Edmund M. Brown, Charles W. Gardner of this city; J. R. Tapley, T. J. Spurling, C. A. Tufts of Dover; E. McNute, Abner Oakes, I. P. Fall of South Berwick; W. A. Ashe, John H. Lord, William F. Batten, Auditing Committee.

"Poor Jo" is to be produced at the new Music Hall next Thursday night by Thayer and Tompkins' Boston company, as the third and last of their series of entertainments. Mrs. Thomas Barry, the leading lady of the Boston Theatre, appears as Lady Dedlock, in which part she met with the greatest success in New York and Chicago. It may interest our young lady readers to know that the costumes worn by Mrs. Barry in this part cost $4000. Mr. Charles H. Thayer will assume the character of Inspector Bucket, and Mrs. Pennoyer that of Hortense, the French waiting maid. Miss Mary Cary in the title role has appeared all over the country and everywhere won the encomiums of the press. The sale of tickets for the three entertainments has already been very large, though there are still desirable seats left.

A Portsmouth man was going east last week, and the train started off very suddenly while he was talking with his friends. He grabbed hold of a woman, chucked her on the train, jumped after her, away they went, a thousand miles an hour, with his wife shrieking and tearing her hair on the platform, and a woman he never saw before going into high pressure hysterics in the car, calling him a monster, and yelling, "Save me!" By a terrible mistake he had got hold of the wrong woman, and the conductor, refusing to listen to his explanations, kicked him out of the car, the brakeman chucked him into the ditch, the sheriff met him before he was half way back to town and put handcuffs on him, and when at last he got home, he saw his business partner holding his wife on his lap and telling her that there were men in the world who loved her much better than her faithless husband ever did. He says the next time he travels he will walk.—Wolfeborough News.

WRECK OF THE PILGRIM.

Schooner Pilgrim, Capt. Ole Anderson, started out on Wednesday to haul her trawls, but the wind freshening rapidly attempted to return. When off Odiorne's Point the mainsail was split; the sails were then reefed, and the schooner was finally (between one and two o'clock) worked into an anchorage in Fort Point cove, having also split her foresail, after it was reefed. Capt. Anderson and the two men composing his crew then came up town to procure more ground tackle, (the captain freezing his ears badly while on the way,) returning at about five to find their vessel gone, and to see her dragging over Wood Island bar. On account of the heavy sea and violent wind it was impossible for them to get to her, though she was seen to bring up once, her anchor holding her for some little time, when she again commenced to drift; and at dark she was seen on White island, (the next island outside of Whale's-back,) with the sea making a clean breach over her; and at daylight there was no sign of her to be seen.

The Pilgrim was built about fifteen years ago, in Dorchester, Mass., as a pleasure yacht for W. H. Boynton & Co., who owned her for two years and then sold her to Mr. John Dixon of this city, who used her for a pleasure boat for several years, and then sold her to the Laighton Brothers, of the Shoals, who last June sold her to Capt. Anderson, her purchase money and the repairs put out on her making her stand the last owner at about $400; she was about seven tons, and originally cost $1800.

The loss of the Pilgrim is a severe one to Capt. Anderson, who is thereby left absolutely destitute, having invested all he had in the world in the schooner, and holding no insurance on her. He at one time sailed in the schooner Clara E. Simpson, for three and a half years, and supposed that in case of destitution induced by wreck the customs authorities could extend some relief; but on application learned that such is not the case regarding fishermen in their home ports. He is an industrious, sober, worthy man, and a little aid promptly extended to him would be charity well bestowed; any one wishing to lend a hand to the deserving but unfortunate skipper, can leave any offering at the house of Charles A. Benson, No. 15 State street,—or if left at this office the same will be promptly put where it will do a great deal of good.

THE CITY GOVERNMENT.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening:

A petition from a number of residents living on Water street, between South Mill and Newcastle bridges, requesting that that portion of the city be lighted, was accepted and referred to the committee on gas lights to report.

A petition from a large number of tax payers calling the attention of the Board to mill pond nuisance, was received.

The annual report of the City Marshal was presented. Accepted and referred to committee on police.

Dealers in kerosene asked for licenses to sell. Granted, with the usual restrictions.

The committee to whom was referred the matter of the proprietors of Music Hall, reported by quoting the law relating to the granting of licenses to showmen, and recommended that on the three opening nights a free license be granted them, and submitted the following resolution:

That in consideration of future proposals of persons for amusements, that the character and standing of the proposed exhibition be a primary question in the matter of granting and grading the prices of such applications.

Accepted and the resolution passed.

Voted that Charles H. Kennston be appointed special police without pay at Music Hall.

Committee on gas lights reported that the petition for a naphtha light on Lincoln avenue be withdrawn. Voted to lay the report on the table.

The committee on the widening of Penhallow street, asked for further time. Granted.

Committee on city lands and buildings reported that the room now used as the Engineer's office in the city building, be leased to Mercer Goodrich for fifty dollars per year and that the lease expire at the same time as the present one; and recommended that a room be fitted in the building in the rear of the engine house on Court street, for an Engineer's office. Accepted and adopted.

Adjourned for two weeks.

POLICE COURT.

Thursday, Jan. 24th, Batchelder, J.

Isaac Welsh, drunk, $9.90 fine and costs. Brentwood.

NAVAL MATTERS.

Lieut. Thomas M. Gardner is ordered to examination for promotion. [Lieut. Gardner is well known in this city, having been on duty at this navy yard, and for some time commanded the relief steamer Mayflower, stationed here. During his stay here he was deservedly popular with his brother officers, his subordinates and the citizens.]

Thursday was pay day at the navy yard.

Work is to be resumed upon the U. S. S. Ticonderoga at the navy yard. Before proceeding with the repairs the Constructor deemed it proper to call the attention of the Bureau of Construction and Repair to the condition of the ship as she came into dock, and work was suspended until a board of survey examined the hull of the ship. Since their report has been received at the Navy Department at Washington, orders have been transmitted to the navy yard to proceed with the work.

COUNTY NOMINATIONS.

The Republican County Convention for Rockingham County was held at Exeter on Wednesday, the following candidates being nominated: for Register of Deeds, George E. Weston of Windham; for County Treasurer, George E. Lane, of Exeter; for County Commissioner, Frank P. Gram, of Hampton Falls.

The Democratic County Convention was held at Epping on the same day, and candidates nominated as follows: for Register of Deeds, Andrew J. Hoyt, of Exeter; for County Treasurer, Samuel P. Treadwell, of Portsmouth; for County Commissioner, Alden B. Smith, of Derry.

SUPREME COURT--JAN. TERM.

Thursday, Jan. 24; Bingham, J.

In the cases of Anna Gordon and Sarah Gordon of Brentwood, against the Boston & Maine Railroad, suit for $1500 for damages caused by fright of a horse at Middle street railroad crossing, in Exeter, the jury gave verdict for plaintiffs of $1000 in both cases.

THE VICINITY.

County Solicitor Small declined to bring into Court at Exeter the case of the N. H. S. P. C. A. vs. Jefferson Janvrin of Hampton Falls, for killing ducks, etc. Probably he regarded the whole affair as but part of a miserable and contemptible neighborhood quarrel which has existed there for years, in which all concerned seem to strive to make themselves and each other as uncomfortable and disagreeable as possible.—Weekly.

There is one young hopeful in a Foss street primary school who stands a good chance to go to Congress one of these days. One afternoon he wanted to be excused. He came to the teacher and with tears in his eyes said his mother was dead and he couldn't stay. Of course the teacher told him to go at once, but just as he was vanishing from the school room she called him up and asked him when his mother died. "She died four years ago, ma'am," was the young urchin's reply. The teacher let him go through.—Biddeford Post.

Senator Wadleigh has presented to the Senate the petition of Edmund R. Batchelder of Exeter, praying to have his name restored to the pension list. The petition has been referred to the committee on pensions. Batchelder and his two sons went to the war, the former in Col. Harriman's regiment; he became disabled and was placed on the pension list in 1863; at the March election in 1864 he refused on account of some personal reason to vote for Joseph A. Gilman for Governor, and he was threatened that he should be deprived of his pension, which seems to have been shortly after brought about by means of statements that Batchelder before he entered the army was sick of the disease for the contraction of which while in service he was pensioned. This was contradicted by the officer who enlisted him and the surgeon who examined him, but nevertheless the pension office refused to restore him, and Batchelder has asked for a hearing before a committee of Congress.

A Tooth for a Tooth,

That is to say an artificial tooth for a real one, is not a good exchange. Therefore, keep your natural teeth unimpaired, and in order to do so use that famous preservative tooth-wash, Sozodont. It is a wholesome botanic preparation, unrivalled as an anti-putrescent and antagonist of decomposition and decay.

Nothing welds things together like Spalding's Glue.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 128 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. feb13

Business is dull. Try stock speculation! Thousands of dollars are often made from an investment of one hundred. Send to Alex. Frothingham & Co., brokers, 52 Wall street, for their Weekly Financial Report, sent free. 2

"It seems as if I should cough my head off" is sometimes the impatient exclamation of a sufferer from a severe Cough. Quell the paroxysms with Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar. The relief is immediate and the cure certain. Sold by all Druggists.

Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 minute. feb6

ONE TRIAL is sufficient to convince the most skeptical of the invaluable and unfailing efficacy of Madame Zadoc Porter's Curative Balsam for the cure of Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness, shortness of Breathing, Asthma, Difficulty of Breathing, Huskiness, Tickling in the Throat, &c. Has been in use over forty years. Price, 25, 50, and 75 cents per bottle.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, Bible House, New York City. eod&uteopt15 78

—The estimated weight of California minerals to be sent to the Paris Exposition is five hundred tons. There is to be a pyramid twenty feet square and nearly seventy feet high, representing the seventy million of cubic inches of gold which have been produced on the Pacific coast. Its equivalent would be a solid piece of gold of a cube of sixteen feet. Surrounding the pyramid will be fifty cases for the exhibition of the other minerals of the country.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Ulcers, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most convenient purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but power ul to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.

They relieve pain;

They subdue swellings;

They cure burns without a scar.

The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate hidden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the relief upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a sufferer. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey

To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gives nor gripes.

COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.

Messrs. J. B. ROSE & Co., N. Y.

I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.

Very truly yours,

NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the material prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported looks up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Pectoral.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Tonic.

Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs, and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness. Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint," and as Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

When the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or when there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and loomy foreboding, want of appetite, and have no energy, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms may be experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Anti-bilious Purgative Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Fever in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Be daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions of the Skin. They, however, recommend to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, allure the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; then renews the growth; and always restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus lustrous, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expressing; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or has tested the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust constitution. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, frequently assaulted by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is true, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands of a competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed where all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the acrid blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nasal passages. Its sent up is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.
NORSCOTT BLOCK, SO. FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen, who, in private, not only freely recommend it but use it in their families in preference to any of the preparations usually prescribed by physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my obligations to the Mass. Medical Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure; but since I received so much relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised its use, and to some I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN,—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We LIKE to learn the first complaint.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but your preparation meets the wants of thousands, and we think deserves unlimited advertising of its great merit as the only suffering will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sell everything for Catarrh, but yours leads all the rest. It is a proper cure, and we think better of it at every time we visit it and.

Very truly yours, S. D. BALDWIN & CO.
Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Drugs, Books and Stationery, Washington, Ind., Feb. 23, 1876.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's improved Inhaler, Balm, and full directions for use in all cases. Price, $1.00. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canada, or WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Strengthening Plaster, universally acknowledged the best for pains and aches in the World of Medicine.

ELECTRICITY

As a grand curative and restorative agent is not surpassed by any electrical appliance ever offered to the healing art. Unless the vital spark has fled the body, restoration by means of electricity may be hoped. It is the last resort of all physicians and surgeons, and has revivified thousands, apparently dead, from an untimely grave, when no other human agency could have accomplished. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine and the gums of the East are too well known to require description. Their grateful, healing, soothing, and strengthening properties are known to thousands. When combined in accordance with late and important discoveries in pharmacy, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold, so this Voltaic Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

TWO IN ONE.

Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which performs its functions, and jointly produces more cures than any liniment, lotion, wash, or plaster ever before compounded, in the history of medicine. Try one. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canada, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

OLD LETTERS.

O, keep the old letters! for when turning away
From the world and its cares at some future day,
Their contents to memory a freshness will lend,
And bring recollections of some early friend.

From these time-worn missives, so yellow with age,
The voices of loved ones will speak from each page,
And scenes long forgotten, of old friends and times,
You recall while perusing those faintly-traced lines.

Both joyous and sad are the memories they bring;
Memories of friends whom we loved in life's spring,
Sweet records of hopes that faded at birth,
Of dark clouds, and sunshine, of sorrow and mirth.

Perchance the hands by whom they were traced
Are now silently folded in death's cold embrace,
Over the heart that prompted each thought,
And gave you the pleasure a kind letter brought.

As we read them, a mother's affection we find
With a kind father's counsels together entwined;
Then a schoolmate, or brother in early we view;
If one has proved treacherous, there's many that's true.

Like a glance at a photograph each page will recall
Not only the memory but the features of all;
And looking again o'er time's backward track,
In fancy their voices a distance come back.

Then keep these old letters; in the future they'll bring
Like the showers of April, the fair buds of Spring;
And whether from kindred, old classmate or friend,
They'll freshen your life by the pleasure they lend.

CLARA A. LYNN.

A Doctor on Dancing.

Dr. Fodyce Parker, having been interviewed by a New York World reporter on the subject of dancing, among other things said:

"Dancing is a good thing. It distracts women's minds from the contemplation of their own symptoms, and thereby circumvent an evil. As for Mrs. Sherman, I suppose those things are matters of education. People, you know, who are not used to seeing nude figures in statuary or painting experience indecent feeling, and then again, you know, people who are used to seeing that sort of thing don't. Habit, familiarity and refinement make most of us agreed in these matters. There is one fact," the doctor continued, in talking afterwards of the strength of American women and their habits of life and dress, "that you might notice; that town women are stronger, fresher, handsomer, and live longer than women who live in the country. This must be accepted because the reasons for it are apparent. The women in the city eat better food, they are able to divert themselves with concerts and theatres—the very streets are a diversion—and they have baths, the benefits of which are incalculable. The country women do nothing but go to church or to the country store to buy a bit of calico and a ribbon."

"Then you think the New York women are in good condition?"

"They are the finest women in the world—physically, in point of figure, development and grace. I have been in Europe a good deal, and I find the women here better specimens than those in London, Paris, Berlin or Vienna. There has been a marked change in American womanhood within twenty years. People returning after a long absence have noticed it. Our girls now growing, or just grown, are magnificent specimens. The old follies of dress, such as tight-lacing, etc., are done, and we clothe ourselves to the full as sensibly as the rest of the world. New York women wear flannels now and thick soles in their shoes. The corsets are loose and are an aid in supporting the skirts, the bands of which without these would act as ligatures and interfere with the circulation. We are a city of superb, healthy women, perfect in figure beyond any that I know. These can do round dancing and no harm will come to them."

—Somebody wants to know the name of the tune that was "played upon the feelings," and also if the "cup of sorrow" has a saucer. The same inquisitor would like to know if "the light of other days" was gas or electricity. Also, if the girl who "clung to hope" had not a slippery hold, and if people do not get fatigued by "the exercise of endurance."

—The Barrow (Eng.) Times says that a projected revolution in ladies' dress, or at least in the material of which it is now composed, is engaging the attention of the Barrow Flax and Jute Company. They claim to have discovered the art of spinning jute into a fabric combing the gloss and fineness of silk with the softness of wool, and singularly capable of taking the most delicate dyes. In order fittingly to introduce the new texture to society a great jute ball is in preparation for a day in January, when it is expected that a decisive demonstration of the boasted superiority of the new competitor for the favor of the world of fashion will take place.

The Eastern War.

The Russians captured 2000 wagons of Suleiman Pasha's train about forty miles from Adrianople. At Philipopolis they split his army of 40,000 in two, driving the separated divisions in opposite directions and capturing ninety-seven guns.

The attitude of England is very threatening, and it is much more than possible that a few days will see her at war with Russia,—and what will come next no one can predict with any degree of confidence.

A despatch from Constantinople, Friday, says the Porte has accepted the Russian conditions, which include territorial concessions and the payment of a heavy war indemnity.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23d.

The committee on expenditures of the Treasury Department, at a meeting held on Monday last, adopted the following:

Resolved, That the President be, and is hereby requested, to co-operate with this committee in its investigations of alleged abuses in the Treasury Department, and to issue the order necessary for that purpose.

Chairman Glover's letter, transmitting the resolution to the President, broadly charges that "for years the Executive Departments of the Federal Government have been increasingly corrupt and oppressive," "trampling on the rights and liberties of citizens without hope of redress and the officers rioting in the profusion of their plunder," till "this misrule has wrought wide misfortune and distress." He then makes some excuse for honest officials, as "the vast extension of the powers of the Government during the late period of civil war and disorder, has thrown on the executive heads such great and multifarious responsibility that it is impractical for the head of any Department to know much of what his subordinates do." He extends to the deserving heads of bureaus and subdivisions the benefit of the same good intentions as are attributed to honest Secretaries, but charges to their subordinates a good proportion of every grade of crime and misdemeanor known to our statute books, and says they were banded together to conceal their dishonest, cruel, oppressive and infamous practices; and finally he informs President Hayes that if he will co-operate with his (Glover's) committee and assure witnesses of protection who desire to tell the truth but dare not, he "will earn the esteem and gratitude of your (his) countrymen." The President's reply, as below, has likely reassured Mr. Glover:

Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your resolution adopted by a Committee of the House of Representatives on expenditures in the Treasury Department requesting my co-operation with the Committee in its investigations of alleged abuses in said Department. I shall be glad to co-operate heartily with the Committee in the proposed investigation, and to that end will issue such proper directions to all officers of that or any other Department as may be required to secure prompt and effective assistance in the conduct of the investigation. Touching the suggestion contained in your letter, that witnesses who may testify before the Committee may be apprehensive of losing their places if they testify truly and fully, you are at liberty to assure all subordinate officers that the fact of their testifying before the Committee shall not be used to their prejudice.

Very respectfully, R. B. HAYES.

The railroad lobby, in common with others, is showing its hand so plainly that all who run may read. It is proposed on behalf of a new scheme just broached in Congress, that Government aid, to the extent it was promised the Puget Sound Branch of the Northern Pacific Road, be extended to the "Portland (Oregon) and Salt Lake Railroad Company," the former relinquishing all its rights in the premises, in favor of this new candidate for subsidy. Mr. Chalmers has introduced another to the attention of the House, through a bill, proposing that $20,000 per mile in greenbacks be granted three branches of a truck line to terminate at Vicksburg, one to St. Louis, one to Memphis and one to New Orleans, Government accepting as collateral their bonds at five per cent. payable in fifty years, their payment to be secured by a first mortgage on the roads named, and their other property.

The sweeping provisions of Senator Chaffee's bill just introduced, declaratory of the true intent of the act of July 2, 1864, in aid of the Pacific Railroad, will likely act as a bar to its speedy passage, or at least until sufficient time is allowed to fully ascertain all its bearings. It compels the Union Pacific Company to accede to the demands of the Kansas Pacific Company relative to the rates on joint business; more specially, it requires the former company to charge per mile on business coming from, or going to, the latter at Cheyenne, only their lowest mileage rates on the through business of their own roads, failure herein to work a forfeiture of their franchises. KNOX.

An Irish Catholic Church.

Father McNamara, a Catholic priest of New York, who has been noted for his independent utterances, has organized what he calls the "Catholic Church in Ireland," and is holding services in a hall in Winter street in that city, which are attended by large and apparently sympathetic audiences, drawn principally from a disreputable section of the city. Last Sunday evening he spoke in denunciation of the Italian priests, and the prayers and the responses were in the Irish tongue. His dress was the full vestments of an officiating Catholic Priest. Approaching the altar, he devoutly crossed himself, and blessed his people.

Standing before the altar, the Father said that he had called the people together not to advance any new doctrine, but to restore in its purity the old-fashioned Catholic religion of the Irish, of many, many years ago—the religion that had been seized on by strangers, who had no sympathy with the Irish, and who used it only for political purposes, and their own personal aggrandizement. These foreign priests have governed with an iron hand, and the Irish have obeyed blindly; but they will do so no more. The end has come. Italian priestcraft will have power no longer, and the Irish Catholic church, in all its old-fashioned beauty and simplicity will be restored.

At the close of his address the articles of the Irish church were read as follows:

"That the Irish Catholic church recognize the serious injury that Papal influence has worked to Irish Catholics all over the world; that the worship of the Pope has approached idolatry, and that in paying their devotions to him the people have almost forgotten to worship God; that they will no longer contribute money to the support of a dissolute and worthless set of Italian ecclesiastics. That the decree of infallibility was a fearful act of blasphemy against God. That Italian priestcraft got control of the Irish people by intriguing with the wealthy land-owners of England, who had their own selfish ends to gratify. That it is not religion, but a blind superstition which makes men fear the excommunication of the Pope. That they protest against the assumption of spiritual authority by the Italian priesthood over a church which did not originate in Rome but existed in Ireland many centuries ago.

That the Irish Church look for the fountain-head of their religion, not in Rome, where the Cardinals live in sensuous ease, but to the country where Christ was born and suffered and died. That it is the duty of all sincere Irish priests to cut loose from Italian ecclesiastical powers, and bring the people back to their simple, original Irish religion. That the people love their own Irish priests, and call upon all to come over at once and ally themselves without a day's delay, with their own people to protect their own nation. That the members of the Irish church pledge themselves not to enter any church, or receive the sacrament at the hands of any priest who recognizes the authority of the Italian ecclesiastics. That the Irish priests who continue to recognize the spiritual power of the Italian priesthood shall be declared excommunicated."

News and Notes.

At St. Albans, Vt., the other day, Mrs. La Plant, the mother of ten living children, the oldest 35 years old and the youngest 5, married one La Faun, aged between 16 and 19, and the happy couple started for Plattsburg to spend the honeymoon.

Frank Falk and Helen and Emma Jacobs were killed at Milwaukee, Wis., by a train running over their carriage.

It is stated that for three years past certain students at Harvard University, more wealthy than studious, have been accustomed to purchase examination papers from the printer. By thus knowing in advance the questions to be asked at examination, they were enabled to pass perfect examination papers. It is said that as many as twenty members of the last graduating class at Harvard would have failed to pass the examination for the degree of Bachelor of Arts but for this underhand purchase system. The corruption has but recently come to the ears of the Faculty, and the printer who has been making money by a breach of trust has been discharged. This is the second case of students buying up examination papers of recent occurrence, the first being the bribery of a tutor by freshmen to show the paper he was to give at an examination about to take place.

Charles E. Smith, a telegraph operator of Munster, Ill., was returning on New Year's night from a party, walking along the railroad track, when on the middle of a trestle bridge twenty-five feet in height he was stopped by an armed tramp, who forced him to throw up his hands and surrender his revolver, $60 in cash, a valuable gold watch, some jewelry and his ulster, dress coat and vest. As Smith took off his vest he watched an opportunity, and with a desperate push hurled the robber from the trestle work upon the ice below. Hurrying back for assistance, on his return he found the highwayman lying senseless and seriously, if not fatally, wounded on the ice below, with all his plunder, and the man was soon in jail.

Miss Elizabeth West, of Cleves, O., has recovered $6000 damages (second trial and the same verdict) from the estate of a dead lover, Enoch Hayes, who had promised to marry her, but failed to keep his promise.

The cigar maker's strike in New York has collapsed. All the manufactories are running as before the strike, and at least 5000 of the old employes are out of work.

Dr. A Miller, formerly editor of the Burlington Hawkeye, was recently shot dead in Breckenridge, Texas, by a Dr. Brolles, who is held in $2500 for trial.

William Meller of Newell's Run, near Cincinnati, seduced Elizabeth Taylor, and then notified the overseers of the poor to take care of her. She heard of it, took an axe, went to his room and cut his head open. He died.

Judge Humphries, of the highest court of the District of Columbia, is thus referred to in the Washington Post: "A sad spectacle was presented to the audience in attendance upon the session of the District General Court at the City Hall yesterday, it being no more nor less than a Judge of the said Supreme Court in a dense state of intoxication while occupying his seat upon the bench in general term. Judge Humphries has frequently been guilty of the flagrant abuse of his important trust, and it is now high time for him to either resign or break the flowing bowl. The signt of a Supreme Court Judge, swaying in his chair in a maudlin state, sentencing a sneak thief to eight years in the Penitentiary, while a fiend found guilty of rape is let off with a month, is hardly calculated to inspire vast respect in the mind of the average beholder." We should say not.

On the 17th inst. a three and a half years old child of Mr. G. O. Gleason, postmaster of Mexico, Maine, was amusing himself in his father's store by blowing beans from his mouth, when he drew one down his throat, causing strangulation. His father instantly carried him in to an adjoining room, where the little sufferer exclaimed to his mother, "Oh, mamma, I don't want to die," and spoke no more. Every effort was made to save him, but he died within an hour.

The Lewiston (Me.) station agent of the Maine Central Railroad, Mr. S. O. Wood, has been found $10,000 short in his accounts. Wood has handed over $7000, and his bondsmen are good for the rest.

Congress.

In the Senate, Thursday, Mr. Lamar of Mississippi made a powerful speech against inflation or repudiation, in whole or part, directly or indirectly, under the guise of "remonetization" or in any other way. He announced his determination to vote against the silver bill, although the legislature of his State voted to favor it; and by unanswerable arguments showed that it is for the interest of the people of his section,—where all are laborers since the war,—that the laboring man should be paid in gold or its equivalent, and not in dollars worth only ninety cents apiece. Thurman, of Ohio, once the hardest of all "honest democratic money" men, spoke in favor of paying the U. S. bonds in depreciated silver. Kernan, of New York, spoke against it.

It is stated that Fernando Wood gives up the idea of taxing tea and coffee in the new tariff bill.

New Hampshire Items.

George W. Burbank, an employe of Clement & Co., in Gorham, was struck on the left temple by a falling tree Wednesday. He has since remained insensible, and there is little hope of his recovery.

Rev. L. Malvern of Laconia has two Bibles, which are respectively 200 and 300 years old.

George L. Ordway of Warner, son of Col. N. G. Ordway, was admitted to the bar at the Supreme Court held at Manchester on the 22d inst.

Laconia has a fire-bug who has made several attempts to burn the town, and another one was made Wednesday night. A candle, lighted so as to ignite by burning down in the hay stables of the Laconia House, opposite the Court House and near the new Baptist church, was discovered by the hostler who was looking for tramps. The wind was blowing a gale. It was a fortunate discovery.

Gilmanton Iron Works has a boy nine years old who stands five feet and ten inches in his stockings, and weighs 156 pounds.

According to the Manchester Mirror, the following dialogue occurred in court one day, the witness being a boy: Judge—"Young man, do you believe you will be punished if you tell the truth?" Boy—"Yes." "Do you believe there is a God?" "No." "Do you attend church?" "Yes." "What do you hear there?" "Singing." "What do you think will become of you if you don't tell the truth?" "My mother will like me, sir." He was then made to recognize in the sum of $50 to appear as a witness at the Supreme Court.

Political.

William Lloyd Garrison, in a letter as incisive as any he ever wrote, addressed to Hon. Wm. E. Chandler, expresses his "hearty approval" of Mr. Chandler's letter to the republicans of New Hampshire, "alike as to the justness of its impeachment, the conclusiveness of its evidence and the propriety and pertinency of its publication in this new crisis of our national history."

The Massachusetts papers, with a few exceptions, are as disgusted with Senator Blaine's speech on the occasion of presenting to the National Gallery the statue of Gov. King of Maine, as they were with Mr. Chandler's letter. They all seem to be satisfied that Mr. Blaine is very dead, and utterly beneath notice. Then they notice him to the extent of a column or two and scatter paragraphs about him all through the rest of their columns.

Wonderful indeed, and past finding out are the ways of civil service reform of the Hayes patent. The Maine delegation in Congress wanted U. S. Marshal Marble, of Portland, an excellent official, reappointed; and they wanted a Mr. Knowlton appointed in place of U. S. District Attorney Webb, whose term has expired. They were given to understand that their wishes would be complied with, the appointments recommended by them being directly in the line of civil service reform,—but that was before Senator Blaine scraped Dawes and Hoar, of Massachusetts, so hard. The appointments have now been made, but Marble is forced to give place to an old army friend of Attorney General Devens, who was backed by the Massachusetts Senators, and Webb is reappointed. The true civil service reform consists in the President taking away the "patronage" from the Senators and Representatives of his party, and bestowing it on his personal friends and supporters.

THE CITY.

Mr. Charles E. Hodgdon has entered an action in the Supreme Court against the Eastern Railroad Co. for damages incurred by reasons of being struck by an engine at the crossing on Green street.

The annual report of the City Marshal for the year just ended, shows that the total number of arrests were 864, of which 583 were drunks; 1399 tramps were lodged during the year, and the sum of $789.54 was collected in payment of fines and costs.

Mr. George H. Twombly, publisher of the Strafford County Advertiser of Dover, has purchased the printing establishment formerly occupied by B. F. Thorndike, corner of Ladd & Market streets, in this city, where he will continue the publication of the paper.

In the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts on Thursday the equity cases of the Merchants National Bank, the National Bank of Commerce, the First National Bank of Boston, Lemuel Shaw and others, Trustees, against the Eastern Railroad Company, were argued. These are cases brought to determine the liability of the E. R. R. Co., by reason of its guaranty of the bonds of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad, and the decision if favorable to the bondholders will doubtless be followed by a payment of the interest in arrears.

POLICE COURT.

Friday, Jan. 25th; Batchelder, J.

Walter Hoyt was arraigned, charged with having attempted to break into the saloon of John Hehir on Bresewster street, on the night of Sunday, the 20th inst. John Hehir and his brother James testified that the door of the saloon was all right at seven o'clock Sunday evening; between eleven and twelve o'clock a man was seen to pass around the corner of the building, and immediately after sounds were heard as of some one endeavoring to break down the door; witnesses went to the place, and a man whom they identified as Hoyt ran away. The door was found to be partially broken in, probably with an axe. Hoyt was adjudged probably guilty, and held in $200 to answer at the Supreme Court.

Kate Hamilton was charged $9.90 for one drunk, which she paid.

A METEOR?

RYE, Jan. 24th.

As the writer of this, in company with Mr. Ruel G. Shapley, was returning from Exeter yesterday afternoon, when near North Hampton church (it being then near five o'clock) our attention was called to what was apparently a stream of fire descending towards the horizon in a southerly direction. The light was very brilliant, and seemed of a greenish hue. We concluded it was a meteor. Another gentleman, who was on the railroad track between Greenland and North Hampton stations, also saw it; and still another, at Greenland depot, had his attention attracted by a sharp flash which he thought must have been lightning. The latter gentleman was in doors at the time, and the flash was reflected through a window. Perhaps others saw it, who can possibly give a better description of it. NAT.

[Some people, after reading the above, will lay their forefinger alongside their nose, and say: "Aha! Returning from Exeter Wednesday evening, were they? Saw lightning and meteors and things. Convention in Exeter on Wednesday. Plain enough—only wonder is they didn't see more!" But such persons must remember that our correspondent "Nat" isn't that kind of a man at all, and that it was a republican convention that was held in Exeter that day. Also, that (as he mentions) the same thing was seen by other gentlemen, who hadn't been to any convention at all.—Ed.]

THE HEAVY ARTILLERY.

The inspection of the Heavy Artillery by Col. D. J. Vaughan took place at their Armory on Market street on Thursday evening. In regard to their appearance and drill any compliments would be superfluous, as the military critics have placed them very high if not indeed the first on the list in this State, and they will compare not unfavorably with the best-drilled companies of other States. After a dress parade and inspection, Col. Vaughan made a few remarks in his official capacity, and then spoke briefly and feelingly of the pleasure he experienced with them as their former captain, of the pride he took in their deportment and fine appearance on all public occasions, and thanked them for the marked respect they had ever shown him and their readiness in obeying all his commands. After a little more drill the boys with their invited guests partook of a collation furnished by Captain Cunningham, in honor of his taking the command.

This company formed a part of the Artillery Company which was organized in this city in the spring of 1875, officered by Captain T. E. O. Marvin, 1st Lieut. David Urch, 2d Lieutenant G. N. Jones. Owing to some discordant elements between which no reconciliation could be effected, a number of the members left, and in May, 1876, formed or reorganized into a new company, receiving from the State the name of "The Portsmouth Heavy Artillery," electing for officers, Captain Frank Williams, 1st Lieutenant David Urch, 2d Lieutenant Shirley B. Cunningham. At this date the military feeling throughout the whole State was very active, and a strong feeling of rivalry existed, as to which should be first on the list. This company being mostly composed of young men, with the natural vim and go-aheadativeness of youth and the spirit of emulation strongly developed in them, made work light and outstripped all of their competitors, easily winning the laurels, standing first both in the elegance of the uniform and their precision in drill. Subsequently Captain Williams' resignation, and also that of Lieut. Urch, resulted in the election of Major D. J. Vaughan as Captain, Shirley B. Cunningham 1st Lieut. and A. P. Preston 2d Lieut. Captain Vaughan accepting the position of Inspector caused another election, and the roster of the company now stands as follows,—and includes twenty-four of the original members:

Captain, Shirley B. Cunningham; First Lieut., Ira C. Seymour; Second Lieut., Andrew P. Preston; 1st Serg., W. A. Payson; 2nd Serg., F. B. Harraden; 3d Serg., Arthur W. Walker; 1st Corporal, G. N. Jones; 2nd Corp., Henry Smith; 3d Corp., M. Crowley; Privates—Appleton Tredick, W. M. Haddock, T. H. Sheridan, M. M. Fairborn, J. S. Whidden, H. Manson, F. P. Wilson, R. H. Pickering, E. F. Swasey, R. H. Hall, A. P. Wendell, N. Philbrick, J. Hurd, W. J. Sampson, E. G. Peterson, H. Shannon, H. B. Kent, W. Anderson, E. E. McIntire, F. C. Young, F. Garrett, F. Magraw, M. B. McCarty, T. Faulkner, C. Brock, C. McCarty, C. W. Amazeen, F. Grindell, C. Clough, J. H. Gilman, E. Linnehan, J. Griffin, C. Akerman, J. H. Emery. Honorary Members — Capt. William Robinson, R. Edwin Rider, William Kusel, Joseph Bradley, W. J. Frazier, Capt. Frank Williams, Hall Varrell, George K. Hooper, Rev. C. A. Holbrook (the latter being the Chaplain.) First Sergt. William A. Payson has twice been chosen Lieutenant, but has declined, preferring to remain in his present position.

This company has been to Concord and Dover, Salem, Mass., Bennington, Vt., (five days,) in camp at Rye Beach seven days, received the Salem Cadets and performed escort duty for the 40th Massachusetts, besides taking part in other parades, including Memorial Day, Fourth of July, etc. On all occasions when they have visited other cities they have been greeted with marked distinction and have received the highest encomiums. The present number is forty-three, and with the new impetus and interest which the State is giving to its military organization it will soon have its full quota. Our citizens seem to enjoy and take pride in the fine display that our military makes; and they could greatly add to its effectiveness, by associating themselves with it as honorary members.

The Armory of the Heavies is nicely furnished; the walls are decorated with some very fine paintings and pictures, including two very large and elegant engravings "Avant L'Attaque" and "Apres L'Combat," presented to them by the Salem Cadets. This makes a pleasant retreat on winter evenings.

This company is at present armed with Springfield muskets, but is soon to be furnished with weapons of improved pattern.

SUPREME COURT--JAN. TERM.

Thursday, Jan. 24; Bingham, J.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. —One morning a railroad manager said to his private secretary, "Write to this chap that we have no vacancy." When the private secretary brought the letter to his chief for signature, lo! it concluded, "With 10,000,000,000,000 kisses. Yours respectfully." The manager thinks that before long that young man will be asking for two weeks' leave of absence and passes for himself and wife over fourteen connecting roads. —Chicago Tribune.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, Itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for the intended purposes."

Centaur Liniments.

They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.

The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate and hidden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniment will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Foll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specially restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to miracles. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey

To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castorir is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.

COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.

Messrs. J. B. ROSE & CO., N. Y.

I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.

Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria, it is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Pectoral.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Tonic.

Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

When the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or when there are scrofulous swellings and Boils, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If your feet feel drowsy, debilitated, have a yellow color of skin, or yellow specks or spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternate with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Anti-bilious Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Bilious Fever, Sick Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their merciful influence. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninjured for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of constipation. Other maladies, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, sore Eyes, and Eruptions. There, however, recommended to be taken in conjunction with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

The remedial management of those diseases peculiar to women has afforded a large experience at the World's Dispensary, of which Dr. Pierce is the chief consulting physician, in adapting remedies for their cure. Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately, often renews the growth, and always restores its color, or when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus baldness, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with a lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft — under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or ruined the constitution, the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, especially as it is a disease of a delicate nature, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is to this class, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed it in hands of more competent and trustworthy. The long and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the vitiated blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.,

NORWOOD BLOCK, SO. FRAMINGHAM, OCT. 1, 1871.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies that are receiving the approval of medical gentlemen who, in private, and only private, commend it but use it in their families in preference to any of the preparations usually prescribed by physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my remedy is in the Mass. Medical Society as such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure for Catarrh. I recommend it in my office from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies. I have privately advised its use, and presume I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN:—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for a year and upwards, and can say it satisfactorily that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but your preparation merits the praise of thousands, and we think those afflicted should be informed of its great merit and that suffering will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years, and can truly say, everything for Catarrh, but yours, leaves all clear sk. If you also prefer you can use this letter or any part of it for your benefit.

Very truly yours, F. D. BALDWIN & CO.

COLLINS'

VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Strengthening Plaster, forming the best remedy for pains and aches in the World of Medicine.

ELECTRICITY

As a ground curative and restorative agent is not equaled by any plaster in existence in the history of the healing art. Until as the vital spark has fled the body, pulsated by means of electricity, people, like Lazarus, last rest to all physicians and surgeons, and has restored thousands, apparently dead, back to an untimely grave, when no other human agency could have succeeded. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine and the gums of the East are well known to require description. Their grateful, healing, soothing, and invigorating properties are known to thousands. When combined in accordance with late and important discoveries in pharmacy, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold. In this respect our Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

TWO IN ONE.

Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which performs independently, and produces more cures than any liniment, lotion, wash, or plaster ever before compounded in the history of medicine. Try one. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

KERAMIKAL KRAZE.

O'all the diseases that ever were known
Since Noah's unfortunate day,
The strangest tha' get has afflicted mankind
Is the present keramical kraze—
Ke-ra-mi-kal—
Oh, yes; the keramikal kraze!

You may spell it ceramical craze, if you choose
To follow illiterate ways;
But modern Kultcha kommands that it should
Be spelled keramical kraze—
Ke-ra-mi-kal—
You know—the keramikal kraze.

Whoever is seized with this kurious komplaint,
Very soon all the symptoms betrayt—
And, by gum, every pot, mug and jug in the house
With birds, bugs and Japanese blaze!
Ke-ra-mi-kal!
For such is keramikal kraze.

By and by, when this kuece epidemic is o'er—
The sah-me will stand in amaze
To find all the barrels so full of "ould pots"—
The remains of keramikal kraze—
Kera-mi-kal—
Then adieu to keram kal kraze!

Nasby in Finance.

Rev. Petroleum V. Nasby, having fully considered the question of demonetizing gold, "sees" the silver men and proceeds to "raise them out of their boots," as follows:

I am not satisfied with silver, now that I hev given the subject uv currency that attenshun wich so important a matter demands. Silver kin be produced in unlimited quantities in the Territories, so that thar ain't reely any limit to the amount that kin be put upon the market. Also, it kin approshiate the fact, that the man who is in debt and in distress, and wich is hungerin and thurstin to git out, wich hez suthin, kin make suthin available by bein able to yoose silver in the payin uv his debts.

But that don't help us of the Corners. Silver is a parshel releef, but it don't strike that vast army of men wich ain't got nuthin. Wat good is it to say to me, "You shall be released from your debts on the payment of twenty-five cents on the dollar," when I hav'n't got the twenty-five cents, and can't see my way clear to get 'em? It is a skin for bred and givin a ston. It is holdin out false indooserments wich amount to nuthin.

Wat the Corners want and wat the Corners must hev, is a medium wich is more easily procoured than silver. The remonetizashun of silver would help out the bonanza men, and them as hev suthin wich they kin git silver at the discount it will go to, but that don't do us here in the Corners. For while I wuz advocatin the silver bill the other day, and urgin that it would enable us to pay off our debts at a discount, Joe Bigler kum up, and said he—

"But, parson, 'spose you could pay off at seventy-five cents on the dollar with silver. Where are you goin' to git the seventy-five cents?"

That remark of his opened to me a wide field of conjecture. Silver won't do for us, for it hez some intrinsic value. The debtor class want to be releeved in hole—not in part. We want a currency wich is avaicable to the meanest as well as the noblest.

I sejest leather!

Wat I want is a currency made uv leather. Leather is perdoosed in all the States uv the Yoonium and is accessible to the most humble citizen of the Republic. Wherever there is a cow and a tannery, leather kin be perdoosed, and why we shouldent yoose that ez a medium uv exchange, beats me.

What is a dollar? A dollar is a idea. Whatever the government puts its stamp onto is a dollar. The bonanza men in Colorado want the government to put its stamp onto silver, and make dollars uv silver, becuz they happen to own the mines which perdoose silver. They will then deliberately quit floodin their mines and they will pile out the silver by the ton, and pay off their debts with it, and see their tales cleer to the property they now owe for, and will retire in affluence, and conscious they have done a smart financial thing. But wat good will that do us uv the Corners wich can't git their silver? Wat's the use of saying to a starvin person that he kin git bread at five cents a loaf if he hezn't got the five cents? We hain't got seventy-five cents on the dollar uv wat we owe, and the passage uv the silver bill is only going to help the parshelly pecuncious.

Wat we want is full and entire releef. We want a currency with we ourselves kin furnish, and that I am going to move for. I want leather coined and made legle tender for the benefit uv the Middle States and the East. In this holy crusade agin the creditor class I insist that all seekshuns shel start fair, and that no one seekshun shel hev an advantage over the other.

I want leather coined into dollars. I want every man wich hez a side uv first-rate sole leather to hev the privilege uv

Depositin it in a mint uv the Yoonited States, and havin it stamped into pieces wich shel represent dollars, and that them dollars shall be legle tender for any debt, public or private, that he may owe.

Understand me, I am no inflashunist, nor do I desire to injer the public credit. I desire that everything shel go along smoothly and properly. And to that end I shel insist that—

1st. The leather shel be sole, of first quality, hemlock-tanned, and entirely merchantable.

2d. That it shel not be in the power uv everybody to coin leather. I won't hev every man, wich kin git a punch and a stamp making his own money, for then wood be an over ishoo. To prevent that I shel require that the coinin uv leather shel be done at regierly instituted government mints, and by nobody else. So much to perfect the currency.

3d. To perfect the people and to be sheer that enuff currency shall be furnisht to supply the wants uv trade, I insist that every man which kills a bull shel be privileged to hev the hide tanned, and shel be allowed to take that hide, when tanned, to a mint and hev it stamped into money, each piece to weigh so much, and that when the Government stamp is onto it, it shall be legle tender for a dollar.

This simple process will equalize the East with the West. Silver kin be lifted out in Colorado and them seckshuns ez easily ez cattle kin be killed in the East, and ez they want their mejum with which to pay their debts, uv course we want ours to pay ours. We hev cattle and they hev silver. I am willin they shel make legle tender uv their silver—I want to make legle tender uv a small part uv our cattle. Ef it is urged that it will prevent our hevin sich shoes ez we ought to hev, my anser is ready. The Corners hevn't worn shoes to any extent for a great many yeers. The Corners hez other yoose for its money.

The advantage uv this mejum are obvious. While we want more money, we want money that anybody kin git hold uv. When we ask for a finanshel fish, what is the use uv offerin' us a stun of silver? Ef we ain't got the silver, we are ez bad off ez before. We want to pay our debts and git out. Leather is attainable by the most humble. He is a poor man indeed who hezn't got a bull to kill, and when he kin sell the carcass and coin the hide, he kin pay. Then he is solvent. Then he kin start new, and go into debt agin, conshus that the meens uv payment are allux within his reech. The Government stamp onto it pertects it and makes it good, and what more does any one want?

Do I hear a carper say that other countries won't take leather currency? Wat do we, wich are in debt, care about other countries? My declins hev never bin in furrin countries. I deel principally with Bascom, and ef I kin bev a currency which will pay him, I don't keer for much else. Wat I want is suthin that will stimoolate trade here and let me out. That done, everything is done so far ez I am concerned, and wat du I kear for enything else? Nothin.

It seems to me that this settles the currency question entirely, and that ther is suthin more to be said. Giv us not only a double but a triple currency. Let us hev gold, silver and leather. Only make them all legle tender, and help us out here in the East, the same ez you do them in the West. Give leather a show for us, the same ez you do silver for them in the West. And especshelly ez silver in the West kin be perdoost jist as cheeply ez leather kin be in the East. Wat I want is fair play. In the gineral scoop I want my show.—New York Evening Mail.

The War Ended.

The following are announced as the terms of the peace between Russia and Turkey, which the latter is said to have accepted:

Servia is to be independent, without compensation; Montenegro is to receive Antivari, Niesica and Spuz, and a portion of the territory bordering on Lake Scutari; Russia is to hold Batoum, Kars, and Erzeroum, until a war indemnity of £20,000,000 is paid; the Dardanelles is to be opened to Russian men-of-war; Bulgarian autonomy is to be conceded, and Turkey is to nominate a Christian Governor for a long term of years, subject to ratification by the powers. A part of the Russian army is to embark at Constantinople for their return home, and the final treaty of peace is to be signed at Constantinople by the Grand Duke Nicholas. [Roumania is not mentioned in the despatch, but it is not likely that gallant people has been ignored.]

If we are to assume the news to be true, there is nothing in the requirements of Russia which conflicts either with her declarations of her purpose in engaging in the war, or is repugnant to a just settlement in the light of her success. Whatever opinion may have been formed of the ulterior purposes of Russia, she has always insisted that her prime motive in declaring war was to obtain for the people of the Turkish provinces the rights which as Christians and as subjects they were entitled to. Now in the articles of peace, as they are transmitted, Russia has made this object the first matter of consideration.

It is not stated that Russia asks for territory, either in Europe or Asia,—not even the strip which was wrested from her at the close of the Crimean war, which shut her out from the mouths of the Danube, nor one of the great Asiatic fortresses, which it has all along been assumed she would never again give up. Her demand for the freedom of the Dardanelles for her ships of war is one which from her position and power, she has a right to make; and should England make war to prevent that demand being granted she will have to go it alone, for no other European nation will sympathize with her enough to help her.

Congress.

The Matthews resolution passed the Senate on Friday by a vote of 43 to 22, one less than the two-thirds required to pass a bill over the President's veto; but the silver men claim that they are sure of 48 to 24 on the Bland bill, which is enough to pass it, with a possibility of four more votes for them. The silver men are exultant, and confident of success. The Bland bill then came up in order, when the Senate went into executive session and shortly adjourned to Monday.

In the House there was a spirited debate on the question of reducing the tax on whiskey, but no vote was taken. The steamboat bill was passed, with amendments.

Mr. Swann presented a petition of the tobacco trade of Baltimore in opposition to any change in the tax on tobacco, and urging on Congress a cessation of the agitation of that question.

Wrecks at San Francisco.

On Friday the ship Western Shore, and barques King Philip and Don Nicholas, started to tow to sea from San Francisco. The sea was very heavy on the bar and all of them had to anchor, owing to the light wind; the King Philip parted her chain and went ashore, and went to pieces. The others remained anchored in the surf at dark, but were liable to go ashore at any moment.

A despatch from San Francisco, Saturday, says part of the King Philip's crew had reached the shore in boats. The Western Shore still rode to her anchors, but her captain was killed on Saturday by the parting of a hawser with which a tug was trying to take her into the harbor. The Don Nicolas was towed in safely on Saturday. The King Philip was valued at $55,000, and was uninsured.

News and Notes.

H. L. Blanchard, the young rough who shot two men at Savoy, Mass., one Sunday in front of a church, because one of them objected to Blanchard's paying addresses to his daughter, has been sentenced to State prison for six years.

Ashbel Buckland, of Chicopee, Mass., 68 years old, was bitten by a dog last November, and died on the 23d inst. of hydrophobia. Dr. L. L. Way, of Suffield, Conn., died of hydrophobia Friday morning.

The Pennsylvania Legislature has made a fearful attack upon the freedom of the press in that State: it has passed a bill to prevent lying.

Thomas C. Owens, Parser of the steamship England, and Allan Graff, dock superintendent in New York of the National line of steamers, who were silk smugglers, have been sentenced to the penitentiary for two years and a fine of $1000.

Edward Tatro, the murderer of Mrs. Alice Butler at Highgate, Vt., since his sentence to be hung has confessed his crime, acknowledging that he murdered Mrs. Butler because she would not yield to his infamous proposals.

A drunken fellow in a Memphis barroom repeatedly attacked Thomas Cole, one night last month, and attempted to cut his throat. Cole was unarmed, and after several rain attempts to parry the drunken ruffian's blows, he is said to have given the Masonic sign of dire distress. Almost instantly his assailant fell dead with two pistol balls in his heart. No one knows who fired the shots, but it was not Cole, who has been discharged from custody.

The Independent, of New York, offers in another column to give away, absolutely, a Worcester's Unabridged Quarto Pictorial Dictionary, which retails everywhere for $10, and is, of course, a household necessity. How they can do it is, we must confess, a mystery; but that they do there is no question. The Independent is now publishing Rev. Joseph Cook's famous Boston Monday lectures, which are creating so much discussion everywhere. See advertisement of the Independent in this paper.

Political.

Massachusetts looks with dismay upon the mangled remains of Senators Hoar and Dawes, and can do nothing more than unfurl before the triumphant Maine Senator the words of the immortal Webster: "I shall enter upon no encomium of Massachusetts; she needs none. There she is."—Tribune.

General Joseph E Johnston is mentioned as a probable candidate for member of Congress in place of Mr. Walker, of Virginia, who has signified his intention of retiring at the close of his present term.

In 1862 Voorhees was a hard money man, and wanted to pay the army in gold; now he is a soft money man, and thinks that gold is a snare and a delusion. In 1865 Voorhees voted for the resumption of specie payments at the earliest practicable moment; now he wants the Resumption Act repealed and the purpose of returning to specie payment. In 1862 Voorhees was an unmitigated demagogue; now he is—ditto.—Indianapolis News.

The Harrisburg (Pa.) Telegraph says: "It is a singular fact that every republican paper of grit and influence refers to General Grant as the best exponent of national republicanism known to-day to the country. It is possible that he may be called upon to stand once more on a republican national platform, in which event it will not require an electoral commission to decide who is elected President."

New Hampshire Items.

There is to be a great gathering of the agriculturists of the Granite State at Manchester on January 30th and 31st. Among the prominent men who have accepted invitations to be present and deliver addresses are Gov. Prescott of New Hampshire, Hon. Daniel Needham of Massachusetts, and J. H. Wallace of New York, author of the American Stud Book. Col. Needham will deliver an address on Wednesday evening, upon "Farming—The Solution of the Labor Problem." Other prominent men from abroad and many leading New Hampshire men are promised to take part in this great uprising of the New Hampshire farmers. Hon. James O. Adams, Secretary of the New Hampshire Board of Agriculture, is giving this meeting his most earnest labors, and everything promises most favorable results.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 165.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

Hon. William Plumer of Epping was chosen Governor the first time in 1812. Gov. Langdon of Portsmouth had held the office in all seven years, and declined being candidate longer, being about seventy years of age. Gov. Langdon was a republican, as was also Mr. Plumer. The other party was federalist. The federalists in the election supported John T. Gilman of Exeter, who in previous years had held the office eleven years. The whole number of votes was 31,992. Necessary for a choice 15,887. Mr. Gilman led slightly, having 15,613, Mr. Plumer 15,492, or 121 less. There were 817 thrown for others, so that there was no choice. Mr. Gilman lacked 274 of an election and Mr. Plumer 345. At the Legislative Convention in June, Mr. Plumer had 104 votes, Mr. Gilman 82. The State House had not been built, but the Legislative session was in Concord.

A committee of the Legislature waited on Mr. Plumer at Epping and informed him of his election; June 6, he started with them on horseback. They went by the way of Nottingham, at which place Gen. Benjamin Butler and Col. Cilley, and about twenty others performed escort duty to Deerfield Parade. He was told a company of cavalry would escort him, but as he found time would be required to get the company together, he declined accepting. About a dozen escorted him to Epsom, where he dined at Daniel Cilley's; Mr. Cilley's wife was his sister. Then about twenty escorted him on, and after riding two miles, they were met by about eighty mounted men, led by a marshal, and next six men on gray horses. Among others were two High Sheriffs; one, Josiah Butler of Deerfield, was of Rockingham County. He rode next to the Sheriffs, with two captains of the United States army, one on each side of him. At the bridge in Concord others were met, which made the escort large

It was common to escort Governors in those times. Sometimes they were escorted home at the close of the sessions. Once Gov. Plumer was escorted from Concord to Epsom by a company of cavalry, and there was met by a like company from Epping and vicinity, and escorted to his residence in Epping.

Powder in a Base Ball.

Joseph Von Noy is a teacher in the district school at Logtown, Greenville township, New York. Certain of his boy scholars being detected at various times throwing a base ball from one to the other, the teacher announced that he would confiscate all balls he found in possession of any scholars. On Wednesday last he saw a ten year old boy playing with a ball during school hours. He took the ball and threw it into the stove. On Friday last the same boy was discovered making a very public display of another ball. This the teacher took and was about to throw it in the stove, when the manner of the boy and others about him struck him as peculiar, and he laid the ball in his desk. He subsequently took it apart, and was startled to find that the ball cover contained a sealed tin box filled with powder in quantity sufficient to have demolished the school house.

THE CITY.

The flooring of boards over the stone steps of the Post Office building is a great improvement in times of ice and sleet.

Those who watch such matters say that more rain has fallen thus far during the present winter than on any previous season for the past twenty years.

Mr. Thomas J. Goodwin, of South Berwick, Me., for many years station agent at Conway Junction, has been appointed freight agent of the Eastern Railroad in this city. Mr. George A. Philbrook, of this city, has been appointed night operator and watchman at the Eastern Railroad station in Saco, relieving Mr. Charles Purcell.

The Iron Foundry recently occupied by D'Este & Co., on Mechanic street, is again closed, the occupants having removed to Dover for better accommodations generally and Lehigh coal particularly, the proprietors avering that they cannot obtain any hard coal in this city. The articles manufactured by the above named iron founders consist of soil pipe and water closet traps, articles that command a ready market, and upon which there is said to be quite a good profit.

The Weekly Magazine, printed in Portsmouth in 1823 by T. H. Miller, says "We understand the citizens of Dover are taking measures to improve the navigation of the Piscataqua, so as to admit vessels of 200 tons burthen to that place. The expense of deepening the channel is expected not to fall far short of $100,000." So history repeated itself here to some purpose, half a century afterwards, and the river was cleared out to Dover in 1875, for about half the amount above named.—Weekly.

The New York Graphic of July 31st, 1877, speaks thus of Miss Mary Cary as "Poor Jo." "In the death scene Miss Mary Cary, who has pictured the street arab in very versimilitude of garb, features and dialect, irradiates the picture deftly with gleams of such light as penetrates a clouded nature at the supreme moment with the assistance of kindly and pitying offices. The actress accomplishes this with a certain simple pathos that touches all beholders; it steals into their hearts where many more assertive performances would fail to coerce their admiration. The charm of the personation is its thoroughness, its naturalness and its almost photographic exactness. It is in its detail something of what a gem by Meissonier is among painting. There is not a great deal of it, but what exists is manipulated with an art that slights nothing and magnifies nothing." "Poor Jo" will be produced at the new Music Hall next Thursday by Thayer and Tompkins' company, with Mary Cary as "Jo," and Mrs. Thomas Barry in her great role of "Lady Dedlock," in which she has won high reputation in New York and the principal Western cities.

POLICE COURT.

Saturday, Jan. 26th; Batchelder, J.

Charles Randall was arraigned on two complaints for violation of the liquor law. Edward Lewis and Elbridge Riley, of Kittery, were the complainants, and acknowledged that their action was prompted by a desire to "get even" with Randall for some offence he had given them, rather than by any "ramrod temperance" principles they entertain. They both swore that Lewis called for the rum and paid for it, so the accused was dismissed on Riley's complaint that the defendant sold to him, and held in $200 to answer before the Supreme Court on Lewis' complaint. Several Water street witnesses who were in Randall's place at the time of the alleged sale of rum by him and drinking of it by his accusers, swore that they saw no selling or drinking going on at all.

THE SCUTTLED SCHOONER.

The investigations in New York last week, into the E. H. Pray piracy case, developed nothing new. On Monday, it was shown that William May, the cook (or mate) of the E. H. Pray, had asserted that Capt. Clark promised him $100 for his aid in stealing the cargo and destroying the schooner. The enquiry was then adjourned to Friday, when John F. Baxter, of the Baxter Wrecking Company, testified to finding the dismantled hull of the schooner floating in the North river, with the water eighteen inches over her deck; found holes bored in the schooner's sides, and a large hole cut in her deck. A police officer testified to finding on the schooner Guide an augur which fitted the holes in the E. H. Pray. Deputy Marshal Jeffries testified to seeing the Guide and E. H. Pray lashed side by side, Jan. 9th, nearly opposite Weehawken. The investigation was then adjourned to the 30th inst. No evidence has yet been offered before the Commissioner to directly connect Capt. Clark with the crime, except the statement of the man May.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

On Wednesday morning, the 23d inst., at six o'clock, Mr. Moses Perkins, of Wells, Me., left "Fishing Cove" to draw his trawls, which were set about four miles from the beach, the wind being light when he started. After drawing a part of his trawls he noticed that the weather looked threatening, and started for the shore, but when still two miles from it the northwester of that date struck him with such violence that he found it impossible to hold up against it. A heavy swell was heaving in at the time, which made it very rough, and Mr. Perkins had no alternative but to strike for Boon island, with but little prospect of ever reaching it. When about half way to the island a furious gust of wind wrenched both his oars from his hands and carried them far out of his reach; but he had a spare oar in the boat, and with this and the centre-board he managed to work along toward the island. When about two miles from the island his last oar was carried away far to leeward, but the wind fortunately drifted the boat down upon it, and it was recovered. At half-past three o'clock in the afternoon Mr. Perkins succeeded in landing on the northwesterly part of the island—the only spot where it was possible to have effected a landing with the sea then running, and the chances twenty to one against it even then; but he happened to strike a "smoothing" at the moment of landing, which undoubtedly saved his life. He was in a very exhausted condition, but soon came around all right under the hospitable care of the light-keepers. He reported that his father and Mr. George Staples were out with him on the morning of the gale; he thought his father had got in all right, but was in doubt about Mr. Staples' safety.

THE TELEPHONE.

There are but few things which should attract the attention of the people at large more than this scientific discovery. Yet there is at present a profound ignorance upon the subject which it is the intention of the Lyceum committee to enlighten, by a full and instructive explanation of its uses, together with a full exhibition, proving its utility. Music, instrumental and vocal, will be given, and conversation indulged in. For particulars, see circulars.

SUPREME COURT—JAN. TERM.

Saturday, Jan. 26th; Bingham, J.

The jury in the case of Marden vs. Towle spent all Friday night in a fruitless attempt to agree upon a verdict, and were dismissed Saturday morning.

Solon D. Wilson and Louis G. Hoyt, of Exeter, were this week admitted to practise as attorneys in all the courts of the State.

Sarah K. Oliver, of Portsmouth, was divorced from Daniel F. Oliver. Frink for libellant.

NAVAL MATTERS.

Medical Inspector Albert C. Gorgas and Pay Inspector George L. Davis are appointed Fleet Officers on the staff of Commodore E. T. Nichols, commanding the South Atlantic Squadron.

Passed Assistant Paymaster Stephen Rand, Jr., is ordered to duty in charge of the accounts of the Montauk, Wyandotte and Alarm at the Washington navy yard.

The Wyoming is to go into commission for sea service about the 1st of February.

Consul General Hall, at Havana, notified the Secretary of State on the 21st inst. that the coast survey steamer Blake was ashore at Babia Honda, in a dangerous situation.

THE VICINITY.

The Exeter Machine Works will pay a dividend of three per cent. on the first day of March.

Dr. M. F. Wentworth, of Kittery, has been re-appointed coroner by the governor of Maine.

A meeting of several days' duration was held in the Baptist church at Cape Neddick last week.

Mrs. Pickering of Rochester is making quite a stir among the scientific and curious by spirit materializations, some of which have been given in broad day-light with the sun shining into the room. Rev. Charles Beecher of Georgetown, Mass., was present a week or two ago and investigated. Mrs. Pickering bears an unblemished reputation in the town where she lives, being regarded as a lady of integrity and rare modesty.

Dr. George W. Kittredge of Newmarket, an ex-member of Congress, had an attack of apoplexy Thursday. His recovery is doubtful.

Mr. John F. French, of North Hampton, has filled a new ice-house (built this winter) with 300 tons of excellent ice, eleven inches thick.

While hearing a divorce case in Saco, recently, Judge Virgin remarked that he should examine the matter carefully before giving his decision. He said he intended to be very stringent hereafter in divorce cases. The courts in Maine were now decreeing divorces at the rate of one thousand a year; there had been an increase from five hundred to one thousand within the past five years! If affairs went on at this rate, there would not be any married people in the State.

The case of Ferguson vs. Goodwin, tried at Saco last week, was a queer one. It seems that at a democratic powow at South Berwick, during the last presidential campaign, Mr. Thomas J. Goodwin was chairman of the meeting. A display of fireworks was part of the show, and Mr. Ferguson, who was severely injured by an ill-directed rocket, brought suit against Goodwin for $2500 damages. The jury brought in a verdict specially, by order of the Judge, that the defendant was guilty as a matter of law, and assessed damages at $200. Exceptions will probably be taken.

Cincinnati as Paris.

Cincinnati claims to be the Paris of America. No city will wish to dispute the claim, and in fact Cincinnati herself begins to question the propriety of many of her customs. She has 3,000 liquor shops to 132 churches, Catholic and Protestant, 400 gambling hells, 500 houses of ill-fame, and theatrical and other shows of every name and nature running daily and nightly, Sundays included, some of them so shamefully indecent that the police have been compelled to violate Parisian "liberty" and arrest the actors and managers. All this is breeding crime, domestic wretchedness, pauperism, and ruin with hot bed rapidity, and the better classes are moved to stretch forth the hand to save the city from its hell-holes and influences.—Rochester Democrat.

—The New York Mail says the young lady who went down Broadway with a new bonnet having a placard marked $12, can console herself by knowing that the same thing occurred to Mrs. Everett when her husband was United States Minister at the Court of St. James. Mrs. Everett having one day appeared on the street wearing an India shawl in the middle of which was pinned a label having on it "Cheap at 100 guineas."

DEATHS.

BARTLETT. In Eliot, Jan. 22d, after an illness of only two days, Col. John Bartlett, aged 88 years. The remains were taken East for interment.

DIXON. In Farmington, Mrs. Marcia A. Dixon, aged 47 years and 4 months.

FRENCH. In Farmington, Mr. Chas. H. French, aged 60 years.

A Tooth for a Tooth,

That is to say an artificial tooth for a real one, is not a good exchange. Therefore, keep your natural teeth unimpaired, and in order to do so use that famous preservative tooth-wash, Sozodont. It is a wholesome botanical preparation, unrivalled as an anti-putrescent and antagonist of decomposition and decay.

Nothing welds things together like Spalding's Glue.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaint, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 128 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. feb13

ONE TRIAL is sufficient to convince the most skeptical of the invaluable and unfailing efficacy of Madame Zadoc Porter's Curative Balsam for the cure of Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness, shortness of Breathing, Asthma, Difficulty of Breathing, Huskiness, Tickling in the Throat, &c. Has been in use over forty years. Price, 25, 50, and 75 cents per bottle.

Meerschaum Colored in 30 Seconds.

Devoted young men who spend months and injure themselves with excessive smoking, in coloring meerschaum pipes, may thank a philanthropic Frenchman for accelerating the process, obviating some of the expense, much of the annoyance, and possibly some of the dangers of the operation. He soaks a pipe of common porous clay, worth a few cents, in a mixture of ether and alcohol, to which a little rose essence is added and in which is dissolved ten per cent. (by weight) of Camphor, and ten per cent. of borax or other flux. With this is combined a trace of nitrate of silver. The advantages of this treatment are that the pipe is made to look like meerschaum and to have a fine gloss; the smoke perfumed by the rose and camphor, is agreeably aromatic, the pipe is cheap, and it will color nicely either by smoking or by exposing it to the light; in the latter instance thirty seconds' exposure is stated to be quite sufficient.

—A Westfield gentleman went at the request of some ladies connected with church aid to visit a family asking for assistance, was met at the door by three dogs, and in answer to his inquiry of the woman if the dogs belonged to the family, he was smilingly told, "Only two of them, sir."

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, lichen and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.

They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.

The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate hardridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specially restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to miracles. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey

To the taste but death to Grips and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for castor oil, and is as pleasant to take as honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gives nor gripes.

COLUMBIA, CONN., MAY 3, 1876.

MESSRS. J. B. ROSE & CO., N. Y.

I have family of eight children, and have used Pitcher's Castoria. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it my pleasure to give this testimonial on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.

Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest and most powerful remedies ever produced for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Burns, Scalds, Sprains, Swellings, Bruises, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. While the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is antidote to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior article may secure a single favorable trial, but a superior remedy, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have overrunning all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported looks up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Pectoral.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is a Chalagogue, or Liver Stimulant.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Tonic.

Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchitis, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs, and Chronic Lung Diseases. By its Chalagogue properties it is our human unerring remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint," and in Tonic properties it stands at equally efficacious in curing Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

When the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or when there are scrofulous swellings and Blotches, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect a speedy cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or sallowish-brown spots on face or body, tongue coated or dirty, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, you spirits and mind may be low-bodings, irritable, despondent, in fact, if you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Bilious-ness," in many cases of "Liver Complaint" you need look for no other cure than a few bottles of this medicine. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, and is generally a perfect cure, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Vulcanus in Parvo Physici scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, here offered in such numbers.

As a remedy for Sick Headache, Jaundice, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Accumulations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair their properties, nor does time, they are preserved and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved undiminished for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes, be daily use of two Pellets one grain each obviate cases of scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Rheumatism. They, however, should be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

O ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; then renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is safe and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system stacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, improperly treated by others as a chronic affection, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is true, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed 1 to hands at race complaints and trustworthy. This new and hitherto untried Method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his Radical Cure has won my heartiest approval. I believe it likely to succeed where all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz. the acrificd blood, while it heals the inflamed membrane by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure. GEO. BEARD, M. D.

NORSCOTT BLOCK, SO. FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen, in preference to any other proprietary medicine, not only freely commended but used in their families in preference to any of the nostrums usually prescribed by physicians.

You are aware, I add, that I am an old fashioned, dirty physician, "that my obligations to the Mass. Medical Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure; but since I received so much relief from the use of it, and knowing the failure of the usual remedies, I have privately advised its use, and I presume I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN:—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for a early one year, and can say confidently that we have sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but your preparation meets the wants of those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with the complaint, and we think those afflicted will find relief. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything for Catarrh, but yours leads all the rest. It is a proved remedy, and we use this letter or any part of it that you wish. Very truly yours, DALTON & CO.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Drugs, Books and Stationery, Washington, Ind., Feb. 23, 1876.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaler Tube, and full directions for use in all cases. Price, $1.00. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a Highly Medicated Strengthening Plaster, forming the best Plaster for pains and aches in the World of Medicine.

ELECTRICITY

As a grand curative and restorative agent is not equaled by any element or medicine in the history of healing art. Until now the vital spark baffled the body, restoration by means of electricity is impossible. It is the last resort of all physicians and surgeons, and has rescued thousands, apparently dead, from an untimely grave, when no other human agency could have succeeded. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

BALSAM and PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine and the gums of the East are too well known to need more than a word. Combined with healing, soothing, and strengthening properties are known to these spices. When combined in accordance with late and important discoveries in pharmacy, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold. In this respect this Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

TWO IN ONE.

This combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which performs its function and unitedly produce more cures than any ointment, lotion, wash, or plaster ever before compounded in the history of medicine. Try one. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

Daily Chronicle.

—A church party were one evening at a gathering in the vestry engaged in acting charades. The word "Nicodemus" was being played. The several syllables were rendered, and when they got to the whole word, it was represented by a man in a tree. The thing would have passed off all right, but a gentleman informed them they had got the wrong man in the tree; it should be Zaccheus.

—A North Carolina rebel was relating how the Yanks fired upon his company, while marching through a thick wood. They gladly obeyed an order to lie down, but there was nothing to shield them from the terrible volleys of the enemy. "Why didn't you get behind a tree?" asked a listener. "Tree," replied the rebel, "there wasn't trees enough for the officers."

—A correspondent deserves the respectful sympathy of all gentlemen who give out their washing. He says: "It is awful annoying to have some other fellow's clothes left in one's room by the washerwoman. Saturday we put on another fellow's shirt, but couldn't wear it. Although it was ruffled around the bottom, the sleeves were too short to button cuffs on, and there was no place for a collar."

—The courts have recently been surprised to learn that Thomas Dunlap, commissioner of jurors, New York, has been in the habit of relieving citizens from jury duty for a year on their payment of $50 in place of a fine. Dunlap says that he has only acted in accordance with the custom of his predecessor, and that the practice is well understood, but this is news to the judges, and the matter will be investigated. Dunlap's predecessor, Douglas Taylor, says that $50 was often received in lieu of the fine, but no exemption for a year was guaranteed, and even if the practice were the same, it is expressly forbidden by a law passed since Dunlap took the office.

—On the 10th of December last a Danish vessel nearly stranded on an island about 140 miles from the Straits of Magellan. No land was indicated on the chart. Soon it was noticed that the island was slowly sinking. An attempt was made to land on it, but this was found impossible, as the rocky mass of which it was composed was so hot that the water touching it hissed. The island continued to sink, and eight hours after it was first observed the vessel sailed over the place where it had appeared above the surface of the ocean.

—Professor Bell and Colonel William H. Reynolds of Rhode Island, were recently presented to Queen Victoria at Osborne, Isle of Wight, and exhibited and carefully explained the telephone to Her Majesty, who listened with evident curiosity. She was especially interested in the conversations carried on between Osborne and London, Southampton, Cowes and the residence of Sir Thomas Biddulph, Her Majesty's private secretary. An organ in London, a bugle in Southampton and a vocal quartette at Cowes were perfectly heard. Miss Kate Field also sang through the telephone from London.

—Mr. Thead, the British sculptor, has recently come into possession of a fortune of $150,000 in a remarkable way. He had an acquaintance and a tolerably intimate friend in a wealthy man, who, after knowing him for a while, made his will. After providing for his family and numerous charitable associations, his solicitor discovered that $150,000 still remained unprovided for and asked what should be done with it. "Leave $50,000 each to those three charities last named," said the millionaire, and then, checking himself, he exclaimed, "No! they have enough. I'll leave it to Thead. Won't he be surprised?" It is safe to say he he was, and very agreeably so.

—The correspondent of a French paper relates a remarkable contest which he witnessed in the Isle of Java between a parrot and a gigantic spider. The spider, whose body was as large as a small bird's, dropped down upon a young parrot whose mammal was away from home, and spreading its huge claws over the nest began sucking its blood. When the mother returned she naturally "went for" the enemy, and seized hold of one of his legs, but whether it be that legs are not a sensitive portion of spiders' organizations, or that this particular insect had an overpowering penchant for the blood of young parrots, he wouldn't let go, until his pain becoming too intense for endurance he turned on the mother and, twining all his legs firmly around her neck, was just arranging for a good long suck in that quarter when she gave him an awful dig in the belly with her beak, whereupon he fell over, dragging her to the ground with him. The naturalist then shot him and released the parrot.

Union Savings Bank.

At the annual meeting of the Union Five Cents Savings Bank, held at Exeter on Monday, the following named gentlemen were elected trustees:

William B. Morrill, Hervey Kent, Thos. Connell, Charles G. Conner, John G. Gilman, Josiah J. Folsom, Charles Burley, Winthrop N. Dow, George E. Lane, Frank P. Cram, John A. Blake.

Wm. B. Morrill was re-elected President; Harvey Kent and Charles Burley, Vice Presidents; George E. Lane, Treasurer and Secretary. The by-laws were amended so as to enlarge Article Seven, relating to depositors, by adding thereto "and if for any reason, the signature of said depositors ball not be made, every depositor upon receiving a pass book or certificate of deposit shall be considered as assenting to and be bound by said by-laws and regulations."

The "Conciliated" Bull-dozers.

The "conciliated" bull-dozers of Louisiana, like those of South Carolina, having succeeded (with the aid of the President) is establishing the principle that the murder of a southern republican by a democrat is not merely no crime but is a work to be rewarded by the bestowal of place and power on its perpetrator, are now engaged in putting the finishing touches on what remains of the republican party in their section, by using the State courts (which have been carefully "re-organized" by the establishment on the bench of the most unscrupulous democratic partisans) to punish every man who has dared be prominent in opposition to the democracy in the past. The members of the Louisiana returning board are the latest to feel the weight of democratic vengeance, the unhung assassins of the Feliciana and Red River parishes being determined that the men who refused to count the immense democratic majorities rolled up in those strongly republican districts shall suffer for their opposition to the White Leaguers. Having been arraigned before a notorious partisan, the accused applied to have their case transferred to the United States courts, as it was impossible for them to have a fair trial in the State courts. The democratic judge refused to allow the request, and when the accused applied to the U. S. Court he ruled that it was contempt of him, and ordered their bonds to be estreated and themselves arrested. On Saturday the members of the returning board took refuge in the New Orleans Custom House from summary arrest, and when the sheriff went to arrest them he was himself arrested by the United States Marshal, who had summoned a detachment of marines as a posse; this made a great stir in the city for a while, and the Attorney-General of the United States was telegraphed to for instructions; Devens returned orders to the Marshal not to interfere with the execution of the writs of the Court, and the sheriff then arrested the men he was after. While the previous action of the democratic judge shows that there is not to be even a pretence of a fair trial accorded the returning board, whose members are to be punished entirely irrespective of any question of their guilt, their appeal for national protection at such a time and in such a way does not seem judicious.

News and Notes.

Some weeks ago the schooner J. J. Spencer sailed from the Boston navy yard with a cargo of yellow pine timber, bound to the Washington navy yard, and has been reported a total loss. It is now stated that the captain sold the cargo, stripped the vessel and abandoned her.

A notable blackmailing case has just been ended by the Vermont Supreme Court ordering Clarissa N. Dewey to return money and property amounting to $10,000, "extorted" from Romeo H. Hoyt, of St. Albans, as the full bench found, "by fraud, duress and threats." It is the old story of a designing woman ingratiating herself in the family of a wealthy neighbor, and then, after placing him in a position where his relations might be misconstrued, demanding a large amount of money to prevent exposure. Henry R. Brigham, of Boston, is one of the lawyers who has figured disgracefully in the affair.

The colored cadet Minnie, who has been one year at West Point, suffered so many insults at the hands of all the cadets there, except three or four, that he let his mathematical examination go by default. He says the professors and teachers treated him well. He will now study law at Columbia college.

The United States Vice-Consul at Shanghai sends the following to a friend in New York: "An appalling famine is raging throughout four provinces of North China. Nine millions of people are reported destitute. Children are daily sold in the markets for food. The Foreign Relief Committee appeals to America and England for assistance. They request you to form an American Committee to collect funds and deposit them with agents of the Hong Kong Bank."

Aunt Betsy, an aged negro woman, lived alone in a shanty in Kansas City. The neighbors of her own race believed she was a witch, and that she frequently held long consultations with the devil. Consequently, when she was not seen for several days to stir out of her house, they thought the evil one was with her, and dared not go in. At length a policeman found her dead. She had starved to death.

A sad story comes from Texas. A Miss Moore was preparing for marriage, and invited a friend, Miss Williams, to assist her. In rummaging through a drawer an old pistol was carelessly handled by Miss Williams, resulting in the shooting and instant death of Miss Moore. She was buried on the day that was to have been her wedding day, and the other young lady, who was the innocent cause of it, has become insane.

The citizens of Bucksport, Me., are greatly excited over the inhuman treatment of a little girl by her uncle and aunt, with whom she is living. The child's parents are both dead and she was taken to the house of her uncle, who has beaten and bruised her in a most brutal and shocking manner. The treatment has been so cruel to such an extent that the citizens have justly become indignant and have taken charge of the child, and informed the couple if they did not leave the town at once they would tar and feather them.

New Hampshire Items.

J. L. Pickering's brick block on Warren street, Concord, was damaged by fire to the amount of $2000, Saturday morning. About $2600 of damage was done to stock in the building, by water.

Some months since two young girls, Ida and Nellie Bliss, left their mother's house in Fairlee, Vt., one night, and were supposed to have committed suicide by drowning themselves in the Connecticut river, which runs near their house. Subsequently they were traced to Manchester, in this State, but there the trail was lost, and it was supposed the girls, the oldest of whom is but eighteen years of age, had deliberately entered on a life of shame. Their whereabouts has just been discovered; Nellie is at work in Concord, and Ida, with a son a week old, is at the Woodsville town farm.

Miss Marilla Richer, who is figuring to be made a notary public of this district, is a New Hampshire lady. She wears on her bosom a large round pin, in which is set a large miniature of a fine black stallion, a pet of hers, to which she has willed $10,000, and the interest of that amount is appropriated to his perfect care and keeping as long as he lives, with a suitable sum for a handsome burial.—Washington Post.

Number one of volume one of the Weekly Times was issued at Manchester, on Saturday, by Everett & Aldrich. It is under the same editorial control as the Dispatch was when first started, and will be similarly conducted,—as an "independent" family paper. The first number gives good promise of the future usefulness of the new candidate for public favor.

Political.

Somebody told Dan Voorhees that his speech read like a torchlight procession going through a tunnel, and Dan didn't know whether to smile or not.

The appointment of Mr. W. H. Green as Postmaster at Jackson, Miss., shows where the "policy" of President Hayes is leading. His opponent, Gen. McKee, was a Hayes candidate for elector-at-large, and while addressing a public meeting during the Presidential canvass, was struck down by the personal and political friends of Green and left for dead. Green is the man who has been actively engaged in collecting evidence of the ownership of slaves in Mississippi at the rebellion, for the purpose of collecting payment therefor from the general government, and is keeping it until the time when democratic ascendancy shall remove the obstacles to such payment.—Traveller.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested the wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 126 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. tfebl3

THE CITY.

The 7:30 A. M. train from Boston for this city ran over and instantly killed a young lady at West Lynn, Monday. She belonged in Boston.

Ship Granite State, Ross, of this port, at Rio Janeiro, will proceed to Montevideo, to take forward the cargo of ship Golden Fleece (condemned at Montevideo) to San Francisco.

Rev. Mr. Stowell, of Newburyport, preached at the Unitarian church on Sunday. Rev. Mr. DeNormandie has gone to Washington to attend the dedication of the new All Souls' church (Unitarian) in that city, and the installation of the pastor.

At a meeting of the officers of the new Piscataqua Savings Bank, held Saturday, it was decided to commence operations April first. The new banking institution is to be run in connection with the First National Bank until the Directors shall otherwise decide.

The Odd Fellows Relief Association of Rockingham county during the year just passed has paid fourteen death reliefs, amounting to $13,531. Twenty-nine new members were received, and the total receipts for the year $16,566. The Association, after paying expenses, has now on deposit $2700, with a membership of 928.

The First National, and the Mechanics & Traders' banks of this city have been duly authorized by the Treasury Department to receive deposits on account of subscriptions to the four per cent. U. S. loan, at par and accrued interest in coin, and these bonds can be obtained of the banks named on the same terms as at any government depository.

The contest of the will of the late Mrs. Caroline A. Merrill, widow of Nathaniel W. Merrill, formerly of this city, was begun in New York city, on Friday. Mrs. Merrill left most of her large estate to Cardinal McCloskey, entirely ignoring her adopted son, George Merrill, and a number of nephews and nieces. The latter are now contesting the will.

At the 11th annual meeting of the N. H. Press Association at Concord, Monday, Frank W. Miller of this city was elected President, B. P. Coggswell and Howard F. Hill of Concord, Secretaries, and Thos. W. Love of Manchester, Treasurer. The arrangements for the summer excursion were left with the officers. The Association was reported in good condition, with bills all paid, and $248 in the treasury.

Diphtheria prevails alarmingly in very many places in New England, and it is quite too prevalent in this city. Pure air, pure water and plain food are the only preventatives. In New York city, where whole families are falling before this dreaded typhoid scourge, it was plainly demonstrated that the disease was produced by carbonic acid gas from sewers. When will the people learn the sad lessons that bad ventilation and improper sewerage are teaching them?

The House Committee on Naval Affairs had an interesting case before it last Friday morning,—that of George F. Sawyer of Orleans, N. Y., who was a passed assistant engineer in the navy. In 1867 he got into a discussion with a brother officer in this city about President Johnson, and in course of it declared that Johnson ought to be impeached. For this he was court-martialed, suspended, and reprimanded in severe terms. He now asks to be restored, and told his story to the committee on Friday. The committee it is said will report in his favor.

Capt. Frederick L. Dorr, of the schooner H. B. Gibson, had a narrow escape on Wednesday afternoon, the 23d. He was returning from the city to his vessel, which is laid up at Kittery Point for the winter, showing only a small bit of sail to the furious gale then blowing; he went along nicely until off Lawrence's Point, when a sea filled the boat, which at once rolled over. Capt. Dorr clung to the boat for dear life, and fortunately saved it, though he was so exhausted that he could have held on but a few minutes longer when he was rescued by two men named Brooks and Collins, who put off from the shore and succeeded in reaching him after a hard pull.

SUPREME COURT--JAN. TERM.

Monday, Jan. 28th; Bingham, J.

The following additional jurors appeared and were sworn in: Plumer D. Norton and Thomas Kennedy, Jr., of Portsmouth; Frank P. Cram and Geo. B. Sanborn, of Hampton Fall. Col. William H. Sise and Justin V. Hanscom, of Portsmouth, returned as jurors, have been excused.

State vs. John H. Havey, assigned for trial, was taken up. Mr. Cram, drawn on the jury to try this case, was excused, on his stating that he had heard this case or a similar one tried at Portsmouth. Thomas Kennedy, Jr., was also excused from the trial. Mr. Hatch requested the Court to enquire whether any of the jurymen had joined any reform club or secret organization pledged to secure the conviction of persons accused of selling intoxicating liquors contrary to law. The Court requested such jurors to rise. The entire panel remained seated. Havey was indicted in April last for selling in March, 1877, a pint of spirituous liquor to one John E. Le Count. Havey was tried at Portsmouth last fall for keeping liquors, when the jury disagreed. Le Count at this trial failed to identify the defendant, and the Solicitor asked leave of the Court to ask the witness if he had not told him (Mr. Small) within fifteen minutes, that he had bought liquor of Mr. Havey. This was denied, and the Solicitor entered a nolle prosequi, as also in another case against Havey for a similar affair. This was a bad investment for some one, who had hired Le Count for twenty-five dollars to buy the liquor specified in the indictment.

A case was then called against Havey for keeping for sale liquor contrary to law. Mr. Hatch asked to have the question put as to members of the panel being members of any temperance reform club that pledged its members to use means to convict in cases like this. Mr. Kennedy, of Portsmouth, said he belonged to a temperance organization, but there was nothing obliging him to convict a man by means of his belonging to that order. He was challenged, as also was Mr. Alfred S. Goss, of Portsmouth. The trial then proceeded, Havey being charged with keeping for sale a quantity of intoxicating liquors at Salem. The case occupied the greater part of the day.

The jury in case Charles W. Martin vs. Levi G. Towle were out from half-past five o'clock Friday afternoon, until eleven o'clock on Saturday morning, and stood six and six,—and were discharged the case. The accident which overturned the barge occurred at Bachelder's Granite House just as the team was about starting for Exeter, and Mr. Towle contends it was overset not by the carelessness of his employee, but that of the passengers, (among whom was Mr. Martin,) in leaving one side of the barge for the other, by which the equilibrium was lost.

TO-NIGHT

The new Music Hall will be opened to the public for the first time, under the most favorable auspices. The Governor of the State will be present, as also will the mayor and city government. Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett will deliver the opening address, and Thayer & Tompkins' Boston company will present the domestic comedy of "Caste," and the farce of "John Wopps," with the noted comedian, Chas. H. Thayer, as John Wopps. The company is an excellent one and we may expect to see the plays put on the stage in the best manner. Mrs. Thomas Barry, Miss Mary Carey, Miss Olivia Rand, Mrs. Pennoyer, J. Stuart Clarke, Elmer Warner, Edwin Milliken, Frank Carlos and many other people of note are in the company. "Married Life" and "Toodles" will be played to-morrow night, and the great emotional Dickens drama of "Poor Jo" on Thursday night. There are still a few good seats left at Preston's, and those who have not bought their tickets should make haste to do so.

PARKER PILLSBURY'S LECTURES.

Parker Pillsbury, the veteran lecturer, and compeer of Garrison, Phillips and other abolitionists, preached in Franklin Hall last Sunday afternoon and evening. His topic for the afternoon was "Popular Religions, and what shall we have instead," which was treated in a radical and thoughtful manner, giving much satisfaction to the two hundred or more persons who gathered to listen.

In the evening, he discoursed before the Reform Club upon the "Under Side of Temperance," during the discussion of which he dealt unsparing blows to many of the popular sins of Society, and placed the greater part of the responsibility at the doors of the Church. The audience, (or a large portion of it) showed its disapprobation, as well as its lack of good breeding, by leaving the hall in a noisy manner in groups, during the entire delivery of the discourse, thus showing not only no respect for themselves, but likewise none for their friends who wished to remain and hear.

ENTERTAINMENT AT KITTERY.

The dramatic entertainment given in Trefethen's Hall at Kittery, Saturday evening, under the direction of Mrs. B. P. Lewis, the object being to provide funds to pay for lectures before the Kittery Reform Club, was successful in every respect. The hall was filled to its utmost capacity, and the performers acquitted themselves to the entire satisfaction of the audience. Two dramas were given, the cast being as follows:

In "Out in the street,"—Col. Wayne, Frank W. Rowell; Mrs. Wayne, Miss Susie Paul; Miss Wayne, Miss Carrie Currier; Pete, Col. Wayne's colored servant, Frank Williams; Solomon Davis, Charles Chickering; Matthew Davis, Solomon's hopeful son, Willie Gerrish; Mrs. Bradford, Col. Wayne's widowed sister, Miss Sadie Pettigrew; Minnie, Mrs. Bradford's daughter, Lettie Taylor; Dr. Medfield, George Williams; policeman, Walter Ball.

In "Doing for the best"—Mr. Stubbs, Willis Jenkins; Mrs. Stubbs, Miss Carrie Pettigrew; Jane Stubbs, Miss Laura Trefethen; Emily Stubbs, the foundling, Mrs. Ella Ball; Harry Stubbs, Frank Parker; Bill, Jane Stubbs' lover, George Dunbar; servant, Ed. Parker.

The orchestra, consisting of Messrs. Oscar and Frank Marr and John Metcalf, of Kittery, and Charles M. Lord and Albert W. Parsons of Portsmouth, gave their services gratis, and the music they produced was most pleasing.

The net proceeds of the entertainment should have been something handsome.

RYE LETTER.

RYE, Jan. 28th.

G. H. Jenness, Esq., delivered his entertaining and instructive lecture on "The World we inhabit," in the Town Hall on Saturday night, to a large and attentive audience. He announced before commencing that the object of the lecture on that occasion was for the purpose of procuring outline maps for the schools, and intimated that it was the intention of the Superintending School Committee to have other entertainments follow, for the same purpose. A collection was taken at the close of the lecture. The Band was present, and played several pieces.

Notwithstanding the wind blew, and the thermometer was way down below zero, last Wednesday night, a company of upwards of fifty persons assembled at the Town Hall, in response to an invitation extended by a committee of ladies to meet together on that night and have a good time. To define exactly what the gathering could be called would be a difficult undertaking, but to describe what took place is easy enough. The ladies brought with them lots of toothsome titbits with which to set the tables, and during the evening all sat down at the festive board and enjoyed the good things provided, and drank each other's healths in—cold water, if in anything, for upon reflection doubts arise if there was even that exhilarating beverage on the table. [Correspondents of the Portsmouth Weekly please take notice.] Dancing and social games were indulged in to a reasonable extent, and it was voted such a success that it was decided to repeat the party, or sociable, or whatever it may be called, on Wednesday night two weeks.

There has been a little ripple of excitement during the past week, caused by the rather abrupt disappearance of a young girl, and for a short time it was something of a mystery; but the matter was cleared up by the discovery that an early train took her to Boston, where she has relatives whom she probably desired to visit.

It is refreshing to learn from one of the numerous array of the Weekly's correspondents from Rye, that there are really some temperance folks here. From the general vigor of their remarks, "a veteran's hair is not only made to stand up," as "Harry" of the Times says, but it would seem to people not posted that it would be dangerous going out nights for fear of stumbling over the prostrate bodies of "intoxicated school boys," and that it would be simply impossible for a citizen to pass one of our grocery stores, without standing in fear that the proprietor thereof would come out and stop him, force him into his "rum hole," fill him full of whiskey and then send him home without his "boots and stockings." Come to think of it, though, he would hardly be so lucky as to get home, for if these reliable correspondents are to be believed, the chances would be that he would be more likely to find an abiding place in a graveyard and leave his family destitute, without even the consolation of having his old boots handy to remind them of their desolation. To be assured, then, that "our Band of eighteen members are all temperance men" ought to allay the fears of the timid ones in a measure, and give them grounds for hoping that their influence at least will be exerted in the right direction, as no doubt it will,—and why such a broad grin should at once illuminate the face of every one who hears the above statement read, is simply astonishing; and the conundrum propounded, "How long is it since some of the boys have declined 'taking something' when invited to do so in a proper and fraternal manner?" seems to indicate that in their minds there is more than one definition to the word temperance. NAT.

Portsmouth Chronicle

—A chipper little miss of three summers was standing before a mirror, inspecting and admiring a new dress, the other day, when she turned to her mother and exclaimed, "Mamma, I want a dagger!" There is no doubt but that young lady will keep up with the fashions.

—The largest oyster on record in the United States was one taken from the beds in Mobile in 1840. It measured three feet and one inch in length, and twenty-three and a half inches in breadth across its widest part. In 1865 a Jefferson Market oyster dealer of New York found among his stock of East river oysters one which contained a fish six inches long.

—During the past twelve months no less than twenty-six centenarians died in the United States. Their aggregate age was 2692 years. The oldest among them was Captain Lährbush, who died last April in New York at the alleged age of 111. One of the most interesting cases was that of Augustine Picard, who died at Rochester, N. Y., at the age of 109. His father is said to have lived to the age of 108, and his mother to 104. His sister, 109 years old, is still alive in Quebec. The deceased was an inveterate smoker, and scarcely ill for a day in his life. Of the whole twenty-six, fifteen were women, and of the eleven males one was colored.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for the intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard to gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.

They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.

The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have per ormed more wonderful cures of obstinate bodily ailments than any other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinarians. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stiffness, Swellings, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a mule, etc. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey

To the taste but death to Grubs and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gripes nor gripes.

COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.

MESSRS. J. B. ROSE & CO., N. Y.

I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it my duty to give this certificate on account of the benefits I received by the use of your admirable preparation.

Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest known remedies for pain, covered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Sore Mouth, Burns, Inflamed Joints, etc. White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It regulates the stomach and bowels, destroys worms, allays fever, relieves teething pains, cures wind colic, regulates the bowels and stomach, and overcomes irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers comfort, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that conducates thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An interior article may secure a superior article. Dr. Pierce's superior medicines, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. The sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported totals up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Pectoral.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Tonic.

Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruption. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. By Cholagogue properties it overturns and cures Bilious or Liver Complaint, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint," and as Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

When the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or when there are scrofulous affections and diseases, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect a cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have a sallow color of skin, or yellow-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, metallic taste on tongue, with bad breath, foul stomach, eructations, costiveness, irregular appetite, you may make confident up that your blood is impure, and you are suffering from torpid Liver or Dyspepsia. In many cases it is "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a general rule in such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it will restore vigor, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Aliturin Purgans Purgans, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, here-to-fore so much in use.

As a remedy for headache, dizziness, loss of Blood, the blues, Biliousness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Sick Headache, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escapes their sanative impress. Age does not impair their potency, nor do these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their vacuo being thereby preserved indefinitely for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. Title is not the case with those pill-whose are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes, he daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are inserted, it can be relied on be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; then renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The seeds of deafness, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the strongest robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, impotently assisted by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of its fatal side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular Treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed in hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto secret method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the deteriorated blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.

NORSCOTT BLOCK, SO. FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen who, in private, not only freely commend it but use it in their families in preference to any of the preparations usually prescribed by physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my obligations to the Mass. Medical Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure; but since I received so much relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised its use, and presume I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN,—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say confidently that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but from our business knowledge of the wants of thousands, and we believe thousands afflicted as old be convinced of its great merits, that the suffering will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything in Catarrh, but never had anything that gave a more proper one to use this letter or any part of it from you when. Very truly yours, Sold by BALDWIN & CO.

BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine and the gums of the East are so well known to all, that we need only say their grateful, healing, soothing, and strengthening properties are known to thousands. In this form this Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

Daily Chronicle.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 25th.

Whatever may be the thought as to the good taste of Mr. Blaine's rather uncomplimentary allusions to the history of Massachusetts in his presentation speech of the William King statue last Wednesday in the Senate, the ignominious rout of both Mr. Dawes and Mr. Hoar in their attempt to reply, seems admitted on every hand. Notwithstanding the fact that they were notified of the direction likely to be taken by the Maine Senators, they neglected to post themselves, thus enabling their opponent to start with a decided advantage, which was further enhanced through their loss of temper. Another mistake, and one which cost them the sympathy of about every listener, was the personal turn they sought to give the controversy when they discovered their own incompetency to parry the damaging home thrusts of Mr. Blaine. They were fairly overwhelmed and crushed by the formidable array of facts, stated with characteristic impetuosity and every one supported by undoubted authority; and it would seem that the efforts of Messrs. Dawes and Hoar are not even appreciated at home, the Massachusetts State Senate having refused to concur in a resolution of thanks to their two U. S. Senators, originated in the House.

It seems to be the general belief entertained here among politicians of every school, that the effort now making apparently to reorganize the Bristow faction and to put that gentleman in training for Presidential nomination by the next Republican Convention, will prove quite as decided a failure as was his candidacy in 1876, though he should come endorsed and urged by the present White House incumbent. It puzzles those here most familiar with his achievements as Secretary of the Treasury to account for the distinction sought to be conferred by giving him a "State dinner," in any other way than to suppose it intended to formally endorse him as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Hayes. The careful grooming, so to speak, that he has just received in Boston at the hands of the clique of hermaphrodite politicians who dominate political affairs in the Bay State, is pointed to as confirming this view; but outside of a few personal adherents, most of them credited with nothing higher than interested motives, Mr. Bristow was about the most unpopular here of any of the several candidates who made the race at Cincinnati in June, 1876; and he was almost forgotten when it was announced that Messrs. Schurz, Evarts and Sherman of the Cabinet, Senators Edmunds, Allison, Beck and Davis, and Chief Justice Waite, and their wives and daughters, would unite with the President's family in honoring Mr. Bristow at a State dinner given last evening at the White House.

Day after day the wires are burdened with announcements of old houses of half a century's growth toppling into the abysmal depths of bankruptcy and ruin, until business men—everybody, save Congressmen—seem to have taken the alarm and are looking fearfully forward to the future. Members of the Senate spend two whole days eulogizing two dead Senators, whom they abused like pickpockets when living; another half day is devoted to chanting a requiem mass for the transfer of Italy's dead King from the purgatorial fires which are hoped to have already burned out of him the taint of heresy; and every day, even weeks, have been consumed in discussing the Matthews resolution, which, when passed, has no more legal effect to change the existing financial status than the Pope's bull had to restore his temporal supremacy. Turn to the House, and measures in work by the number of bills introduced, it would appear the most diligent one ever assembled; but estimated by the unimportance of anything practical yet accomplished, to in any measure relieve the nightmare prostration and paralysis that have fallen on every industrial and commercial interest, and the lower House of the 45th Congress would have to be transposed to the negative side of the equation.

Senator Logan occupied all the time yesterday after the expiration of the morning hour, could, in giving the reasons why he should not vote for Mr. Matthews' resolution. He said he opposed it and all Edmunds' amendments, because neither presented the real issue; and he thought it unwise to formulate and declare opinions on a pending legislation. It rather opened to the Congressional Mississippi as it is represented to be here, it must come sooner or later, of course very rare with people and politicians, to assume the position taken by Lamar, Hill and Gordon in remonetization and resumption.

The ball given at Wormley's, by the [illegible] honor of Alfonso's marriage, was one of the most memorable social events ever witnessed here. Almost every foreign legation was represented, all in "full court dress." Our army and navy, not to be outdone in the matter of epaulets, gold lace and brass buttons, were represented by large numbers of our most eminent officers from each, all gotten up regardless of expense. But as at the New Year's reception at the White House, the prodigal extravagance characterizing the hour, when thousands all over the land are absolutely starving, was most noticeable among the wives and daughters of Senators and Representatives.

Murphy begins his work next Sunday at Lincoln Hall; but a bad impression has got abroad relative to the rate of compensation to be allowed him, to meet which an admission fee of fifty cents is to be charged two or three evenings of the week, and a good deal of grumbling is already heard in consequence. "Bad Characters" in South Carolina.

United States Internal Revenue Collector Brayton, of the District of South Carolina, has had an interview with that "great and good man" Wade Hampton, by the persuasive influence of the rifle and the grace of the administration Governor of South Carolina, relative to the recent attacks upon revenue officers in that State. The Governor insisted that his people, who defraud the revenue by distilling illicit whiskey and dealing in contraband tobacco, and then arm en masse to resist the arrest of any of their number by United States officials, are worthy and law abiding citizens, but are angered at the "bad character" of the officers making arrests. Collector Brayton asserted that his force was as reputable and honest as were the same class of State officers. Subsequently Brayton wrote a letter to the Governor with the proposition that Hampton should nominate a Collector and five men to act as a special force for the suppression of the illicit traffic in whiskey and tobacco in the disturbed region, promising to give them a fair opportunity to show their superior efficiency. Hampton has not replied. There are two things the matter with the revenue officers, in the eyes of the South Carolinians: one is, they did not fight in the rebel army during the war, and have not voted with the rifle clubs since; the other objection to them is that they represent Federal authority, which cannot be permitted on South Carolina's sacred soil.

Congress.

The Matthews silver resolution (that it is not to pay the national bonds in silver) on Monday passed the House under suspension of the rules, by a vote of 189 to 79. The democratic vote was—for the resolution 113; against it, 24. Republican vote—for the resolution 76; against it 55. The final passage of the Bland bill is now considered certain, even should the President veto it, which it is not believed he will do.

The House elections committee has decided to give the seat of Pacheco, republican, to Wigginton, democrat. The Supreme Court of California, with a democratic Chief Justice and majority of judges, decided unanimously that Pacheco was fairly elected and fully entitled to his seat.

The House passed an anti-subsidy resolution by a big majority. It is very generally conceded to have been offered for buncombe, and it is certain that very many who don't like it and did not want to vote for it, did vote for it through a wholesome fear of their constituents. None the less is it a damaging blow to the hopes of the subsidy-hunters, for this session of Congress at least.

Good Work.

Sch. Bessie F. Dickinson, from Georgetown, Me., with ice for New York, lost her anchor in the gale of Wednesday, 23d inst., and was in imminent danger of being wrecked on the beach south of Gardner's Point. The revenue cutter Grant ran a hawser to her, let go both anchors, and, by working the engine ahead at full speed, held the schooner off the shore all night, thus saving her and her crew. Had the schooner gone ashore, which she would have done but for the anchors and engine of the Grant, she would have been a total loss, and probably her own crew as well as the crew from the cutter would have perished, as the cold was intense and no shelter within several miles from where she would have struck.

The Bland Silver Bill.

Below will be found the Bland Silver bill as it passed the House and as it now stands before the Senate. The House bill ends with the words printed in brackets. The Senate Committee on Finance struck out the words in brackets and added the words which follow.

AN ACT to authorize the free coinage of the standard silver dollar, and to restore its legal-tender character.

Be it enacted, etc., That there shall be coined at the several mints of the United States, silver dollars of the weight of four hundred and twelve and a half grains troy of standard silver, as provided in the act of January eighteenth, eighteen hundred and thirty-seven, on which shall be the devices and superscriptions provided by said act; which coins, together with all silver dollars heretofore coined by the United States of like weight and fineness, shall be a legal tender, at their nominal value, for all debts and dues, public and private, except where otherwise provided by contract.

[And any owner of silver bullion may deposit the same at any United States coinage mint or assay office, to be coined into such dollars, for his benefit, upon the same terms and conditions as gold bullion is deposited for coinage under existing laws.]

And the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to purchase from time to time the silver bullion at the market price thereof, not less than two million dollars per month, nor more than four million dollars per month, and cause the same to be coined into such dollars. And any gain or seigniorage arising from this coinage shall be accounted for and paid into the Treasury, as provided under existing laws relative to the subsidiary coinage; provided that the amount of money at any one time invested in such silver bullion, exclusive of such resulting coin, shall not exceed five million dollars.

The Eastern War.

Notwithstanding the reported signing of an armistice by Russia and Turkey, the Servians and Montenegrins, and the Russians as well, seem to be pressing hostilities as hardly as ever.

A despatch from Belgrade says: "After a four days' battle the Turks have been defeated near Ratschamik by 40,000 Servians. The hospitals here have been ordered to prepare accommodation for 3000 wounded."

The London Times correspondent, besieged in Erzerroum, writes, Jan. 15, that typhus is raging there and 250 die daily. There are 10,000 sick and wounded in the hospitals.

The people of Greece are very uneasy, wishing the government to declare war against Turkey.

The whole of Europe is apparently more interested in the peace negotiations than it was in the progress of the war. Although it had been positively asserted that Austria would acquiesce in whatever settlement Russia might make with Turkey, the latest news is of a different nature. If it shall prove true that Austria's objections are in earnest, England will secure an ally, and the news of the next few days will be eagerly watched.

News and Notes.

The trial of Henry Hickey, the boy charged with shooting another boy in Boston last month, took place Monday. He was found guilty of manslaughter.

The nitro-glycerine works of George W. Mowbray, at North Adams, Mass., blew up on Tuesday, the shock being felt five miles away. Mr. E. J. Wilson, the foreman, was blown to pieces and scattered over a space twenty rods in diameter.

George B. Gordon, inventor of the Gordon printing press, died at Norfolk, Va., Monday. His remains will be buried at Green wood, Brooklyn. He was born in Salem, N. H., in 1810.

A very proper attempt is to be made to secure from Congress a pension for Ida Lewis, the hero ne of the lighthouse in Newport harbor. She still lives in the lighthouse, keeping the light herself, but is in delicate health, having never recovered from the exposure and nervous shock attendant upon her efforts to save drowning men. She has been in the government employ all her life, having in reality cared for the light long before her father's death ten years ago, though he drew the pay, and it is only right that such service and bravery as the American Grace Darling's should have some recognition.

Miss Lizzie Van Low, the former postmistress of Richmond, who was so ungallantly treated while in office, has associated herself with a business man in the manufacture of plow points and castings.

New Hampshire Items.

James G. Jesseman of Dorchester was arrested at Plymouth Monday by Sheriff Brown for an aggravated assault on Mr. Nathaniel Dow. The bullet found proved to be No. 22, whereas the balls fired by Mrs. Jesseman were No. 38. The inhabitants are very much dissatisfied with the verdict of the coroner's jury, that Mrs. Dow came to her death through an accident on the part of Ida Jesseman.

Samuel Merrill of Gilmanton, while recently chopping in the woods, was struck by a tree on his head and probably killed instantly. He was found dead by Ira B. Berry, for whom he was working. The unfortunate man was deaf and dumb, forty years of age, and left a wife and two small children, all of them deaf and dumb.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tried its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 126 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. 10eow1

"It seems as if I should cough my head off" is sometimes the impatient exclamation of a sufferer from a severe cough. Quell the paroxysms with Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar. The relief is immediate and the cure certain. Sold by all Druggists.

AS A RELIABLE REMEDY for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, or any affection of the throat and chest, use, according to directions given on each bottle, Madame Zadoc Porter's Cough Balsam. It is always reliable, and the possession of a single bottle may, in case of a sudden attack, prove to be worth fifty times its cost. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

Pomad s and cosmetics may be dispensed with, but not so the Fragrant Sozodont; the most wholesome and efficient article for the teeth that the world has ever known.

Its popularity is immense. In the brown stone palace and the cottage, it is alike considered indispensable.

Shattered toys are regenerated with Spalding's Glue.

WINNING OF THE FIRST CAPITAL PRIZE.—Mr. M. Ranlster, of the State National Bank, elsewhere acknowledges the receipt of fifteen thousand dollars from the Louisiana Lottery Company, in payment of half ticket which won the first capital prize in their drawing of Jan. 8, and was held by him for collection for account of parties in San Antonio, Texas.—"From the N. O. Picayune, Jan. 17."

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 21st, 1877.

The undersigned certifies that he held for collection on account of Chas. H. Harrington, New York, one eighth of single number ticket, No. 62,850, Class M, in the Louisiana State Lottery, which drew the third capital prize of $30,000, on Tuesday, December 11th, 1877; said ticket having cost the sum of $1.25, and that the amount was promptly paid on presentation of the ticket at the office of the Company.

OPENING OF THE MUSIC HALL.

A little over a year ago, as we watched the burning of the old "Temple," we supposed the building would be succeeded by a better structure; but that such a complete, even magnificent Hall as was opened to the public last evening should so soon be reared upon the site of the old place of entertainment, was far beyond our most sanguine expectations. We have, in a former paper, endeavored to describe the new Music Hall; but as the brilliantly-lighted auditorium filled last evening with interested and eager visitors, we felt that to be appreciated, this beautiful place of amusement and instruction must be seen rather than described. The audience seemed charmed with the entire surroundings; as one comer after another was seated, almost extravagant expressions of surprise and delight at the appearance of the new hall were heard, while the general happy effect of the occasion seemed everywhere visible. The orchestral band of Harlow never disappoints. Last evening the leader, who with unabated interest had watched the rising walls of the new hall, at last was in his appropriate place, and as promptly as if in constant practice here the orchestral airs were rendered with more than the usual pleasure to the listeners. Immediately following the overture, Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett delivered a brief address, substantially as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen: Before the rising of the curtain, for which we are all impatient, I am permitted to congratulate you upon the completion and opening of this beautiful, commodious, much-needed and long-expected "Music Hall."

Ever since it was known that this enterprise was to be undertaken, the whole town has felt an interest in it. Detachments of our citizens have watched the preparation of the foundation and the rising of the walls, as the expected owners of an embryo ship watch the laying of the keel and the rising of the frame. When the rising walls began to conceal what was going on within, some of us were so anxious for expedition and success that we would, from time to time, have given our opinion if the proprietors had given us an opportunity to form one.

But now the "No Admittance" notice is taken down, the doors thrown wide open, and we are assembled to enjoy the first entertainment in this new Hall, and to criticise, if we see cause, the faults which our invaluable advice would have avoided. But now we are within these walls, we are so pleased to find everything so exactly as we intended to have advised, that we can no more point out the most beautiful part of the Hall than we could point out the most beautiful part of a perfect picture. Our first impulse is to thank the proprietors, the architect, the artist and the workmen, for so arranging a hall that disappointed and unappreciated curiosity can find no fault; our next, I doubt not, will soon—too soon—be to thank the performers for their entertainment, from which I will detain you but a few moments longer.

The old "Temple," in its day, met, if it did not satisfy, a want; at least, it was for many years the best thing of the kind we had. When in that calm and quiet winter evening about a year ago, we saw the Temple, protected by a bank of snow, gradually turning into smoke and cinders, some of us were rejoiced that we were not crowded within those crackling walls when the fire broke out; others regretted the destruction of our only theatre, concert hall, lecture room and place of amusement; while all remembered how, in the cold of winter, in the heat of summer, we had often been packed, with every aisle barricaded, within those falling walls and upon those burning seats,—all the time feeling that the Temple was to be burned, and when hearing the sound of the town clock, starting from the most interesting performance to ascertain whether the bell was announcing the hour of the evening or the commencement of the expected conflagration.

We meet this evening somewhat like a family that had lost house and home by fire, and after camping out for a year are first re-united in their new and spacious mansion, while some are admiring its architecture and the general arrangements, others select up their rooms, and all are about to enjoy the first feast in their new home.

This hall is a credit as well as a convenience to our city. A community is known to some extent by the character and place of its amusements. This place will exert a refining influence upon those who occupy it. It will serve to some extent as the place of our social reunions, for we cannot come together in a well arranged and well ordered place of amusement, without quickening our interest and deepening our sympathy with each other; we cannot in company and sympathy enjoy music and the drama—those recreations which enliven, sweeten and lengthen life, without increasing our interest in and our respect for each other.

Then, ladies and gentlemen, let us show our appreciation of what has been done for us by frequently enjoying these reunions.

The anxious expectation of every one as to whether with the new machinery and unaccustomed detail of the stage material, the start of the piece would be easy and without jar, was soon relieved, as Messrs. Thayer and Tompkins had taken every precaution that all things should go smoothly. Indeed, throughout the evening, the representation shew that trained hands managed and experienced heads had directed the stage business, and the entire representation was in this respect most unexceptionably successful. Too much praise cannot be awarded to these gentlemen for their success in this initial performance.

"Caste," written by the late T. W. Robertson, Esq., was first produced at the Prince of Wales Theatre, London, on the 6th of April, 1867. In this country it has had an immense run, and such actors as Lester Wallack, Wm. J. Florence and other noted professionals have enacted it. The part of Eccles has been successfully rendered by Geo. Honey and William Warren. The plot of this comedy is simple yet effective. Captain D'Alroy, son to the Marquise de Saint Maur, in obedience to the dictates of his heart and in defiance of the law of "Caste," marries Esther Eccles, attached to one of the minor theatres, who has the misfortune to possess a drunken father. After a married life of six months the Captain is ordered to India, but conceals the fact from his wife, who, however, learns it through overhearing the parting between the Marquise and her son. During the officer's absence abroad, his wife becomes a mother and in reduced circumstances. A report of D'Alroy's death reaches England, and, notwithstanding her poverty, his presumed widow declines invoking assistance from her patrician mother-in-law, who, informed of Esther's distressed circumstances, proposes to take possession of the child. Through the humanity of Major Hawtree, D'Alroy's brother officer, the necessities of the young mother, disappointed in obtaining a professional engagement, are relieved, when the supposed dead man reappears, in sound health. A reconciliation between the Marquise and her daughter-in-law completes the happiness of the returned husband, rejoiced to find his wife and infant son recognized by his aristocratic relatives. The other prominent characters in the comedy are Hawtree, a scion of a plebeian stock, aspiring to marry a lady in her own right, but jilted at the last hour; Polly, Esther's sister, an unambitious, warm-hearted girl, and Sam Gerridge, an honest, blunt and well-meaning mechanic, Polly's suitor and accepted husband, who, with Eccles, a confirmed inebriate and blatant advocate of working men's rights, illustrate various phases in the distinctions of "Caste."

In the comedy as represented last evening, Miss Cary, as might have been expected from a lady of such brilliant dramatic powers, was a success, and as Polly, was the centre of attraction around which the play seemed to revolve. Mr. Warren as Capt. Hawtree sustained his reputation as a light comedian of acknowledged ability. The difficult part of old Eccles was finely rendered by Mr. Warner. This is a part requiring much discrimination and good judgment. The artist must keep upon a safe ground, between good taste in representing the author's idea of the personification, and an extravagant representation of a somewhat repulsive character. This Mr. Warner succeeded in doing. Mr. Milliken made a satisfactory "Sam Gerridge." Mr. Clark as the Hon. George D'Alroy enacted the difficult role to the most satisfaction of the audience. Mrs. Penoyer, of the Boston Theatre, was everything that could be desired as the Marquise, and fully sustained her well earned reputation. Miss Cluer, as Esther, gave a careful rendition of the emotional character. The evening's entertainment concluded with the well known English farce of John Wopps, the title role of the zealous policeman being sustained by Mr. Chas. H. Thayer. Many of our readers will recollect Mr. Thayer's unexcelled personification of Micawber in the old Temple a short time before its destruction. Mr. Thayer as John Wopps well sustained the character of the destroyer of domestic happiness and chicken pie, while the other characters that made up the caste were happily rendered.

This (Wednesday) evening Buckstone's comedy, "Married Life," will be presented, in which Miss Olivia Rand, the soubrette of the Boston Theatre, will appear as Mrs. Henry Dove, a part in which she has won the encomiums of the press of the modern Athens. Mr. Thayer will conclude the evening's entertainment with his rendition of the well-known character of "Toodles" in the drama of that name. The bill is decidedly jolly, and is in direct contrast with the programme for Thursday evening, when "Poor Jo" will be presented, in which Mrs. Thomas Barry, the leading actress of Boston, so well-known to the patrons of the Boston Theatre, will appear in her celebrated role Lady Dedlock, and Miss Mary Cary in her wonderful portraiture of Poor Jo.

THE STORM AT THE SHOALS.

A friend from the Shoals has given us a few incidents of the storm of the 23d inst., which serve to illustrate the hardships and dangers of a fisherman's life.

When the squall clouds began to look threatening, there were four small boats from the Shoals off drawing their trawls. Two of them, belonging Ephraim Henry Downs and Levi Downs, were off about four miles, but by carrying sail to the last moment got within two miles of the shore before having to take in anything, and just succeeded in making a harbor when the full force of the gale struck them. The other two boats, one belonging to Smutty-nose and the other to Star island, were row boats; both got safely to land, but the men in one were so exhausted that had they been another half-mile away when they took the gale they could not have made the distance to save their lives.

Schooner Annabel ran through the narrow channel between Appledore and Smutty-nose, made a partial lee under Appledore, and let go both anchors. Both flukes were broken from one anchor before the schooner brought up, but the other anchors held throughout the gale.

Schooner Can't Come It beat into the roads, breaking eight or ten of the hoops from her mainmast in doing so; after an unsuccessful attempt to run into Smutty-nose dock she came to an anchor between Star and Cedar islands, and the crew, having got out all their ground tackle and made everything snug, went ashore, as they could do nothing more for the safety of their vessel, and would only needlessly imperil their lives by remaining on board.

Schooner Mary E. Caswell, owned by O. & C. Leighton and manned by "Carpenter" Ingebredson and his five sons, was about five miles from the Shoals and had four boats out hauling trawls when the storm came down. The skipper set the recall signal when he saw it coming, but the trawlers were getting good fish and stuck to their work, thus losing lively loable time. As soon as the gale struck the schooner she commenced to ice up, but the crew continued their endeavors to reach the Shoals until the vessel was so much encumbered as to be unmanageable, drifting off to leeward like a haystack. The anchor was then let go, and 180 fathoms of chain payed out, the chain being heavily weighted not far from the anchor; this held her, and there she laid all night exposed to the full fury of the wind and sea, about eight miles southeast of the islands. The crew had nothing to eat or drink, and had but one bucket of coal on board when they left the islands; they were kept at work all night bailing water from the forecastle,—and it is safe to say that they passed a long and weary night, the schooner being every moment settling deeper in the water from the weight of the rapidly accumulating ice. At eight o'clock Thursday morning the schooner Celia left the Shoals to succor the distressed vessel, and arrived alongside in about an hour. The crew of the Mary E. Caswell, with their dories and whatever was easily moveable, were taken a board the Celia, and the former schooner battened down as well as possible and then left, she being then more like a half-tide rock than a vessel, her decks being level with the water and every sea going over her fore and aft. Landing the rescued crew at the Shoals, the Celia worked into Portsmouth and informed one of the Leighton's of their schooner's plight; the steamer Clara Bateman at nine o'clock that evening started out to bring her in, but the wind and sea made it too perilous for a night job, and it was given up until next day, when the derelict was brought safely to port.

We don't want anybody's chance to go winter fishing.

THE CITY.

The Times says: "Hon. Frank Jones voted 'nay' on the bill to pay government bonds in silver. New England was solid on the question." Not quite solid; Butler of Massachusetts, republican, and Phelps of Connecticut, democrat, voted "aye."

A despatch from Batavia, Java, Jan. 28th, says that the ship Midnight, from New York for Yokohama, before reported abandoned in the Banda Sea, put in at Amboyna leaky and discharged her cargo. She has since been abandoned and sold.

On Monday evening Rev. John A. Goss, pastor of the Court Street Christian church, and family, were kindly remembered by their friends, a large number of whom assembled at their residence on Summer street. Mr. Charles E. Buzzell, in behalf of those assembled, presented the pastor with an envelope well filled with greenbacks and silver, and other substantial evidences of good will were bestowed.

The Newburyport Herald thus alludes to one of the gentlemen who will assist at the Nowell brothers' concert in Music Hall on the 5th proximo: "Mr. Theodore Castlehun is always a favorite; his rich, sonorous bass voice, full and clear to the lowest notes, is constantly improving; he is young and promises to become one of the first basso-profundos. His solos, and also songs in duos and trios with the lady singers, were very finely rendered, applauded and encored."

A two-horse draught team, belonging in Newmarket, on Tuesday afternoon started from Market street and ran down Pleasant street at a furious rate, and when on South Mill-bridge struck a team driven by Mr. Robert Aldrich, who hearing the noise of the runaway behind him jumped from his wagon and hid under the platform near the mill. The wagon attached to the runaways struck Aldrich's team with great force, but fortunately only broke a shaft. The runaways continued their race until opposite the residence of Mr. James Miller on South street, where they ran between a lamp post and the fence and finally brought up without doing any further damage.

CAPE NEDDICK LETTER.

CAPE NEDDICK, ME., Jan. 26th.

The quiet little village of Ogunquit was thrown into consternation Wednesday night, concerning the fishermen. There were several boats out when the squall struck, and those who had friends in them were greatly alarmed as to their safety, while the other residents were much concerned through sympathy. All got in safely, however, though two of the fishermen, Mr. Moses J. Perkins, a young man of twenty-three years, and Mr. George Staples, suffered severely, the latter not getting home until next day, and Mr. Perkins being three days absent, his friends having well nigh given up all hope of ever seeing him again before he returned. Mr. Perkins managed to pull against the gale until he was within a mile of the cove, when his strength failed and he had to keep away for Boon island—a forlorn hope indeed, for there was a heavy sea running, and Boon island was a small object to aim for in such a gale. But after having two oars torn from his hands by the wind, he still managed with a third oar to get close to the island, when his boat was capsized by a sea and he thrown on a rock, from which he succeeded in reaching the island. His chin was badly frozen, and his sufferings were terrible; but he was thankful to escape with his life. Mr. Staples landed at Kennebunk, Wednesday evening, more dead than alive from fatigue and cold, but was able to return home on Thursday.

The singing school at Cape Neddick, taught by Mr. Melvin J. Talpey is prospering well. It is now near its close, and the house is well filled with spectators each evening the school meets. Mr. Talpey is an excellent musician, and his ability to teach music cannot be easily surpassed. He has taught several terms here, always giving entire satisfaction.

Mr. Almon H. Merrow is doing a good business in the fish trade at Cape Neddick. It is a great benefit to people who make fishing a business to be able to dispose of their fish for cash. Mr. Merrow has always been a help to the community, and deserves praise. He is a man of good principle and one whom all may consider an examplar. He has the agency here for Smith's American Organs, and has supplied a number of churches, besides numerous families.

AGAMENTICUS.

THE VICINITY.

Mr. Stephen Weeks, formerly of Greenland but for many years a resident of Boston, died in Newtonville on Monday. He leaves a widow, a daughter and one son, Mr. E. L. Weeks, the well-known artist.

The boot and shoe store of Livingston & Co., in Saco, was slightly damaged by fire on Sunday night; fully insured. The firemen in opening a reservoir in Oak square held a torch over the opening, when flames shot up, and there was an explosion which was heard all over the city, caused by a leaky gas-pipe, which runs underground near the wall of the reservoir.

A mysterious shooting affair, which will probably prove fatal, occurred in Wells on Sunday night. Charles Feuney and family live near Bald Hill, two miles west of the Eastern depot, and sometime early in the evening a pistol ball was fired through a window of the house, which struck his daughter, aged five years. The ball entered just over the left lung. A physician extracted the ball with difficulty. The child is now in a critical condition and unlikely to recover. Who did the shooting and what for is a mystery.

The house of Mr. Josiah Shaw of Birch Hill, York, recently occupied by Mrs. Shaw, mother of the proprietor, was forcibly entered on Thursday night during the absence of the occupant at the East. Mrs. Elizabeth Simpson, in whose charge the house was left, made her daily morning visit on Friday, when she was astonished to find that a window which had been fastened with a board nail had been pried up with a clapboard and the nail broken, the burglar thus effecting an entrance. All the wood in the house was burnt, molasses candy made, potatoes baked, two dozen eggs, flour, and butter, used in making batter cakes, tea brewed, etc., specimens of cookery left, and the house in general confusion. After regaining himself the visitor evidently took a nap on the bed. The culprit, (who is suspected and likely to be captured,) is supposed to be the same individual who entered the house of Miss Hannah Goodwin at East Eliot the week previous.

Portsmouth Chronicle

Seized By a Devil Fish.

Early last August, a party of Cape Flattery, or Mackaw Indians, returning from a visit to their friends (the Songish of Victoria) encamped the first afternoon out, on the beautiful Bay of Metchosen, Vancouver's Island. The weather being very fine, most of the party went bathing, and among the number a maiden of perhaps eighteen summers, who had accompanied her grandfather on the trip. Desiring seclusion, she went round a point away from the other bathers, and, being known as a bold swimmer, is supposed to have taken a header into deep water. However taken it proved to have been a plunge into the arms of death, for when the swimmers reassembled around the camp fire the girl was missed, and, notwithstanding a diligent search that evening, could not be found. The following morning, with sad hearts, the party left; but very soon those in the foremost canoe, on rounding the point, saw (the water being calm and clear) a human body as it coasted on the sandy sea bottom, with what seemed like a flour bag immediately behind it. The natives know what this meant. As soon as the canoes got together, two of the most active young men managed with daggers to so disable the monster (for it was a gigantic devil fish) that the octopus with its victim was brought to the surface. The foregoing facts have been communicated to our informant by an intelligent and respectable half breed woman from Metchosen, who saw the body of the drowned girl with some of the prehensiles of the mollusk still adhering to it. She compared the head of the octopus in size to that of a fifty pound flour sack, full; and said that the tentacles were twelve in number, of different sizes, and the largest about the circumference of a man's arm.—Victoria Colonist.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, fishing and dandruff, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.

They relieve pain;

They subdue swellings;

They cure burns without a scar.

The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate bedridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. People hobbling upon crutches for years from stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are not to be marvelled at. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a similar case. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey

To the taste but death to Grubs and Stomach complaints. Fletcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gripes nor gripes.

COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.

Mssrs. J. B. ROSE & CO., N. Y.

I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I cannot mend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this my testimony of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.

Very truly yours,

NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies for pain ever discovered for all flesh, bone and muscle enfeebleness, Bites, Bruises, Sore Rings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. We write White Liniment does for the human body, the Yellow for the most obstinate of horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Fletcher's Castoria. It is pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome indigestion caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specific in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes their continued perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An interior article cannot survive a superior article. If it possess superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outvailed all others. Their sale in the United States, Isles Ceylon and Cuba, one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported looks up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Pectoral.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is a Cholagogue, or Liver stimulant.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Tonic.

Golden Medical Discovery

By virtue of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affection; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Nasal Catarrh. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint," and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

When the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or, where there are scrofulous swellings and Scrofulous Sores, Golden Medical Discovery will effect an early cure. If you find dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, in quest of a medicine of unexhaustible tone in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, you will find, to your bewildering, irregular appetite, that these conditions are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness." In many cases of Liver Complaint only part of these symptoms exist. As a rule, for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Anti-bilious Purgative, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, here-to-fore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Bilious Attacks from Biliousness, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their thorough, yet gentle influence, but every fragitive tissue, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pill, which are put up in chalky, wooden or pasteboard boxes, the daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Pimples, Blotches, Tumors, Sores and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately, often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, disease of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and values for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or has tended more to the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, frequently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is true, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz. the acidified blood, while it heals the ulcerated membranes by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.

NOBSCOTT BLOCK, SO. FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen who, in private, not only recommend it, but use it in their families in preference to any of the preparations freely prescribed by physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my obligations to the Mass. Medical Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe Sanford's Radical Cure; but since I received so much relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised its use, and presume I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN,—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a single preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint yet.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but your preparation meets the wants of thousands, and we think those afflicted should be convinced of its great merit so that the suffering will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything for Catarrh, but yours leads all the rest. If you see proper you can use this letter or any part of it that you wish.

Very truly yours, F. D. BALDWIN & CO.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Strengthening Plaster, forming the best Plaster for pains and aches in the World of Medicine.

ELECTRICITY

As a grand curative and restorative agent is not equalled by any element or medicine in the history of the healing art. Unknown a few years since, it has fled the body, restoration by means of electricity is possible. It is the last resort of all physicians and surgeons, and has received many cases apparently dead, from an untimely grave, when no other human agency could have succeeded. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine and the gums of the East are too well known to require description. Their grateful, healing, soothing, and strengthening properties are known to thousands. When combined in accordance with late and important discoveries in pharmacy, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold. In this respect our Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity. trebl3

TWO IN ONE.

Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which performs its function and unitedly produce more cures than any elegant lotion, wash or plaster ever before compounded in the history of medicine. Try one. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Result of Democratic Rule.

The New York World, with characteristic vigor, assails the municipal government of that city; it puts in terse and emphatic invective its indictment. Valuation of property is constantly decreasing; the rate of taxation is continually rising; the debt of the city grows, and the business of the city decreases. With the possible exception of the fire department, "there is not a single branch of the city government which good citizens can regard with confidence and pride." So tremendous is the evil that the World proposes the revolutionary measure of a legislative dismissal of each and every municipal officer—the annihilation of the city government. We should think, despite the learning of the World, that there might be some "constitutional questions" involved in such a proposal. The World has, and it is not for the first time, called attention to the history and the results of pure democratic supremacy. Tammany Hall has ruled the city of New York for many years. From its accession to power until the present time it has grown in corruption, in abuse of power and in arrogance. Whatever symptoms to the contrary it may be thought have appeared, have been symptoms only and not processes of health. At one time Tammany aspired to the control of the political fortunes of the country, and had much more reason to hope for success than those have who now would relegate her to honesty. Had Hoffman and Hall been put where the democracy of the city and State of New York were anxious to put them, the fate of the city would have been the fate of the nation.—Providence Journal.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. THE NEW POPULAR LOAN.—Every appearance indicates that the new four per cent. gold bonds will be popular with the people, and that those having moderate investments to make can rarely do better than to put them in this government security. It will be seen by an advertisement today that the Maverick National Bank, at the corner of Water and Congress streets, in Boston, is duly authorized by the Treasury Department to receive subscriptions for the four per cent. funded loan of the United States in denominations of $50, $100, $500, and upwards, at par and accrued interest in coin. Particulars are given in the advertisement, and as the Maverick National is one of the first banks in New England to offer the loan, it will doubtless rapidly and constantly have numerous applications from parties desiring to make such evidently safe and profitable investments. 1t

Congress.

The Senate finance committee has agreed to report an amendment to the silver bill, providing for an international coinage convention. It authorizes the President to appoint three commissioners to attend and report to Congress, each to receive $2500 and expenses.

Gen. Butler created considerable amusement in the House on Jan. 29th, by presenting resolutions sent by the Norfolk (Mass.) Unitarian Conference in favor of a single gold standard, and then asking the Speaker for his Bible, and causing to be read from the second chapter of St. John, Christ's rebuke of certain money-changers who attempted to use the Lord's temple for purposes of merchandize. Mr Butler said, after this rebuke by Christ, he had no answer to make to the ministers who attempted to instruct him.

Pay of Army Officers.

The army pay bill introduced in Congress by Mr. Banning fixes the annual pay of officers of the army as follows:

General, $10,000; lieutenant-general, $8,000; major-general, $6,000; brigadier-general, $5,000; colonel, $3,000; lieutenant colonel, $2,500; major, $2,000; captain, (mounted,) $1,800; captain, (not mounted,) $1,600; first lieutenant, (mounted,) $1,600; first lieutenant, (not mounted,) $1,400; second lieutenant, (mounted,) $1,200; second lieutenant, (not mounted,) $1,000; ordnance storekeepers, $1,600.

The bill makes considerable reductions in the allowance for forage and for rent of quarters. The bill increases the monthly pay of non-commissioned officers as follows:

Sergeant-major, from $23 to $34; quarter-master-sergeant, from $22 to $33; chief trumpeter, from $22 to $24; first sergeants, from $22 to $33; sergeants, from $17 to $24; corporals, from $15 to $20. The bill reduces the pay of commissioned officers, including allowances for quarters, fuel and forage, in round numbers about $1,250,000 per annum. It increases the total pay of non-commissioned officers, in round numbers, about $55,000; but this, it is claimed, will be much more than compensated for by the reduction in the number of these men provided for in Banning's bill to reorganize the army.

News and Notes.

United States bonds dropped nearly two per cent. in London, and gold went up one per cent. in New York, on the passage of the Matthews resolution.

The striking Crispins at Marlboro', Mass., are trying to establish a little reign of terror. Their conduct will injure themselves only.

It having been stated that an experienced crew of the Life Saving Service at Seaford, L. I., is to be dismissed for political reasons, and at the peril of human life, there is official authority for saying that such is not the case. The Life-Saving Bureau of the Treasury Department has ordered the dismissal, in accordance with the report and recommendation of a board consisting of Lieutenants Shoemaker and Wallace, of the Revenue Marine Service, and Assistant Surgeon Sawtelle, of the Marine Hospital Service, who investigated the complaints against the crew of Life-Saving Station No. 27, on the Long Island coast, at the time of the wreck of the schooner General Conner, when she went ashore on that coast, December 5th. The report shows the crew entirely unfitted for the duties of the position.

The directors of the Brandon National Bank of Brandon, Vermont, have discovered that their cashier, D. C. Bascom, has been letting J. H. Batchelder, of Lincoln, Vt., an irresponsible party, have over $60,000 without proper security, nearly half of which it is alleged was upon raised notes, and that he has also let some $40,000 besides, which is a total loss. The bank loses about $100,000, wiping out its surplus of $80,000, and impairing its capital of $200,000 about one-tenth. The matter was brought to light by the election of directors, who were opposed to the former management, and who, as stockholders, had been refused access to the books. Bascom had left town, and although no evidence has been secured, it is possible he was personally benefitted by the operations of Batchelder. The bank has a new cashier and is continuing business.

Wholesale robberies and frauds by United States contractors on the line of the Union Pacific Railway are reported. Millions of dollars worth of Government property have been stolen, and the gangs of thieves have established a reign of terror among the laborers.

A consignment of those favorite English fish, sole and turbot, shipped in a large tank from Southpoit, England, by the Siberia, and intended for stocking Massachusetts Bay, was unfortunate. In spite of constant attention of an expert, all but two of the fish died on the voyage. The two, however, were placed in Boston harbor.

Frank Leslie, the New York publisher, was arrested and taken from a train at the depot in Philadelphia, on the 29th of January, while en route from Washington to New York, on a charge of libel preferred by a Philadelphia lawyer named Wrigley. The charge has grown out of a dispute regarding an entertainment in which Leslie and Wrigley were associated at the Centennial Exhibition.

In Lynn, Mass., Jan. 29th, the building belonging to Mayor Bubier was damaged to the extent of $1500 by fire; insured. It was occupied by C. F. Hill, shoe manufacturer, who loses $1200, and Samuel G. Piper, George Knight and James Merrill, shoe stitchers, whose losses aggregate $6000. Total insurance, $2900. A hundred operatives are thrown out of employment by this disaster.

A wealthy citizen of Elkhorn, Wis., aged 65, has just married a girl of twenty years.

At a sale of blooded bulls in Paris, Ky., Jan. 25th, the Fourteenth Duke of Thorndale, which eleven months ago was purchased for $17,900, was sold for $2335.

A attempt made at Montreal on the night of Jan. 28th to blow up the Institute Canadian building, was averted by the timely discovery of an explosive package in the main hall. This is the Institute Guibord was excommunicated for belonging to.

Two freight trains on the Grand Trunk telescoped near Brestan, Ont., Tuesday morning, Jan. 28th. A fireman named Hodgkins was killed and the driver slightly injured. All the cars were wrecked. The track was cleared and traffic resumed at noon.

The Metropolis, which sailed from Philadelphia for Brazil on the 29th of January, is the second steamer despatched by contractors for the Madeira and Mamore Railroad. The Brazil takes 200 laborers, 500 tons of railroad iron and special mails for Brazil. She goes direct to Para, and will be followed soon by the steamer City of Richmond.

France has decided to coin no more silver at present, on account of the American situation.

A Connecticut newspaper says that the revivalist Sankey ran across P. T. Barnum in one of the Hartford meetings, and began trying to convert him. The showman hurled back his Universalist doctrines with emphasis, expressing belief in a probation that continued in the next life, and that all must finally be saved. He also told Mr. Sankey that if all good men and angels were praying for the salvation of sinners, the prayers must be answered.

The committee on harbors of the Massachusetts legislature has commenced a hearing relative to cutting a ship canal across Cape Cod. This canal, if the enterprise succeeds, will be seven and three-tenths miles long, eighteen feet deep at low water at the south end. The estimated cost is two millions.

Shipments of cases of French boots to New York are frequent. The most of them go from St. Omer, but occasionally Paris sends supplies of the finest kind. Recently a case of these boots, for ladies chiefly, was broken open by a fall when being shipped at Havre, and the authorities had their attention drawn to the unusually high heels of the gaiter boots, and that they were hollow, with something within that made a noise when shook. One, two, three and a dozen or two of these heels were pulled off and investigated, when to the surprise of the lookers-on the complete works, in order and shape, of various watches were found. This thing had been going on for some time, and foreign watch-works entering New York and other American ports, minus duty, became a very profitable business in native cases.—London letter to Cin. Enq.

Seven million six hundred thousand dollars were required to pay the officers and enlisted men of the navy for the present year. Of this sum $3 500,000 are paid to 7,500 enlisted men (common sailors) and over $4,000,000 to the officers. Is there any other corporation that pays its overseers more than all its employes? From the last Naval Register it may be seen that about thirty ships are in what is called active sea service, in European, Asiatic, South Atlantic, and South Pacific waters. Besides the admirals the last Register shows a list of twenty-five commodores, fifty captains, ninety commanders, eighty-one lieutenant-commanders, 280 lieutenants, 100 masters, seventy-one ensigns, seventy-seven midshipmen, 175 officers of the medical corps, 126 officers of the pay corps, seventy chief engineers, ninety-seven passed assistant engineers, forty-four assistant engineers, eighty-two cadet engineers, twenty-four chaplains, twelve professors of mathematics, eleven naval constructors, five assistant naval constructors, nine civil engineers, and 256 cadet midshipmen. On the retired list, drawing three-quarters of full pay, are thirty-six rear admirals, at $4,600 per annum each; fourteen commodores, at $3,750; and, besides these, we have a large number of professors, tutors, and secretaries, to say nothing of the Marine Corps, and a dancing teacher for the cadets at Annapolis, with a salary of $1,500.—Eastern Argus.

What is the Object of Such Writing?

A person by the name of Fred Myron Colby wrote first a series of articles in the Union Democrat at Manchester, on "Historic Mansions in New Hampshire," and is now writing on "Stories of old Houses." He has stated that the whole may appear in book form. We pray him not to do this last till he visits the places of which he writes, gets the truth of things, and then re-writes the articles. Such blunders, wrong views and misstatements have seldom been got together before.

Some months ago there was an account of the Livermore house in Concord. It was somewhat fully described, and represented as being on Main street some way north of the State House. There was such a house there, but has been gone from that street for years, and another stands on the spot.

In another paper is an extended account of Samuel Bell, afterwards governor, making a visit to Judge Dana's in Amherst. He had no authority for saying such a visit was made at that time of Mr. Bell's life, nor authority for giving the incidents and conversation he relates.

But others may take care of matters up in those parts, so we will come nearer home. In the paper of April 17, is a description of the old Marston House in Hampton where the ancestors of Gen. Gilman Marston of Exeter lived. The account of the old dwelling is in terms almost grand, even eloquent. Its largeness, brown walls, narrow windows and great chimney are all named. He says it is teore now. Wonder if he went down there to collect facts, and saw it? The house was burned down very many years ago.

Historic affairs in Portsmouth engage his attention, or ought to have done before attempting to write of them. President Washington's visit here in 1789 is alluded to. In two books and in files of newspapers at that time, a correct account ought to have been obtained. And not many years ago persons were living here, who witnessed the reception of Washington. The writer gives an account particularly of the President's visit at the Gov. Wentworth mansion at Little Harbor. He did call there, and his account in his own diary, now in print, is no doubt the correct one. Suffice it then to say, Mr. C.'s mention of this and that distinguished character as having been present, is to quite an extent a fabrication. No one ever heard before of their presence. Among them he names John Pickering, who he says, stood in the hall of Congress as a Representative. John Pickering was never a Representative in Congress, the old, nor the one under the Constitution.

But I forbear to note further the errors of this one particular case or others. I write in the interests of the truth. History is valuable only as a faithful chronicler of the events of the past.

STRAWBERRY BANK.

—While he was counting over the collection money, the deacon of a Washington church found an old and faded piece of paper, which, being unfolded, proved to be his own nearly outlawed note for $30 and interest, which the holder, unable to collect, had turned into the treasury.

—A Welsh paper in Chicago says: "Emedan blae blir advocat af den financiella att blakat detta teori som besjalar greenbackpartiet." It's all very well to go for greenbacks, but what is the use of swearing about it?

—The other evening a sprightly little girl about seven years old entered a store, and after considerable hesitation, whisperingly inquired of a clerk, "Do you keep nursing bottles here?" "We do," he answered, and exhibiting two or three different styles, he asked which she preferred. As she was looking them over he remarked, "It's for your little brother, I suppose?" "Yes, sir, it is," she stiffly answered, "you didn't think it was for my son, did you?" Her indignant look haunts him still.—Detroit Free Press.

—A man and his son in Shelburne, Mass., were cutting ice the other day, when the former stepped on a cake of ice which was partially cut and slipped from it into the freezing water up to his neck. He called to his son to help him out, but the youngster laughed at him and said it was all carelessness that he should fall in. The indignant father helped himself out finally. The son, to show that it was perfectly safe, stepped on the cake, and the situation was reversed in a moment, and his father him to laugh away to his heart's content, as he should let him remain there until he crawled out.

—A young man from Syracuse brought a couple of telephones and a coil of wire rope to Rome last week, and in the evening he went around to a house where a girl lives, and whistled softly until one of the upper windows was opened, as he expected it would be. Then he threw one of the telephones up in the window and whispered into the other instrument, "Are you there, darling?" Sharp and clear came the answer, "Yes, I'm here, and if you'll wait till I get my boots on you'll think you're elected for the next world by fifty thousand majority." He hit the wrong window.—Rome Sentinel.

THE CITY.

There was some spirited horse-racing on the North millpond, Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. James DeNormandie's essay before the Unitarians at Washington, Wednesday, is highly spoken of.

The Portsmouth Ice Company commenced harvesting the crop from their pond at the foot of Peverley's Hill, Wednesday, and if the weather continue cold they hope to lay in a sufficient supply for the coming season.

St. Andrew's Lodge, No. 56, Free and Accepted Masons, whose dispensation was granted on December 14, 1847, and whose consecration occurred on June 24, 1848, has had thirteen past masters since that time, viz.: George W. Towle, Obadiah E. Merrill, Stephen H. Simes, John Christie, William P. Walker, William H. Hackett, Herman Remick, Harry G. Tanton, James W. Lord, Philip S. Mizener, Samuel G. Whittier and John Pender. There are two hundred and twenty-nine members at the present time.

Says the Times: "The CHRONICLE tells of a firm moving from town because 'they cannot obtain any hard coal in this city.' And why not tell the whole story, neighbor, and not lead people to infer that Portsmouth is no place for foundry men and others to locate in? Our wharves are piled with thousands of tons of coal, which anybody and everybody can get if they pay for it!" Well, we know that well enough, and didn't say anything to the contrary; but that does not alter the fact that the firm mentioned moved away because they couldn't obtain coal.

The Rockingham National Bank, having voted to change the par value of the shares of stock from fifty dollars to one hundred dollars each share, the stockholders have been invited to hand in their old certificates in order that new ones may be at once issued. Any stockholder who has an uneven number of shares can purchase or sell one share in order to make his number even, and the bank cashier will aid any stockholder in such purchase or sale. This bank is also agent for securing subscriptions for the new United States four per cent. loan.

The sea created by the big storm of the 23d inst. was very heavy to the eastward, the crew of the light-house steamer (which was in this port on Wednesday) reporting considerable damage done by it at Matinicus and Mount Desert light-stations, on the Maine coast. At Whale's-back the sea smashed in a window about fifty feet above the water line, and doused the man whose watch below it was just then, and who was in bed and sound asleep at the time, with a hogshead or two of salt water, waking him up immediately. The bell-shed on the sea face of the old tower was stripped of shingles and lost a saddle-board—would have been no great loss had it been carried away entirely, bell, machinery and all. The old tower, in which is the fog trumpet, shakes very perceptibly whenever it is hit by a good sea, but the new structure does not vibrate in the least. As there is no such thing as passing from one tower to the other at high water in a heavy gale, the position of the man who stands by the fog horn in the old tower at such a time is not one to be greatly envied.

SUPREME COURT--JAN. TERM.

In case of State vs. Havey, the jury, after being out until midnight, agreed upon a verdict of guilty.

The Court was engaged on Tuesday in the trial of the action James Lane and Adna Lane vs. Nathaniel B. Marston, a controversy as to certain lumber, etc. Leavitt and Lamprey for plaintiffs; Hatch for defendant.

John M. Paul vs. John B. Rider was on trial on Wednesday. Small for plaintiff; Hatch for defendant.

MUSIC HALL.

The audience at the second performance in Music Hall was like that on the opening night, an especially fine one, and though not demonstrative in the way of applause, shew by the close attention a marked degree of appreciation of the performance given. The comedy of "Married Life" seems to have been written by its talented author for the purpose of exposing the skeleton in the household. The existence of continued jealousy in the Lynx family, the frequent contradiction and disputes of Mr. and Mrs. Younghusband, (in the latter character Miss Cary evincing her ability and adaptability to the part assumed,) the absence of any show of good humor or cheerful life in Mr. and Mrs. Dismal, the unfortunate exhibition of public correction by Mrs. Dove toward her husband, and the necessity of like habits and temper in the peculiar case of Coddle and wife, were admirably illustrated. Mr. Carlos appeared for the first time as Mr. Younghusband, and Miss Olivia Rand of the Boston Theatre made her first entrance before a Portsmouth audience, as Mrs. Henry Dove, and was throughout apparently enjoyed by the spectators. The farce of Toodles served to develope Mr. Thayer's powers in the character of Timothy Toodles, which makes the play. In this farce Miss Grace Hall of Boston appeared for the first time, here, and shew by her graceful and natural acting that the encomiums bestowed upon her, by the Boston press, were by no means undeserved.

The last performance of the Thayer and Tompkins dramatic company takes place to-night, when the play of "Poor Jo," the most successful dramatization of any of Dickens' great novels,, will be presented with special scenery and elegant appointments, all the original incidental music, and a strong cast of characters. Miss Mary Cary's impersonation of Poor Jo, the wretched outcast of the streets of London, is unquestionably a remarkable piece of acting. Mrs. Thomas Barry, the leading actress of Boston, will appear as Lady Dedlock, of which character she was the original at the Union Square Theatre in New York; the costumes worn by her as Lady Dedlock are said to have cost $4000. Mrs. Pennoyer, as the French maid Hortense, will appear in a character in which she has won high commendation; and Mr. Thayer is said to have no rival as Mr. Inspector Bucket. The comic element of the play is supplied by Mr. Mulliken, who takes the part of the "young man by the name of Guppy," a character which he has played with marked success in the West and South.

A CHILDREN'S PROTECTOR.

The third anniversary of the New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children was celebrated in that city on Friday evening, Jan. 25th. Chickering Hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, many being unable to obtain even standing room. In front of the platform sat some thirty of the Society's wards, little boys and girls ranging in age from two to ten years. Addresses were made by several well known gentlemen, Rabbi H. P. Mendes, Very Rev. Thomas S. Preston, Judge Brady, Z. H. Choate and others. All of the speakers bore strong testimony to the good which has been done by the Society. During the past year one thousand children have been rescued, some of them from terrible suffering, and placed in good situations or in charitable institutions. Since its organization the Society has protected over three thousand such children. Some of these were acrobats or circus riders, to whose cases the Society has directed much attention; among them one sweet little fellow of only four years, who had been in training already over a year. His brutal owner declared him to be worth $20,000. Others of the children had been cruelly abused by employers or even parents; others were being educated to lives of beggary or shame. The report of the Society, just published, giving the particulars of about one hundred and fifty of these cases, with illustrations, reveals an amount of cruelty and neglect which few people would have believed to exist, even in New York.

The Society of the same name, in this city, was organized on the plan of this parent society, and the laws of this State are in these respects identical with those of New York. While it is to be hoped that nothing will ever be discovered here to equal these New York atrocities, yet there is more cruelty and neglect right here among us, than most people are willing to believe. We hope the community at large will encourage the Society here in their desire and efforts to discover and remedy all such abuses, by sympathy at least, if not more substantial aid. Information of any case of cruelty, given to either of the officers of the Society, will meet with prompt attention. †

AN UNLUCKY SHIP.

Mr. Editor: A recent notice in your paper of the death of the ex-rebel Commodore Hollins, recalls to mind the career and end of one of the "unlucky ships" built on the Piscataqua—the Mary Kingsland. This ship was built by the late George Raynes, in 1839; she was of a fine model, and registered about 800 tons—a large ship for those days. After she was launched, her loading up and fitting out were carried on together, and one day a bale of pressed hay fell out of the slings when high in air, and struck a man named Pike, who was at work on the main-hatch coamings. The man was taken to Mr. Raynes' house and everything possible done for him, but he soon died; a post mortem examination was held, and the physician who made it came near losing his life from blood-poisoning, having been infected through an abrasion of the skin on his hand. It was quite a job to get a crew for the ship when she was ready for sea, the local mariners declining to go in her, shaking their heads and asserting that she would always be an "unlucky ship," having caused a man's death before she ever dipped her keel in blue water. But she went to sea, took her cargo of pressed hay, apples and potatoes to a southern port, and went into the cotton trade. Ill luck followed her, for after making many successful trips she at last took fire while lying, cotton-loaded, at New Orleans, and was burned to the water's edge; the hulk was sold, fitted with powerful engines and made into a tow-boat, and ran for years between the Gulf and New Orleans. On the breaking out of the rebellion she was seized by the rebels, and Hollins (who had deserted from the Union navy to join the confederacy) altered her machinery to suit her new career, fitted her with a powerful ram, and built a convex iron shell all over her, so that she looked not unlike a mammoth turtle; Hollins called her the Manassas, but her popular name was "Hollins' turtle." It was the old Mary Kingsland, transferred into this wonderful "turtle," that caused such a panic among the Union men-of-war blockading the Passes of the Mississippi early in the war, when they slipped their cables and put to sea like a flock of gulls on her appearance—but iron-clad warfare was then a new thing. This one exploit was about all the famous ram ever accomplished; she never managed to get up another scare, and finally came to grief and total destruction when Farragut's fleet fought its way past the forts to New Orleans.

In Flag-Officer Farragut's report to the Secretary of the Navy of the fight with the forts and the rebel fleet, on the night of March 23—24, 1862, he tells how his ship, the Hartford, was crowded ashore by attempting to avoid a fire-raft that was pushed by the Manassas, and which the ram did succeed in forcing against the Hartford, setting her "on fire half-way up to her tops." After the Union fleet had passed the forts and destroyed eleven of the rebel vessels, the Manassas still kept up the fight, and Farragut ordered the Mississippi, one of the big old side-wheelers, to run her down. The Mississippi went at her at full speed, but when within fifty yards of her the ram dodged and ran ashore; but though she could escape the huge steamer she could not dodge her missiles, and two broadsides of nine-inch solid shot at close range riddled her like a sieve. She surrendered, and a boat's crew and engineer went on board her; but the prize crew was recalled, the prize set on fire, given another broadside and sent down river, a wreck. When she got down abreast of Commander Porter's mortar boats she was shot at again by two steamers and some of the mortar vessels; but Porter soon found she was on fire and sinking, "her pipes twisted and riddled with shot, and her hull well cut up." Porter "tried to save her as a curiosity, by getting a hawser around her and securing her to the bank, but just after doing so she faintly exploded. Her only gun went off, and emitting flames through her bow port, like some huge animal, she gave a plunge and disappeared under the water." And thus the formidable ram Manassas, once the peaceful merchant ship Mary Kingsland, finished her career.

TOPMAUL.

G. H. Jenness, Esq., of Rye, left on Wednesday for Washington, D. C., where it is reported he is to take a position in the department of the clerk of the House of Representatives. If this report is correct the clerk of the House will have one gentleman in his department, if no more.

Political.

Mr. Justice Clifford, of the Supreme Court of the United States, has recently dined with the President,—which seems to show that the Judge does not "refuse to recognize" the Chief Magistrate, notwithstanding the democratic talk so prevalent just after the Electoral Commission finished its work.

President Hayes has appointed as the Honorary Commissioners from Kentucky to the Paris Exposition two notorious secessionists and active rebels. One, Beriah Magoffin, was Governor of Kentucky when the rebellion broke out, and his insulting answer to President Lincoln's call on Kentucky for troops will be remembered, as well as his countenancing Jeff Davis' call. The other, Bennett H. Young, was one of leaders of the gang that raided St. Albans, from Canada, killing citizens and robbing the banks there. But the law provides that the President shall appoint two Honorary Commissioners from each State on recommendation of the Governors, so his appointment of the two fellows named is not matter for just fault-finding with him; but their nomination by the Governor of Kentucky is a good illustration of how "concillated" the ex-rebel element—the ruling party—of that State is.

Importance of Breathing Fresh Air.

Recent statistics show that the rate of mortality among grocers is as 76 to 100 among he general population, at equal ages, while the death rate among drapers is as 108 to 100, by the same standard. On analyzing the cause of this difference between the drapers and the grocers, it is found that it lies in the mode of living. The disease which destroys the draper is pulmonary consumption. The explanation is simple. The grocer lives in a shop, the door of which is open the whole day, and he is very active himself in business. The draper, on the other hand, lives in a close place with the doors of his shop closed, and in a dusty, close atmosphere. No one whose pleasure or business calls on him to enter the majority of our drapery emporiums in London but will feel in a position to testify to the truth of this description. The heat and closeness which are characteristic sufficiently account for the general pallor and unhealthy appearance of the male and female attendants in them.—London Sanitary Record.

—The Dramatic News says: "Miss Augusta Chambers, a charming young actress, who recently went out as leading lady of Mr. Daniels' Theatre in Deadwood (Black Hills), has, in the time she has been there, a little over two months, received two hundred and seventy-six offers of marriage. In one day she received seventeen. Listening to them interfere with the time necessary to study her roles."

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Fever, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole living. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

Centaur Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specially restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.
J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Honey
To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. Rose & Co., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the annual exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties confer it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
When the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness," in many cases of "Liver Complaint" only partially developed, which a few bottles of this remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.
The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Multum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Unlike other Pills, they act so that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

O ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always supply restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus bracing weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft texture and lightness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER
From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The senses of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system stacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored by hopeless hopelessness, and by great physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved or it, this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the acrofical blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the seat of disease. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.

NORSCOTT BLOCK, So. FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies which have withstood the approval of medical gentlemen who, in private, not only freely recommend it but use it in their families in preference to any of the preparations usually prescribed by physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my obligations to the profession make it very easy such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure for Catarrh. I receive no relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised its use, and promise I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN,—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint yet.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but your preparation meets the wants of thousands, and we think those afflicted should be convinced of its great merit so that the suffering will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything for Catarrh, but yours leads all the rest. If you see proper you can use this letter or any part of it for the good of others.

Very truly yours, S. D. BALDWIN & CO

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Strengthening Plaster, combining the best remedy for pains and aches in the World of Medicine.

ELECTRICITY

As a grand curative and restorative agent is not equalled by any discovery of the present century of the healing art. Unless the vital spark has fled the body, restoration by means of electricity is possible. It is the last resort of all physicians and surgeons, and has rescued thousands from the very jaws of an untimely grave, when no other human agency could have saved them. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine, and the gums of the East are too well known to require description. Their grateful, healing, soothing and strengthening properties are known to thousands. When combined in accordance with late and important discoveries in pharmacy, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold. In this respect, our Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

TWO IN ONE.

☞ Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which performs its function, and instantly produces more cures than any liniment, lotion, wash, or plaster ever before compounded in the history of medicine. Try one. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

Daily Chronicle.

A Family Funeral.

Every illustration of an improvement in methods of funerals is to be welcomed, and put to a good purpose. We witnessed one recently which was in some ways more suggestive than any other which we remember. We only wish we could tell the story of it as simply, and touchingly, as the facts of the case would call for.

The death had been one in a family peculiarly united in the spirit, though somewhat separated in the flesh. It sent a swift and sharp pang through a very loving circle. The remains of the departed had been brought from another State for burial, and had found a temporary resting-place at a kinsman's on the way to the house appointed for all living. And there a little company of sorrowing friends gathered at a forenoon hour for the last offices of respect and love.

There were no signs of gloom about that house of mourning. The sunshine of a brilliant winter's day poured in unchecked at the windows. A cheery wood fire burned in the open grate. Words and smiles of friendly greeting mingled with the tears of grief that flowed as those long separated now met in common bereavement. The open casket lay in a retired room, easy of access to any who wished, privately, to see the face of the beloved, but not exposed to public view.

Suddenly, while the assembled company was broken up by individual sympathies and relations into many groups, and while subdued conversation about the dead and the sorrow was progressing, without notice or any touch of formality of service, a little cluster of singers, previously selected from among the friends, struck up the noble hymn commencing:

"Jerusalem the golden,
With milk and honey blest!"

At the first strain all conversation ceased, the several groups melted into one family gathering, and silence natural and unbidden settled upon all. The voices of the singers—no professional band—gained in confidence, deepened with feeling, and rose in strength and confidence, until every heart seemed touched with the same spirit and understanding by which they were moved.

The hymn was finished. And again, without notice or other formality, a member of the household rose and led in prayer. It was no stranger's prayer, perfunctorily offered as a professional duty, but something which no such prayer could be.

And that was all. The repetition of a consolatory passage of Scripture was left for the final scene of commitment to the grave.

And it was enough.

When shall we relieve the burial of our beloved dead of the odious publicities and hard formalities which too often now attend it, and confine the sacredness of family sorrow at its bitterest within the family alone?—Congregationalist.

A Brave Woman.

The brig "Dora Green," Captain Collins, of Bangor, left Petit Goave, Hayti, Dec. 7, with a cargo of logwood for New York. While in port one of the crew had been taken with malarial fever, but recovered without the aid of a physician. Three more of the crew were stricken down with the same disease just before they left their anchorage, but it was not thought necessary to delay, so rapidly had the former case been cured. Having rounded the northeast promontory of Hayti they were suddenly struck by a northeasterly gale, and were compelled to put back and lay to under the lee of St. Nicholas Mole. Here they were detained ten more days in addition to the three they had lost in vain attempts to make headway. The other vessels lay to with them. Twice they tried to weather the gale and each time were driven back. On the 12th Capt. Collins was taken with the fever, and after lingering for eight days, died. Soon after another seaman fell sick, and only the captain's wife, one seaman and the mate were able to be about. The woman was compelled to act as a seaman, and three nights stood at the wheel while the two men reefed the sails. On the 22d a heavy gale was blowing and the vessel was headed for Key West, 480 miles distant. The two men became thoroughly exhausted and the woman was compelled to keep on deck several nights while the men slept. On the 26th Key West was reached; the owners were telegraphed, and the vessel arrived in New York last Wednesday.—Portland Press.

—"Hurrah! hurrah!" cried a young lawyer who succeeded to his father's practice; "I've settled that old lawsuit at last. "Settled it!" exclaimed the astonished parent; "Why, we've supported the family on that for the last ten years."

The Eastern War.

The commander of the Russian steamer Constantine reports that he left Sebastopol for a cruise on the 22d of January. He approached Batoum on the 26th, where were seven Turkish vessels. The Constantine sent a Whitehead torpedo against a screw steamer which was on guard outside, and sunk her immediately. The crew were drowned. The Constantine then returned to Sebastopol.

It was rumored on the Paris Bourse, Thursday, that Gallipoli had surrendered to the Russians. This is not credible.

What Kind of Talk is This?

Mr. J. C. Friend, of Etna, Maine, distinguished himself last year, by the composition of the following resolution:

Resolved, That Rutherford B. Hayes is a traitor to his party, to his country and to his God.

This was brief and pointed, but Mr. Barry, of Mississippi, has now offered in the Legislature of that State, a declaration equally terse and more comprehensive:

Resolved, That Rutherford B. Hayes is a fraud and Samuel J. Tilden a failure.

News and Notes.

It is now admitted by competent engineers and managers of railroads that the cause of the Tariffville disaster was the displacement of a rail upon the bridge, causing the engine to leave the track and then crushing the bridge. Superintendent McManus of the Hartford, Providence and Fishkill road is very positive that the rails had been tampered with.

An interesting decision has just been rendered by the United States Supreme Court relative to the rights of colored persons to the same privileges with whites upon public conveyances. Josephine De Cuir of New Orleans, La., a colored woman of property, was refused admission to the upper cabin on a Mississippi river steamboat, on the ground that it was reserved for whites. She sued the owner of the boat in the Louisiana courts, and was awarded $1,000 damages, but the United States Supreme Court reverses the decision. The court rules that the laws do not forbid that steamers shall have separate cabins and dining-rooms for whites and negroes, that equality does not mean identity, and that steamboat-owners have a right to keep apart persons who would be disagreeable to each other.

Two colored women of Algiers, La., named Lizzie Hamilton and Sarah McDaniels, after divine service a few Sundays ago, had a duel with knives to decide who should be recognized as sweetheart of a popular young mulatto, and after Hamilton had stabbed her rival five times she was declared the victor. It is doubtful if McDaniels recovers.

The Boston post-office officials decline to receive trade dollars in payment for postage stamps. If the coins are received the office has no means of getting rid of them except by offering them to the public (who may refuse them) or selling them at a discount, in which case the loss would fall upon the officials.

Justice Smith, of Stamford, Conn., with other liquor sellers, was recently brought up on complaint of several detectives employed by Rev. J. M. Buckley, and had to pay $420. A few days since, Buckley and the detectives were arrested on a warrant issued by the lawbreaking justice, and the detectives held for trial on a charge of conspiracy, while Buckley was discharged after being roundly abused by the Court. The magisterial rum-seller at one time had the sympathy of many of his townsmen, but his last exploit has occasioned a decided revulsion of feeling.

The statement which has been going the rounds that schooner J. J. Spencer, Capt. Haskell, from Boston for Washington with a cargo of yellow pine on government account, was wrecked, stripped, and cargo and wreck sold by her captain, is now shown to do great injustice to that gentleman, whose vessel was wrecked through no fault of his, and who made every effort to save her after she grounded, and accounted for every dollar received from the sale of the hull and the rescued portion of the cargo.

More than five million cans of corn are now packed in Maine annually, and sold in every part of the world, yielding a business to that State of about $1,550,000 and giving profitable employment to eight or ten thousand people during the packing season.

Mr. Benjamin E. Bates recently died in Boston universally respected as a man of the most scrupulous integrity. He was treasurer of the extensive mills at Lewiston, Me., most of the capital of which is held in Boston. An examination of the affairs of the Bates Company shows that Mr. Bates has used for his own purposes some $200,000 belonging to that concern, of which he was treasurer. It is said that he had so long had control of the affairs of that company, that he came to regard its property as his own. So he effected loans for his personal advantage, giving his note as treasurer, and never thought, his friends say, that he was doing anything irregular. This is the latest special plea for defalcation, and promises to supplant that of insanity.

In order to test the willingness of the unemployed men in San Francisco to work for a living, the Central Pacific Railroad Company have decided to begin filling in a large tract of land around Mission Bay, which will give employment to one thousand men. They will receive one dollar a day and will be paid off every night.

Determined to test the chances of faro, eleven New York gamblers established a bank with a capital of $10,000, placing it in charge of one of their number, while the remaining ten played against it for the term of one year, each with a stake of $5,000. At the end of the time specified it was found that not one of the ten players had a dollar of his original stake, but that the bank had absorbed their entire capital.

The South Carolina Legislature has memorialized Congress to restore to the State the Citadel Military Academy at Charleston, which has been held by United States troops since 1865. The memorial sets forth that the possession of the buildings by the government is illegal, as it never was a confederate military post, and asks that compensation be made for its occupation by federal troops.

The Australian steamer for San Francisco reports that off the Island of Tuthilla, in the Samoan group, she was boarded by the Governor and Secretary of Samoa, who gave information that a recent rebellion against the government ended by the complete defeat and capture of the rebels.

The New Bedford Standard says: "Several unsuccessful attempts have been made by Capt. B. B. Church and others, members of the Cuttyhunk Wrecking Company, to secure the boiler of steamer William Tibbetts of Salem, which was wrecked a few years ago on Nashawena, but its great size and weight have been insurmountable obstacles, at least to the appliances brought to bear on it. So it lay among the remaining timbers of the wreck, about 300 feet from the shore, and gradually became almost entirely filled with sand, so that its purchasers despaired of ever realizing anything from it. But nothing is more strange than nature's freaks, and in one of the heavy gales of the first part of last month the immense sand-weighted iron vessel was forced from its bed by the action of the sea, carried almost up to the beach, and left in a position from which it may easily be recovered."

Dr. John M. Lawrence and his wife Rachel, the daughter of President Jackson's adopted son Andrew Jackson, have just celebrated their silver wedding. They wore the costumes in which they were married, and their nine children were their attendants. The celebration took place at the Hermitage, where the venerable Mrs. Andrew Jackson lives with her only surviving son.

In the Supreme Court for Sullivan County, the jury in the action of Eveline Squares vs. John Young, rendered a verdict for the plaintiff for the sum of $442 damages. This action was based on the statute requiring the party selling liquor to be responsible for the injury or death resulting therefrom. It is the first case ever tried in this State, where death ensued. The facts are these: A Mr. Henry Squares, then the husband of the plaintiff, being a dissipated man and common drunkard, entered the hotel of defendant in Grantham in his usual health. In less than half an hour he was to all appearance in a drunken stupor, and remained insensible till he died on the premises the same day. Mrs. Squares, the widow, sued the proprietor for damages caused by his death.

—The Virginia City, Nev., Enterprise has the following pleasant paragraph to show how mine owners fight in that district: "Among the infernal machines invented for use in carrying on the underground war between the Justice and Alta was a sort of subterranean monitor which was rigged up in the Justice. It was a kind of bullet-proof car placed on wheels, with port-holes through which to shoot. This was to contain two men with plenty of guns and pistols, and was to have been propelled from behind. In this way Mr. Curtis expected to capture the entire drift, and, if necessary, the level. As its efficiency was not tested, it is difficult to give any opinion as to its probable workings. What Derby had in the Alta to match this machine we do not positively know, but have heard it hinted that the ground on his side was mined, and that it contained enough giant powder to blow everything in the neighborhood to Davy Jones' locker."

Commonwealth Consolidated Mine.

In regard to the COMMONWEALTH CONSOLIDATED MINE, the Boston Herald gives the following extract from a letter received by Messrs. Stone & Downer, of Boston, from a reliable source, dated Tuscarora, Nev., Dec. 29th:—

"The Commonwealth Consolidated Mine, consisting of the two mines, "Alhalone' and 'Veritas,' a part of which adjoins the Grand Prize, is considered good property. Comparing the 'Commonwealth' with the other mines at the same depth, it looks A No. 1, and is in identically the same ground as the Grand Prize. The opinion of disinterested parties all concede that the location is good. I don't dare put it too strong, but believe that the 'Commonwealth' has got a very valuable property sure."

The mine is under Boston management, has a board of directors responsible and reliable, with a mining superintendent of twenty-five years' experience. It promises to be a dividend-paying mine at no far distant day.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 126 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. 1feb13

THE NEW POPULAR LOAN.—Every appearance indicates that the new four per cent. gold bonds will be popular with the people, and that those having moderate investments to make can rarely do better than to put them in this government security. It will be seen by an advertisement today that the Maverick National Bank, at the corner of Water and Congress streets, in Boston, is duly authorized by the Treasury Department to receive subscriptions for the four per cent. funded loan of the United States in denominations of $50, $100, $500, and upwards, at par and accrued interest in coin. Further particulars are given in the advertisement, and as the Maverick National is one of the first banks in New England to offer the loan, it will doubtless rapidly and constantly have numerous applications from parties desiring to make such evidently safe and profitable investments. 1t

Commonwealth Consolidated MINING COMPANY

THE Directors of the "COMMONWEALTH CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY," of San Francisco, call attention to the mining property of this Company, situated in the Tuscarora Mining District, Elko County, State of Nevada.

The property adjoins that of the well-known "Grand Prize," and developments thus far made in the shaft and levels of the Commonwealth Consolidated indicate the same vein, and of the same richness, as that found at a very depth in sinking the shaft upon the "Grand Prize" now so successfully worked, and paying its regular monthly dividends.

The Commonwealth Consolidated Mining Company consists of two distinct properties, known as the "All Alone" and "Veritas" mines, which have been consolidated into the above-named Company, both of these valuable properties have been prospected by shafts, the ledge found to be well-defined, and the ores are proved by assay to be rich in both gold and silver.

The Corporation is represented by one hundred thousand shares of stock, of the par value of one hundred dollars each, and instead of issuing the shares, as is customary in most California mining stocks, the Directors have chosen to set aside 35,000 shares of the capital stock of the Company to be sold, and the proceeds placed in the treasury for a working capital.

This stock will only be issued and sold from time to time, as funds may be required to carry on the work, which is being pushed with energy under the able superintendence of a first-class miner.

The first allotment of shares to be sold for working capital has all been taken.

The Directors now propose to issue the second allotment for the working capital, and the price is placed at Three Dollars per share, with the assurance to the Stockholders that their interest is to enhance the price of each share from time to time, as the work of development progresses and the value of the property is enhanced thereby, until the requisite amount of working capital is obtained.

The "All Alone" shaft is now sunk to a depth of 78 feet, and a contract is about being closed to run it 200 feet deeper.

Messrs. OLIVER & CO., members of the Pacific Stock Exchange, San Francisco, and Messrs. STONE & DOWNER, Boston, have been duly authorized to receive subscriptions as above for the Working Capital Stock.

The Officers and Directors of the Company are principally New England men, and the Board of Directors offer their assurance to the Stockholders that the affairs of the Company will be administered upon a safe and economical basis, and an examination of the management as to the working of the mine and the expenditure of the money is invited and guaranteed at all times.

THE CITY.

It is rumored that we are to have an excursion train to Boston next week, to enable us to witness the "Exiles" at the Boston Theatre.

Do not forget that on Tuesday evening the first concert will be given in Music Hall by the Nowell brothers, assisted by eminent artists from other cities.

Commander A. R. Yates, of the navy, leaves this morning for Philadelphia to report for duty as ordnance officer at the League Island navy yard.

The lecture on the telephone, which was to have been given on Tuesday evening, the 5th inst., has been postponed to Thursday evening, on account of the Nowell brothers' concert at Music Hall, which is to come off on Tuesday evening.

There is now living at Kittery Point, as we are credibly informed, an old lady of eighty years of age who "goes out washing," and does a satisfactory day's work, too. Her husband, from whom she has been separated for some years, is eighty-five years old. A grand-daughter of the old lady lives in this city, and is herself a grand-mother.

Next Sunday evening the Reform Club will occupy the Music Hall, with Col. Wm. R. Patten of Manchester and Gen. Natt Head of Hooksett for speakers. The Reform Club choir under the direction of Clinton Everett, with the New England Glee Club, will furnish the music. Admission only ten cents. Tickets may be obtained at any time previous to the lecture, of Messrs. Joseph Pettigrew, John E. Roberts or James Sanborn. Doors open at 7; commence at 7:30. Those who have Moody and Sankey books Nos. 1 and 2 are requested to bring them.

Some years ago, the "poetical pic-nics" given in summer at Newcastle, N. H., opposite the Isles of Shoals, made a favorite entertainment for the Boston literary people who took their leisure in that neighborhood. They were given by Mr. John Albee, a graduate of the Harvard Divinity School, whose moral and literary tastes led him, instead of entering the ministry, to seek retirement in a picturesque farm-house at the seaside. At these picnics were read, sometimes by the writers themselves, new unpublished poems, among which was one sent by Mr. Longfellow. Mr. Albee is a loving student of English poetry, and it appears that he is about to give another sort of poetical picnic, in the form of seven lectures on the English poets, at the parlors of the church of the Messiah in this city. These lectures are the result of careful study, and have been delivered with success in New England.—N. Y. Tribune.

The family of Mr. William A. Vaughan, of this city, presents a rather remarkable record of stay-at-home-ativeness for Portsmouth, whose energetic sons are scattered pretty much all over the civilized and uncivilized worlds. Two of his sons, Michael J. and William A. Vaughan, Jr., are in partnership as painters; two more, George T. and Edward E., are partners in the ship chandlery and hardware business, as G. T. Vaughan & Co.; and still another two, Horace G. and Joshua M., do a large bakery business as Vaughan Brothers. A seventh son, Charles F. Vaughan, lives in Manchester, where he is (or was until recently) in business as a baker. Mr. Edward E. Vaughan not long ago bought out a store in Augusta, Me., and went into business there, but receiving a very very advantageous offer he sold out, and has since joined one of his brothers in the ship chandlery business in this city, as above. It is a rare thing to find six energetic men belonging to one family, all in business in Portsmouth.

The examination of the cook of schooner E. H. Pray was resumed in New York on Wednesday, but nothing new was elicited. The Government rested their case, and the examination for the defense was again adjourned, to Friday. The police are still endeavoring to find Melvin J. Clark, captain of the scuttled schooner. Police officer Mallam has come into possession of letters addressed to Captain Clark, in some of which C. H. Trickey & Co., of Dover, refer to a crippled vessel in which Clark was concerned; in several parts of the letters the captain is cautioned against being unfaithful and underhand. Some of the letters are from Clark's wife, and are such as to do honor to the head and heart of any woman. They are written in a clear, legible hand, and show her to be an intelligent person and devoted to the husband, who appears to have deserted her. The wife's letters are written from Kittery Point, are addressed to Baltimore and other places, and are piteous appeals in behalf of herself and her little child.

MUSIC HALL.

The third and closing performance of Messrs. Thayer and Tompkins' Company at Music Hall, Thursday evening, was "Poor Jo," in which (in addition to the former artistes) Mrs. Thomas Barry, the leading lady of the Boston Theatre, made her first appearance in this city, as Lady Dedlock, a character originally assumed by her with great success at the Union Square Theatre, New York. Mrs. Barry, though a stranger in Portsmouth, is well-known for her accomplished professional success by our people who have so often seen her on the Boston stage; and her appearance here was greatly enjoyed by those present Thursday evening, and her dramatic powers keenly appreciated. Of Miss Cary's impersonation of Poor Jo so much has been written and it has been so often admired, that it is only necessary to say it was a piece of acting of the highest order. Mr. Milliken's success in "Guppy" was another illustration of the versatility of that gentleman, who has a happy faculty of doing the best in any part he assumes.

We are glad to notice that while the audiences have been inclined to criticise some things in the plays which the management have produced, there was a marked improvement in the behavior of the spectators, Thursday evening. The first night shew one of the finest audiences that could be gathered, in point of intelligence, refinement and appreciative deportment, in any city. But at the start many present failed to appreciate the fact that a large number of the audience dedesired to listen to and enjoy the fine music by Harlow's orchestra, and were debarred therefrom, by the incessant talk of those who seemed oblivious of the fact that there was being rendered some of the finest music ever heard in Portsmouth, which for their enjoyment the orchestra had spent laborious hours in perfecting. We trust that in future entertainments this want of courtesy to the orchestra and a greater part of the audience, will not be repeated.

NAVAL MATTERS.

Commander Arthur R. Yates is ordered to duty as Inspector of Ordnance at League island.

The Java and Colossus, two immense unfinished vessels in the Brooklyn navy yard, have received their doom. The timbers are rotten and worthless, and are to be broken up for wood, and the iron and copper will be sold. There is trouble and disorganization in the Brooklyn yard. The marines are discontented with being called upon to act as watchmen, and nine have recently deserted.

THE VICINITY.

There was an excursion party from Dover to Boston, Thursday, to attend the representation of "the Exiles" at the Boston Theatre in the evening.

A revival is in progress in the Free Raptist church, Kennebunkport, where Rev. L. H. Witham is laboring, and protracted meetings have been held for the past three weeks.

A fire inquest in Saco has decided that the fire in Livingston's store in that city, on the night of the 27th ult., "was deliberately arranged and set by some incendiary, to the jury unknown."

Deputy Sheriff Hanson, of York County, Me., on Wednesday seized two handsome "Saratogas" at the Biddeford depot, and found in one of them two five-gallon kegs of spirits, and in the other fifteen gallons of the critter.

The old garrison house at Wells Beach, built about one hundred and forty years ago, and lately occupied by Mr. Asa S. Clark, was burned Jan. 24th. Loss about $2000. The house was insured $700 in the Wells Mutual, the furniture in the Home of New York.

Charles C. Ricker, of Biddeford, who was one of the persons injured by the Ashtabula disaster, arrived home on the evening of Jan. 28th. Since the Ashtabula accident he was thrown from a carriage in New York and had a collar bone broken, and is still suffering from his injuries.

At the meeting of the York Institute, in Biddeford, on the evening of the 29th ult., a letter of Miss Mary Chauncey Cutts, of Kittery, dated from a young ladies' school at Dorchester, Mass., was presented to the Institute by a lady of that town. This furnished a pleasant opportunity for Geo. A. Emery, Esq., to give a family history of the Cuttses, who were one of the first families of Kittery when Sir William Pepperell flourished there in colonial grandeur. He also gave an interesting account of Col. Thomas Cutts, who began business in Saco on a small scale, which increased under his management to a large estate, and who has left a landmark, in the large mansion still standing on the hill on Factory Island.

The little Penney girl who was the victim of the mysterious shooting affair at Wells on Sunday evening, Jan. 27th, is recovering. Her brother, aged thirteen, confesses that he shot her, getting angry over a game of dominoes. He then smashed a window pane from the outside and hastened to the church where his parents were worshipping, telling them that a tramp had shot his little sister. His story was believed until Tuesday, when he voluntarily confessed. This shooting and otherwise maltreating, by small boys, of boys and girls still smaller, is becoming altogether too common to be regarded as a good joke. Either the "dime novel" and "Boys of New York" class of literature has got to be prohibited by law, and infants prevented from making peripatetic arsenals of themselves, or some boy-murderer will have to be hung yet, in spite of all such expressions as "poor little fellow."

MRS. MERRILL'S WILL.

A new feature has entered into the Merrill will contest, and another lawyer, the tenth, appeared. He represents Right Rev. James W. Healy, Roman Catholic Bishop of Portland, who contests the codicil to the will which gives the residuary estate to Cardinal McCloskey. There thus enter into the contest two Roman Catholic claimants. The grounds on which Bishop Healy contests the codicil are stated by his lawyer to be these: Mrs. Merrill's will originally gave the bulk of her property to Bishop Bacon of Portland. In the event of Bishop Bacon's death the property under the will was to go to his successor in the bishopric. If the latter died, the property, according to memoranda left by Mrs. Merrill, and offered in evidence, was to go to Archbishop McCloskey and Moses Taylor, to be expended as it would have been expended by Bishop Bacon. It is averred that there is proof that Mrs. Merrill authorized Bishop Bacon to incur certain expenses to extend the church work in his diocese, and gave him assurance that it should be provided for in her will. When Bishop Bacon died Mrs. Merrill diverted her property to the diocese of New York, making Cardinal McCloskey her legatee. The incumbent Bishop of Portland, therefore, joins the contestants as far as breaking the codicil is concerned.

Political.

Gen. Banks celebrated his sixty-second birthday Wednesday. Gen Butler will be sixty this fall, though he has acted like sixty for some time.

How neatly Senator Bayard puts the silver question when he asks, "How could we affix a false statement to our coin and declare that sixteen ounces of silver in America was worth seventeen and three-quarters ounces anywhere else? We do not live in this world by ourselves. We are but one of a family of nations, and must be guided by the experience of other nations." The silver men in Congress may be wiser in their day and generation than anybody else, but it ought to be evident even to them that they cannot make the world believe that sixteen ounces are seventeen and three-quarters. They coolly ask us to trust to their experiment, but there is no experiment whatever when the case becomes one of simple swindling and of a virtual repudiation by the nation of its promises before the world.—Boston Post.

The Judge Whittaker who is dealing so rigorously with the Louisiana Returning Board prisoners is the same W. R. Whittaker who was Sub-Treasurer in New Orleans in 1866, until the discovery of his defalcation for three-quarters of a million dollars. A large part of the deficit has never been made good to the United States, and, so far as known, Judge Whittaker has never been legally relieved from the position and responsibility of a defaulter.

The Atlanta (Ga.,) Constitution is much incensed at Senator Lamar of Mississippi for his honest-money speech, and crushes him by saying "if Lucius Quintus Curtius Remus Lucullus Ganymede Sappho Orpheus Capitola Romulus Sardanapalus Vinegar Bitters Lamar can stand the racket, so to speak, we are sure his able-bodied constituents can." Mr. Lamar will now please commit suicide.

Portsmouth Chronicle

—By way of preparing for the festivities of the New Year the police commissioners of Dundee, Scotland, ordered "five double-springed wheelbarrows to convey drunk and incapable persons to the stations."

—The concentrator at the Merrimack mines, near Newburyport, which has been erected at a cost of $25,000, was started up for the first time on Monday. The inventors run it three months without cost to the company, and if it proves satisfactory the company accepts it, otherwise it is a loss to the inventors.

—The early residents of Marblehead had some queer notions, and one of their provisions to secure honesty was to require the trustees of an appropriation to deposit the money in one chest with two different locks and keys, the chest to be kept in charge of one trustee and the keys to be held by the other two. The chest of course could not be opened except in the presence of all three.

—Don't smoke cigarettes. The doctors say it is very injurious. Persons indulging in the practice "are easily excited, and have a tendency to vertigo and dimness of vision, besides being troubled by dyspepsia." They are also liable to bronchial and throat diseases, and excessive indulgence tends to produce anæmia, which is one of the first steps toward softening of the brain. Symptoms of the latter in fact generally accompany cigarette smoking.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Gravel, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole system. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for the intended purpose."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.

They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.

The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been speedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey

To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and hooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.

COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.

MESSRS. J. B. ROSE & CO., N. Y.

I have found my children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.

Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur-Liniments are remedies ever discovered for all fresh bones and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and prosperity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could prove to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Pectoral.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Tonic.

Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Multum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their searching impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes, be daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

O ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF

AFFORDED BY

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

IT is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does do every case it undertakes and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of its value in the treatment of Catarrhal affections that confidence is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists, and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulated evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly feel proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained, and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R. I.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you a line to say that although I have been sceptical of all the nostrums advertised as "radical cures," I have never found anything that provides such relief and ultimate cure as that of SANFORD'S.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to procure relief with my mind I now write that of Mr. HENRY WELLS, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc. THEO. P. BOGERT.

Remarkable Wedding.

The trial of Edmund J. Hoppin, in Auburn, N. Y., for the murder of Philip S. Proudfit, the seducer of his sister, in Sterling, Cayuga county, was concluded by his acquittal. Last fall he killed Proudfit, the faithless lover of his sister. His defence was that Proudfit's villainy had caused the ruin of his sister, and the death, through grief, of his mother; and that these things had made him temporarily insane, so that he was not responsible for his acts at the time of the homicide. The trial lasted four days, and was watched with eager interest by assemblies that frequently manifested warm sympathy for the prisoner. The jury retired at four o'clock, and at seven returned to the court room with a verdict of acquittal. This result was greeted with a storm of applause, and the people pressed eagerly forward to shake Hoppin's hands.

At the prisoner's side throughout the trial his sweetheart, Mary Turner, had sat during every session of the Court. They were engaged, and she had consented that, no matter what the verdict might be, they should be married as soon as possible afterward. On the announcement of the acquittal she rapturously kissed her lover, and was herself kissed by him and many of the women who were around her. The presiding Judge, the District Attorney and the jurymen congratulated the pair, and accompanied them at once to the residence of Rev. T. S. Allen. Court officers and spectators followed, in numbers sufficient to crowd the parsonage. The lovers stood up in their midst for the ceremony.

"I am confident," said the clergyman, "that I express the sentiments of all your many friends and the voice of the whole people, when I say that I rejoice in your acquittal as a triumph of love, truth and justice—justice written deep in the human heart which cannot be expressed in the language of human law. While I appreciated the position of honor and responsibility sustained by His Honor the Judge, your attorney and counsel, and the jury now present to witness this happy scene, I prize the privilege of plighting your love to one another before God and society, and pronouncing you husband and wife, as second to none of these. To pronounce you sir, a happy husband, is as great an honor as to pronounce you acquitted by the Court, and allowed to enjoy life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, the birthright of every American citizen."

At the conclusion of the ceremony an old-fashioned wedding scene took place, in which the company pressed to greet the newly made man and wife, kissing the fair bride who had so pluckily faced the troubles which beset her lover, and, true woman like, had borne them till they were dispelled.

A Wonderful Well.

The deepest artesian well in the world is now in progress at Pesth, and has already reached a depth of 951 metres (3,118 feet.) The well at Paris, which is 546 metres in depth, has hitherto held the first place in such achievements. The work is carried on at the expense of the city, which has granted a sum equal to £40,000 for the purpose, with the intention of obtaining an unlimited supply of warm water for the municipal establishments and public baths. The water at present issuing has a temperature of 161 degrees Fahrenheit, and the operations will be continued until that of 178 degrees Fahrenheit is obtained. About 175,000 gallons of the liquid stream out daily and rise to a height of thirty-five feet. This amount will not only supply all the wants of the city, but is expected to convert the surrounding district into a sort of tropical garden by the constant evolution of heat. Since June last the boring has penetrated through 200 feet of dalomite; and the preceding strata passed through have supplied a number of interesting facts to the geologists, which have been noticed from time to time in the Hungarian Academy of Sciences. The difficulties to be overcome have given rise to many highly ingenious engineering devices, such as the method for driving nails, at the enormous depth above mentioned, and, more, the means of drawing them (by magnets,) of cutting off and pulling up broken tubes, and, above all, a valuable mechanical apparatus by means of which the water rising from the well is used as a motive power, driving the drills at a rate of speed double that previously imparted from the well.

The Petrified Man.

All doubt as to the real character of the so-called petrified man of Colorado is removed by the confession of Mr. Fitch, one of its makers. Mr. Fitch is the proprietor of a manufactory of artificial stone, in a city in the northern part of New York. He says that George Hull, the maker of the Cardiff Giant, called upon him in February, 1876, and suggested the scheme. The statue was made near Elkland, Pa., the material used being Portland cement, colored with metallic brown. Human bones were introduced where examination was likely to be made, and to prevent injury to the upper part of the body, the shin-bone of a cow was inserted through the neck from the middle of the head down to the point of the chest where the statue subsequently broke. When it was completed, it was baked. P. T. Barnum was then taken into the arrangement, and he supplied money, and under his directions the statue was carefully boxed and shipped as fine machinery with a false bottom on steel springs beneath it, to Bridgeport, Conn., in March, 1877, and thence to Colorado Springs. The statue is now in a Broadway cellar, where one of the owners has introducing into its abdomen a quantity of crystals which were intended to make it stand the final test of scientific men.

ANOTHER TERRIBLE SHIPWRECK.

Steamship Metropolis, Capt. Ankers, sailed from Philadelphia for Para, Brazil, on Tuesday, Jan. 20th, with a large number (about 250) laborers, engineers, clerks, etc., for the Madeira and Mamora Railroad, and a ship's company stated to number one hundred souls. On Thursday, Jan. 31st, the signal service observer at Kitty Hawk reported to the chief signal office, at 6:30 o'clock P. M., as follows:

"The steamship Metropolis is stranded on Currituck beach, three miles from Currituck light-house, and is a total loss. There were 248 passengers on board. Fifty swam ashore. No assistance from the life-saving station."

The chief signal officer ordered the Kitty Kawk operator to hasten to the scene of the wreck, which is twenty miles north of Kitty Hawk station, open a telegraph station there and send particulars as fast as possible. The second despatch from Kitty Hawk was as follows:

"The messenger who brought the news of the wreck of the Metropolis to the operator at Kitty Hawk did not visit the wreck, but as far as can be ascertained at present it appears there are persons still on board. Further particulars will be obtained as soon as the operator reaches the scene of the wreck, whither he started at 7:30 P. M., and should reach there by mignight."

A despatch from Norfolk, Va., says the Metropolis went ashore "during the prevalence of a furious southeast gale. Great confusion prevailed on board. Owing to the fury of the gale and the roaring of the surf the orders of the officers could not be heard. About fifty of the passengers and crew were washed ashore. About two hundred are believed to be lost. From some of the sailors who arrived at one of the signal stations it appears the vessel had encountered heavy gales from the southeast during the last twenty-hours, and when she struck she was heading about southeast. The vessel swung broadside to the surf, which made a complete break over her and washed many of the people overboard into the sea. The signal line reports that no assistance was sent to the steamer from the life saving stations in the vicinity, another evidence of the necessity of having practical and efficient persons for such dangerous service."

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 30th.

Matthews' silver resolution passed the House Monday. Ever since its passage by the Senate, the advocates of the Bland bill or its equivalent have been confident of their ability to pass it over a Presidential veto, in both branches. The vote in the House has more than confirmed them in this view. Notwithstanding assurances telegraphed hence from time to time that remonetization was steadily losing, and the studied efforts of a portion of the "Metropolitan" press in the same direction to mislead its readers, the sentiment has steadily gained strength and now amounts to a determination never more resolutely backed up. Utter and complete discouragement and demoralization appear to pervade the ranks of those advocating the gold standard exclusively. It is hoped, now that this matter is disposed of, that Congress may go to work and devise some practical measures of relief for our depressed industries and for the commercial paralysis that seems to have pervaded every hamlet in the country. I think it cannot be denied that the convening of Congress really aggravated rather than relieved this feeling of uncertainty relative to business enterprises; and signs of the partial revival, noted a few months since, seem to have been premature or frightened off by Congress. The very fact that so many distrust the ability of our national legislators to do aught to promote a restoration of confidence ought to act as a stimulant spurring them to their level best.

By existing laws the President, in his discretion, can retire from active service an officer of the army so soon as he attains the age of sixty-two years, provided there is a vacancy in the limited number allowed on the retired list. This power being left to the discretion of the President, each officer arriving at the fatal age seeks, through personal influence, to be retained, and the result is that those living in Washington or who have powerful friends at court, stay in the service till death, while those doing the severe campaigning life on the frontier have to go. At this time, while only one officer of the line is eligible for retirement, over thirty of the non-combatant class are. This, in itself, shows a sufficient reason why the army should be on the same footing as the navy. Let Congress so declare, and this species of favoritism, which is so hurtful to the service, will no longer be known.

Murphy appears to have entered on a successful campaign, Lincoln Hall being crowded at each meeting. The plan appears to be to hold daily prayer meetings at noon, and the temperance meeting proper, in the evening. Murphy, on last evening, finished his personal recollections began Sunday. Hundreds came forward and signed the pledge. Meetings are being held in other portions of the city, in accordance with the plan of campaign adopted.

No one with any regard for their reputation appears willing to hazard an opinion as to the final upshot of the prosecution of the Louisana Returning Board, though all are agreed that it may conceal many ugly possibilities for some in high places.

There seems to be some doubt as to the exact locality of sitting Bull and his braves. Gen. Miles telegraphed that he was on the southern side of the border, preparing for a hostile raid. Major Welch is subsequently reported at Helena, Montana, and denies the reported crossing of Sitting Bull on to American territory.

There has been a partial reaction against the Diaz Government on account of the character of the testimony being taken by Congressional Committees.

KNOX.

News and Notes.

A Portland, Me., water bond for $1000, one of those stolen from the Boylston bank, of Boston, when it was robbed, was offered for sale in New Haven recently, by a man who said he was Mr. Watson, of Portland. It was left with a broker, who sent it to Boston to be sold, where its identity was discovered, but an attempt to capture Watson has failed.

Captain John W. Saddler, of the steamship State of Indiana, has invented a movable propeller which can be depressed lower than by the ordinary methods, and will be in more dense water, where the resistance will be greater, while if entering ports where the water is shallow the propeller may be lifted until a portion of it may even be above the surface; and at sea, if it be desirable to proceed under canvas alone, it may be taken out of the water altogether.

Two newsdealers, one in Boston and another in Troy, have set a good example by stopping the sale of illustrated sensational story papers for boys. It is hardly necessary to moralize on the vicious influence of this pestiferous class of publications, and it is to be hoped, says the Buffalo Express, that the reform begun in these two Eastern cities will find imitators now that the attention of dealers is called to an evil which they ought not to lend their assistance in spreading.

Political.

One solitary Congressman in the whole Solid South voted against repudiation. Who talks about maligning the South now?

Harry Bingham made a somewhat peculiar speech before the late Democratic State Convention, astonishing the delegates, who had just nominated a bank man, by denouncing National Banks, and including railroads in his vituperation, while every democrat knows that the chief sinews of the party warfare comes from the railroad magnates who hold the democratic party of the State in the hollow of their hand. It is said that Sinclair smiled to see Harry put his foot in it, in that way.—Journal.

—With this hand and the lead a Rochester whist player took every trick the other day: The ace, king, queen and jack of trumps; the ace of diamonds, the ace of clubs, and the ace, king, queen, jack, seven spot, five spot and two spot of spades.

—The "boss" barbers of New York recently held an indignation meeting against those practitioners of the tonsorial profession who charge only five cents for a shave. Out of the 2000 barber shops in the city 250 have reduced the tariff to that price, and against them the conservative "bosses" propose to wage war to the razor.

—Colonel Ingersoll has an ally: the oldest inhabitant of Rondout on the Hudson. This man did not know Tom Paine, but he once employed on his farm Sam Johnson, an intelligent colored man, who was the philosopher's body servant during his last days in New Rochelle. Sam had admitted to the oldest inhabitant that his master was an inordinate snuff-taker, but had denied that there was any truth in the current accounts of the death-bed scene. Sam was with his master to the last, and knew that he had died as men did every day, decently and in order, and without any fuss. The eldest inhabitant also remembered Sam Johnson's son, a miserable runt, whose diminutive size was believed by many to be a visitation of divine wrath upon the father for having contributed to the relief of such an arch-fiend as Tom Paine.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 126 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. tfeb13

THE LUCKY NUMBER.—The Louisiana State Lottery has became not only famous in the Southern, but in the Western and Northern States. A gentleman from Washington City announces in this issue of the Picayune that he was the holder of a portion of a ticket which drew the prize of $20,000. Let us remember that money invested here is good and circulates amongst us wiji scarcely any discount. Abroad the currency is so much depreciated that if we ever draw a prize we can scarcely realize in good money one-fourth of the amount promised.

Somebody, who has made a study of children says:—"Too much is said to children; too much notice is taken of them and their affairs. In this way restlessness, fretfulness and self-importance are promoted."

—Cigarette smoking is indulged in by many young women and school-girls in New York. The thumbs and forefingers of a class in a young ladies' school were examined the other day, and only two were found to be without tobacco stains.

—It is an interesting fact that there are very few persons in the world possessing a peculiar keenness of vision enabling them to see certain planets with the unaided eye. People with the ordinary power of sight usually see six of the stars of the Pleiades; Kepler mentions one person, who, with the naked eye, could see fourteen, and Littrow another who saw sixteen. Dr. Dawes, an English clergyman and astronomer, was remarkable for his powers of distinguishing very faint spots of light; and Mr. Q. M. Ward, an amateur astronomer, in the north of Ireland, is known among scientific men for having viewed two of the four moons of Uranus with so small and simple a help as a four-inch telescope. In this country, Mr. S. W. Burnham, of Chicago, is noted for the particularly acute vision which reveals to him double stars. The astronomers of other lands often call upon him to decide vexed questions relating to these stars.

Portsmouth can boast of an excellent orchestral band. It is a perfect in all its parts even to the man with a little round bare space on the top of his head, without which no orchestra can be considered complete.

On Sunday evening Rev. Dr. Alden opens a supplementary series to his highly interesting and instructive lectures on the Holy Land, which are to include Egypt, the Nile, pyramids, etc., and the Red Sea. His subject for Sunday evening is "The Sea," relating to his voyage across the Atlantic and down the Mediterranean to Alexandrian.

Among the out-of-town visitors to the new Music Hall this week were His Excellency Gov. Prescott, Judge George A. Bingham, of Littleton, (of the Supreme Court,) Col. Daniel Hall, Naval Officer at Boston, and Col. C. M. Murphy and Wm. Sterns of Dover. We hope to see our Dover neighbors frequently as new and attractive entertainments are presented at our new hall.

We are glad to know that Portsmouth is abreast of the times in its interest in the new discovery of the telephone. Prof. Bell has been entertaining Queen Victoria with the exhibition of the marvellous facility with which conversation can be carried on between Osborne and Cowes, and Kate Field has sung to her majesty through the telephone from London to Osborne; and four thousand persons at the tabernacle in Boston have enjoyed musical performances six miles distant on Mason & Hamlin's telephone harp. Now we are to be entertained and instructed in this new science by the gifted lecturer Prof. Robinson, before the Portsmouth Lyceum at Franklin Hall, on Thursday evening, Feb. 7th.

We were in hopes that government before this would have made some demonstration towards the removal of the dangerous ledges in our river. The grounding of the steamer Kearsarge on one ct them should have been an incentive for them, for had the tides been falling off at that time it is very probable she would have sustained considerable damage.

Lieutenant David Whipple, U. S. M. C., of this city, who is attached to the Enterprise, now at New Orleans, met with an accident in that city some days since by having one of his fingers badly jammed by the horse cars. Soon after the report reached this city, rumor had succeeded in taking off a leg and an arm for Lieut. Whipple, and would have taken his head off in a short time had not the correct state of affairs been published.

Frank W. Miller of this city, editor of the Weekly and Master of Portsmouth Grange, offers a premium of one hundred dollars to any person, wherever located, who shall raise, next season, one hundred bushels of shelled corn on one acre of land, or the one who shows the greatest excess of that amount. The corn is to be weighed on January 1st, 1879, and the evidence to be sufficient to convince the committee of award (Hon. John D. Lyman of Exeter, Hon. John M. Weare of Seabrook, and Charles H. Hayes of Portsmouth).—Times.

The North Mill pond presented quite a gay appearance on Thursday afternoon, and a large crowd was in attendance to witness the horse racing. They were also treated to the novel sight of an ice boat skimming swiftly over the pond. Mr. Henry H. Ham, Jr., who built, owns and sails her, is quite pleased with this, his first attempt at that sort of thing; he built her after the proportions of the famous ice boat on exhibition at the Centennial. Mr. Ham gave a large number of his friends, including many ladies, a trip about the pond, and all enjoyed the novelty of sailing on the ice.

SUPREME COURT--JAN. TERM.

Friday, Feb. 1st; Bingham, J.

In the case John M. Paul vs. John B. Rider, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $1079.99. Small for piff.; Hatch for deft.

Court adjourned to Wednesday at nine o'clock A. M. The Court house at Exeter is to be occupied on Monday for an adjourned term of the United States District Court. A jury is summoned to try civil cases on that day.

THE SNOW STORM

Of Thursday night and Friday was the meanest storm we have had for years; all the snow blew out of the roads in the outskirts of the city, except where there was a chance for it to pack the road level full between the fences on each side, and the travelling was execrable, being neither wheeling nor sleighing.

The trains from Boston for this city were much delayed; the forenoon train, due here at 9:53 A. M., had only managed to reach Ipswich at four o'clock in the afternoon; and the morning train from this city for Boston had not then reached Ipswich. The Concord Railroad trains seemed to have little trouble, the evening train arriving in this city on time, as did the morning train from Portland. No mails from the westward arrived here during the day, and there were rumors about town in the evening that a serious accident had occurred somwhere along the line; but the railroad officials declined to give any information as to the whereabouts or condition of the trains.

THE VICINITY.

Mrs. Mary Anderson, wife of Mr. M. Anderson, of Kittery, fell on the ice recently and dislocated her hip.

The operatives in the Gonic mill, at Rochester, struck on Thursday. The agent was assailed with missiles, catcalls and yells by the strikers, when he appeared on the street.

The fine residence of Mr. Stover Simpson, erected at York harbor, last season, narrowly escaped destruction on the morning of Jan. 25th. An explosion occurred in the cook stove, shattering the same to fragments and hurling the fragments through windows, denting walls and smashing doors and fixtures. Damage about $160. Fortunately, at the time, the family were at breakfast in the dining hall and thereby escaped uninjured.

A Breakfast Hunter.

A citizen not only keeps a score or more of hens, but the family take pride in them, and the slightest noise in the back yard at midnight arouses every inmate of the house. A morning or two since a weary looking chap called at the side door with a dead hen in his hand, and when the servant girl had summoned the lady of the house he said—

"Madam, as I was walking down the alley just now a boy jumped over your fence with this dead hen in his hand. I am poor and hungry, but I am honest, madam. This hen belongs to you. She will make you a beautiful dinner. I ask for no reward, madam, though the smell of coffee almost makes me crazy with delight."

"Those bad boys—they ought to be shut up!" exclaimed the indignant lady.

"So they had, madam. It is a sin to murder a young and healthy hen in this sudden manner. I could have taken the body and sold it, but I would not do so base a thing. No, madam; I am hungry as a wolf, but I am honest. There is your hen, lady, and though I need food I will not——"

He laid the hen beside the door and was going away when she asked him to come in and get breakfast. He accepted the invitation, cleared the table, and had been gone about five minutes when the girl called to her mistress:

"Why, this hen is frozen as solid as a rock, and only about half of it is here!"

The lady investigated, and as she rushed for the front gate there was a bright red spot on each cheek, but the man was out of sight.—Detroit Free Press.

—The story goes that the Duke of Edinburgh, who is with the British fleet in the Mediterranean, in order to check talk which is distasteful to him, has put up in the cabin of the Sultan the placard, "Please to remember that the Emperor of Russia is my father-in-law."

Commonwealth Consolidated MINING COMPANY

THE Directors of the "COMMONWEALTH CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY," of san Francisco, call attention to the mining property of this Company, situated in the Tuscarora Mining District, Elko County, State of Nevada.

The property adjoins that of the well-known "Grand Prize," and developments thus far made in the shaft and levels of the Commonwealth Consolidated indicate the same vein, and of the same richness, as that found at even depth in sinking the shaft upon the "Grand Prize" now so successfully worked, and paying its regular monthly dividends.

The Commonwealth Consolidated Mining Company consists of two distinct properties, known as the "All Alone" and "Veritas" mines, which have been consolidated into the above-named Company; both of these valuable properties have been prospected by shafts, the ledge found to be well-defined, and the ores are proved by assay to be rich in both gold and silver.

The Corporation is represented by one hundred thousand shares of stock, of the par value of one hundred dollars each, and instead of assessing the shares, as is customary in most California mining stocks, the Directors have chosen to set aside 25,000 shares of the capital stock of the Company to be sold, and the proceeds placed in the treasury for a working capital.

This stock will only be issued and sold from time to time, as funds may be required to carry on the work, which is being pushed with energy under the able superintendence of a first-class minor.

The first allotment of shares to be sold for working capital has all been taken.

The Directors now propose to issue the second allotment for the working capital, and the price is placed at Three Dollars per share, with the assurance to the Stockholders that their intention is to enhance the price of each issue from time to time, as the work of development progresses and the value of the property is enhanced thereby, until the requisite amount of working capital is obtained.

The "All Alone" shaft is now sunk to a depth of 75 feet, and a contract is about being closed to run it 200 feet deeper.

Messrs. OTIS & CO., members of the Pacific Stock Exchange, San Francisco, and Messrs. STONE & DOWNER, Boston, have been duly authorized to receive subscriptions as above for the Working Capital Stock.

The Officers and Directors of the Company are principally New England men, and the Board of Directors offer their assurance to the Stockholders that the affairs of the Company will be administered upon a safe and economical basis, and on examination of the management as to the working of the mine and the expenditure of the money is invited and guaranteed at all times.

Portsmouth Chronicle

—An Easthampton woman, whose husband recently died, said he was troubled with an "abyss" under his arm, and after his death remarked that the body was so badly "emasculpated" she thought it would keep two or three weeks without difficulty.

—An Iowa man recently exploded ten pounds of gunpowder under a platform where two score cats, allured by a liberal spread of milk and bones, were having an oratorio by moonlight. There was a general feline transformation scene, a shriek that would have made the hair stand up straight on a billiard ball, and fifteen minutes later the cats organized on the roof of a neighboring woodshed, passed resolutions expressive of their sentiments, and then went on with the performance just as if nothing had happened.

—Among the "marks" of a noted criminal now in one of the Washington penitentiaries are the following, all being done in India ink: The American coat of arms; figures of a sailor and a girl dancing; a female pirate, having at her feet an American coat of arms, with a spread-eagle on top; a rooster; a figure of Hope, with an American flag; a large ship reefing topsails; a figure called Onward, partly finished; an Indian girl; an anchor and shield; a fireman on a fire-plug, and a boy, the hose very large; another American coat-of-arms, very large, not completed; an eagle and shield; a very large ship under sail, and a lighthouse.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING
Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole living. They cure not only the every day complaints of everybody, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

Centaur Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have per ormed more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For mange and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been speedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.
J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Honey
To the taste but death to Grubs and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castorir is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. ROSE & Co., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot stand side a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellow-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness," in many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as its effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P. P. P. P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.
The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Multum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the fading of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH
NEVER-FAILING RELIEF
AFFORDED BY
SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

IT is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of its value in the treatment of Catarrhal affections that confidence is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly feel proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Rogert, Bristol, R.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to step out of a line to say that although I have been receptical of all the nostrums advertised as "radical cures," I have never found anything that promises such relief and ultimate cure as that of SANFORD'S.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to persevere with any trial that held the fair of Mr. HENRY WELS's, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am the happy possessor of as complete a cure as any one could desire. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc. THEO. P. ROGERT.

The Wreck of the Metropolis.

Later reports from the wreck of the steamship Metropolis give the names of 158 persons saved from the wreck, among the saved being Capt. Ankers, the first and second mates, first, second and third engineers, purser and carpenter. The total loss of life is now said not to exceed one hundred.

The Metropolis was built at Newburyport, Mass., and was originally called the Stars and Stripes; during the war she was employed conveying stores to the blockading squadrons. She had been recently lengthened and strengthened, and had had her name changed to Metropolis. Her cargo consisted of 500 tons of iron rails and 200 tons of stores, and she had in her bunkers 250 tons of coal. The vessel was too deeply laden and too weak to stand the terrible buffetting she received from the sea after leaving port, and she sprung a bad leak in the rudder case on the second day out. Finding it impossible to keep the water down the captain tried to run into Hampton Roads; the leak increasing and the steamer becoming less and less manageable as she filled with water, the captain then attempted to beach her as the only chance of saving the lives of those on board; but before reaching the beach she broached to, and finally struck broadside on. The ship went ashore at about seven o'clock in the morning, and the life saving crew did not arrive at the scene of the wreck until half past twelve o'clock, and then very poorly provided with life saving appliances.

The Jewell Murder.

The men who were implicated with John H. Robinson in the murder of Jewell, in Candia twenty years ago, as confessed by Robinson on his deathbed in Newmarket to police officer Blake Roberts, were Rufus Ward and Crawford Reynolds. The former died in Candia and the latter in Chester. There are two men now living in Raymond who were present at the Burbank house with Jewell and his three acquaintances on the night of the murder. These men are David Burbank and Geo. W. Roberts, and they both give a very interesting account of what occurred on that memorable night. They distinctly remember of Jewell's refusing to leave Burbank's, and how his companions took him by the coat collar and compelled him to accompany them. Burbank and Blake were then quite young and did not apprehend that Jewell would be subjected to any danger. Robinson, who confessed the crime, led a miserable life and was a shiftless and drinking man. He died a pauper of the town of Newmarket. He was married twice, and one of his wives died an awful death by a roadside in Candia.

The Storm

Of Thursday and Friday was very heavy, and extended from New Orleans to Labrador. It centered at New Orleans at midnight, Jan. 29th, and travelled along the coast line at a speed exceeding that of a fast mail train; but the telegraph enabled the signal service bureau to order storm signals in time to do great good. The signal was displayed in Boston twenty-three hours in advance of the storm. The predictions and warnings relative to this storm are said to rank among the very best work ever done by the signal service.

The shipping suffered considerably. Besides the unseaworthy steamer Metropolis, the brig Etta M. Tucker, with a cargo of coffee worth $80,000, was totally lost, on Asbury Park beach, N. J.; brig Chattanooga was lost, with her captain and two men, below Baltimore; schooner Nellie Bloomfield lost her captain and two men in New York lower harbor; schooner Ella Haynes went down in the Sound, with all hands; and numerous minor disasters are reported.

Along the Jersey coast the sea was tremendous, and did a vast amount of damage. At Far Rockaway and Rockaway beach seven summer resorts were carried away, and nine others partly destroyed. At Long Branch all the bath and summer houses were destroyed, several of the hotels damaged, large portions of the bluff undermined and torn down, and the New Jersey Southern railroad in many places covered with immense beds of sand. At Coney Island the Manhattan Beach property was damaged about $15,000; beach houses, farms, saloons and sheds were washed away for other parties, the total loss being about $5000. Two shanties, occupied by the families of two watchmen named Wynne and Brennan, were swept off by the sea, and Mrs. Wynne, her three children (one an infant a few days old) and nurse, and Mrs. Brennan and two children, were drowned.

The snow-fall was very heavy throughout New England, and considerable delay to railroad trains was a consequence.

Great Fire.

In Charlestown, Mass., Thursday night, fire broke out in the furniture factory of F. M. Holmes & Co., caused by the breaking of a kerosene lantern carried by the watchman. The fire spread rapidly, and four alarms were given in quick succession, but before the fire was got under it had destroyed the huge building in which it started, with fourteen dwellings, five stables, coal sheds, pipe sheds belonging to the Mystic water works, and numerous out-buildings. The territory burned over is 500 feet long and 200 feet wide, about two and a half acres. The loss on the furniture shop amounts to $150,000; insurance, $147,000. The houses were occupied by the poorer class of tenants, most of whom have lost their all. Some twenty-six families are made homeless by the fire, and much suffering must of necessity ensue. A number of the tenants were employed in the factory, and they with other employes, numbering some four hundred, are deprived of the means of earning a living, besides losing their tools. The storm was raging furiously when the fire broke out, and at one time it was believed a large part of the district, including the State Prison, would be destroyed. Three firemen were injured by a falling wall. A boy, seven years old, is missing.

The Eastern War.

The Pall Mall Gazette of London has a despatch from Rome which says: "Private telegrams of undoubted authority say the Russians are within twenty-four hours' march of Constantinople. Italy is prepared to make an alliance with any powers to oppose Russian supremacy."

It is officially announced that Admiral Hobart Pasha's fleet has arrived from Batoum, bringing ten battalions, and Dervish Pasha is expected at Constantinople shortly. This implies evacuation of Batoum either in the face of an anticipated Russian assault or in fulfillment of the stipulations.

Terrible suffering among the refugees at Constantinople and Gallipoli is reported.

Greece has virtually declared war against Turkey, having decided on the armed occupation of Thessaly, Epirus and Macedonia; the entire population of Greece is called upon to enrole in the National Guard.

An engagement has been fought in Crete between the Turks and the insurgents; result unknown.

News and Notes.

The New York Brotherhood of Stationary Engineers say there are 700 or 800 boilers in that city alone run by common laborers who are perfectly incompetent, and they ask for legislation to compel the employment of competent men.

The House committee on education and labor has instructed Mr. Willis, of Kentucky, to prepare a joint resolution authorizing the President to invite the friendly offices of Great Britain with China to secure a meeting of Representatives of the United States and China to see if something could not be done toward restricting Chinese immigration without infringing upon existing treaty obligations.

The New York candy factory disaster is attributed by the Scientific American to the explosion of a very finely powdered substance that had become diffused in the air of the candy factory. Among the substances that will, under certain conditions, explode with terrific force, the writer mentions cork. "This material," he says, "which burns in bulk with a very slow combustion, becomes highly explosive when reduced to an impalpable powder, and in this state distributed in an atmosphere."

Barque Zephyrine, Capt. Johnson, from Demarara for Boston with a cargo of sugar and molasses, went ashore at Hull on Friday, and bilged. The tide flowed through her at high water. All hands were saved.

Ben Wade is dangerously sick with typhoid fever.

Mrs. Sarah H. Meservy was murdered in her house at St. George, Me., by strangulation, between December 25th and January 29th, and the crime was not discovered till within a week. The supposed object of the murder was money, as she was known to have had several hundred dollars, and only eighty cents were found in the house. There is no clue to the murderer.

The National Bank at Deep River, Conn., was entered by burglars Wednesday night. The vault was blown open, which aroused the citizens and alarmed the burglars, who had not succeeded in opening the safe. Two of the thieves were captured.

John Marston, a schoolboy of Corinth, Vt., was accidentally shot by a schoolmate Thursday afternoon, and will die.

George Cruikshank, the famous caricaturist and draughtsman, died in London on Friday.

Nicholas Canahu and Charles Richards, two barbers doing business on opposite sides of Fleet street, Boston, fired eight pistol shots at each other from their shop doors, Friday. Result, Stephen Delo and Santi Devid, who were shovelling snow off a sidewalk, were both wounded, and the two sharpshooting barbers were both arrested Moral—Don't shovel the snow off your sidewalk.

A suit for trespass has been running through three trials and as many decisions of the Law Court at Portland, and has just resulted in a verdict of $6.92 in favor of the plaintiff, while the bill of costs amounts to $325.

While Marshall Jewell and wife were at the Barnett-Shoemaker wedding in Baltimore, Wednesday night, their room at the Mount Vernon Hotel was entered by a thief, and a watch valued at $250 belonging to Mrs. Jewell, also a valuable gold locket and pin, besides $100 in money, were carried off. A man named Isaac Lowenthal, of New York, who was stopping at the hotel, has been arrested on suspicion and held for further hearing.

A little boy recently brought from Demarara to Baltimore, under the impression that he might be Charlie Ross, is still at the Home of the Friendless in that city, Mr. Ross being in New Orleans and not yet having seen him. The boy is very bright and intelligent, but persists in the statement that his name is Charlie Ross, and that he lived "on the hill" with his mother near Philadelphia. It is well known that the people of Germantown all speak of Mr. Ross' place as "on the hill." On being shown a picture of Charlie Ross, in the book published by Mr. Ross, he put his hand to his head and said: "That was me before my curls were cut off," and also recognized the picture of his nurse in the same book. He resembles the description of Charlie Ross, with the exception that his eyes are of a different color.

New Hampshire Items.

On the examination of the Rollinsford Savings Bank, the commissioners associated with Judge Stanley report assets of the bank good for seventy-five per cent. to depositors, with leave to resume business.

Three fishermen from Concord caught about two hundred pounds of pickerel in Northwood pond, week before last. Some of the fish were very large,

The preliminary examination at Plymouth of James G. Jesseman, for an aggravated assault upon Mrs. Dow, the unfortunate victim of the Dorchester tragedy, was concluded Thursday. Jesseman was held in $200 for appearance at the March term of the court. This case has excited very great interest, as the public would only have been satisfied with a trial for murder.

The Monadnock blanket mill at Marlboro' has started up on full time and increased facilities, much to the discomfiture of those people who predicted the company's failure.

A New Hampshire man set a steel trap for something that was destroying his chickens. Two weeks after, the trap was found on the leg of an owl which was shot in Vermont, one hundred miles distant.

—Alexandre Dumas, the elder, had many orders and decorations, but cared so little for them that he used to nail them on the cabin door of his yacht, When he sold the yacht he let the decorations go with it, either through sheer carelessness or one of those intentional accidents which eccentric genius affects.

THE CITY.

The second dance of the selects comes off at Congress Hall on Thursday evening. Those fortunate enough to procure tickets are sure of a good time.

Hon. Frank Jones returns to Washington to-day, his brief absence from the Capital being, as was stated in the House on Thursday, on account of important business.

Deacon E. B. Goodall will give a Bible reading in the chapel at Faith Home this evening; subject, "Ressurrection." It will be a continuation of the "Preaching, and Preachers of the Bible."

Charles S. Stevens, son of Postmaster Stevens of Manchester, is temporarily filling the place of Charles M. Stevens, mail-agent between that city and Portsmouth, who is suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia.

The Boston Transcript thus commends one of the singers who will assist at the Nowell brothers' concert to-morrow evening: "Mr. Pfluger's voice is of such rare beauty and power, and his cultivation is so solid and thorough, that he must easily take the first rank among local singers." A Chickering grand piano, sent from Boston for the purpose, will be used at this concert.

While there is snow enough on the ground in this vicinity to make good sleighing, it is so wretchedly distributed as only to spoil the wheeling. On Saturday Hon. Frank Jones had a large force of men and oxen at work on the road between his brewery and the ice pond at the foot of Peverley's Hill, clearing away the snow so that his ice-laden wheel-vehicles could get along. The Street Commissioner's gang was busy all day Saturday in trimming snow-drifts about town on to the bare spots in the streets, so that sleighs could get along.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

There was an accident on the Eastern railroad at Revere, Mass., Friday, which occasioned the delay to the trains on that day. The morning train from Salem for Boston started an hour late, with a snow-plough, two engines, (No. 43, Fred Converse engineer, and No. 30, William Meade engineer,) a baggage car, smoking car and three passenger cars. On arriving at Floyd's bridge in Revere an immense snow-drift was struck, which threw the snow-plough into the air, the forward engine dashing under it and having its smoke stack and cab torn off. Both engineers were thrown into the air, Mr. Converse receiving a bad gash on the top of his head; Mr. Meade had his head cut open, one side crushed and one leg broken. Albert Larrabee, brakeman, was badly bruised. The entire train was thrown from the track, which was torn up for several rods, but the passengers and other train men, though roughly shaken up and the passengers much frightened, all escaped injury. The track was cleared at a late hour for the passage of trains, and at about half-past nine o'clock in the evening the forenoon train from Boston arrived in this city, closely followed by three others. The train which left this city for Boston at half-past five o'clock and was due in the latter city at eight, did not arrive there until after eleven o'clock.

A PLEASANT AFFAIR.

The Young People's Association of the North church held another of their delightful gatherings on Thursday evening last. The chapel parlors were filled to overflowing, despite the inclemency without.

The first presention was a charade, the word being "charter." The first syllable was represented by a class in geography, answering questions from a map. Some of the questions were respecting Portsmouth, "the most important city in the United States," and bringing out several happy hits. The second syllable was represented by children learning the alphabet, especial attention being paid to the first of the letters; and the whole word by three barons with coats of mail, swords and plumes, compelling King John to sign "Magna Charta."

Following the charade was singing, "Slowly and Softly," by a quartette. Here a short intermission was granted, during which well-timed remarks were made by Rev. Mr. Hubbell and others.

Then came the reading, in a very pleasing manner, by one of the young ladies, of a selection from Dickens entitled "Boots of the Holly-tree Inn."

Next was a solo and chorus, "Make Home Beautiful," and after this the reading by eight characters of the most interesting portions of "Merchant of Venice;" followed by a trio and chorus, entitled "Welcome to Morning."

The audience departed after singing one stanza of "Blest be the tie that binds," well pleased with the entertainment, and feeling that the committees having the affair in charge had performed their duties to the complete satisfaction of all.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

The building on Market street owned by the Rockingham Ten Cents Savings Bank, was sold at auction on Saturday. The banking room was filled with a company of "solid men," and at precisely twelve o'clock the sale was started by a bid of five thousand dollars. The bids quickly ran up to seventy-six hundred and twenty-five dollars, at which price it was bid off by Nathan Jones, Esq.

The bank shares sold brought as follows: National Mechanics & Traders, $10½; Rockingham, $127.50; New Hampshire, $104.

The bank furniture was then sold in lots,—also the counter, over which so many persons had in times past handed in their savings,—and the sale concluded.

In the Bank Commissioners' report of 1876 the cost of this real estate and bank fixtures was returned at $15,368.02.

PORTSMOUTH LIGHT ARTILLERY.

In speaking in these columns of the military companies of Portsmouth we have left for the last the Portsmouth Artillery Co., (light battery,) whose history merits something more than a passing notice. Organized in the troublous times of the Revolution, when to be a soldier meant something more than to parade on State occasions, it has made a record honorable to itself and to the old town whose name it bears, and finds honorable mention in the annals of the State. The massacre of the yeomanry at Lexington and Concord aroused all the latent indignation of the husbandmen of New Hampshire, and from every hillside streamed its patriots to aid in the common defence. The Provincial legislature was summoned in session at Exeter, and active measures at once taken for the defence of the province, and especially of Portsmouth, then the most prominent and most exposed of any town in the colony. The following are extracts from the Provincial Records:

Tuesday, June 6, 1775. Met according to adjournment.

Voted to raise one artillery company to be at Portsmouth.

Voted that the Committee of Safety look out and commission the best men they can find as officers of said artillery company.

Voted that the company consist of sixty-five men, including officers, to be at Portsmouth.

The Committee of Safety had not far to look; recognizing the services of Hall Jackson, a distinguished citizen of Portsmouth and a prominent patriot in the cause of the colonies, to whom more than any other man was due the credit of the capture of cannon and ammunition at Fort William and Mary, at Newcastle, a part of which was afterward used at the battle of Bunker Hill, he was commissioned captain. June 12th saw the company fully equipped, except uniform, from material (including three brass howitzers) captured from the French at Louisburg by Sir William Pepperell many years before. June 20th, while excising his men in front of the old Assembly building, a courier rode up bringing news of the battle of Bunker Hill; and under date of June 21, Capt. Jackson writes to William Earle of Boston, "the victory of our friends at Bunker Hill so rejoiced the people that the company fired a salute of twenty-one guns from two brass howitzers placed in Langdon's pasture." We are unable to minutely trace the company during all the years of the revolutionary war, but are able to glean from the publications of that period that Washington and Lafayette on their respective visits to Portsmouth congratulated and thanked the organization for the service it rendered during that struggle.

In the war of 1812 (Capt. Hooper then in command) fixed ammunition was issued to the company, which was ordered to resist any attempt of the British to land in this vicinity.

July 4th, 1824, the company after firing its customary salute, assisted in the dedication of the Liberty Pole at Liberty Bridge on Water street; and on Wednesday, Sept. 1st, of the same year, the company fired a national salute in the welcome given to Layfayette, from Wibird's Hill—the same spot where forty years before it had done this hero the same honor.

At the celebration of the completion of Bunker Hill monument, in 1843, the Portsmouth Artillery was the oldest visiting military organization in Boston, and was given the post of honor in the splendid procession on that memorable occasion.

The Mexican and rebellion wars nearly obliterated this organization; it furnished and sent to the battlefields in these two wars thirty commissioned officers, and non-commissioned officers and privates were found in every New Hampshire regiment.

In 1875, measures were taken to reorganize the company, and a meeting was held July 5th, in the Council Chamber of the city government, and the preliminary steps taken to that end. Hon. T. E. O. Marvin was chosen President and J. R. Curtis Secretary; committees were appointed to select from the many applicants suitable men to become members. The first meeting for election of officers resulted in the choice of Hon. Frank Jones, Capt.; Daniel J. Vaughan, 1st Lieut.; and David Urch, 2d Lieut. Messrs. Jones and Vaughan finding it inconvenient to accept, another election was held, with the following result: T. E. O. Marvin, Capt.; David Urch, 1st Lieut.; J. N. Jones, 2d Lieut. Under these officers the company rapidly progressed in discipline and drill. Jan. 1st, 1876, it ushered in the centennial year by a salute of 100 guns, and Jan. 5th, it did the same honor to the 100th anniversary of New Hampshire's declaration of independence.

Shortly after this a hopeless quarrel broke out between some of the members and the captain, which resulted after nearly three months of hostilities in the retirement of the disaffected portion of the command; the company was rapidly recruited to its maximum, and Wm. O. Sides and Charles W. Gardner chosen in place of the retiring lieutenants. Steps were at once taken to procure handsome and serviceable uniforms; and after correspondence with prominent officers in this country, and ex-Mayor Kent, of Portsmouth, Eng., it was decided to adopt the Prince of Wales uniform, excepting the helmets, these being similar to those worn by the 8th Mass. Regt.

May 25, 1876, while the company was engaged in firing a salute, (in the ceremonies dedicating Langdon Park,) Sergt. J. R. Curtis was permanently disabled by the premature discharge of one of the guns; this is the first accident happening in the organization since its formation in 1775.

The company made its first appearance in their new uniforms July 4th, 1876, and the plaudits it received from the citizens of Portsmouth for its excellent marching and the soldierly appearance of the men (thirty-one of them were veterans of the late war) showed that a great interest was taken in the resuscitation of the old artillery company. On the 11th of September the command, fifty strong, with the Kearsarge Drum and Fife Band, left for the Centennial exhibition, where it remained two weeks, receiving special attention from the military companies of the Quaker city and from Adjt. Gen. Latta, P. V. M., while the Philadelphia Press published historical sketches and reminiscences of the company, together with a complete roster of its members. Arriving home, they found an invitation from Portsmouth, Eng., to visit that city, an honor never before offered to an American company, which was unanimously accepted and committees appointed to make the necessary arrangements.

Feb. 20, 1877, Capt. Marvin having been appointed to a position on the governor's staff, and Lieut. Gardner being unable by press of business to perform the duties required, both officers resigned their commissions, and were succeeded by Wm. O. Sides, Capt., Edwin H. Leslie, 1st Lieut., Jos. R. Curtis, 2d Lieut., D. J. Spinney, Orderly Sergt. and clerk of company.

June 7th, 1877, the company celebrated its 102d anniversary by going to Concord and participating in the inaugural display of that day; the largest company in line, its brilliant uniforms and precision in its marching movements won for the company the applause of the multitude. "Scott," the correspondent of the Boston Traveller, and a war veteran, telegraphed on the evening of that day, "The Portsmouth Light Artillery bore off the honors and held the post of honor in the inauguration display."

The company is full; a majority of its members are old soldiers, or "war veterans." It has a large list of honorary members, including Ichabod Goodwin, Frank Jones, Daniel Marcy, James T. Fields, Wm. H. Sise, E. R. Goodrich, M. F. Wentworth, E. A. Peterson, A. J. Beck (Captain of the company in 1835—'36—'37,) George W. Towle (Captain 1840 to '44,) T. E. O. Marvin (Captain 1875–'76–'77,) and all members of the old company now living. Mr. Benjamin Cheever claims the oldest membership, having joined the company in 1825. N. D. Miller was Orderly Sergt. over thirty years ago, and is now well and hearty. The company has one of the finest armories in the State, (Badger's block,) and although it is the general resort of the members, no disorderly conduct or noisy demonstrations have ever been charged to the organization. We congratulate the company upon the record it has made and its brilliant prospect in the future.

THE VICINITY.

Frank W. Roberts of Biddeford has been admitted to practice at the York County bar.

Mrs. Austin Weare of Seabrook slipped on the ice some days ago, and falling, broke one of her legs near the ankle.

A bass weighing forty-four pounds was caught in the Swamscott river by Mr. Andrew J. York of Stratham a day or two since.

Mrs. George Knowles, of Hampton, having recently closed a very successful singing school, proposes to hold a second term. Miss Bailey, of Portsmouth, has a singing class which meets Wednesday evenings.

A few days ago Mr. Stephen Scammon of Stratham killed a goose of last spring's hatching, which weighed, when dressed, twenty-seven and a half pounds; it measured seven feet and three inches from tip to tip of the wings.

The fine residence and stable of E. S. Hutchins at Saco were burned Friday morning. The high gale and blinding snow storm rendered the work of the firemen very difficult. Loss about $10,000; insured $6000.

Some wood-cutters in Hampton Falls, in cutting down a large tree recently, disturbed a large family of flying squirrels, and after an exciting chase and some bitten fingers managed to capture a pair of the little rodents.

A correspondent of the Exeter News-Letter, writing from South Hampton, says: "On the coldest night of the year a gentleman of this town, having occasion to sit up till after midnight, was summoned to the door by the bell, and found there a woman who asked for shelter. She was admitted, and then called a man whom she had invited to accompany her. They then wanted something to eat and suggested chocolate as their favorite beverage. Having had their supper, as it was now one o'clock, they asked to stay till morning, and the woman was furnished with a lounge, and the man was given a rocking chair. In the morning it was found that the man had driven the woman from the sofa and had taken possession of it himself. Then came breakfast, at which Jerry, the man, drank four cups of coffee, with five lumps of sugar to a cup. Breakfast ended, Jerry asked for money, but the gentleman politely showed them the door and asked them to call again after harvest."

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 135 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. tfebl1

"It seems as if I should cough my head off" is sometimes the impatient exclamation of a sufferer from a severe Cough. Quell the paroxysms with Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar. The relief is immediate and the cure certain. Sold by all Druggists.

AS A RELIABLE REMEDY for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, or any affection of the throat and chest, use, according to directions given on each bottle, Madame Zoder Porter's Cough Balsam. It is always reliable, and the possession of a single bottle may, in case of a sudden attack, prove to be worth fifty times its cost. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

Pomade and cosmetics may be dispensed with, but not so the Fragrant Sozodont; the most wholesome and efficient article for the teeth that the world has ever known.

Its popularity is immense. In the brown stone palace and the cottage, it is alike considered indispensable.

Shattered toys are regenerated with Spalding's Glue.

Commonwealth Consolidated MINING COMPANY

THE Directors of the "COMMONWEALTH CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY," of san Francisco, call attention to the mining property of this Company, situated in the Tuscarora Mining District, Elko County, State of Nevada.

The property adjoins that of the well-known "Grand Prize," and developements thus far made in the shaft and levels of the Commonwealth Consolidated indicate the same vein, and of the same richness, as that found at even depth in sinking the shaft upon the "Grand Prize" now so successfully worked, and paying its regular monthly dividen ds.

The Commonwealth Consolidated Mining Company consists of two distinct properties, known as the "All Alone" and "Veritas" mines, which have been consolidated into the above-named Company; both of these valuable properties have been prospected by shafts, the ledge found to be well-defined, and the ores are proved by assay to be rich in both gold and silver.

The Corporation is represented by one hundred thousand shares of stock, of the par value of one hundred dollars each, and instead of assessing the shares, as is customary in most California mining stocks, the Directors have chosen to set aside 3,000 shares of the capital stock of the Company to be sold, and the proceeds placed in the treasury for a working capital.

This stock will only be issued and sold from time to time, as funds may be required to carry on the work, which is being pushed with energy under the able superintendence of a first-class miner.

The first allotment of shares to be sold for working capital has all been taken.

The Directors now propose to issue the second allotment for the working capital, and the price is placed at Three Dollars per share, with the assurance to the Stockholders that their intention is to enhance the price of each issue from time to time, as the work of development progresses and the value of the property is enhanced thereby, until the requisite amount of working capital is obtained.

The "All Alone" shaft is now sunk to a depth of 70 feet, and a contract is about being closed to run it 200 feet deeper.

Messrs. OTIS & CO., members of the Pacific Stock Exchange, San Francisco, and Messrs. STONE & DOWNER, Boston, have been duly authorized to receive subscriptions as above for the Working Capital Stock.

The Officers and Directors of the Company are principally New England men, and the Board of Directors offer their assurance to the Stockholders that the affairs of the Company will be administered upon a safe and economical basis, and in execution of the management as to the working of the mine and the expenditure of the money is invited and guaranteed at all times.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING
Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

JOHN H. BAILEY,
RICE BLOCK,
16 Market and 1 Ladd Street,

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.
As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.
This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specially restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey
To the taste but death to Grubs and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. ROSE & Co., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Sores, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Tropid Liver, or "Liver Complaint," and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect a speedy cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and bowel complaint, you have Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness," in many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.
The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Multum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these pellets. They are always uncorked and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always to be relied upon. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are seldom ever recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft — under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF

AFFORDED BY

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

IT is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first close gives such evidence of its value in the treatment of Catarrhal affections that confidence is at once felt in its ability to do all that it claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the so cumulative evidence is a point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly feel proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you a line to say that although I have been sceptical of all the nostrums advertised as a radical cure," I have never found anything that promises such relief and ultimate cure as that of SANFORD'S.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to persevere with any until I read the letter of Mr. HENRY WELLS, and can faithfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc.

A Balloon Voyage to the North Pole.

An Englishman has lately been illustrating his ideas of a balloon voyage to the north pole in the London Graphic. His plan proposes three balloons substantially connected together, capable of carrying six men, besides three tons' weight of gear, boat cars, stores, provisions, tents, sledges, dogs, compressed gas and ballast. The triangular framework connecting the balloons would be fitted with ropes, so that the occupants could go from one balloon to another in the same manner as sailors lie out upon the yards of a ship, and the balloons would be equipoised by means of bags of ballast suspended from this framework, and hauled to the required position by ropes. Trail ropes would be attached to the balloons, so as to prevent their ascent above a certain height (about 500 feet,) at which elevation they would be balanced in the air, the spare ends of the ropes trailing over the ice. The boat cars would be housed in for warmth, and telegraphic communication kept up with the ships by means of a wire uncoiled from a large wheel as the balloons moved onward. This wire, being marked at every five miles, would also serve to keep a record of the distance traversed. Commander Cheyne proposes that the balloon should start about the end of May, on the curve of a wind circle, of known diameter, ascertained approximately by meteorological observations conducted on board the vessel, and at two observatories some thirty miles distant in opposite directions. It is estimated that, with a knowledge of diameter of the wind circle, and the known distance from the Pole, the balloons could be landed within at least twenty miles of the long wished-for goal. There the balloons would be securely moored; and when the necessary observations at the Pole had been carried out, a return wind would be secured for their return, the requisite full inflation having been made by means of the surplus gas, taken out in a compressed condition. The returning voyagers would arrest their course to the southward on the parallel of latitude on which they left their ship, and the remainder of their journey, east or west, would be performed by means of the dogs and sledges conveyed in the balloons.

—An important personage has recently died in Siam in the shape of one of the King's white elephants, and according to custom it was buried with the highest funeral honors. One hundred Buddhist priests officiated at the ceremony, and the body was borne to its last resting place accompanied by a procession of thirty state barges.

—In a street car in Philadelphia, an old gentleman was seated in one corner and the car was full. A bevy of fair ones, of all ages and weights swarmed in, and there were no seats. Whereupon the gallant old gentleman shouted aloud: "Ladies, I shall be most happy to give my seat to any one of you who is over thirty-two years of age." All remained standing.

Democracy and "Dishonest Money."

The Boston Post thus manages to get in a rap at Ben Butler, and also at the same time one at its own party:

The Massachusetts republican, Butler, easily takes the leadership of the new league of silver inflationists; but we must protest against his impudence in boasting of how he did things "in the old democratic times." Butler and democracy have very little in common in these days, and his defection from the doctrines of the "old times" is more marked in nothing else than in his advocacy of dishonest money.

If Butler's "advocacy of dishonest money" shows that he and democracy "have very little in common in these days," then the democratic party and democracy "have very little in common," also, for the vote in Congress on the swindling resolution introduced by the demagogue Matthews shows that four-fifths of the democrats there are for anything rather than honest money. And even in New Hampshire, whose Congressional delegation is solid against repudiation and national dishonor, the democratic leaders in their State convention dared not utter a whisper against inflation or "dishonest money." They could boldly demand the repeal of the State prohibitory liquor law, and promulgate the usual twaddle about republican misdeeds, but their financial planks might be dropped on the toes of Dan Voorhees or Bonanza Jones without hurting the corns of either.

White League Justice.

Alluding to the threatened attack upon Sherman and Stoughton by the White League of Louisiana, under the leadership of the Confederate General Ogden, the chief of the organization, whose success in capturing the State of Louisiana and its courts seems to have given him an idea that he can capture the United States with his White League just as easily, the Providence Journal says:

Secretary Sherman is not a good man to bulldoze, and if the White League proceed to the length of indicting him, then we shall see what we shall see. We have no doubt that, if he were tried before the Court now sitting in Louisiana, for the conviction of Anderson, he would be "railroaded" to the penitentiary with a speed and certainty discounting any legal proceedings since the time of Jaffreys, but that is not likely to be. The sort of machinery that will work for the citizen of a State will not always accomplish its purpose for he who is not enmeshed within its limits, and before Secretary Sherman is taken to New Orleans to be tried by a packed jury, there are several other tribunals which will want to know the reason why. Yet there is no reason why Jedwood justice should be administered upon Wells and Anderson, Kenner and Cassanave, and not upon Sherman and Stoughton. The threatened attack upon Secretary Sherman only makes more plain the injustice being done to the others, which cannot be obscured by their possible guilt or their helpless condition. And this includes the broader question that some method should be organized for a change of venue from a State, and for the trial of political criminals before a non-political tribunal. If not, the trial of the members of the Returning Board is but the beginning of a course that threatens ostracism to any element opposed to the dominant faction at the South, and which will perpetuate a political bigotry as injurious as it is exclusive.

A Specimen "Reformer."

The great democratic "reform" party seems to be having a very hard time of it to find enough honest men to fill even the few offices they control. Their first doorkeeper of the House of Representatives, Fitzhugh, the "biger man than old Grant," was too big for his place; the next one, Patterson, was not even spoken of for a re-election; and now the present doorkeeper, Polk, is charged by some of his own party friends with corrupt practises, and will probably be removed. He is accused of retaining sixty-three men on the rolls in excess of the law, that he is interested in a great many claims and much legislation before Congress, and generally is an associate of lobbyists and corrupt schemers about the Capitol. These are grave charges, and an investigation may prove as fruitful as the gleaning in old fields contemplated by the limitless "Glover resolution" of the House.

The Wreck of the Metropolis.

Further particulars of the loss of the Metropolis are given, but add little to what was known on Saturday. The cause of the disaster was the weakness of the vessel, her stern-post having started badly in the storm, making a leak that defied the efforts of those on board to stop, though the chief engineer, carpenter and several others, worked at it for hours in water up to their waists. There seems to be no good ground for blaming the life-saving-service men for lack of endeavor, the wreck having occurred halfway between the two stations nearest, they being thirteen miles apart. There are revolting tales of the deeds of human ghouls who robbed the dead bodies thrown on the beach.

A despatch of Sunday says: "Grave fears are entertained at Philadelphia for the safety of the Mercedita, sister ship to the Metropolis. Though she sailed January 2d she has not yet been heard from at Para, with which place there is telegraphic communication. It is said that she stopped for coal at Barbadoes about a week after leaving Philadelphia, and has not since been heard from. She had 250 passengers, and eleven hundred tons of railroad material." On the other side, the Messrs. Collins, who despatched her, say there need be no anxiety regarding the Mercedita. She could not have reached the mouth of the Amazon under three weeks, and the nearest telegraph station is Pernambuco, at six hundred miles distance, with no regular communication between the two points.

The Eastern War.

Unless the other Great Powers of Europe interfere there is peace between Russia and Turkey. The bases of peace are accepted by the Porte and the terms of an armistice signed. An order suspending hostilities has been despatched forthwith to all corps and detachments, and also to the army in Asia Minor. The following are the conditions of the protocol:

1st, The erection of Bulgaria into a principality.

2d, A war indemnity or territory in compensation.

4th, Reforms in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

5th, An ulterior understanding between the Sultan and the Czar regarding the Dardanelles.

6th, The evacuation of the Danubian fortresses and Erzeroum.

In consequent of the armistice the Turkish garrison at Widdin has been ordered, from Constantinople, to surrender their arms, after which they will be quartered on the neighboring villages.

It is announced from Vienna that all the powers have accepted Count Andrassy's proposal for a conference, which will meet in Vienna.

Russia has formally acquainted Roumania of her intention to annex Bessarabia, giving the Dobrudscha in exchange. Roumania has addressed a note to the powers, claiming the right, as a belligerent, to participate in the conference.

Pesth papers announce that the Austrian army corps are mobilized and concentrated at Verzetz.

Ten thousand Greek troops and many thousands of irregulars have crossed the frontier into Thessaly; but the Greek government notifies the Porte that this is not making war, but is only intended to protect the Thessalian Greeks in case of a Turkish uprising.

A London special says it is rumored that all England's efforts will be directed to preventing the Turkish fleet from falling into the hands of Russia; that the Turkish fleet has been ordered to Greece; that as soon as that fleet leaves the Dardanelles it will be seized by British ironclad and convoyed to Malta.

An Old Traitor.

One of the rebel organs of the South calls William Lloyd Garrison an old traitor, and says he ought to be hung. When unhung traitors who fought for four years to destroy the Union talk that way about any northern man who dares to disagree with them, it puts one in mind of the good old times when the South Carolina slave-drivers cracked their whips in Congress and on the steps of Boston Court House. And judging from appearances it won't be so very long before we shall have those good old times back again. Alluding to this suggestion of a southern paper that Mr. Garrison should be hung, the Philadelphia Bulletin says: "It is difficult to say with certainty what may not happen in a country the government of which is now controlled by a political party which once strove to destroy it; but we have a very strong notion that when hanging for treason begins in this country Mr. Garrison will not be the first victim. If such a policy should be suddenly introduced, it would vacate about three-fourths of the democratic seats in Congress and rob the democratic party of its most popular leaders."

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 2d.

It would appear absurd and altogether ridiculous for the distinguished gentlemen who formed the "Louisiana Commission" of last March to pay the slightest attention to the "rantings" of the (in their estimation) "insignificant Bill Chandler;" still a good many here affect to believe that not one of them would feel slighted or overlooked if assured that he (Chandler) had reconsidered his determination to critically review the means they found so efficacious in disorganizing the Packard Legislature, and to hold up to public scrutiny the equities of a decision by which Packard's election was held invalid while that of Mr. Hayes admitted of no question, though the latter's alleged majority was less by nearly one thousand than Mr. Packard's. But Mr. Chandler seems to contemplate no such withdrawal from a controversy that appears to yield him such a degree of satisfaction; and Maj. Burke's wholly irrelevent reply to the categorical interrogatories of Mr. Chandler, has strengthened rather than weakened the belief that there was a good deal of plotting and counter-plotting at the time of the electoral count, many of Tilden's nominal friends in the South preferring Mr. Hayes, manacled and muzzled, rather than their own candidate under obligations to the proverbially tricky New York politicians. Every telegram from New Orleans relative to the progress of the trial of the Louisiana Returning Board, is awaited with great interest certainly, not unmixed with anxiety and many misgivings, perhaps, by some in high places.

The whiskey and railroad lobbies have suffered disastrous defeats during the past few days. Whether well founded or otherwise, the feeling was sufficiently general among members of Congress that a reduction of the whiskey tax was concealed in the proposition to extend the time of its withdrawal from bond till July 1st, 1878, to secure its defeat by the adoption of Foster's substitute, declaring any reduction inexpedient.

The Southern Pacific lobby is only one of many seeking to make its way into the Treasury vaults. Every one of them is represented by an adroit head centre, surrounded by his assistants, graded and paid, it is said, according to ability, the fees being generally contingent on the degree of success of each individual worker. It will be remembered that in 1875 Holman forced the House to a vote on his anti-subsidy resolution, only thirty-three out of the whole number of the Representatives present declining to commit themselves. Baker, of Indiana, pressed to vote a similar resolution on Tuesday; and though he was only able to secure a little more than a two-thirds majority, its adoption has created the wildest panic among members of the "Third House." The coup de grace was given in the vote excluding from the floor of the House, hereafter, every one not privileged to go there. Even ex-members of Congress are required to affirm that they have no interest in pending claims, before being allowed to enter. The abuse had grown to be of great magnitude, a score of men too lazy to earn an honest living by honest labor, crowding the Representatives' Chamber in engineering the part of the dirty work assigned to them, and upon the success of which depended their means of procuring the bare necessaries of life; however, the situation has been relieved of some of its terrors by the establishment of the penny eating-house.

Francis Murphy, temperance reformer, has now been here nearly a week. His meetings are well attended, but he has not as warm a reception, nor can he boast as many signers of the pledge, as in other places. The truth seems to be that, frightened by the unprecedented excesses of the Christmas season, the people of Washington took reform under their own control and had pretty thoroughly worked the field before Murphy's arrival.

KNOX.

News and Notes.

Gen. Miles believes Sitting Bull is back on United States soil, and is making arrangements to assault and batter him.

A Miss McKee, of Chicago, some time ago shot and killed an officer who was levying on her property to satisfy a debt, and a jury last week found her "not guilty" of manslaughter in so doing.

A telegram dated Shanghai, China, Feb. 3d, announces that an asylum for women and children, at the city of Tien-Tsin, burned. Over two thousand persons perished in the fire.

Harry Genet, of Tammany-Tweed Ring infamy, surrendered himself in New York on Monday, and gave bail in $25,000 for his appearance.

The captain of schooner Florence Rogers, at New York, reports that he not long since passed Roccas reef, to the eastward of Cape St. Roque; he found no beacon on the reef, but did see five wrecks on Sandy island, one of them being a thousand-ton ship evidently not long beached.

Brig C. C. Overton, Capt. Harry Allen, was wrecked near Ocracoke Inlet on Saturday, and all hands lost. The New York pilot boat Caprice, formerly a Boston yacht, was thrown on her beam ends and filled, Thursday; lost her masts, righted, and was pumped out; Friday morning the crew were taken off by another vessel; one man was drowned when the schooner was knocked over.

Serious charges are made by American fishing vessels which went to Fortune Bay, Newfoundland, to get frozen herring for bait, against the native fishermen, who banded together and drove off the schooners, destroying their seines and stealing their boats. Only one schooner managed to get a cargo, though the herring were plentiful; the skipper of that schooner had plenty of revolvers on board and armed all his men, and when the Newfoundlanders approached to steal his seine promised to blow out the brains of the first man that touched it. All the other schooners in the fleet—fourteen first-class vessels—had to leave without cargoes. The right to take herring for bait in the Provincial bays is one of the privileges guaranteed our fishermen by the treaty of Washington.

Mr. Charles Church, a juryman, who has recently been sitting upon the case of suit against the city of Bangor for damages for injuries resulting from a fall on an icy sidewalk, thought he would go and see the place where the plaintiff fell. He went and fell too and broke his arm.

Edward Newman, of New York, shot the top of his head off, Saturday, because his wife, an actress, refused to live with him.

At Lynn, Saturday, C. L. Fessenden, a Crispin "spotter," was fined for threatening a shoemaker who had gone to work. He was also required to give bonds to keep the peace.

The almshouse at Freeport, Me., was burned Saturday, with its contents. Loss not stated. All the inmates, twenty in number, were rescued save two, an aged couple, who perished in the flames.

The Hinkley Locomotive Works have suspended. A meeting of the creditors was held Saturday, and a statement was made showing that the liabilities were about $300,000, about half of the paper being held by Boston banks. The property of the company is assessed for $350,000. The sum of $50,000 is required to tide over the existing troubles, and a committee was appointed to consider what course to pursue.

The iron roof of the furnace house of the New England Glass Manufactory, at East Cambridge, Mass., fell in on Sunday, doing great damage. It was one hundred feet long and ninety wide, and cost $18,000. No person was hurt.

The Washington Post publishes an account of an interview between Charles Foster and a Post reporter, which (if true) shows that Wm. E. Chandler had far more grounds for the charges contained in his famous letter than has been generally believed. It also shows that Major Burke is no better than he should be, even if he is an ex-rebel and a Louisiana White Leaguer.

Ships Waterloo and Pekin, the former from Quebec and the latter from New York, and both bound for England, are supposed to have collided at sea, and gone down with all on board. A large quantity of wreck stuff answering to such as would come from the two vessels, has been passed at a point where the courses of the two ships would meet, and both are overdue.

J. F. King, alias Stokley, fatally shot his half-sister, Mrs. Kilpatrick, in Philadelphia on Thursday.

The Superintendent of Streets in Boston had hard work to get men to work at shovelling snow for a dollar a day on Friday and Saturday, notwithstanding the large number of the unemployed, and the extravagant mottoes borne in their procession a fortnight ago.

Mr. Nordhoff, the Washington correspondent of the New York Herald, says that "all rumors that the President will not veto the Bland bill if it should be sent to him are false. It is the belief in administration circles that the Bland bill will pass, will be vetoed and will not be passed over the veto."

A Card.

THE UNDERSIGNED take this method of expressing their gratitude and returning their heartfelt thanks to Col. Frank W. THE CITY.

Boatswain Charles E. Hawkins is ordered to duty at the Naval Academy.

The Concord train was three-quarters of an hour late Monday evening, by reason of delay on the Passumpsic Railroad.

By a change in mail time, by which a mail car leaves New York at five o'clock in the morning, the New York papers now arrive in this city on the evening of the day of publication.

Manager Stetson of the Globe Theatre, Boston, has engaged Music Hall for next Saturday evening. The "Octoroon," in which Mr. James S. Maffitt and other well-known talent take part, is to be the play.

The schooner Belle Brown, which recently arrived at this port with a cargo of salt for E. F. Sise & Co., has been chartered by V. Doane, Jr., to load fish for New York, and has hauled down to Doane's wharf.

The High School Library has received another gift of new books from James T. Fields, Esq.,—fifty-six of them, this time. These books are well selected and handsomely bound, and make a valuable addition to the library.

Messrs. Smart and Trefethen, of Dover, propose to at once build a steamer forty feet long, to be used for up river towing, and for pleasure parties. The gentlemen named were the former owners (and, we believe, the builders,) of the pretty little steam-launch "Mollie," now owned by O. & C. Laighton.

In the article about the Light Artillery, in Monday's CHRONICLE, Capt. Geo. W. Towle was put down as having commanded the company from 1840 to '44; it should have read from 1840 to 1855,—quite a difference. Capt. Towle was in command at the time of the dedication of Bunker Hill monument in 1843, when the Light Artillery had the right of the procession—and a four and a half hours' march through muddy streets on a hot day.

The American people are fast learning that poor cooking does not pay, and are demanding better cooked food. This has directed our inventors to the production of improved culinary apparatus of all kinds. One of the most successful articles lately produced in this line is the Standard Broiler for cooking beefsteak, etc., a simple, common-sense article that any cook will understand at first sight. It can be used over either a coal or wood fire, and broils steak so nicely and quickly that every one who sees it tried, wants one.

Mr. Tenney, the artist, has been equally successful in a portrait of the late Admiral Bailey, both in regard to likeness and as a work of art, as in those of our late fellow-citizens, Messrs. Jonathan Tredick and Richard Jenness, with others of both sexes that preceded it from his brush. He has now in hand a portrait of one of our prominent business men, that will be as readily recognized at the first glance when completed, "speaking likenesses," to use a common expression, truly, as all his pictures are. There are other gentlemen about town, and ladies, too, who cannot do better than make him the instrument of letting those who are to follow them in after time see what good-looking people they were in their day and generation.

On Saturday evening another accident occurred on the Eastern Railroad at the very spot where a similar one took place on the day previous. It seems that two engines, with a snow-plow, engaged in clearing the track, were thrown from the track under Floyd's bridge at Revere, Mass., completely blocking the track and delaying the progress of trains for some time. The bridge under which the engines were derailed spans a cut some 200 or 300 yards in length and about twenty-five or thirty feet in depth, and is situated about half a mile eastward of the Revere station. Fortunately no persons were seriously injured, although the engineers and firemen were very much shaken up by the rough manner in which they were thrown from the engines. The damage, which was principally to the forward engine, was slight.

Mr. R. C. Hale has been appointed mail route agent on the Eastern Railroad.

The Chicago Theatre Company takes a long look ahead, having engaged Music Hall for a night in the first week of September next.

The last dance of the course of Assemblies at Mechanics' Hall comes off this evening. Something new in the way of presents will be distributed.

There was a collision between two sleighs on Middle street, Monday afternoon, one of the sleighs being smashed to pieces, and two young ladies who were in it thrown out but not injured.

About a thousand people attended the Reform Club meeting at Music Hall on Sunday evening, to hear Gen. Natt Head and Col. Wm. R. Patten. The club realized enough from the admission fees to pay expenses and clear off their debt, and have a few dollars left in the treasury.

The tickets for the grand concert this evening in Music Hall have gone off well, and a large audience will probably be on hand at this "musical dedication." The Nowell brothers will be assisted by Messrs. Carl Pfeuger, Wulf Fries and Theodore Castelhun, and Miss Lillian Bailey. The Boston Traveller says Miss Bailey's voice "is of the sweetest, purest quality, and her delivery very beautiful," and that "she is a young, a handsome, and an able singer." See advt. for particulars.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

An adjourned term of this Court was held at Exeter on Monday. The jurors returned were as follows:

Amos H. Noyes, Washington B. Ware, (foreman,) Atkinson; Richard B. Bartlett, Enoch P. Bartlett, Kingston; Joseph F. Kimball, Albion W. Bailey, East Kingston; George O. Paul, Henry T. Taylor, South Newmarket; Horace Adams, Thomas M. Arnold, Hampstead; J. C. A. Wingate, Chas. W. Scott, Stratham; Thos. C. Folsom, Joshua Wiggin, Epping; John H. Johnson, Henry J. Perkins, Hampton.

The case of Charles W. Woodman, assignee of Adna B. Lane, vs. Gardner Towle, was begun, to recover the sum of $225 paid to Towle by Lane in contemplation of bankruptcy. Lane was a dealer in hay, etc., which he sent to Boston. He gave two notes to Mr. Lamprey, which were sold to Mr. Towle; in the summer of 1875 Towle heard that Lane was insolvent, and made him pay one of the notes and give security for the balance. In the fall Lane failed, and on the 3d of November he paid defendant $200, and soon after filed his declaration in bankruptcy, and it was claimed that at the time of payment both Lane and Towle knew that Lane was insolvent. [A jury having been empanelled, the remaining jurors were discharged, this being the only case for trial.] The ground of recovery was, that if Lane, being insolvent, made the payment to a creditor with a view to give such creditor a preference, and in fraud of the bankrupt act, the sum can now be recovered. The payment was made twenty-one days before adjudication of bankruptcy. The case was given to the jury at four o'clock in the afternoon, and in three-quarters of an hour returned they a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, assessing damages in the sum of $255.38. Copeland for the assignee; Leavitt for the defendant.

The Court then adjourned without day.

THE VICINITY.

The dwelling of Rufus Littlefield, stable and contents, in Kennebunk, were burned on Monday.

The trial term of the Supreme Court for the county of Strafford begins to-day at Dover, before Judge Isaac W. Smith.

Biddeford and Saco contain over a quarter of all the scholars in York county, and pay over three-eighths of the State tax of the county.

Mr. G. Harrison Jenness, of Rye, has been appointed engrossing clerk of the House of Representatives at Washington, and has entered upon the duties of that office.

During the gale of Friday an empty freight car, standing on a side track at Gonic, was started by the wind, and driven over a patent switch and a mile down the main line of the Rochester and Nashua Railroad. The five o'clock freight train from Rochester struck it and landed it on the engine. The freight engine lost cab and smoke-stack, and yet the fireman and engineer escaped without injury.

—The Hooper, the rival of the Great Eastern, is an iron steamer between 360 and 370 feet long, 60 feet across, depth of hold about 40 feet, flat bottomed, has large, iron storage cylinders of great depth and width, and is able to carry a dead weight of cargo of from 6000 to 7000 tons.

"Dollar Grabbers."

ROCKPORT, MASS., April 2, 1877.

Mr. Editor: Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I now tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" makers (mere dollar grabbers) would be glad if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 26 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "ashes," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would sniff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seven-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package, and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second, nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose.

Yours truly, S. D. KEMICK.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to rel eve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 126 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. tfeb13

In these trying times, it is necessary to make money, and there is no surer or quicker method than to invest a few hundred dollars in stock speculation. Alex. AS A RELIABLE REMEDY for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, or any affection of the throat and chest, use, according to directions given on each bottle, Madame Zadoc Porter's Cough Balsam. It is always reliable, and the possession of a single bottle may, in case of a sudden attack, prove to be worth fifty times its cost. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

Its popularity is immense. In the brown stone palace and the cottage, it is alike considered indispensable.

New Hampshire Items.

The Rockingham Newspaper, is the name of a new weekly paper just started in Exeter, "in behalf of republican principles."

Thomas Man of Manchester was found dead in bed Saturday morning. He had been suffering from delirium tremens several days. His mother resides in Lynn.

It seems to be admitted on all hands that a right construction of the law gives the election of the next Senator to the Legislature to be chosen in March, instead of the one to be elected in November.

A new post-office has been established at South Kingston, in Rockingham county; Mr. George F. Quimby is postmaster.

The Senate committee on finance has agreed to report favorably the amendment offered by Rollins of New Hampshire to the bill introduced by Senator Davis of Illinois for the relief of insolvent savings banks. It provides that any savings of a bank, recognized as such by the laws of its State, having no capital stock, and receiving mercantile deposits on which no interest is paid, and which are invested for the sole benefit of depositors, on which a lawful average tax has been paid, shall be exempt from further taxation. This amendment does not, however, exempt from taxation deposits which shall thereafter be made.

Commonwealth Consolidated MINING COMPANY

THE Directors of the "COMMONWEALTH CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY," of San Francisco, call attention to the mining property of this Company, situated in the Tuscarora Mining District, Elko County, State of Nevada.

The property adjoins that of the well-known "Grand Prize," and developments thus far made in the shaft and levels of the Commonwealth Consolidated indicate the same vein, and of the same richness, as that found at even depth in sinking the shaft upon the "Grand Prize" now so successfully worked, and paying its regular monthly dividends.

The Commonwealth Consolidated Mining Company consists of two distinct properties, known as the "All Alone" and "Veritas" mines, which have been consolidated into the above-named Company; both of these valuable properties have been prospected by shafts, the ledge found to be well-defined, and the ores are proved by assay to be rich in both gold and silver.

The Corporation is represented by one hundred thousand shares of stock, of the par value of one hundred dollars each, and instead of assessing the shares, as is customary in most California mining stocks, the Directors have chosen to set aside 25,000 shares of the capital stock of the Company to be sold, and the proceeds placed in the treasury for a working capital.

This stock will only be issued and sold from time to time, as funds may be required to carry on the work, which is being pushed with energy under the able superintendence of a first-class miner.

The first allotment of shares to be sold for working capital has all been taken.

The Directors now propose to issue the second allotment for the working capital, and the price is placed at Three Dollars per share, with the assurance to the Stockholders that their intention is to enhance the price of each issue from time to time, as the work of development progresses and the value of the property is enhanced thereby, until the requisite amount of working capital is obtained.

The "All Alone" shaft is now sunk to a depth of 78 feet, and a contract is about being closed to run it 200 feet deeper.

Messrs. OTIS & CO., members of the Pacific Stock Exchange, San Francisco, and Messrs. STONE & DOWNER, Boston, have been duly authorized to receive subscriptions as above for the Working Capital Stock.

The Officers and Directors of the Company are principally New England men, and the Board of Directors offer incontrovertible assurance to the Stockholders that the affairs of the Company will be administered upon a safe and economical basis, and an examination of the management as to the working of the mine and the expenditure of the money is invited and guaranteed at all times.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Fever, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, and as Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

JOHN H. BAILEY,
RICE BLOCK,
16 Market and 1 Ladd Street,

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.

The wonder of medical science—half horse and half man, the fabled Centaurs, left their impress upon the history of the world.

The Centaur Liniments, for man and beast, are not less remarkable in their way. They have been before the public only six years, but in that time they have performed more wonderful works, have alleviated more pains and cured more bed-ridden cripples than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Salves and Ointments in existence. Their immense and rapidly-increasing sale is indisputable evidence of the estimation in which they are held. They are already used in many of the hospitals of this country and Europe, and are prescribed by the best physicians and veterinary surgeons. Why should they not be? They have never failed to ameliorate suffering when cures from loss of bone or muscle are impossible. They contain Carbolic, Witch Hazel, Rock Oil, Arnica and ingredients which must stimulate the fluids, soften the sinews and penetrate to the bone. We have never yet heard of the first failure to benefit, even in stubborn cases of Rheumatism, Sciatica, and Neuralgia, while, for Flesh Wounds, Bites, Frosted Limbs, Burns, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., they are unrivalled. What the White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is for horses and animals. We will guarantee that one dollar expended for Centaur Liniment will perform more and speedier results than can be obtained for five or twenty dollars from any physician. We have made the treatment of flesh, bone and muscle ailments a specialty. We know that we have preparations which do what they are recommended to do. They are not curealls—they will not mend a broken leg, but they will alleviate pain and cure where any human agency can cure. Be sure and inquire for the Centaur Liniments and give them a fair trial.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Mothers,

There is the harmless and certain remedy for your children. CASTORIA is the result of twenty years' experiments by the celebrated Sam'l Pitcher, M.D.

It is a vegetable preparation, as effective as Castor Oil, but perfectly pleasant to the taste. It can be taken by the youngest infant, and neither gags nor gripes. Dr. A. J. Green, of Royston, Indiana, says of it:

SIRS—I have tried the CASTORIA, and can speak highly of its merits. It will do away with Castor Oil. It is pleasant and harmless, and is wonderfully efficacious as an aperient and laxative. It is the very thing.

The CASTORIA destroys worms, regulates the Stomach, cures Wind Colic, and permits of natural healthy sleep. It is very efficacious in Croup, and for Teething Children. Honey is not pleasanter to the taste, and Castor Oil is not so certain in its effects. It costs but 50 cents in large bottles.

J. B. ROSE & CO., New York.

The latest, greatest, and most reliable remedy ever put together by medical science for Rheumatism, Wounds, Swellings, Burns, Caked Breasts, etc., is the Centaur Liniment. There are two kinds. What the White Liniment is for the human family, the stronger kind, which is yellow in color, is for spavined, lame, and strained horses and animals. Their effects are wonderful.

Mothers who have weak and irritable children, can secure health for the children and rest for themselves, by using Dr. Pitcher's Castoria. It contains no morphine or any thing injurious. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and is certain to cure Wind Colic, regulate the bowels, and expel worms. For Teething children, there is nothing like Castoria. Gmay1

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specific in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An article which commends super scile a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic,
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Bilious and Liver Complaint, or "Liver Complaint," and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have yellow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternating with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P. P. P. P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Bullman in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Foul Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Costiveness, Piles, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them follow it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thin branchy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thicken; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF

AFFORDED BY

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

IT is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of its value in the treatment of Catarrhal affection, that confidence is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly feel proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R. I.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you a line to say that although I have been sceptical of all the nostrums advertised as "radical cures," I have never found anything that promises such relief and ultimate cure as that of SANFORD'S.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could be induced to persevere with any remedy. I read the letter of Mr. HENRY WELLS, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles, I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc. THEO. P. BOGERT.

MIRANDA'S ELOPEMENT.

I am an old man now. Folks used to be more romantic when I was young. They used to fight duels instead of going to law, and they used to elope instead of waiting and watching until they got sick of waiting, or giving up and marrying to suit the old folks. It wasn't so curious about Miranda Bates eloping, but the things that came of it were funny. You see, Grandfather Bates wouldn't have anything to say to Jeremiah Jones when he asked him whether or no he couldn't have Miranda. And so she just packed up her bundle, and he was to have the carriage waiting at the gate at twelve o'clock to carry her off to the parson's. Well, she was all packed up, and ready in a big cloak and hood, and was creeping down stairs when she perceived another person stealing down before her. It was her grandmother, old Mrs. Bates, going out to pick herbs. Some herbs which folks knew in those days, wouldn't do any good as medicine if they weren't picked at midnight. So that was her idea; but, of course, Miranda was scared back, and hid behind the door, and old Mrs. Bates went pottering about looking for her herbs, and up drove the carriage. She didn't hear it; she was as deaf as a post; but it so happened old Grandfather Bates did, and up went his window.

"Who is there?" bellowed he, and Jeremiah Jones, scared to death, and taking old Mrs. Bates for Miranda, he jumped out, caught her by the waist, crammed her into the carriage and was driven away like mad.

Miranda saw it all, and so did Bates. Miranda shrieked, old Bates bellowed; down stairs he rushed and met Miranda coming up.

"Who was at the gate?" he yelled.

Now Mrs. Bates had been very pretty, and old Mr. Bates had been very jealous, and it all came back. He stormed and swore and got his pistols, and wouldn't listen to a word that Miranda said, and mounted his horse and rode after the carriage. Inside it was pitch dark, and old Mrs. Bates was as deaf as a post, and thought robbers had carried her off. Jeremiah kept her wrapped in her cloak, and called her his sweetest, and his duck and dove, and all the while she thought he was threatening to kill her, and didn't dare to speak, but only sobbed and cried; and when they got out on the road apiece, clatter, clatter, came a horse's heels behind them, and—

"Stop!" yelled old Grandfather Bates.

"Stop! I demand that lady."

Jeremiah looked out of the window.

"Never!" said he.

"We'll see," cried old Bates, and fired at him.

The ball missed him.

"Drive faster," said Jeremiah to the coachman. Then he pressed old Mrs. Bates to his heart.

"Don't weep, Miranda," said he. "He shall not take you from me. Oh, that it were only daylight, that I might see your face."

"I hain't got any money with me," sobbed the old lady, but he didn't hear her. On they drove faster, and after them rode the old man, faster and faster, too. At last, on the high road, in a lonely place, with nobody near and the parson's house miles away, off came one of the carriage wheels, over went the carriage, all on one side, and there was an end of the running away. As soon as he found there was no help for it, Jeremiah jumped out of the carriage, shut the door on poor Grandmother Bates, and stood out in the road with a pistol in his hand, ready to meet old Bates. Up came the old gentleman more furious than ever, and jumped down from his horse, and stood facing him with his pistol.

"Villain!" cried, he, "I demand that lady."

"Sir," replied Jeremiah, "she is mine. I respect you, but I will never yield."

"Wait a moment. Does she go with you of her own free will? Don't dare to lie!"

"Yes, sir, of her free will and choice," replied Jeremiah. "Do you think me a highwayman, to carry off a lady against her wish?"

And now they were yelling so loudly that even deaf old Grandmother Bates, who had managed to get the window down, heard every word. Out came her head over the door. The hood of the cloak had fallen off, and under it was her cap. I don't know what the moon had been doing before, but now she shone bright and clear, and everything was as plain to be seen as at noonday. Out came the old lady's head in the moonlight.

"That's a dreadful falsehood," said she. "I did not come with him of my own will. He picked me up and carried me off while I was picking herbs in the garden for the lotion for your rheumatism, squire. I've been screaming all the way, and he's been kissing me, the wretch. To think this should have happened to me at my age, when I've been so properly conducted all my life!"

"Lord have mercy on us!" says Jeremiah. "Is that you, Madam Bates?"

He flew to the carriage door and opened it.

"Sir," he said to the Squire, "I am willing to meet you wherever you please. You have the right to challenge me. I have insulted you; I have insulted this lady, but unintentionally—unintentionally, sir. I beg ten thousand pardons. I believed that I had carried off your granddaughter, Miss Miranda, who had promised to be my wife."

And just then up rattled a little gig, driven by Peleg, the hired man, with Miranda sitting in it.

"Oh, thank heaven!" she cried, "no one is killed. Oh, dear grandma—oh, dear grandpa, forgive me. Jeremiah—Mr. Jones—I trust you have explained all?"

"Madam, I have," said Jeremiah, bowing low.

Now it seemed to the young folks that the end of all things had come, but it was just the happy turning point. The old gentleman liked a joke, and here was a good one; and the old lady was mightily pleased with being taken for a girl of eighteen.

"Husband," she said, tucking her hand under his arm, "we were young ourselves once, and you know you would have run off with me if you could not have had me otherwise."

"So I would, indeed," said the old squire. "You were twice as pretty as Miranda then, in those days."

"Well, perhaps I was," said the old lady. "But now, my dear, to please me, let Mr. Jones know that you no longer refuse your consent to his marriage with Miranda."

And with that the old man offered his hand to Jeremiah, and there was a wedding before Christmas day.

FOR SENATOR,

EMMONS B. PHILBRICK,

Of Rye.

FOR COUNTY OFFICERS.

Register of Deeds,

GEORGE E. WESTON, of Windham.

County Treasurer,

GEORGE E. LANE, of Exeter.

County Commissioner,

FRANK P. CRAM, of Hampton Falls.

The Eastern War.

According to their official reports the total Russian loss to the end of last month is 89,304 killed and wounded. Add to this the Turks killed and the women, children, and non-combatants massacred, and the sum total represents a great deal of misery.

Turkey has a new ministry.

Russia is negotiating for the surrender of the Turkish fleet.

Erzeroum has been surrendered to the Russians, probably as one of the conditions of the armistice.

The invading Greeks have captured Domoco at the point of the bayonet, losing 150 men; 1300 Turkish troops were taken prisoners. The Beys of Epirus have submitted to Greece. Five Turkish men-of-war left the Dardenelles on Sunday, for the Greek coast.

All the nations of Europe seem disposed to get into a diplomatic wrangle over the carving-up of Turkey; each one wants a leg, a wing and a piece of the breast, with a slice of the dark meat and most of the stuffing.

Congress.

If the Senate returns the Bland bill to the House amended, so as to require another vote, three of the Ohio men who voted for it originally have announced their purpose to vote against it.

The sub-committee of the House committee on elections, having charge of the Massachusetts contested election case of Dean vs. Field, the sitting member, made a report to the full committee, in favor of retaining Field in his seat. The sub-committee were divided as follows: Chandler, (democrat,) and Hiscock, (republican,) in favor of Field, and Springer in favor of Dean.

A vote taken in the House on Monday shows a very large majority in favor of an income-tax. Such a tax is as just as it is unpopular with those who have to pay it, which is saying a great deal; but no income-tax bill will ever pass the Senate.

News and Notes.

The Crispin strike at Marlboro,' Mass., has assumed threatening proportions. The strikers are getting desperate, and an outbreak of lawless violence is feared.

The Demerara Charley Ross turns out to be like all the other Charlie Rosses, not Charlie Ross at all.

A recent wedding at Williamsport, Pa., had a gloom cast over it by the discovery that, through some unaccountable mistake, the bridesmaid had been married instead of the intended bride.

The herring fishing of the Bay of Fundy has been very successful this season, and is unusually prolonged.

Courtenay and Morris, the oarsmen, have made a match to row a three-mile race for $1000 a side.

Harry Shrack, of Philadelphia, recently died stone dead and then came to life again. His past life is one continued record of fraud and imposture, which throws a shadow of doubt over the late "miracle." A Roman Catholic priest at Mauch Chunk, Pa., announces to the world that he called Miss Amelia Greth from death to life by miraculous means; the Catholic Archbishop Wood does not consider Father Heinsh's conduct as reflecting credit on himself or his office as a priest, and has ordered a rigid investigation of the "miracle." The priest is undoubtedly a fraud, but the archbishop is not a fool.

There are about seventy thousand claims for pensions awaiting the action of the Pension Bureau at Washington. The business of the office is so much in arrears now that a case cannot be reached in regular order until at least sixteen months after the papers are filed, and the number of claims awaiting action is constantly increasing. Two years ago, because of the demand for economy, the number of clerks in the Surgeon General's office was reduced to thirty-four, by act of Congress. Because of the delays in the pension office there is much suffering by men justly entitled to prompt relief, and many applicants for pensions have died, suffering from poverty, while their claims, for the reasons named, remained uninvestigated.

The coast survey steamer Blake, which was run aground at Bahia Honda, Jan. 19th, by a pilot sent off from the Spanish fort, arrived at Key West on Monday. Although she was aground one week, she sustained but slight damage.

Miss Sallie Porter, aged eighteen years, of Cincinnati, while in a delirium of fever, escaped from her room and house shortly after midnight on Monday. She wandered a couple of squares barefooted, clad in her nightdress, and died. She was not missed until three o'clock in the morning, when her mother awoke to give her medicine. Missing her daughter she gave the alarm, and the dead body was found an hour later.

The New York pilot boat Caprice, before reported dismasted and abandoned, was towed into New York on Monday by another pilot boat. She is damaged to the amount of $5000. The pilot boats Kate, Mary Caphrine and Hope No. 1 are all missing, not having been heard of since the great storm.

The officers of the wrecked Metropolis have been examined by the inspectors of hulls and boilers at Norfolk, Va., and the captain and first mate both testified she was in good condition and entirely seaworthy, and that the whole trouble was caused by the unskillful loading of railroad iron. The Secretary of the Treasury has received a dispatch from Capt. J. H. Merriman, of the revenue marine service, sent to investigate the circumstances of the disaster to the Metropolis, particularly with reference to the action of the life saving crews. Capt. Merriman says: "If a boat had been taken instead of the mortar apparatus, many more might have been saved, but the boat could not perhaps have been got there without horses. Under all the circumstances, the station men deserve credit for what they were able to do."

A correspondent at Fort Randall telegraphs that 800 Red Cloud Indians left the agency going north; also that the Indians assert that all the fighting bucks at the agency will cut loose early in the spring, and follow a general northward trail. Spotted Tail's Indians are secretly buying fat ponies, and making other suspicious moves. General Miles reports from Tongue River that the main body of his command have taken the field, and he only awaits 150 recruits from Fort Snelling before proceeding in person against Sitting Bull, who, he confidently believes, is in United States territory.

The World says a sea serpent was reported seen last week off Manasquan, New Jersey, thirty miles from New York. It is almost too early in the season for sea serpents yet.

The body of James H. Daley was found on the pavement at the corner of Fourth and C streets, South Boston, Monday night. On being taken to the police station it was found that he had been robbed and his skull crushed in, probably from the blows of a slung-shot. There is no clue to the murderers, whose object was undoubtedly robbery, the deceased having been in the habit of carrying considerable money about his person.

Last Monday morning a serious accident occurred to Mr. Edward Chapin and son of Bethel, Me., while chopping in the woods, by which the son was instantly killed and the father so badly injured that when he got to the house he was unable to give any account of the matter. Parties immediately started for the woods and found the remains of the boy on the way, where the father had probably dropped him in his effort to get his body to the house.

Nebraska claims a volcano, located at Ionis. It is attracting a good deal of attention. Prof. Aughey of the State University, holds that it is a burning bluff, not volcanic in the usual sense of the term, but simply the result of local chemical action, evolving unusual heat, and even flame. Prof. Vance of Ann Arbor, Mich., decides that it is an undoubted volcano. He says: "Below the surface is a reservoir of fire doubtless communicating with the internal fire of the earth. Near by flows the Missouri. My opinion is that the earthquake was occasioned by the breaking through of the river into the fiery cauldron beneath us. If, for example, you were to turn a stream of water into a crucible of melted iron, or other mineral substance, a violent commotion would immediately occur, and if the stream were large an explosion would take place. The first will illustrate an earthquake, the second a volcano." The wondering people in the vicinity are anxiously waiting for an eruption.

Political.

Mr. Booth, of Alabama, was made collector of internal revenue because, as the leading democrats told the President, a native democrat of good family would have no difficulty in enforcing the law. Collector Booth now telegraphs that his deputies and the deputy U. S. Marshals "have met armed resistance, on the part of illicit distillers, in over-powering numbers in Winston county, and are consequently unable to enforce the revenue laws in that section." From which it appears that even the appointment of a native democrat of good family as collector is not sufficient to overcome the natural repugnance of the Alabama whiskey makers to paying a federal tax.

Auguste Belmont, the honest-money democrat of New York, asks Dan Voorhees, the democratic leader and repudiationist of Indiana, and others who have been declaring that the Government never promised to pay its bonds in gold, what the Indiana Democratic Convention of 1870 meant when it declared in its platform "that we are in favor of the repeal of the law of March, 1869, which assumed to construe the law so as to make such bonds payable exclusively in gold."

Despite all the efforts of the White League general who is pushing the cases against the Louisiana Returning Board, aided by the defaulter who sits as judge, some disagreeable evidence has crept in. One witness, Greene, a colored clerk of the Returning Board, introduced by the prosecution, testified that he received money from the Secretary of the Democratic Committee at Washington, and was promised an assessorship if he would testify to what he knew. A democrat named Powers, passenger agent at Cassidy's hotel, testified that he took official packages of returns from the hotel safe to the room of the democratic State committee, where the seals were broken, and when the committee got through with the packages they were resealed; Powers thought this was all right—"thought everything was fair in politics."

New Hampshire Items.

The house, barn and outbuildings of Nathan Andrews, at Sutton, were burned Sunday. Loss about $2500; insured $1500.

There is pending a suit for divorce by Mrs. George Marston of Williamstown, Vt., against her husband, the Court having the custody of her children, two girls, aged eight and ten years. She brought them to the Shakers of Enfield, N. H., last Spring, and for some reason the suit was dropped and the father was then legal custodian of the children. Last week he appeared in Enfield and against their tearful protestations took them away and carried them to Williamstown. By the statements of Mrs. Marston and the children, he not only treated his family in the most brutal manner in years past, but had attempted an aggravated assault on the oldest girl last Thursday. Elder Henry Cummings and two Shaker sisters went to Williamstown and caused Marston's arrest, and he was taken to Northfield, Vt., for trial, with the two girls for witnesses. Some of Marston's friends then made up a charge against the Shakers and had them arrested and placed under $5000 bail, which was promptly furnished by some of the best men of Northfield, and they returned home Saturday. They will, however, appear to defend themselves at Montpelier in March. The children express the greatest fear of their father and beg to be allowed to return to the Shakers.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 120 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. tfeb13

Its popularity is immense. In the brown stone palace and the cottage, it is alike considered indispensable.

Shattered toys are regenerated with Spalding's Glue.

THE CITY.

Col. J. Horace Kent addressed the citizens of Atkinson on Tuesday evening, Feb. 5th, upon the subject of temperance.

George Rignold, supported by a full company, will appear in his great character of Henry V. at Music Hall on Monday evening next.

Wm. May, mate of the schooner E. H. Pray, was on Tuesday held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of feloniously assisting to remove the cargo of that vessel. The charge of piracy was withdrawn. Capt. Clark has not yet been traced.

The concert on Tuesday evening was a fine one, the Nowell brethers playing with their usual precision and good taste, and the out-of-town performers justifying the praise given them in other cities; but the audience, though excellent in quality and very fair in point of numbers, was not so large as the entertainment deserved, for it merited a full house.

It is reported that Mr. J. Edward Colcord proposes to remove the old Melcher house at the junction of Howard, Pleasant and Washington streets, this spring, and erect in its place a modern house for his own residence. This old house was the first printing office in New Hampshire, the first issue of the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE having been struck off in it by Daniel Fowle, on the 7th of October, 1756.

A correspondent is indignant that the work of cutting ice at the navy yard should be done by marines, while so many laboring men on each side of the river were idle, and would have been glad of a job. We presume the marines detailed for ice cutting would have been perfectly willing to have given up the job to a laborers' gang, especially as they were kept at work all one night; but probably the state of the appropriations accounts for the marines' bayonets being thus turned into ice-tongs.

The Globe Theatre Company, of Boston, will present the sensational play the "Octoroon" at Music Hall on Saturday evening, with Miss Mary Davenport as Zoe, Mr. Luke Schoolcraft as Uncle Pete, Mr. James S. Maffit as Wahnotee, (an Indian chief,) and a strong cast for all the other characters; the New Orleans Colored Troubadours will give their slave songs, dances, etc. Reserved seats at 50 cents each, or the lower floor, in the rear; 75 cts. at the front. Admission 35 cts. See advertisement.

Mr. Daniel Littlefield has contracted to build for Charles E. Walker, Esq., the enterprising coal merchant, and other gentlemen of this city, a schooner of about two hundred and fifty tons register. He will occupy the old site on Noble's island, and will have the vessel completed in time for the spring business. The coal trade of C. E. Walker & Co. is extensive enough to alone give employment to quite a fleet of vessels for two-thirds of each year, and there has not for many years been a time when vessels could be so cheaply built on this river as at present.

As people are looking forward with keen interest to Prof. Robinson's lecture and experiments on the Telephone at Franklin Hall, Thursday evening, it may be in order to remark that this new science, as it is called, is not entitled to its claims of novelty, for 210 years ago Robert Hooke, Fellow of the Royal Society, published a work called "Micrographia." in the preface of which occurs the following remarkable paragraph: "The air is not the only medium of conveying sound. I can assure the reader that I have by the help of a distended wire propagated sound to a great distance in an instant, and this not in a straight line, but in one bended in many angles." Mr. Hooke's observations and experiments 200 years ago have become so dim by the lapse of time that the science is as good as new to us.

POLICE COURT.

Daniel Shaw, for assault on Henry Moulton, was fined $5, costs $7.67, which he paid.

N. H. S. P. C. A.

The New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, at a meeting held Monday evening, passed the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, It has pleased God to remove by death a Vice-President of this Society, the Rev. Daniel Austin,

Resolved, That we hereby express our sense of loss in the bereavement which has taken from the Society a sympathizing friend and from the community a generous benefactor;

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the daily papers of the city.

RYE LETTER.

RYE, Feb. 4th.

After the big storm of Friday, came a calm of course; but such fearful travelling is the result of old Boreas' antics on that occasion that the oldest inhabitant is perfectly confident that there never was anything quite so bad before. In fact it is neither sleighing or wheeling, some portions of the highway being filled level with the fences with snow, while other portions are as free from it as in July, so that it is about as safe and expeditious to go afoot, if one is obliged to go at all, as to try to be propelled by horse-power.

If an intimate acquaintance with "Harry of the Times" did not make the thought preposterous, an idea that he was "poking fun" would naturally invade one's mind upon reading his remarks about the meteor which the delegates to the Republican County Convention at Exeter had the good fortune to see on their return from that eminently respectable and strictly temperate gathering; and lest any one who don't understand his little joke should be shocked by imagining that those delegates, were in that happy condition when a few dozen "shooting stars" would be no wonderful phenomenon at all, it may be proper to calm their fears by informing them that others saw it as well as they, among them Mr. Daniel M. Foss, of the Prospect House, Foss' Beach, who describes it as a "shooting star with a long tail, like a comet;" and while it is a very rare thing to see a meteor in broad daylight, such things have been seen before, and probably will be again. It only remains to say, that it was zero weather at the time, and the wind blew anything but a balmy breeze; and if the delegates had known "where to get it" perhaps it might not have been a hanging matter to have "warmed up" before starting on a ten-mile ride over a rough road. But apparently there was not a single "latch string out," either in town or on the way, so that the only thing which looked any way "warm" during the cold drive was the aforesaid meteor.

There seems to be quite a stir in the papers about the temperance question, but further than that it has not apparently created any wonderful commotion in this community. Still, it may be that the subject is being agitated, and that measures are being taken to bring the matter up in town meeting. The allusions made by Harry in regard to intemperance and rowdyism at the beach during the boarding season may be all well founded; but the picture seems decidedly overdrawn, to many, who perhaps may not have had the same opportunities to obtain information, but who nevertheless pass their time during the season in the immediate vicinity, and who have failed to observe the disorderly proceedings spoken of by him.

The furore about the use of liquors in this town, which seems to be such a bugbear in the minds of the newly-fledged correspondents who have sprung up like mushrooms, would be something ludicrous were it not for the false impressions such loose statements cause in the minds of readers who are unacquainted with the true facts in the case. Perhaps a brief sojourn in other localities might have a good effect in some cases, and convince many who now seem to think that there is not another such a wicked and rum soaked town in christendom as this, that there are to be found, here and there, places equally as bad as this town of Rye; and at least, it would seem good policy to keep our sins as much to ourselves as possible, and not make it a special effort, as most of the correspondents do, to proclaim to the whole world what a bad lot we all are,—at least that is what they seem to be trying their utmost to do. That "temperance in all things" is a virtue to be cultivated we all know, but as the pastor remarked not many Sundays ago, "mankind don't like to be driven,"—or womankind either, for that matter,—and the cause of temperance won't be strengthened in this town by such injudicious statements as are made by the Portsmouth Weekly's correspondents.

WINTER TRAVEL IN OLD TIMES.

The recent snow storm and the late hour at which the trains from Boston arrived, recall the days of the old stage lines, when passengers were delayed from such causes until all sorts of hours from ten at night to the next forenoon, instead of 5 to 6 P. M., the usual hour for arriving after leaving Boston in the morning. Rough times those were amid the storms and intense cold of winter for passengers, and harder still was it for the drivers. A miracle it seems that they did not oftener freeze to death upon the seats with the reins in their hands, of which instances were not unknown. Sometimes they would leave Boston or Portsmouth on wheels, and long before reaching a place where runners could be substituted, snow would fall to a depth that made progress slow and difficult. Periods there were when passengers would be obliged to aid the driver, with the shovels provided for such emergencies in the stage-box, to make their way through drifts from which the horses, without such aid, would have been powerless to drag their vehicle whether it were stage or sleigh. The old stage travellers had plenty of such adventures to relate when steam first took the place of horse-power, and seemed even to have derived no little enjoyment from them, refreshing themselves occasionally on the way, when opportunity offered, with a lunch, and "something warm" to invigorate the inner man before starting again. Hard times they were for the lady passengers especially, to whom a hot brick, wrapped in a newspaper, procured at a tavern on the road, was most acceptable; the elder members of the sex not seldom taking with them the tin foot-stoves used at home, and carried for them to church on the Sabbath by unfortunate wights who wished them—the stoves, not the owners—in some warm place where fires never went out. Messengers, too, were dispatched to the booking-office, often, from dark until midnight, when expected ones had not arrived, to learn if the stage had got in, or anything had been heard of it. We do not half appreciate our modern conveniences and comforts, even when told how much we have in that way unknown to those who preceded us.

THE VICINITY.

Gov. Connor, of Maine, has appointed Samuel W. Junkins of York a Justice of the Peace and Quorum.

John J. Livingston, of Saco, whose store was partially burned Jan. 27th, has been arrested for setting the fire.

One hundred and twenty gallons of whiskey and brandy, consigned to apothecaries in Biddeford, was seized at the Eastern depot in that city on Tuesday.

Some weeks ago a young man of about eighteen years inexperience in this world, and a lady of the advanced age of fifteen, left their respective homes in York to attend school for the day. They returned in the evening and announced themselves man and wife, having crossed the river into Portsmouth and there been joined in the bonds of holy matrimony. The old folks opened their eyes pretty wide, but concluded to make the best of the situation, and the young couple are now making their home with the bride's parents, while the groom is making ready a home of his own.

A branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals should be established at once at Exeter. Some unfeeling Exeter fellow recently clipped a favorite pet kitten belonging to a young lady. The dear creature (the kitten) was taking its walk abroad on a very cold evening, when the outrage was perpetrated; the little waif was then thrown over a fence, but was happily discovered by a humane hostler, who kept it over night in a warm place, and in the morning returned it to its disconsolate owner, whose bounds of indignation can only be measured by the feelings of those lady owners of young felines who prize their pets.

Democratic Carpet-Baggers.

Judging from the fact that a lot of indictments have been found in the United States Circuit Court in Florida against various parties for cutting off and stealing large quantities of valuable timber growing upon the government lands in Florida, and that these parties seem to be all more or less connected with the State government, we should say that the democratic "carpet-baggers" are not much better than the republicans. Among the parties indicted is George F. Nutter, formerly of Farmington, in this State, and well known about that region. The name is given in the despatches as George F. Nuttro, but it is also said that he is a nephew of Gov. Drew of Florida. As Nutter is his nephew, he must be the man in all probability. It is also known that Nutter has been doing an extensive business in lumber in Florida, which is another circumstance tending to show that he is the man. It seems that two brothers-in-law of Gov. Drew are also indicted for the same offence, together with various other parties, numbering sixteen in all. All of them together have evidently had a good haul, for the lumber itself cost them nothing, and they hired State prison convicts of the State to get it and work it for market.

—An old Methodist preacher going around among the members of his congregation, came across an old lady in spectacles. "Do you love the Lord?" he asked. "Well, parson, I ain't got nothin' agin him!"

Commonwealth Consolidated MINING COMPANY

THE Directors of the "COMMONWEALTH CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY," of San Francisco, call attention to the mining property of this company, situated in the Tuscarora Mining District, Elko County, State of Nevada.

The property adjoins that of the well-known "Grand Prize," and developments thus far made in the shaft and level of the Commonwealth Consolidated indicate the same vein, and of the same richness, as that found at even depth in sinking the shaft upon the "Grand Prize" now so successfully worked, and pay up its regular monthly dividends.

The Commonwealth Consolidated Mining Company consists of two distinct properties, known as the "All Alone" and "Veritas" mines, which have been consolidated into the above-named Company; both of these valuable properties have been prospected by shafts, the ledge found to be well-defined, and the ores are proved by assay to be rich in both gold and silver.

The Corporation is represented by one hundred thousand shares of stock, of the par value of one hundred dollars each, and instead of assessing the shares, as is customary in most California mining stocks, the Directors have chosen to set aside 35,000 shares out of the capital stock of the Company to be sold, and the proceeds placed in the treasury for a working capital.

This stock will only be issued and sold from time to time, as funds may be required to carry on not work, which is being pushed with energy under the sole management of a first-class miner.

The first allotment of shares to be sold for working capital has all been taken.

The Directors propose to issue the second allotment for the working capital, and the price is placed at Three Dollars per share, with the assurance to the Stockholders that their interest is to enhance the price of the issue from time to time, as the work of developing progresses and the value of the property is enhanced thereby, until the requisite amount of working capital is obtained.

The "All Alone" shaft is now sunk to a depth of 78 feet, and a contract is about being closed to run it 200 feet deeper.

Messrs. OTIS & CO., members of the Pacific Stock Exchange, San Francisco, and Messrs. STONE & DOWNER, Boston, have been duly authorized to receive subscriptions as above for the Working Capital Stock.

The Officers and Directors of the Company are principally New England men, and the Board of Directors offer their assurance to the Stockholders in the affairs of the Company will be administered upon a sound and economical basis, and a examination of the management as to the working of the mine and the expenditure of the money is invited and guaranteed at all times.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.
This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.
As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."
BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.
This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable hue, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.
The wonder of medical science—half horse and half man, the fabled Centaurs, left their impress upon the history of the world.
The Centaur Liniments, for man and beast, are not less remarkable in their way. They have been before the public only six years, but in that time they have performed more wonderful works, have alleviated more pains and cured more bed ridden cripples than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Salves and Ointments in existence. Their immense and rapidly-increasing sale is indisputable evidence of the estimation in which they are held. They are already used in many of the hospitals of this country and Europe, and are prescribed by the best physicians and veterinary surgeons. Why should they not be? They have never failed to ameliorate suffering when cures from loss of bone or muscle are impossible. They contain Carbolic, Witch Hazel, Rock Oil, Arnica and Ingredients which must stimulate the fluids, soften the sinews and penetrate to the bone. We have never yet heard of the first failure to benefit, even in stubborn cases of Rheumatism, Sciatica, and Neuralgia, while, for Fleshy Wounds, Bites, Frosted Limbs, Burns, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., they are unrivalled. What the White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is for horses and animals. We will guarantee that one dollar expended for Centaur Liniment will perform more and speedier results than can be obtained for five or twenty dollars from any physician. We have made the treatment of fresh, bone and muscle ailments a specialty. We know that we have preparations which do what they are recommended to do. They are not curealls—they will not mend a broken leg, but they will alleviate pain, and cure where any human agency can cure. Be sure and inquire for the Centaur Liniments and give them a fair trial.
J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Mothers,
There is the harmless and certain remedy for your children. CASTORIA is the result of twenty years' experiments by the celebrated Sam'l Pitcher, M.D.
It is a vegetable preparation, as effective as Castor Oil, but perfectly pleasant to the taste. It can be taken by the youngest infant, and neither gags nor gripes. Dr. A. J. Green, of Royalton, Indiana, says of it:
SIRS—I have tried the CASTORIA, and can speak highly of its merits. It will do away with Castor Oil. It is pleasant and harmless, and is wonderfully efficacious as an aperient and laxative. It is the very thing.
The CASTORIA destroys worms, regulates the Stomach, cures Wind Colic, and permits of natural healthy sleep. It is very efficacious in Croup, and for Teething Children. Honey is not pleasanter to the taste, and Castor Oil is not so certain in its effects. It costs but 35 cents, in large bottles.
J. B. ROSE & CO., New York.

The latest, greatest, and most reliable remedy ever put together by medical science for Rheumatism, Wounds, Swellings, Burns, Caged Beasts, etc., is the Centaur Liniment. There are two kinds—What the White Liniment is for the human family, the stronger kind, which is yellow in color, is for spavined, lame, and strained horses and animals. Their effects are wonderful.

Mothers who have weak and irritable children, can secure health for the children and rest for themselves, by using Dr. Pitcher's Castoria. It contains no morphine or any thing injurious. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and is certain to cure Wind Colic, regulate the bowels, and expel worms. For Teething children, there is nothing like Castoria. 6tmay1

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior article cannot maintain a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported looks up to several hundred thousand more. The business count grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors, Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it unequalled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and Tumors, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If your feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellow blotches or spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy foreboadings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness," in many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Anti-bilious Purgative Pellets, actually larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Accumulation of Bile in Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Intermittent Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative influence. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Costiveness, Tetter, Leprosy, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
O ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH
NEVER-FAILING RELIEF
AFFORDED BY
SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

IT is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of its value in the treatment of Catarrhal affections that confidence is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly feel proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R. I.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you a line to say that although I have been sceptical of all the nostrums advertised as "radical cure," I have never found anything that promises such relief and ultimate cure as that of SANFORD'S.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to preserve with any until I read the letter of Mr. HENRY WELLS, and can truthfully say that after using the bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc.

THEO. P. BOGERT.

Perilous Adventure.

During the great storm of Wednesday, Jan. 23d, a little schooner named the Twilight, moored in the inlet at Atlantic City, broke adrift and went to sea with only one person on board, a boy sixteen years old, named Adolphus Parker. No aid could be rendered from the shore, on account of the fury of the gale, and the boy's situation was regarded as hopeless; but he finally got safely on shore, and the Philadelphia Times publishes the following statement from him in regard to his adventurous trip: "When she first parted her moorings I thought I would run her ashore, but she struck the wharf and sheered off into the stream. I then threw over a small kedge anchor, which dragged to the first buoy and there parted the cable. Noticing she was fast being driven on the bar, I hoisted sail to keep her off. The surf-boat put out to help me, but turned back. Meanwhile I tried to haul her close to the wind after clearing the bar, in the hope of receiving assistance, which did not come. I now found myself fast being driven to sea, and I did not think the schooner would be able to stand the terrible waves which struck her. The rigging was very poor, sails torn, and the prospect of her weathering the gale not very promising. On Wednesday night a heavy sea broke over the vessel, and rolled me over the wheel. The rigging and deck were covered with ice, and it was with difficulty I kept myself from freezing. On Thursday I supposed I was near the Gulf Stream. There was about a foot and a half of water in the hold and a heavy sea rolling. The pumps gave out, and I was forced to bail her out with a bucket. About four o'clock on Thursday afternoon the wind sprang up fresh from the southeast. I then headed west, and about ten o'clock at night was hailed by a bark which cleared the schooner by only ten feet. The schooner's light went out and I took down the stern-board light, relit it and hung the signal light in the main rigging on the port side. On Friday morning I sighted land near Beach Haven, and after beating about all day, headed up abreast Absecom Light. The sea was very rough, and failing to bring the vessel into the inlet, and as the water was up to the cabin floor, I beached her on Little Brigantine Shoals, where I was taken off, after having been without sleep for four days and three nights."

Todleben and Skobeleff.

The two most famous men in the Russian army at this time are the two who no doubt differ most widely in character and conduct. Yet the laurels that garland their brows are green alike, and the shout that ascends when the old Todleben with his sixty years and silver hairs rides solemnly by, is none the heartier than that which swells upon the air when Skobeleff dashes up on his prancing steed. Forty years ago Todleben was a student in the Engineer School of St. Petersburg. He won honors in the Crimean war, taking charge of the seige against Silistria and conducting the heroic defense at Sebastopol. When the present hostilities broke out he was regarded as rather too fogyish to take an active part, and was therefore shelved in the Engineer Department of the Minister of War. When the attack on Plevna developed the fact that some science was required in addition to men, they unearthed the veteran and sent him to the front, where he at once took charge of the investment, with what effect the whole world knows.

Skobeleff is the youngest Major General in the Russian army, he being but thirty-two years of age. His reckless bravery during the campaign in Khokand secured for him the title of dare-devil, and his career in the present war has been marked by the same fearlessness. He invariably leads his men in their charges against the enemy, and the electricity of his own example has impelled his soldiers to many feats of daring. It was wonderful gallantry that saved the remnant of the army which attacked Osman Pasha last July and it is said that in the fearful assaults upon the Turkish works later in the summer he fought with such dash and desperation as to carry victory with him everywhere. The soldiers, of course, worship him and the people are wildly enthusiastic in his praise.

—The mother had cut her little daughter's hair to make "bangs." Surveying her own work, she said, "Bessie, yesterday you looked as if you had no sense. To-day you look as if your mother had none."

Congress.

The Senate committee on finance will report favorably on the bill authorizing the issue of $100,000,000 of coupon and registered bonds of the denominations of $25, $50 and $100, redeemable in coin after sixty years, and bearing interest at the rate of 3 65 per cent.

Senator Bayard in a speech on the 4th inst. made what is regarded as the ablest argument yet offered, against the silver bill. Stanley Matthews attempted to answer him next day, but the demagogue was no match for the democrat. Bayard made good use of the much misrepresented position of France on the silver question, and ably showed the evil effects of a silver standard in Mexico.

Petitions were presented in the Senate and House on the 5th, asking National aid for the starving millions in China. Referred to committee on foreign affairs, in both Houses.

The investigation of Col. Polk, doorkeeper of the House, has been begun in committee.

The House committee on pensions has completed the "Arrears of Pension Bill," which it has been for some time considering. The bill provides that all pensions on account of death, wounds received or disease contracted since March 4, 1861, which have been granted, or which shall be granted on applications filed previous to Jan. 1, 1880, shall commence from the death or discharge from the service of the United States. The practice heretofore has been to pay pensions only from the time the application was granted. The most important feature of the bill is the one authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to restore to the pension rolls the names of all invalid pensioners, now living, who were stricken therefrom on account of disloyalty, and pay them pensions from the 25th of December, 1868, at the rate which they would have been entitled to had they not been stricken from the pension rolls. Section 4716 of the Revised Statutes is amended so that no payment will be made on account of any pension previous to Dec 25, 1868, nor to the representatives of any person not alive at the date of the passage of this act.

The Eastern War.

Notwithstanding the signing of the armistice, Russia continues to forward troops to the late scene of active hostilities, and the raising of four fresh army divisions is ordered.

Austria is making warlike preparations on land, and fitting her heavy iron-clads for sea.

Greece is greatly excited over the armistice, but will continue the war against Turkey. The Greeks in Thessaly rise in insurrection wherever the Greek troops appear. Hobart Pasha's fleet has arrived at Athens to take away the Turkish minister.

The Prince of Montenegro has recognized the armistice, and ordered a cessation of hostilities.

England is much agitated over the situation in the East.

News and Notes.

The great publishing houses of H. O. Houghton & Co. and J. R. Osgood & Co., of Boston, have been consolidated in one concern, to be known as Houghton, Osgood & Co.

A Boston manufactory made $75 Saturday, by paying off their workmen with trade dollars, which cost them 95 cents on the dollar; the amount of the payroll was $1500. This is all very well, until the banks and shopkeepers rebel, as they do already in some parts of the country.

A story that requires a considerable exercise of faith to believe comes from Alexander, in Western New York. While two young men were out hunting, one of them, kneeling down to drink from a spring, discovered a hole in the bank, which investigation showed to connect with a cave about twenty feet square. In the cave was the corpse of a young woman about twenty-two years of age, on whose right leg was a stout chain, attached by a brass padlock to an iron ring set into the stone wall. Nobody knows who the woman was or how she came there, and the matter is being investigated.

The New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children during the year 1877 relieved 461 children and placed them in comfortable homes or charitable institutions. It prosecuted in the courts 338 men and women for maltreating or debauching children, and secured 276 convictions.

The Congregationalists up in Rutland, Vt., refuse to partake of the holy sacrament, in commemoration of the body and blood of Christ, from the same cup with their colored brothers and sisters. One cup was passed around to 101 white men and women, one of whom sat in the same pew with four colored persons, and then another cup—probably a pewter one—was served to the men of African descent.

James Sayer, an Englishman and an ugly character, has been arrested at Tariffville, Conn., charged with plundering bodies at the recent disaster. Articles belonging to persons killed were found in his possession.

The most gigantic forgeries of modern times, in England at least, have been punished, Frederick Dimsdale, a London solicitor, and Charles Burrell Moore, a clerk, having pleaded guilty. By means of forged leases and documents purporting to dispose of the "rights" of a servant girl (who was the mistress of Dimsdale's son,) in valuable property in London, about £300,000 were obtained from capitalists.

A billiard match between William Sexton and Cyrille Dion, for $1000, Sexton giving Dion 200 points in 1000, was played at New Orleans on the 5th inst. Sexton won, Dion scoring only 565.

It is now asserted that "Prince" Harry Genet, the recently-surrendered Tammany thief, has not been sixty miles from New York city during the four years since he escaped from the custody of Sheriff Brennan. He has led a miserable life, being in constant fear of detection, and returns without a dollar of his stealings.

A large building on Bronx river, near Tremont, Westchester county, New York, was blown to pieces on Tuesday. It was supposed to be a powder mill but was really an illicit distillery, and revenue officers intended raiding it Tuesday, and the proprietors undoubtedly blew it up to save themselves.

It is now stated that $250,000 damage was done at Long Branch by the recent storm, and only one hotel escaped serious injury.

New Hampshire Items.

Charles H. Varney has secured a verdict against the city of Manchester of $3000, for damages received from the crushing of his foot by the fall of a pile of lumber upon it, the lumber being in the street and its owner having a city license to have it there while repairing a building.

A house at Hanover, occupied by J. G. Currier, was damaged to the extent of $400 by fire on the 5th inst.

Political.

The Washington Republican, the "stalwart" republican paper of the Capital, and the National Union, Ex-Congressman John Lynch's "policy" organ, both go in strong for the adoption of the ninety-cent dollar.

There are in Congress no more sturdy champions of the national honor, as opposed to the silver swindle, than the democrats Eaton, Bayard, Lamar and Ben. Hill. That Senator Bayard should insist on the nation keeping faith with its creditors is not so remarkable as that Lamar, who represents the State of Mississippi, the great original repudiator of honest obligations, should stand by his side. But then Mr. Lamar has had a good chance to study the disastrous and enduring effects of repudiation on the repudiator's credit, as exemplified in the case of his own State.

The following amusing little story is pleasantly told by the Vienna (La.) Sentinel: "Jake Carriker, near Terryville, was amusing himself last week snapping a pistol. A freedman came up desiring a like privilege. Carriker thought he would take a snap at the freedman first, for the fun of the thing. The pistol fired, instantly killing the freedman."

The Sheriff of Lee county, Mississippi, is a defaulter to the tune of $40,000. Lee county is overwhelmingly democratic, and has not had a Sheriff in the past seven years who has not proved a defaulter.

Books, Magazines, Ect.

The Nabob, from the French of Alphonse Daudet, author of "Sidonie," "Jack," etc., translated by Lucy H. Hooper, is published in the "Cobweb series" of Estes & Lauriat, Boston. It is a strange book; the events pictured are vividly painted, and the character-sketching is wonderful—the persons themselves are brought up, not merely talked about; that it will be widely read we have no doubt; that its influence will be good or even harmless we are by no means equally confident. Once taken up, it will be finished before it is laid down; and by that time the reader will despise and hate four-fifths of the characters, and pity and despise the rest. The central character, Jansaulet, the Nabob, is a coarse, vulgar, vain but kind-hearted man, sprung from the lowest ranks, possessed of immense wealth gained at the Court of Tunis, snubbed and plundered on all hands, and finally dies miserably; his wife is a gross, stupid, arrogant creature, too proud to call upon a rival even to save her husband from ruin, but not too proud to hold improper relations with her own servant; Hermanlique, a banker, pursues to ruin the Nabob, the friend and benefactor of his early days, at the bidding of Madame Hermanlique, who before becoming his wife was first in the harem of a Sultan and then of a Bey; Doctor Jenkins, a successful quack, having deserted his wife, lives for ten years as the husband of another woman, whom he then deserts for a third, after having poisoned the man who effects the latter's ruin; Felicia Ruys, a woman of wondrous talent and high aims in art, long leads a pure life amid great temptations, apparently only that her final fall,—or rather, her final deliberate plunge,—may be the more terrible; and most of the other characters are no better,—Mora, a statesman and libertine; Moessard, a blackmailing editor and hired "lover of an exiled queen;" Monpavon, dandy and defaulter, great only in "deportment;" and all this mass of hateful personages, of selfishness, villainy, crime and dishonor is relieved only by occasional brief glimpses of one honest family named Joyeuse, and one other honest person, a son of the reputed Madame Jenkins. The book seems to be a picture of real life, of actual events, painted by a master's hand; but the contemplation of such life can hardly be beneficial. "The Nabob" is beautifully printed in tinted paper with clear, legible type, and makes a book of 450 pages; for sale in this city by W. E. Myers; price $1.50.

The Hartford Courant says of the Midwinter Scribner: "The cover is a new design, sprinkled with snow-flakes and swept with the dark clouds of a tempestuous sky, while below is an old-fashioned opened fire-place with blazing logs and quaint andirons, and a row of black birds seated on the frame of the cheerful picture, like minstrels ready for the 'opening load.' The number is a royal one, and in some respects touches the high-water mark of the extraordinary success of this periodical. We doubt if any magazine has ever been published with finer illustrations. And the text is not behind the illustrations in excellence." Mr. Noah Brooks' "Personal Recollections of Lincoln" is a most delightful paper, admirable in manner, and of the highest value as a help to the full comprehension of the man. The portrait of Lincoln, drawn from a photograph, by Wyatt Eaton, is the best that has ever been printed of him. The New York World says: "One remarkable quality of this head is its essential originality; it is an unmistakable likeness, admirable in every lineament, we should say, and yet it is a new likeness." Subscription price, $4,00 a year. Subscribers may begin with the February number, and receive the "Scribner Extra," containing the opening chapters of Dr. Eggleston's story, "Roxy," and all the earlier "Rudder Grange" stories, by Frank R. Stockton. The February number will be sent postpaid, to any address, for thirty-five cents, or it may be had of any book-seller or news-dealer. Scribner & Co., 743 Broadway, N. Y.

—The following, according to an exchange, is the result of the measurement of over 500,000 men, as regards height and nativity: The mean height of the American Indian is 67.934 inches; the American white man, 67.672; Scotch, 67.065; English, 66,575; Russian, 66.393; French, 66.277; Mexican, 66.110.

—Mr. Montgomery Blair is credited with telling this story: "Van Buren said to me in St. Louis, when I told him his son, Smith Van Buren had been married: 'I thought he had given that girl up. Well he's ruined. She is very rich. Now he'll, give up his profession of the law, where he had great ability, and become really a rich man—the least useful of human things. Poor Smith.'"

—The New London Telegram came out with the following poem on the last day of January: "Come all the youths and Maid-l-ens, and list unto this lay, just two weeks from to-mor-ri-ow 'twill be St. Valentine's day,—the day when naked angel boys, with wings like burnished tin-ware, are a piercing hearts with Cupid's darts—Oh, Jemima and us have been there!"

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaint, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. THE CITY.

The select social assembly at Congress Hall to-night will be an enjoyable affair. Tickets can be procured of Mr. Fred Wilson, at the store of Isaiah Wilson, Esq.

The annual ball of the Veteran Artillery Association will be given in Congress Hall on the evening of Washington's birthday, Feb. 22d. It is to be a genuine old-fashioned affair.

Half-fare to Boston and back to-morrow. Tickets good for any train up during the day, but passengers must return by the special train which will leave Boston after the play (the Exiles) is over.

Eleven locomotives belonging to the Eastern Railroad were so much damaged during the storm of the 1st and 2d insts., that they have been sent to the repair shops. Freezing of the water was what did the mischief to most of them.

The fast-horse owners had a snow plough at work clearing the surface of the north mill-pond on Tuesday and Wednesday, and there was some lively speeding on the afternoons of each day. Many interested spectators viewed the animated scene.

By request, the Hutchings Association are to repeat the drama of "The Chimney Corner," at the Universalist vestry, probably on Thursday evening of next week. The association were urged to present the cantata of "The Fairy Bridal" in Music Hall, but declined.

A hearing was had before Hon. Daniel Clark, Judge of the U. S. District Court, at the U. S. Court Room in this city on Wednesday, upon the question of allowing a claim of E. B. West against the estate of J. C. Carr, in bankruptcy. Messrs. Frink and Harriman represented Mr. West; and Messrs. Bradlee (of N. Y.) and Howard, the estate of the bankrupt.

This evening, at Franklin Hall, Prof. Wm. R. Robinson will exhibit and practically illustrate the telephone and its workings. An attractive programme is arranged for the occasion. Tickets can be procured of Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball & Co. and W. G. Myers, and at the door, at twenty cents each. Vocal and instrumental music, performed at a distance, will be transmitted to the hall by wires; and verbal messages will be received and answered.

The fishing fleet which went out on Sunday 3d. inst., returned on Wednesday with good fares. Randall & Caswell received upwards of 50,000 lbs., C. Sullivan & Co. 45,500 lbs., and C. Morris Tredick 25,000 lbs. It is said to be the finest lot of fish received this season; and the quantity indicates that the great loss of fishing gear reported in the papers as having occurred to our fishermen by the storm of the 1st and 2d insts., was largely a matter of guess work.

The Judge Advocate General has approved the finding of the court martial which recently sat at Buffalo for trial of charges against Lieut. Colonel Blunt of the Engineer Corps (a native of this city) in charge of harbor improvements on Lake Erie, and the record of the court has gone to the Secretary of War for his approval. The court martial found Col. Blunt guilty of conduct prejudicial to the discipline of the service in permitting his subordinate to commit frauds, but did not find that he was guilty of knowledge or intention in these frauds. The sentence is not known, but it is probably light, and will be remitted, no doubt, by the President, on account of the long and honorable service of Col. Blunt, who is one of the oldest members of the Engineer Corps.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

The regular meeting of the Board was held Wednesday evening; present—the Mayor, Mrs. Wilson, and Messrs. Hutchinson, Gardner, Goodrich, May, Hackett, Wendell, Vaughan and Sherburne.

The subject of the annual report to the City Councils was discussed, and a committee appointed to prepare the report.

The sub-committee appointed to examine into the condition of the schools in Districts Two and Three, which are crowded, submitted a resolution asking the Board of Mayor and Aldermen to direct the dividing of the Manning school-room and the using of the lower room in the State street school-house, which resolution was adopted.

The special committee on one session were directed to require the several schools to be kept until one o'clock on those days when the afternoon sessions are omitted by reason of stormy weather.

The committee on suburban schools submitted a report, which was read and accepted, and referred to the committee on the annual report.

Adjourned for two weeks.

THE AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA.

What Rev. James DeNormandie thinks of Cyclopædias in general and the Illustrated American Cyclopædia in parti ular.

The following letter, addressed to the agent now making the final canvas in Portsmouth, will doubtless be of interest to many of our citizens:

PORTSMOUTH, Feb. 5th, 1878.

Mr. B. S. PRICE, Agent for the American Cyclopædia, Rockingham House.

My Dear Sir:—I am very glad to give you any help I can in the introduction of so valuable a work as the American Cyclopædia. In a sermon to young persons preached ten years ago, and referring to the project of establishing a public library in our town, I said, "Libraries will be of little use unless we cultivate a literary taste in our own homes. As well might we depend upon other homes for our comfort or joy, as upon borrowing, or upon libraries, for those few really valuable books which are needed to inform our own minds."

Our Athenæum and a good public library, if we had or could have one, might be made of invaluable service, where we may find many books which no one person can buy; books of transient value, or those more expensive works in which we may follow out any subject of special interest; but still it remains a great necessity for every one to have a few valuable books of his own. In no other way are we so apt to make their contents truly ours. There are some books we must have at hand if we would profit by them. If we do not refer to them just when we want the information, other engagements or other questions occupy us and we remain ignorant. It is all in vain to plead that we have access to a library; half of the questions go unanswered. I regard a Cyclopædia of far more value in a home than a Dictionary, and yet some kind of a dictionary most families expect to have; for we can learn to pronounce and define far more readily than we can gain historical, biographical or scientific information. Especially is a Cyclopædia, and this one, (the Illustrated American,) needed in every American home, for the training of children. With it at hand, and with a little care in its immediate use, children of the earliest years learn to run to it for knowledge upon every name or point which they come to in their story books or in the papers. As in war it is important to leave no army unsubdued, so in education it is well to leave no question unanswered.

I find in the Cyclopædia a great deal of national information which no other book of the kind can give, and the illustrations of the present revised edition greatly increase its interest and its value.

Most truly yours,

JAMES DENORMANDIE.

THE CONCERT AT MUSIC HALL.

Mr. Editor: It is a matter of congratulation both to the proprietors of Music Hall and to the public, that the acoustic property of the hall, now that it has been tested both with speaking and singing, proves to be all that could be desired. The lightest harmonies of the violin penetrate every part of the house, clearly and distinctly, with none of the disagreeable echoes which in some rooms produce a discordant effect. The concert of Tuesday evening as a whole was pleasing. The remarkably fine execution of Mr. Willis Nowell indicated his continued advance in excellence, and the brilliant and accurate playing of Master George Nowell on the piano was equally satisfactory. We may well be proud of two such talented and persevering musical artists who have quietly arisen in our town, and who promise to rise to still greater heights toward perfection in their profession. It was a compliment greater even than the bestowal of the beautiful flowers on the occasion, that they should have the honor of giving the first concert in the new Music Hall. Regrets were heard, however, that the star singer promised was not present; of course this may have been unavoidable, but it was singularly unfortunate, as the same thing occurred at the last concert given by Mr. Nowell, when a celebrated violinist who was announced on the bills, was absent,—and we trust that Mr. Nowell will not again be subjected to such a mortification, or his audience to such a disappointment. The Hall is apparently perfect; the light, ventilation, comfortable seats, warm but pure atmosphere, and the whole effect of its beauty and utility make it a very agreeable place in which to enjoy an evening's entertainment. Here we trust for many years to come our citizens and their children are to enjoy the advantages of first-class, educational pleasures. The cultivation of a taste for art, whether in music, elocution, literary or dramatic, is no small part of the education necessary to a happy life; and this new and beautiful hall shall be our garden where we will cultivate the choicest flowers, which shall adorn and elevate our lives, and be a happy relief from our work-day interests.

THE VICINITY.

Policies amounting to $100,000 in the Charter Oak Life Insurance Company are held by Kennebunk people.

A house in Biddeford, owned by Foss Burnham of North Berwick and occupied by John H. Finnard, was partially burned on the 5th inst. House and furniture insured.

The annual meeting of the New England Agricultural Society was held in Boston on Tuesday, George B. Loring was re-elected President, Daniel Needham of Boston, Secretary, and George W. Riddle of Manchester, Treasurer. Hon. Warren Brown, of Hampton Falls, was elected one of the trustees from New Hampshire.

The Biddeford Post of Tuesday, the 5th inst., says: "Mr. John Sise, of the Phenix Insurance company of Brooklyn, Mr. Geo. A. French, representing the Hanover, and Mr. Francis J. Goodwin for the Girard, settled the loss of Mr. Hutchins of Saco, yesterday. The fire occurred Friday morning last. A total loss was paid as follows: Girard, $1,500; Phenix, $1,767.50; Hanover, $2,332.50. Total, $5,600."

The greenbackers of Biddeford have organized a club, with E. H. Gove for president, and a full list of subordinate officers. At a recent meeting there was a sharp discussion as to the advisability of running a greenback ticket at the coming municipal election, the republican greenbackers favoring a greenback ticket, while the democratic members could not see their way clear to vote anything other than the straight democratic ticket.

We have been shown a hank of homespun linen thread, made by Mrs. Mercy Jellison, of York, who spins and weaves in the old style, making over a hundred yards of woolen cloth every year. The thread shown us is smooth and very strong, and was made from flax which Mrs. Leonard C. Cook found in a bag in her present home when she first entered it as its mistress, and which had been there forty years before. Mrs. Cook at one time had stored away in the garret a number of spinning wheels, but when the "bicycle" mania was raging some years ago her boys made a raid on the garret, and transformed the ancient relics into shocking bad velocipedes.

—Southbridge, Mass., has no water works. A letter was received there addressed to the "Superintendent of Water Works," and the postmaster, not knowing what else to do with it, gave it to the Baptist minister.

A Christian Dog.

Last Wednesday a Newfoundland dog was shot at several times back of the Times office, and wounded, it was thought, mortally. There was present at the time quite a crowd, but no one had humanity enough to dispatch the poor brute and put him out of his agony. He crawled under the storehouse of Adams Brothers, where it was supposed he would soon die, and nothing more was thought of the matter. Now comes the strange part of the story. The next morning a large dog of the same breed was observed to emerge from under the building and soon return with a piece of meat in his mouth, and disappear. He took his abode there and remained for several days. If any one approached he would growl savagely and appear uneasy until they went away. Saturday afternoon Monsieur D. R. Ross crawled under the building to remove the carcass of the supposed dead dog before it decayed, and came upon the two lying together in a den. The big dog made a spring at poor Ross, and the unlucky Frenchman came out from under as if le diable were after him. This morning the poor wounded animal was still alive. His faithful friend has been with him all the time, with a constant and brute affection which shames many of the fine pretensions of mankind; never deserting his charge, nor leaving him an instant except when he goes out to procure food for the two. Surely if there is a Heaven for men there ought to be a place of reward for such Samaritans as this among the dog race.—Biddeford Post, Feb. 5th.

Commonwealth Consolidated MINING COMPANY

THE Directors of the "COMMONWEALTH CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY," of San Francisco, call attention to the mining property of this Company, situated in the Tuscarora Mining District, Elko County, State of Nevada.

The property adjoins that of the well-known "Grand Prize," and developements thus far made in the shaft and levels of the Commonwealth Consolidated indicate the same vein, and of the same richness, as that found at even depth in sinking 100 shaft upon the "Grand Prize" now so successfully worked, and paying its regular monthly dividends.

The Commonwealth Consolidated Mining Company consists of two distinct properties, known as the "All Along" and "Vertice" mines, which have been consolidated into the above-named Company; both of these valuable properties have been prospected by shafts, the ledge found to be well defined, and the ores are proved by assay to be rich in both gold and silver.

The Corporation is represented by one hundred thousand shares of stock, of the par value of one hundred dollars each, and instead of assessing the shares, as is customary in most California mining stocks, the Directors have chosen to set aside 25,000 shares of the capital stock of the Company to be sold, and the proceeds placed in the treasury for a working capital.

This stock will only be issued and sold from time to time, as funds may be required to carry on the work, which is being pushed with energy under the able superintendence of a first-class miner.

The first allotment of shares to be sold for working capital has all been taken.

The Directors now propose to issue the second allotment for the working capital, and the price is placed at Three Dollars per share, with the assurance to the Stockholders that their interest is to enhance the price of each issue from time to time, as the work of development progresses and the value of the property is enhanced thereby, until the requisite amount of working capital is obtained.

The "All Along" shaft is now sunk to a depth of 72 feet, and a contract is about being closed to run it 300 feet deeper.

Messrs. OTIS & CO., members of the Pacific Stock Exchange, San Francisco, and Messrs. STONE & DOWNER, Boston, have been duly authorized to receive subscriptions as above for the Working Capital Stock.

The Officers and Directors of the Company are principally New England men, and the Board of Directors offer their assurance to the Stockholders that the affairs of the Company will be administered upon a safe and economical basis, and a examination of the management as to the working of the mine and the expenditure of the money is invited and guaranteed at all times.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER
This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, (itching and dandruff); and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.
As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."
BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.
This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.
The wonder of medical science—half horse and half man, the fabled Centaurs, left their impress upon the history of the world.
The Centaur Liniments, for man and beast, are not less remarkable in their way. They have been before the public only six years, but in that time they have performed more wonderful works, have alleviated more pains and cured more bed-ridden cripples than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Salves and Ointments in existence. Their immense and rapidly-increasing sale is indisputable evidence of the estimation in which they are held. They are already used in many of the hospitals of this country and Europe, and are prescribed by the best physicians and veterinary surgeons. Why should they not be? They have never failed to ameliorate suffering when cures from loss of bone or muscle are impossible. They contain Carbolic, Witch Hazel, Rock Oil, Arnica and ingredients which must stimulate the fluids, soften the sinews and penetrate to the bone. We have never yet heard of the first failure to benefit, even in stubborn cases of Rheumatism, Sciatica, and Neuralgia, while, for Flesh Wounds, Bites, Frosted Limbs, Burns, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., they are unfailing. What the White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is for horses and animals. We will guarantee that one dollar expended for Centaur Liniment will perform more and speedier results than can be obtained for five or twenty dollars from any physician. We have made the treatment of feeds, bone and muscle diseases a specialty. We know that we have preparations which do what they are recommended to do. They are not cure-alls—they will not mend a broken leg, but they will alleviate pain and cure where any human agency can cure. Be sure and inquire for the Centaur Liniments and give them a fair trial.
J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Mothers,
There is the harmless and certain remedy for your children. CASTORIA is the result of twenty years' experiments by the celebrated Sam'l Pitcher, M.D.
It is a vegetable preparation, as effective as Castor Oil, but perfectly pleasant to the taste. It can be taken by the youngest infant, and neither gags nor gripes. Dr. A. J. Green, of Royston, Indiana, says of it:
"I have tried the CASTORIA, and can speak highly of its merits. It will do away with Castor Oil. It is pleasant and harmless, and is wonderfully effective as an aperient and laxative. It is the very thing.
The CASTORIA destroys worms, regulates the Stomach, cures Wind Colic, and permits of natural healthy sleep. It is very efficacious in Croup, and for Teething Children. Honey is not comparable to the taste, and Castor Oil is not so certain in its effects. It costs but 35 cents, in large bottles.
J. B. ROSE & CO., New York.

The latest, greatest, and most reliable remedy ever put together by medical science for Rheumatism, Wounds, Swellings, Burns, Cased Breasts, etc., is the Centaur Liniment. There are two kinds. When the White Liniment is for the human family, the stronger kind, which is yellow in color, is for spavined, lame, and strained horses and animals. Their effects are wonderful.

Mothers who have weak and irritable children, can secure health for the children and rest for themselves, by using Dr. Fletcher's Castoria. It contains no morphine or any thing injurious. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and is certain to cure Wind Colic, regulate the bowels, and expel worms. For Teething children, there is nothing like Castoria. 6mayl

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specific in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An article cannot succeed with a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outstripped all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported roots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

Golden Medical Discovery

Golden Medical Discovery

Golden Medical Discovery

Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternate with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P. P. P. P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Bullum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations of the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sensitive influence. Age does not impair the virtues of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved for any indefinite or any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Nine daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Constipation, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

O ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, disease of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF

AFFORDED BY

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

IT is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of benefit in the treatment of Catarrhal affections that confidence is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly feel confident in the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R. I.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you a line to say that although I have been one of the victims of the nostrums advertised as "radical cures," I have never found anything that promises such relief and ultimate cure as that of SANFORD'S.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to persevere with any until I read the letter of Mr. HENRY WELLS, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc.

THE RAILROAD SUIT.

In the suit of Converse and others against the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad and others, pending in the Supreme Court for this county, the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire is a party defendant. The answer of the last named road has been filed. In this answer the New Hampshire corporation admits the fact of the lease of their road to the Eastern Railroad of Massachusetts, but they deny that the contract in modification thereof was ever executed in conformity with the law of this State, or that such modified contract or the lease were ever valid; but, if even so, that they no longer are, by reason of the bad management and illegal conduct of the Eastern Railroad. They deny that the Eastern Railroad Company is rightfully in possession of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, and claim that the latter road should be in possession of its property free from the claim of the Eastern Railroad Company.

The Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire claim that when the lease of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad was executed, the Eastern Railroad owned all its stock and notes, and the stock of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway road was held by the president of the Eastern Railroad Company, who was also president of Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway road. That the officials of the latter road were designated by the management of the Eastern Railroad Company, so that, in fact, the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad was merely a name for the management of a portion of the property of the Eastern, and a device to enable it to act as the manager of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway road in the State of New Hampshire.

The Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire contend that in making the lease of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad it acted only at the request and in behalf of the Eastern Railroad, and on the express agreement that it should not be holden responsible for any performance thereof, and that the stipulation was well known to both parties thereto; and that the two other parties were in fact substantially one and the same in ownership and interest, though acting under different corporate names, and that the lease was a device to place the present actual control in the direct hands of the Eastern Railroad Company, instead of its indirect management by means of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway road; and it never was the intention of any of the parties to the lease that the control and management of the road so leased should pass into and remain in the hands of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire; and that it was well known to the parties that the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire had no present means to execute the lease or run the road, and had no actual control over its own road, nor the earnings, and it was simply the intention that the leased road should pass into the hands of the Eastern Railroad Company. The possession of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad was, as is alleged, open and notorious, and known to all persons who had any dealings with either of these corporations, and the possession was also known to all persons who, after the date of the lease, became stockholders in the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad, and to those who purchased of the Eastern Railroad Company the bonds of the Conway road. That the lease is not binding, because the corporations, if capable of making valid contracts, have never fulfilled the contract on the completion of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad to North Conway, at the cost of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway, whereas it was paid by the Eastern Railroad Company, for which payment the bonds in controversy were issued.

The Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire pray that as the Eastern Railroad Company is taking the income of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway road without right, and inasmuch as the income will, by the insolvency of the Eastern Railroad Company be lost to its rightful owners, that a receiver may be appointed of the income of said Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad, to hold the same under the direction of the court until this suit is decided; and say there is danger that the earnings of the Conway line, instead of being with that of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire set aside as a trust fund for the payment of the interest on the Conway bonds, will be applied by the Eastern Railroad for its own uses.

The answer raises a question as to the validity of the leases of the various roads which the Eastern in New Hampshire road leased at the request of and on the stipulation of indemnity on the part of the Massachusetts corporation. The New Hampshire road claims that it acted simply as agent or trustee, and that both the other contracting parties knew this; that it had no means nor power (being itself leased) to carry out the provisions of the lease, as lessee, and it is not bound as against the other parties thereby by this or any of the leases taken at the request of the Eastern Railroad in Massachusetts.

Whether the court will take the trouble to investigate and pass upon the question, in determining the liability of the Eastern Railroad Company to pay the interest on the Conway bonds, is uncertain, as it is contended by the plaintiffs that the Massachusetts road is so liable in any phase of the controversy.

Silver.

Over sixty millions of government bonds have been returned to this country from Europe within the past three months, and immense quantities are daily received by the leading bond brokers of New York, while bond exportation has entirely ceased. This is one effect of the silver agitation. Not much gold has been exported to pay for the returned bonds, cotton having been purchased with them in large quantities; but as soon as the cotton exportation ceases, which it will do in a few weeks, the country will be drained of gold in a short time.

The New York Shipping List says the chances of the passage of the pending silver bill, even in a modified form, excites genuine alarm, and tends to circumscribe business. The misguided advocates of this measure seem to be bound together by the strong bond of personal interest, or by the hope that a new period of inflation may bring prosperity to the country. Higher wages and less work are the baits they hold out to the working classes, and some of the latter, who reason but little on the relation of cause and effect, believe in these promised feats of prestidigitation. There are some things that these men cannot accomplish. They cannot put life into things that are dead; they cannot impart activity to capital that is not needed; they cannot raise the price of manufactured goods that the people do not want; real estate will not be in greater demand, and securities, except gold bearing ones, will decline in value; but they can and will, in all probability, raise the price of many of the comforts and necessaries of life, so that the classes whose incomes are limited and whose wages are small will be compelled to forego many enjoyments to which they have been accustomed.

The New York Tribune says there is a glut of silver without additional coinage. Already this causes so much loss and inconvenience that a special meeting of the Board of Trade and Transportation has been called to devise measures of relief. The banks refuse to accept silver coin, except in small sums; the United States offices refuse to accept the trade dollars at any terms, that coin having been specially provided by law for export only. Some of the railway companies and wholesale merchants have already taken a similar course. The small retail dealers, whose daily sales are not more than $100, find it necessary to dispose of their silver to brokers at a loss, and it is evident that the depreciation is likely to become much greater when people who earn wages discover that dealers can defend themselves only by putting up the prices of goods.

A Cleveland, Ohio, man has borrowed $15,000 in greenbacks, bought $14,700 in gold with it, and intends to keep the gold till the Bland bill becomes a law, when, if his expectations are realized, he will buy $16,333 silver dollars with the gold, pay with them his debt of $15,000 and accrued interest, and pocket the balance.

The Russians at Constantinople.

A Pesth special to the London Standard, Thursday, says the Turkish men-of-war on the Danube have been surrendered to the Russians. A despatch from Tirnova says the Turkish ships have left Varna and Sulina, and that the Turkish evacuation of Varna had commenced. The London Telegraph's Paris despatches reported the Russians still pressing one to Constantinople and Gallipoli. The London Advertiser of the 7th said: "We have reasons to believe that the Government has received information of the entry of the Russian army into Constantinople. At any rate, if the Government is not in possession of this news the Russian Embassy is. Direct communication with Constantinople is still interrupted." The London Post says "the Russians are in Constantinople," and adds: "Yesterday a British military and naval force could at any moment occupy Constantinople, while the Austrian army could cut the Russian communications. To-day the situation is entirely altered. The British fleet can no longer advance to Constantinople, and may find itself even barred out at the Dardanelles. The Czar can now afford to laugh at the Austrian menaces, since his communications are open from Constantinople to Odessa or Sebastopol." The tone of the English press comments is generally very menacing.

The British Parliament on Thursday unanimously voted the war credit of £6,000,000 asked for by the ministry, the liberals having withdrawn their opposition.

Despatches were received in London late Thursday afternoon, denying that the Russian troops were in Constantinople.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 6th.

It was demonstrated to the satisfaction of many who heard the testimony elicited before the Court of Claims at various times during the past five or six years, in claims based on the Geneva award, that the rating of particular vessels by the American Lloyds depended more upon the amount of money the owners had to pay for a certificate of character to that institution, then upon the material or manner of their construction. The present is a good time for some Congressional Plimsoll to come to the rescue of seamen and passengers who are wont to trust themselves to go down to sea in the rotten bottoms owned by avaricious marine speculators. Old, rotten, worm-eaten hulks are bought for a song; the seams and worm-holes, and the ravages of dry-rot, are filled by oakum, plugging or patching; pitch and tar impart a false appearance of newness; a metal skin is drawn on over these little "tricks of the trade," and a liberal application of putty and paint, with the new name on the stern, complete the metamorphosis. The new ship is rated A 1, is heavily insured and loaded down to a depth inconsistent with the safety of even a new and staunch ship; she is then sent to sea half-manned, her owners, it may be, hoping she may never be heard of more; and they are oftener gratified than otherwise in this. Perusing Plimsoll's speeches in the British House of Commons, made on a similar subject a few years since, would likely convince many who are skeptics on these points; and what was true of England at that time is probably true to a greater or less extent among all maritime nations now.

The "Metropolis" was an old, rickety, patched concern, used as a transport during the war, and was hired for a nominal sum, probably, to take to South America workmen and their equipments for a railroad in Brazil. The absence of details in the captain's account of the disaster is significant; but the early determination arrived at to beach the vessel as the only means of saving the lives on board, seems to argue perfect familiarity with her unseaworthy condition. Over one hundred souls gone to swell the testimony that has been accumulating for scores of years against the rascally ship owners who deliberately send old vessels to sea in such a crippled condition that the victims of their greed haven't one chance in a thousand to ever reach the shore! It is always noticed that ship and cargo had been covered by insurance. It is already noted that different parties supposed to have thoroughly inspected the "Metropolis," and whose reputations as experts are likely to suffer by the sad fate which overtook her, are already in print, trying to shift the responsibility to the shoulders of somebody other than themselves.

What of our life-saving service? Five hundred men cast ashore on the treacherous Currituck beach sands within the last three months, directly under the nose of these life-saving (?) crews, who prove as useless as so many Evan O'Neils. The Superintendent of this service qualified himself for the responsibilities of the place by serving as messenger (I believe,) and 1st, 2d, 3d and 4th class clerk successively, and finally Chief Clerk, in the 2d Auditor's office. In recognition of the vast strides he made in theoretical and practical knowledge of nautical affairs while thus working up claims of soldiers for bounty and arrears of pay, he was promoted to the superintendency of a branch of service the ability of which must depend so largely upon the energy, system and intelligence with which its grave responsibilities and perilous duties are directed from the headquarters here. Our superintendent, every summer, boldly visits the stations along the coast, critically examining into their workings thro' a spy-glass from the deck of a Government steamer detailed for this hazardous duty. To thoroughly familiarize himself with all the details of every bureau of his department, it will be remembered how Secretary Sherman, scorning the dangers of New England's rock-ribbed coast, accompanied Superintendent Kimball on his northward trip last summer, when less zealous officials were spending their annual leave at the various watering-places. Though they suffered the horrors of shipwreck off the coast of Maine, the voyage was not abandoned till every nautical mile of the coast, eastward, had been traversed. Whether true or not, that democratic meanness is chargeable with having crippled the efficiency of the service, it strikes every one as odd that for hours after the Metropolis struck, no one from any of the stations appeared aware of it, or that the furious easterly gale was likely to duplicate the "Huron" catastrophe. Already it is stated that no horses were at hand for hauling the life-saving apparatus to the stranded ship, and when there the life-line was so old and rotten that it was unable to bear even the strain of the ocean current. What an efficient inspector Mr. Kimball must have on the Currituck beach, to be sure! and we shiver with dread lest the inefficiency of his life-saving force and apparatus be tested at other points along the storm-swept Atlantic coast during the boisterous months of February and March, yet remaining to furnish their annual evidence of disaster and death. It is an excellent subject—this "Metropolis" business—for a searching, non-partisan investigation, by an impartial jury who don't believe in the efficacy of whitewash where thousands of human lives are set over against the pay and emoluments of a few small-fry politicians.

From 1830 to 1870 there were owned and run from Newburyport 127 pinkstern fishing vessels, and now but one remains of the fleet, although they were excellent sea-boats and it cost not much to run them. The fancy square-stern clippers have driven them from the Atlantic ports, and the prosperity of the owners has as much diminished as the increase of the cost of the vessels. This has had a tendency to concentrate the fishing business at Gloucester, which, as a fishing port, beats the world.

Admiral Porter's torpedo boat Alarm has made a mortifying failure on its trial trip. The boat has cost over $200,000, and cannot run over six or eight knots an hour, while it is necessary to make eighteen knots an hour. The torpedo apparatus works well.

Father Sheffrey, a New Haven Catholic priest, opposes the exclusion of the Bible from the schools. He thinks that any form or semblance of religion is better than no religion, and as the reading of the Bible in the schools was an acknowledgement of God, the discontinuance of such reading is a step in the direction of atheism.

THE CITY.

Moses H. Goodrich S. F. E. Co., No. Four, propose to give a ball at Franklin Hall on Washington's birthday eve, Feb. 21st.

The "Mazeppa Combination" will perform at Music Hall on the evenings of Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 12th and 13th.

Mr. Adams Perry, Jr., of this city, who went to Kansas for his health this winter, is so much improved as to be at work at his trade of house carpenter in Barton.

Major Add D. Welsh, of Providence, R. I., will address the Reform Club at Music Hall on Sunday evening; an admission fee of ten cents will be charged to defray expenses.

Mr. C. E. Buzzell, Superintendent of the Christian Sunday School in this city, is teaching a singing school connected with the society, Monday and Thursday evenings, in their chapel.

"The Octoroon," which is to played at Music Hall on Saturday evening by the Globe Theatre Company, of Boston, is to be put on the boards again next week at the Globe, with the same cast which plays it here.

A rat terrier at the residence of Mr. D. H. Spinney, in this city, killed thirty-four full-grown mice which were found in a barrel in a corn-chamber Monday afternoon, in a very few moments, not allowing any to escape.—Weekly.

The Weekly says that by the will of the late Mrs. Denny of Pittsburg, Penn., the family of Mrs. Nancy C. Denny of this city, (who is widow of one of the sons of deceased,) are heirs to one-eighth of the estate of $6,000,000 or so, in real estate variously located.

As Mr. Charles O. Johnson, a fisherman sailing in the schooner Grace Choate, was getting into a dory on Wednesday, he slipped and fell, and struck his left eye upon the end of an ox-goad, receiving severe injury. It was at first thought the eye was destroyed, but unless inflammation sets in the sight will probably not be wholly lost.

At a meeting of the ministers and laymen connected with the Rockingham Association of Universalists, held in this city on Tuesday, arrangements were made to hold a series of conferences in this section, to include Dover and Kingston, probably. The wants and needs of the Association were fully discussed and steps taken to advance their interests.—Times.

An old lady who was smoking a pipe in the building on the corner of Water and Partridge streets, at about two o'clock Thursday afternoon, managed to set a bed on fire. This created a great smoke, and the smoke created considerable excitement in the neighborhood, but the conflagration was put out by the neighbors with a few buckets of water, without an alarm being given. The damage was trifling.

The Secretary of the Treasury has settled the matter of the goods seized by the customs officers from the sloop-of-war Kearsarge. The law is that no war vessel shall import goods, hence the wine, China vases, Turkey rugs, etc., brought home by the officers, were forfeitable; but the Secretary, taking into account the absence of illegal intent, has ordered the goods to be released on payment of the regular duties. The total value of the goods seized is about $3000.

Henry V., which is to be produced at Music Hall on Monday evening, is such a play as is rarely presented in a small city, the cost of its production being so great that only a crowded house can repay the outlay. The costumes, scenery and armor used in its presentation were imported from England. Of Mr. Rignold, who takes the title role, Harper's Weekly says: "One of the best actors London has sent to this country—Mr. George Rignold, has achieved a remarkable success at Booth's Theatre, in Henry V., which has just been produced there with unprecedented scenic effects, and is, on the whole, the finest Shakespearean representation that has been witnessed in New York. The daily press is unanimous in its encomiums of Mr. Rignold for his quiet, dignified, manly, kindly rendition of the part of the valiant monarch. His delivery of the famous soliloquy and prayer is exceptionally fine. It contrasts with the frivolity of the modern drama. Mr. Rignold's Henry V., generous adversary, munificent friend, brave commander, and gallant soldier-wooer, rises to a height of grandeur where Shakespeare placed him."

THE CITY COUNCILS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening:

A petition largely signed was presented, asking that naptha lights be placed between the corner of Market and Green streets and the toll bridge. Accepted and referred to committee on gas lights.

A claim for damages to a cow, said to have been bitten by a mad dog, was made by Atwood S. Adams. Referred to committee on claims.

Clarence B. Mason asked permission to cut down a tree on Woodbury street. Referred to committee on streets.

Hon. Frank Jones petitioned for a gas light on Alden street, he to furnish the lantern and fixtures. Referred to committee on gas lights with power.

City Solicitor presented his report of unfinished business, and gave a list of suits now pending against the city. He also paid a deserved compliment to the present police-force. Report accepted and referred to the Common Council.

A communication from the Board of Instruction was received and accepted.

Receipts and expenditures made under the direction of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen for 1877, were referred to the same committee, and they were empowered to have one thousand copies printed, and it was voted that they be left in the City Clerk's office for distribution to those calling for them.

The committee on accounts presented the monthly bills, which were ordered to be paid.

City Solicitor's bill was referred to committee on claims.

Voted that the committee on city lands and buildings have a ventilator constructed in the city stables.

Voted that the committee on fire department be empowered to sell the three hand engines and apparatus now belonging to the city.

Voted that the committee on city lands and buildings be empowered to make the necessary repairs on No. Three and Four engine houses.

Committee on gas lights reported that the petitioners for the naptha lights on Water street be allowed to withdraw.

Adjourned for two weeks.

SUPREME COURT--JAN. TERM.

Wednesday, Feb. 7th; Bingham, J.

The following jurors were returned for this week: William F. Ham, James F. Jenness, (ward one,) Samuel Hanscom, (ward three,) Portsmouth; Frederick Palmer, Exeter; Franklin Gale, Andrew J. Davis, Kingston; Charles H. White, John V. White, Newcastle; Edward T. Downing, William E. Pickering, Newington; Nathaniel G. Whidden, John P. M. Green, Newton; Samuel Rand, Francis R. Drake, North Hampton; Albert H. Clark, William A. Caswell, Northwood; William F. Holmes, Ira Bennett, Nottingham; Isaac H. Pollard, Joseph Kimball, Plaistow; George E. Dodge, Gideon Currier, Raymond; Geo. G. Louges, Oren S. Green, Rye; Edwin C. Mills, Franclelus B. Sanborn, Sandown; George B. Palmer, Nathan H. Brown, South Hampton.

On Wednesday forenoon the Court came in, and on motion of Solicitor Small seven indictments against Wm. H. Briant, Jr., of Salem, for selling liquor contrary to law, were by order of the Court brought forward from the October term, it being stated that the defendant had sold liquors contrary to law since the last term. Mr. Hatch appeared for the respondent.

The trial of action H. H. Titcomb, of East Kingston, against Charles Evans of Kensington, was begun, and occupied until Thursday afternoon. This was an action to recover $50, a part of the price agreed upon for a mare sold by Titcomb to Evans. The defence was that the mare was not as valuable as represented. Several witnesses were called to describe the mare. There was also a dispute as to whether the balance was to be paid in hay or money. The usual variety of opinions which a "horse case" developes was given by those who had known the animal. The plaintiff contended that the lameness shown was known to the defendant, Evans, before the purchase. Martin, Towle and Leavitt for plff.; Wiggin for the deft.

No. 285, John Norris vs. Dorothy E. Ladd, action concerning real estate in Epping, is next in order. Stickney and Wiggin for Norris; Small and Frink for Ladd.

THE MERRILL WILL CASE.

The hearing in the contest over the will of the late Caroline Agnes Merrill was resumed in New York on the 5th inst. In opening the case for the contestants, Mr. Parsons said that the original name of his client, George Merrill, (the adopted son of Captain and Mrs. Merrill,) was George Merrill Tibbets. He was a nephew of Mrs. Merrill, and was regularly adopted. The estate consisted of money and investments received by her from her husband's will made in 1865, and in the same year she made a will making George Merrill her sole legatee, the captain having died meantime. They proposed to show that there had been in reference to the adopted son an insane delusion, but for which he would be the recipient of her bounty, and the law says such a will is void. She was mentally incapable of making a will when she made the second will, and it would be proved that it was procured by undue influence. It would be shown that she entertained the strangest notions about her adopted son, and treated him with what cruelty she could. It would be shown that in 1865, George Merrill being then in Paris, Mrs. Merrill wrote to him that she hated him; that he was no longer her son. A year after, in 1866, she wrote to him in the most affectionate terms, saying she had unwavering faith in his truthfulness; yet in 1868 she wrote to him that she hoped to see him hanged up by his lying tongue. In 1862 she wrote: "Do not meet me at the station, but at the Astor House, as I wish to kiss you fifty times when I see you." Subsequently she wrote: "I had not before known the depths of the baseness of your character. I heartily say, may you become as deaf as your sister, so blind that you cannot distinguish night from day, and have every trial, affliction and disease that was ever given man. May I live to see you hanged. I give you the curse of a mother for twenty-seven years, and a widow's curse, and all I have done for you is as nothing to what I will do to have your villany exposed—not your conscience aroused, for you have none."

THE VICINITY.

At Saco, on the 5th inst., the examination of John L. Livingston on a charge of setting fire to his store in that city, was begun before the police court. The examination was concluded on the 6th, and resulted in Livingstone being adjudged guilty and bound over in the sum of $300 to await trial at a higher court.

A queer accident, which happened at Dover on the 5th inst., is thus reported in the Democrat: "At noon the ice-cutters in the employ of Capt. J. S. Abbott, on the Cocheco river above the Fourth street bridge, while going to dinner left the horse used in their business standing upon the ice near the shore, eating hay. After the animal had eaten his allowance he laid down to have a roll-over on the ice, and rolled into a hole and down to the bottom of the river. When the men returned they could neither find nor hear anything of the horse until a woman appeared and said that as she was crossing the bridge she saw the horse roll into the hole and sink. He was 'fished out,' dead as a herring, with the harness on. Loss about $100."

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or Eng lish, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 126 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. tf6b13

The Standard Tooth-Wash

of the age, is Sozodont. It has distanced competition. Discolored teeth are rendered white by its use. The breath derives fragrance from its aroma. It prevents and arrests dental decay. The gums become rosier and harder under its operation. All its ingredients are vegetable and antiseptic.

Every day adds to its popularity.

An experienced traveller says: "After a week's sojourn at the Grand Central Hotel, I have no hesitation in saying that it is the best and cheapest first-class hotel in New York."

AS A RELIABLE REMEDY for Coughs, Colds, Consumption, or any affection of the throat and chest, we, according to directions given on each bottle, Madame Zadoc Porter's Cough Balsam, is always reliable, and the possession of a single bottle may, in case of a sudden attack, prove worth fifty times its cost. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you FREE OF CHARGE. Commonwealth Consolidated MINING COMPANY

THE Directors of the "COMMONWEALTH CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY," of San Francisco, DATED 8th inst., call attention to the mining property of this Company, situated in the Tuscarora District, Elko County, State of Nevada.

The property adjoins that of the well-known "Grand Prize," and the prices for shares of the Commonwealth Consolidated are the same as those made for shares of the Commonwealth Consolidated. The same vein, and of the same width, runs through both properties. The "Grand Prize" now so successfully working its regular monthly dividends.

The Commonwealth Consolidated Mining Company consists of two distinct properties, known as the "All Alones" and "Veritas" mines, which have been consolidated into the above-named Company. These valuable properties have well-defined, and the ledge found to be rich in both gold and silver. The Corporation is represented by one hundred thousand shares of stock, of the par value of one hundred dollars each, and the shares, as in ordinary mining stocks, the Directors have decided to assess only sufficient for working capital, and instead of assessing the shares, as is customary in most California mining stocks, the Directors have chosen to set aside 25,000 shares of the capital stock of the Company to be sold, and, proceeds placed in the treasury for a working capital.

This stock will only be sold from time to time, as funds may be required to carry on the work, which is being conducted by the ablest superintendent.

The first allotment of shares, to furnish working capital has all been taken.

The Directors now propose to issue the second allotment for the working capital, and the price is placed at Three Dollars per share to the Stockholders that will enhance the price of each share as the work of development proceeds, and the value of the property is enhanced by the requisite amount of working capital is obtained.

The "All Alone" shaft is now sunk to a depth of 78 feet, and a contract is about being closed to run it 200 feet deeper.

Messrs. OTIS & CO., members of the Pacific Stock Exchange, San Francisco, and Messrs. STONE & DOWNER, Boston, have been duly authorized to receive subscriptions to the Working Capital Stock.

The Officers and Directors of the Company are principally New England men, and the Board of Directors offer their assurance to the Stockholders that the affairs of the Company will be administered upon a safe and economical basis, and an examination of the management as to the working of the mine and the expenditure of the money is invited and guaranteed at all times.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole living. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best civilians, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.
This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.
As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.

The wonder of medical science—half horse and half man, the fabled Centaurs, left their impress upon the history of the world.

The Centaur Liniments, for man and beast, are not less remarkable in their way. They have been before the public only six years, but in that time they have performed more wonderful works, have alleviated more pains and cured more bed-ridden cripples than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Salves and Ointments in existence. Their immense and rapidly-increasing sale is indisputable evidence of the estimation in which they are held. They are already used in many of the hospitals of this country and Europe, and are prescribed by the best physicians and veterinary surgeons. Why should they not be? They have never failed to ameliorate suffering when cures from loss of bone or muscle are impossible. They contain Carbolic, Witch Hazel, Rock Oil, Arnica and Ingredients which must stimulate the fluids, soften the sinews and penetrate to the bone. We have never yet heard of the first failure to benefit, even in stubborn cases of Rheumatism, Sciatica, and Neuralgia, while, for Flesh Wounds, Bites, Frosted Limbs, Burns, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., they are unfailing. What the White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is for horses and animals. We will guarantee that one dollar expended for Centaur Liniment will perform more and speedier results than can be obtained for five or twenty dollars from any physician. We have made the treatment of flesh, bone and muscle ailments a specialty. We know that we have preparations which do what they are recommended to do. They are not curealls—they will not mend a broken leg, but they will alleviate pain and cure where any human agency can cure. Be sure and inquire for the Centaur Liniments and give them a fair trial.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 48 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Mothers,

There is the harmless and certain remedy for your children. CASTORIA is the result of twenty years' experiments by the celebrated Samuel Pitcher, M.D.

It is a vegetable preparation, and effective as Castor Oil, but perfectly pleasant to the taste. It can be taken by the youngest infant, and neither gags nor gripes. Dr. A. J. Green, of Royston, Indiana, says of it:

SIRS—I have tried the CASTORIA, and can speak highly of its merits. It will do away with Castor Oil. It is pleasant and harmless, and is wonderfully efficacious as an aperient and laxative. It is the very thing.

The CASTORIA destroys worms, regulates the Stomach, cures Wind Colic, and permits of natural healthy sleep. It is very efficacious in Croup, and for Teething Children. Honey is not pleasanter to the taste, and Castor Oil is not so certain in its effects. It costs but 35 cents, in large bottles.

J. B. ROSE & Co., New York.

The latest, greatest, and most reliable remedy ever put together by medical science for Rheumatism, Wounds, Swellings, Burns, Caked Breasts, etc., is the Centaur Liniment. There are two kinds. What the White Liniment is for the human family, the stronger kind, which is yellow in color, is for spavined, lame, and strained horses and animals. Their effects are wonderful.

Mothers who have weak and irritable children, can secure health for the children and rest for themselves, by using Dr. Pitcher's Castoria. It contains no morphine or any thing injurious. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and is certain to cure Wind Colic, regulate the bowels, and expel worms. For Teething children, there is nothing like Castoria. dtmay1

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that combines thrift and prosperity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot succeed a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness. Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint," and the Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellow-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy foreboding, impaired appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Multum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, it would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proved that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; then renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thin locks, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF
AFFORDED BY
SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

IT is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of its value in the treatment of Catarrhal affections that confidence is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly feel proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R. I.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you a line to say that although I have been sceptical of all the nostrums advertised as "radical cures," I have never found anything that promises such relief and ultimate cure as that of Sanford's.

For a long time afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to persevere with any until I read the letter of Mr. HENRY WELLS, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc. THEO. P. BOGERT.

BRISTOL, R. I., July 24, 1877.

Conduct in Case of Fire.

The following directions for conduct in case of fire are issued by the British Royal Society for the protection of life from fire:

Every householder should make each person in his house acquainted with the best means of escape, whether the fire breaks out at the top or at the bottom.

Inmates at the first alarm should endeavor calmly to reflect what means of escape there are in the house. If in bed at the time, wrap themselves in a blanket or bedside carpet; open neither windows nor doors more than necessary; shut every door after them. [This is most important to observe.]

In the midst of smoke it is comparatively clear towards the ground; consequently progress through smoke can be made on the hands and knees. A silk handkerchief, worsted stocking, or other flannel substance, wetted and drawn across the face, permits free breathing, and excludes to a great extent the smoke from the lungs. A wet sponge is alike efficacious.

In the event of being unable to escape either by the street door or the roof, the persons in danger should immediately make their way to the front-room window, taking care to close the door after them, and those who have charge of the household should ascertain that every individual is there assembled. Persons thus circumstanced are entreated not to precipitate themselves from the window while there remains the least possibility of assistance, and even in the last extremity a plain rope is invaluable, or recourse may be had to joining sheets or blankets together, fastening one end to the bed-post, or other furniture. This will enable one person to lower all the others separately, and the last may let himself down with comparatively little risk. Select a window over the doorway rather than over the area.

Do not give vent to the fire by breaking into the house unnecessarily from without, or if an inmate, by opening the windows or doors. Make a point of shutting every door after you as you go through the house. For this purpose the doors inclosing the staircase are very useful.

Upon discovering yourself on fire, reflect that your greatest danger arises from drafts to flames, and from their rising upward. Throw yourself on the ground and roll over on the flame—if possible, on the rug or loose drugget, which drag under you. The table cover, a man's coat, anything of the kind at hand, will serve your purpose. Scream for assistance, ring the bell, but do not run out of the room or remain in an upright position.

Persons especially exposed to the risk of their dresses taking fire, should adopt the precaution of having all linen and cotton washed in a weak solution of chloride of zinc, alum or tungstate of soda.

Robins in the Wrong Place.

At a swell wedding in the hunting metropolis, we read of eleven bridesmaids in white cashmere polonaises, trimmed with holly, mistletoe and robin redbreasts—dead robin redbreasts!!

Since the time that kindly bird covered the babes in the wood with leaves, even school boys' blood-thirstiness and roughs' recklessness have spared the robin—the bright-eyed, fearless friend of man—the sweet little singer of winter.

It was reserved for the eleven dainty bridesmaids—or rather, let us hope, for her who, without their cognizance or consent, planned their trimmings—to rise superior to the piety which spares the "little bird with bosom red."

May the spirits of the slain robins not sit, like the slain albatross in the conscience of the ancient mariner, on the souls of those eleven bridesmaids. But we should like to give a trimming of our own to the unwomanly woman who devised this cruel accompaniment of the holly and mistletoe, emblems of kindliness, good will on earth, and innocent kisses.—London Punch.

A Child Trap.

A little boy in the school of Miss Halsted, on Pearl street, one cold day last week, while at play out of doors, put his bare hand, wet with snow, on an iron fence, where it instantly stuck fast. Forewarned by the experience of a playmate last year, who was obliged to leave the skin of her tongue on an icy lamp post, the lad did not try to pull away his hand, but called for help. His teacher, who at the time of the former accident had learned the proper course to be pursued, immediately covered the hand with snow. When sufficiently cooled it came away, and an application of cold running water removed the most serious signs of frostbite. The skin was entirely saved, and the swelling and appearance of boat-blisters almost disappeared, under proper treatment, at the end of forty-eight hours. The case is mentioned, not from its importance, but because such an accident might any time happen among children, and cause severe suffering unless properly treated.—Worcester Gazette.

Death of the Pope.

Giovanni Maria Mastai Ferrati, Pius IX., the two hundred and fifty-seventh Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, died Thursday afternoon at the age of nearly eighty-six years, having been Pope for thirty-one years, a longer period than any of his predecessors. In private life the kindly old man was universally esteemed, and he was ardently beloved by those whose duties placed them near him. He was simple in his habits and mode of life, fond of art and letters, and devoted to what he conceived to be the best interests of the church of which he was the head.

The Eastern War.

The Roumanians did not stop hostilities around Rustchuk and Widin until Monday afternoon, 4th inst. They vigorously bombarded Widin on Sunday and Monday, and the condition of the garrison was considered desperate.

A despatch from Tirnova, Thursday, reports the arrival of heavy Russian reinforcements, and that the troops in Roumelia have been ordered to be in readiness to move at a moment's notice.

Greece has stopped her war against Turkey.

The Russians have occupied Chatalja Silivria, on the Sea of Marmora.

The windows of Gladstone's town house and of the London News office were broken by a mob, Thursday night, on account of their course in regard to the war. Whenever a British mob gets mad with a political opponent, smash go his windows. A few years ago it was Disraeli's windows that got smashed; now it is the other chap's.

The British fleet has been ordered to Constantinople.

Congress.

Senator Blaine made a speech on Thursday, advocating a silver dollar that shall be worth the same as a gold dollar. Nobody would object to such a dollar as that except the "silver men," who want a silver dollar that will be worth only ninety cents, wherewith to cheat their creditors and damn the Nation's reputation.

The Senate on Thursday confirmed Henry W. Hilliard of Georgia to be Minister to Brazil. While his appointment was under consideration Senator Conkling charged Hilliard with immoralities too indecent to be published, and said it seemed to him that the administration had gone into police court rooms for civil service reformers. After he had finished speaking he left the Chamber in disgust without waiting for the vote.

The Senate committee on commerce agreed to recommend the rejection of the nomination of George Williamson to be Collector at the port of New Orleans. It is understood that Williams was appointed at the suggestion of Randall Gibson, and the charge was made that he intended to use the patronage of the office to assist Gibson in his senatorial aspirations when the term of Senator Eustis expires.

Adin B. Underwood was confirmed as Surveyor of Customs at Boston.

The House on Thursday seated Peter D. Wigginton, democrat, in the seat which the democratic Supreme Court of California unanimously decided that Pacheco, republican, was elected to. The vote was a strictly party one.

News and Notes.

The people of Newburyport and vicinity have been surprised by the failure of two prominent lawyers of the Essex Bar—William C. Binney of Amesbury, who is accredited with irregularities to the amount of $40,000, most of it trust funds; the other is an old man nearly eighty years of age and well known in all parts of the country. Among his deficiences is $14,000, a school fund for his town. He is reported as very much broken in mind.

The Pennsylvania Board of Pardons has refused to commute the death sentence of Thomas P. Fisher, one of the Carbon county Mollie Maguire murderers.

There was a cyclone at Augusta, Ga., on Friday, and many buildings, including two railroad depots, were wrecked.

Fishing schooner Wm. H. Raymond, of Gloucester, reports having hove up the Direct Cable on the eastern part of Brown's bank, Jan. 19th, and parting it.

The number of vessels belonging to or bound to or from ports in the United States reported totally lost and missing during the past month is seventy-four, of which fifty-six were wrecked, six abandoned, one burned, three sunk by collision, three foundered, and two are missing. The list comprises three steamers, three ships, sixteen barks, seven brigs, and forty-five schooners, and their total value, exclusive of cargoes, is estimated at $930,000.

The State of Georgia lets out convicts for $14 a year apiece to companies that furnish guards and employ the prisoners in mines or on farms. A contract has just been entered into between ex-Gov. Brown and the State by which the former agrees to pay the latter $500,000 in yearly instalments of $25,000 for the use of all convicts for twenty years from April, 1879.

R. E. J. Miles, of the Grand Opera House of Cincinnati, has received a verdict of $40,000 damages against P. T. Barnum and others for a libel published two years ago.

Steamer Utopia, from New York for London, and steamer Merlin, from London for Bordeaux, were in collision off Gravesend Thursday; the Utopia was cut down and one compartment filled with water, but all the passengers were safely landed and the vessel got into port without much trouble.

Representatives of the coastwise steamship lines at a meeting held in New York on Thursday instructed a committee to draft resolutions expressing their unanimous opposition to section twenty-one of the proposed new tariff, which provides that materials for the construction of vessels may be imported in bond and withdrawn without duties for use, if used for American vessels, etc.

A large number of vessels of the coasting fleet, from Puget Sound ports for San Francisco, are greatly overdue, and late storms cause anxiety for their safety. Several pieces of wreckage have been seen by vessels coming down the coast, and other fragments have drifted ashore on the northern coast.

Mary Conkanon was thrown out of a second-story window in New York on Thursday, by a sailor named John Carter, with whom she has been living. She struck Robert Walker, who was passing under the window, and broke his back. The woman was badly hurt, but will probably recover; Walker will die.

Five hundred cartridge caps exploded Thursday afternoon at the United States Cartridge Works at Lowell, Mass. Flora McKeown and Fanny McCusker were terribly burned about the face and hands, and both will probably lose their sight. The damage to the building was slight.

The Pacific Mills, at Lawrence, Mass., were on Thursday damaged to the amount of $125,000 by fire, which caught in the starch room of the print works. A section of the works, two hundred and fifty feet long, comprising the print works, madder, dye house, starching, folding and steaming rooms, together with contents, were entirely destroyed. A large quantity of fabrics in process of manufacture were consumed. During the fire the brick walls fell, severely injuring Henry Ham, J. W. Morse and Chas. H. Heath, firemen, and Wm. A. Page, foreman of the print works. Three hundred operatives were thrown out of employment. The remainder of the mill started as usual Friday morning.

Professor T. T. Timayenis, of Springfield, has an ancient earthen lamp of the kind often mentioned by Homer as in common use, which turned up during the excavations among the tombs of Mycenæ, and is vouched for as being 3,000 years old. On the bottom is an inscription, which the owner declares to be the Masonic square and compass, with an additional mark indicating one of the high degrees of that order.

One of the houses of the Iowa Legislature has passed a curious bill, which provides that no soldier's family shall be sent to the poor house. There seems to be no other provision in the bill, which thus appears to be a piece of base ingratitude to the families of those who served the nation in the field; since, if the bill means anything, it means that soldiers' families without means of support shall starve.

The examination by the steamboat inspectors into the cause of the Metropolis disaster commenced in Philadelphia on Thursday. The principal witness was Dr. Green, who testified that the ship was rotten and totally unseaworthy, and produced a fragment of her rotten timbers. It is stated that one of the survivors of the Metropolis says he saw the line cast by the life-saving crew over the vessel before she was a wreck, by means of the mortar, deliberately cut with a knife, by a man who was afterward drowned. This act was evidently done to prevent any one else from trying to get ashore on the line before himself. The man who makes this incredible statement will be called before the examining board.

New Hampshire Items.

Gov. Prescott, and Senators Wadleigh and Rollins, with their wives, dined with President Hayes on Thursday.

Ex-Gov. Fred Smythe is the Honorary Commissioner from this State to the Pari's Exposition.

A bullet from a revolver, shot at a cat in the road at Colebrook, recently struck on the ground, glanced into the kitchen window of Daniel F. Coates' house, fifty rods distant, passed close by Mrs. Coates' head, struck the stove and fell flattened.

There are forty-one people over seventy years old at Belmont factory village, one of whom is over 100, another over ninety, and several over eighty years of age.

The number of deaths in Francestown during the past year was twenty-seven, of whom seven persons were over eighty years of age and the oldest ninety-seven. There are now living in town about thirty persons whose age is between eighty and ninety, and twice that number between seventy and eighty, although the town boasts a population of only about nine hundred.

George Badger, residing in Cornish, about twenty-six years of age, died quite suddenly of locksjaw recently from neglecting to take care of a frozen foot.

The trial of Pinkham, the New Durham murderer, is to take place at the present term of the Supreme Court at Dover, Judge Smith presiding. The prisoner will be defended by William J. Copeland of Berwick.

Political.

Gen. Anderson's case has been decided by the Louisiana court that is engaged in conciliating the republican party of that State out of existence, Anderson of course being found guilty. That court, with its defaulter-reformer Judge and packed juries, would find the Returning Board guilty of crucifying the Savior if no other charge would answer the desired end.

It is rumored in Washington that if the Bland bill passes Secretary Sherman will resign, and Stanley Matthews take his place. Oh, heavens!

The attention of those who fondly expect that in some mysterious manner the inflation of the currency is going to at once make times so good that laborers will get all the employment they want at three dollars a day, and flour be purchasable at four dollars a barrel, is invited to the following from the pen of Murat Halstead, editor of the Cincinnati Commercial, one of the ablest and most eager advocates of remonetization in the West, where inflation ideas are (or have been, for a good many western men are beginning to come to their senses) almost universal: "Those who expect the passage of the silver bill to bring sudden prosperity upon the country are mistaken. There is no panacea for our disease but that comprised in the terms time, favor and thrift. The country suffers from the tremendous waste of the war, and from the improvidence which resulted from inflation. It must recover by returning to a sound currency, by the adoption of better habits—by earning more than it spends."

The Ohio State Senate has enacted bill making pool-selling on the result of an election punishable by a fine of not more than $500 nor less than $5, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than six months, at the discretion of the Court. Whenever the amount put at hazard is between $5 and $500 the fine is to equal the amount so hazarded.

THE CITY.

There was a good attendance at Franklin Hall, Thursday evening, to hear Prof. Robinson's explanation of the telephone, and witness illustrations of its workings; and the audience seemed greatly interested and well pleased.

The half-fare excursionists to Boston, Friday, over the Eastern Railroad, to see the "Exiles," were rather scarce. Many more would have gone, probably, had they not expected that the train leaving Boston after the close of the theatre would be a heavy one, and that they would have an all night job of it getting home. And possibly the number and quality of the entertainments at Music Hall, given and to be given, had something to do with the very moderate patronage accorded the "Exiles" trains.

The Portsmouth Firemen's Mutual Relief Association has elected the following-named gentlemen as officers for the ensuing year: George A. Jackson, President; Herman Manson, Vice President; Samuel S. Fletcher, Treasurer; William S. Hazel, Secretary. The Association has a fund of $1481.03, exclusive of $100 held by a trustee of the late Joshua W. Peirce. The amount paid for benefits the past year was $25, for injuries sustained by a member of the organization at the National House fire.

The play of "The Octoroon," which is to be enacted at Music Hall this evening by the Globe Theatre company from Boston, is one with which many of our play-going citizens are familiar, and those who are most familiar with it seem to be the ones most anxious to secure tickets for this entertainment. Every seat in the hall is reserved and will be secured to the holder of the ticket bearing a corresponding number, at 75, 50 or 35 cents, according to location. Call at Dr. Preston's and secure a seat.

About every paper we have taken up for two weeks past has contained the following: "During a late storm a window at Whale's-back, about fifty feet above the water-line, was smashed in by the heavy sea and a portion of the interior wall washed down." We can't stand it to read this statement any longer without remonstrance. The window was smashed in, sure enough, but the idea of "a portion of the interior wall," being "washed down" is simply ridiculous. Rock lighthouses are not fitted with "interior walls" of lath and plaster, to be washed down by a bucket of water; the only interior wall to be found in one is a solid cylinder of brick, reaching from the bottom of the tower to the lantern-deck, built against and supported by the outside wall of stone, and not to be "washed down" so long as the tower stands.

NORTH MILLPOND SPORTS.

The pleasant weather of Thursday, which might have been credited to April without any disparagement of that month, was taken advantage of by owners of fast horses in the city. Although the course was not in so good condition as on Tuesday and Wednesday, this did not prevent numerous trials of speed. Among the horses most prominent in the fun were Frank W. Hilton's mare Bessie, E. H. Fay's no name, R. H. Beacham's Lulu, H. R. Stoddard's matched span, F. Jones' Brownie, A. A. Fernald's Dan, G. H. Wendell's Nettie, M. Eldredge's Franklin, H. Fisher Eldredge's Gentle Annie, W. Locke's Yankee, Dr. Donaldson's Edith Knox, E. W. Cochrane's span, (Lady Alice and Jewell,) Alex. Robinson's unknown, D. Fox, Stoddard's Shoo Fly, J. R. Connell's Topsy, Dr. Perry's John, Dr. Curtis' Prince, Dr. Dearborn's Kitty, and Wm. Mout's Greeley, besides a number of others which though of less speed than most of those named, contributed to the animation of the scene and perhaps gave their drivers as much pleasure as the fast-horse owners got from their animals. There were about three hundred spectators on the pond.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The Grand Lodge of this Order held its annual session in Manchester on Thursday last, Grand Chancellor William O. Sides, of this city, presiding. The regular term of office of the Grand Chancellor having expired, a report covering his official acts during the past year, together with various suggestions and congratulations to the members of the Grand body, was submitted by the retiring officer, and unanimously adopted. Mr. Sides' administration (we are informed) has been marked with a great degree of success, superinduced by good administrative and executive ability, and much of the credit of the present flourishing condition of the Order known as the Knights of Pythias is due to the persistent energy and devotion of Grand Chancellor Sides. A new Lodge, with sixteen members, was instituted by him in Northwood on Tuesday night, the 5th inst., as the crowning act of his official career. The following officers are elected for the year ensuing:

Wm. O. Sides, Past Grand Chancellor;
Charles M. Lang, Grand Chancellor;
Wm. E. Moore, Grand Vice Chancellor;
W. A. Frye, Grand Prelate;
L. K. Peacock, Grand Master of Exchequer;
Albert T. Cotton, Grand Keeper of Records and Seal;
J. A. Foss, Grand Master-at-Arms;
Fred Newman, Grand Inner Guard;
John H. Pingree, Grand Outer Guard.

N. H. S. P. C. A.

At the last meeting of the Directors of the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the following report of the work done the previous month was made:

Whole number of complaints investigated, sixteen; viz.: racing in streets, one; starving cattle, one; cruelly treating horses, four; cruel neglect of horse, one; using old and worn-out horses, four; cruelly killing auks, one; throwing missiles at pigeons, one; attempting to catch pigeons with a hook, one; cruelly beating cow, one; cruelty to dog, one. Number of horses killed by the Society's order, one; horses found exposed, and blanketed, six. Besides this many acts of kindness were performed by members of the Society. It was Voted that the Society present a bound copy of Our Dumb Animals to Miss Annie M. Blaney, of Kittery, in recognition of her act of kindness in blanketing a horse on Market square during a severe storm." It was also "Voted, that the thanks of the Society are due to the City Marshal for his courtesy and efficiency in investigating cases of cruelty in behalf of the Society."

AN EXPLANATION.

Mr. Editor: In a notice in the CHRONICLE of the concert given at Music Hall on the evening of the 5th inst., a correspondent refers to the absence of Mr. Carl Pfleuger, who had been announced to appear, in terms which seem to imply censure upon us for his non-appearance, —which was not only "unfortunate" but was more of a "disappointment" to us than it could possibly have been to any one in the audience. To satisfy the public that we acted in entire good faith, we have procured a copy of the following telegram from the office of the Western Union Telegraph in this city:

BOSTON, Feb. 4th.

To Willis Nowell, Portsmouth, N. H.:

Pfleuger is sick and cannot sing tomorrow. Charles Hayden, Hotel Pelham, might take his place.

ISADORE EICHBERG.

By giving the above a place in your columns you will not only do justice to but will greatly oblige

Yours truly, WILLIS E. NOWELL,
GEORGE NOWELL.

ENGINEER SAWYER'S CASE.

We clip the following from a Washington dispatch:

The House naval committee has agreed to report adversely the bill for the restoration to the navy list of the name of George E. Sawyer, who was dismissed for disrespectful language with reference to Andrew Johnson during the impeachment trial.

Mr. Sawyer was not dismissed from the navy. The facts in the case are, that he was stationed at this navy yard in the "Johnson times," he being then a Second Assistant Engineer. At the same time a Surgeon Gibon, a pompous individual but a good doctor, was stationed here. Gibon was a democrat, or at least an ardent supporter of Andy Johnson; Sawyer was a republican; and when the parties mentioned, with others, were coming across the river from the navy yard one evening, there was some warm political disputing on board the boat, Gibon abusing Congress in round terms, and Sawyer denouncing Johnson and asserting that he ought to be impeached. An honorable man we should think would hardly have tried to win an advantage by reporting words spoken under such circumstances; but Sawyer's language was reported, and he was court-martialled for it and sentenced to one year's suspension on half of waiting-orders pay. Gibon was not troubled for his disrespectful remarks about Congress, probably on the ground that Congress was not Gibon's superior officer, while President Johnson, as Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy, was Sawyer's superior officer. One of the first acts of Mr. Borie after his appointment as Secretary of the Navy, was to recommend to President Grant the annulling of Sawyer's sentence, which was of course promptly done, and Mr. Sawyer was restored to active service and received the balance of his back pay. In the meantime we believe he had taken to himself a wife and gone into business with his father-in-law, and our impression is that he soon after resigned from the navy; anyway, he was not "dismissed" for his disrespectful language concerning President Johnson.

THE VICINITY.

The bill to protect the breeding of trout in Perkins' Brook, in North Berwick, Wells and Sanford, in York county, has been passed to be engrossed by the Maine Senate.

A body believed to be that of Rev. A. M. Osgood, a Methodist minister of Boston, was found in the harbor at Stonington, Conn., on Friday. Mr. Osgood has a sister living in Newmarket.

A horse belonging to John Bradley, of Cape Elizabeth, Me., was stolen last June, and found on Wednesday, the 6th inst., at Great Falls, in the possession of a Mr. Sanborn, who traded another horse and gave $25 to boot for the Bradley horse. The man Mr. Sanborn traded with is named Edward Payson Bond, and is now serving a sentence of five years in the State prison of Maine, for the theft of the horse.

The materialization seances at the house of Mr. John Pickering, of Rochester, noticed by us some days since, continue to attract much attention; at each sitting the house is filled, and application for admission has to be made weeks in advance. Parties have come on from New York to witness the wonderful "daylight manifestations," and recently a Portland party of investigators attended, —the latter declaring the whole thing a humbug. One Mr. John Greenfield, it is said, "offers to wager $100 that he can show it to be a fraudulent transaction on a fair investigation, claiming that Mrs. Pickering personated every figure at the seance which he attended." Mrs. Pickering and her husband have always borne good reputations and been considered reliable persons; and the people of Rochester have become greatly interested to know if the manifestations are truly departed spirits, who become materialized through the mediumship of Mrs. Pickering, or are merely due to skillful tricks of legerdemain.

—Watermelons are looming up in the near future as the "great American product." Experiments in California show that sugar can be extracted from the melons at a cost of two cents per pound less than from sugar cane. Besides this, oil is made from the seed and alcohol from the rind.

—A young woman of Indianapolis is afflicted by a singular disease. Every twenty-four hours, between ten P. M. and two A. M., she is subject to violent fits of cramp, which affect only her right side. While the spasms last it requires the united strength of several persons to prevent her limbs from becoming fixed in a cramped position, and her suffering is intense. After the lapse of four hours she becomes again quite composed, is able to walk about with perfect ease, and appears in the enjoyment of the most perfect health.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and administering, by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. Commonwealth Consolidated MINING COMPANY

THE Directors of the "COMMONWEALTH CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY," of San Francisco, call attention to the mining property of this company, situated in the Treasure Mining District, Esmeralda County, State of Nevada.

The property adjoins that of the well-known "Grand Prize," and developements thus far made in the shaft and levels of the Commonwealth Consolidated indicate the same vein, and of the same richness as that found at a even depth in sinking the shaft upon the "Grand Prize" now so successfully worked, and paying its regular monthly dividends.

The Commonwealth Consolidated Mining Company consists of two distinct properties, known as the "All Alone" and "Vertical" mines, which have been consolidated into the above-named Company; both of these valuable properties have been opened by shafts, the ledge found to be well-defined, and the ores are proved by assay to be rich in both gold and silver.

The Company is represented by one hundred thousand shares of stock, of the par value of one hundred dollars each, and instead of assessing the shareholders, as is customary in most California mining stocks, the Directors have chosen to set aside 25,000 shares of the capital stock of the Company to be sold, and the proceeds placed in the treasury for working capital.

This stock will only be issued and sold from time to time, as found to be required to carry on the work, which is being pushed with energy under the superintendence of a first-class miner.

The first allotment of shares to be sold for working capital has all been taken.

The Directors now propose to issue the second allotment for the working capital, and the price is fixed at Three Dollars per share, with the assessable to the Stockholders that their interest is to be enhanced by the price of each issue from time to time, as the work of development is prosecuted and the value of the property is enhanced thereby, until the requisite amount of working capital is obtained.

The "All Alone" shaft is now sunk to a depth of 75 feet, and a contract is about being closed to run it one 100 feet more.

Messrs. Olff & Co., members of the Pacific Stock Exchange, San Francisco, and Messrs. Stone & Downer, Boston, have been duly authorized to receive subscriptions as above for the Working Capital Stock.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Erupt ons and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Ulcers, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet produced. Their effects abundantly show how much they exceed others. They are safe and pleasant to take, but, owing to its cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take, and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or so desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for the intended purpose."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.

The wonder of medical science—half horse and half man, the fabled Centaurs, left their impress upon the history of the world.

The Centaur Liniments, for man and beast, are not less remarkable in their way. They have been before the public only six years, but in that time they have performed more wonderful works, have alleviated more pains and cured more bed ridden cripples than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Salves and Ointments in existence. The immense and rapidly-increasing sale is indisputable evidence of the estimation in which they are held. They are already used in many of the hospitals of this country and Europe, and are prescribed by the best physicians and veterinary surgeons. Why should they not be? They have never failed to ameliorate suffering when cures from loss of bone or muscle are impossible. They contain Carbolic, Witch Hazel, Rock Oil, Arnica and ingredients which must stimulate the fluids, soften the sinews and penetrate to the bone. We have never yet heard of the first fallacy to benefit, even in stubborn cases of Rheumatism, Sciatica, and Neuralgia, while, for Flesh Wounds, Bites, Frosted Limbs, Burns, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., they are unfailing. What the White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is for horses and animals. We will guarantee that one dollar expended for Centaur Liniment will perform more and speedier results than can be obtained for five or twenty dollars from any physician. We have made the treatment of flesh, bone and muscle ailments a specialty. We know that we have preparations which do what they are recommended to do. They are not curealls—they will not mend a broken leg, but they will alleviate pain and cure where any human agency can cure. Be sure and inquire for the Centaur Liniments and give them a fair trial.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Mothers,

There is the harmless and certain remedy for your children. CASTORIA is the result of twenty years' experiments by the celebrated Sam'l Pitcher, M.D.

It is a vegetable preparation and therefore as Castor Oil, but perfectly pleasant to the taste. It can be taken by the youngest infant, and neither gags nor gripes. Dr. A. J. Green, of Royston, Indiana, says of it:

MRS.—I have tried the CASTORIA, and can speak highly of its merits. It will do away with Castor Oil. It is pleasant and harmless, and is wonderfully efficacious as an aperient and laxative. It is the very thing.

The CASTORIA destroys worms, regulates the Stomach, cures Wind Colic, and permits of natural healthy sleep. It is very efficacious in Croup, and for Teething Children. Honey is not pleasanter to the taste, and Castor Oil is not so cert in its effects. It costs but 35 cents, in large bottles.

J. B. ROSE & CO., New York.

The latest, greatest, and most reliable remedy ever put together by medical science for these ailments, Wounds, Swellings, Burns, Caked Breasts, etc., is the Centaur Liniment. There are two kinds. What the White Liniment is for the human family, the strong r kind, which is yellow in color, is for spavined, lame, and stribled horses and animals. Their effects are wonderful.

Mothers who have weak and irritable children, can secure health for the child and rest for themselves, by using Dr. Pitcher's Castoria. It contains no morphine or any thing injurious. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and is certain to cure Wind Colic, regulate the bowels, and expel worms. For Teething children, there is nothing like Castoria. tlmayl

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? As internal cannot supersede a superior article, by reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the annual exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. This business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

Golden Medical Discovery

Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness. Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint," and as Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

When the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or when there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellow spots upon face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, troublesome dreams, gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid Liver, or "Bilious." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Anti-bilious Pellets, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and as sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, here once so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Foul Taste in Mouth, Habitual Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their beneficial influence. Age does not impair their virtues of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired, no matter how long a time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap, wooden or pasteboard boxes. In daily use of these Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Costiveness, Sick Headache, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They, however, recommend to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

The remedial management of those diseases peculiar to women has afforded a large experience at the World's Dispensary, of which Dr. Pierce is the chief consulting physician, in adapting remedies for their cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the result of this extended experience, and has become justly celebrated for its many and remarkable cures of all those chronic diseases and

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA
For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who e substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear. Such as Ulcerations of the Liver Stomach, Kidneys Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose of Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

CATARRH
NEVER-FAILING RELIEF
AFFORDED BY
SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

IT is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of its value in the treatment of Catarrhal affections that confidence is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly feel proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R. I.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to offer you a line to say that although I have been deceived at the nostrums advertised as "radical cures," I have never found anything that promises such relief and ultimate cure as that of SANFORD'S.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to persevere with any until I read the letter of Mr. HENRY WEST, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc., THEO. P. BOGERT.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 166.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

There is a spot of some historic interest in Concord, which I lately visited. It is on Main street, perhaps half a mile north of the State House. It is on the east side of the street, and pretty well back toward the high brick building now owned by the New Hampshire Historical Society, and in which is its Library. Maj. Daniel Livermore, who served in the war of the Revolution, soon after the war closed, probably about 1785, erected a house for himself. He had served in the war, and intended to occupy this house and enjoy the quiet pleasures of domestic felicity. He had selected and engaged himself to Miss Sarah Walker, daughter of Judge Timothy Walker, and grand-daughter of Rev. Timothy Walker, the first minister of Concord. Judge Walker lived a little north of where Major Livermore built his house. It was two stories high, but I think single in width, with hip roof and an ell in the rear. The house stood a little skewing, that is, its north end at the front, was on the line of the street, while its south end was nine inches over the line. Major Livermore gave as a reason for this that he wished a chance to look up to Judge Walker's where was the object of his warm affections. A few years since, this house was moved to another part of the city, and another occupies its place.

There lived in Charlestown, Mass., some sixty years ago, Rev. Jedediah Morse, author of a geography, which was used as a reading book in the schools. He had a son named Samuel Finley Breese Morse, born in Charlestown in 1791. He had attained a collegiate education, and about 1818 visited Concord, and was at a party of invited guests in the Livermore house. Here he met a young lady of the Walker family named Lucretia Pickering Walker, a descendant on her mother's side of Hon. John Pickering of Portsmouth. On the 29th of September, 1818, these two were joined in marriage. They settled in New Haven, Conn. Mrs. Morse died in 1825, Prof. Morse in 1872. This Prof. Morse has a world-wide fame. It was he who invented the electric telegraph in 1844. This was improved upon by Mr. Cyrus W. Field, who, in 1866, invented the submarine telegraph, so that messages can now be sent under oceans and the roughest seas.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 8th.

The woman suffrage advocates have real cause for encouragement. Less than twenty-five years ago the hoodlum elements of our large cities bombarded with rotten eggs and assailed with vilest epithets those daring advocate such an innovation, whenever they appeared on our streets. They (the hoodlums) invaded the lecture room and dispersed the audience by violence, without fear of punishment, so bigoted and intolerant was public sentiment. Those convinced of the justice and equity of their demands, shrank from making their convictions public, because of the social ostracism certain to follow such announcement; and from a large majority of the most advanced of the moulders and leaders of public opinion, the cause was loaded down with contumely and derision. In view of such facts it sounds little less than marvellous to read that the judiciary committee of the House was a tie on the question of reporting in favor of a 16th Constitutional Amendment, substantially granting the boon asked for by hundreds of thousands of American citizens, which have been rained down on the members of the 45th Congress since the opening day of the session. "Sound the loud timbrel o'er Egypt's dark sea."

The unexpectedly large vote of the House in favor of taxing the wealthy in proportion to their means, has aroused their newspaper and other organs to attribute to those voting in its favor, all sorts of communistic and red-republican sympathies. The measure lacked only a few votes of the necessary two-thirds; and though it is not thought it can succeed this session, the growing demand for some such legislation indicated by the vote, leads our millionaires to apprehend that they may very soon be called to account for their stewardship.

Mr. Schurz has seemed to make a good many enemies, first and last, since coming into office. This, of course, is nothing against him, provided he has been guided in his official slaughters by a sense of justice and the good of the public service; but "there's the rub;" and the testimony of such men as Ex-Representative Seelye, Gen. Sherman, Gen. Sheridan and scores of others equally responsible, in behalf of some of his beheaded victims, has had the effect to discredit his often very summary methods of treatment of those who have fallen under his displeasure.

The large number of protests sent Mr. Le Duc, Commissioner of Agriculture, against the contemplated removal of Mr. Dodge, quite generally regarded as the most valuable man in the bureau to the country's agricultural interests, induced that gentleman to forego his purpose to "bounce" Mr. Dodge. Indeed, if Mr. Le Duc's ability to take a hint is not very limited, he must have become convinced that the public would submit to his own retirement with a wonderful degree of resignation, should his consent to remain be made contingent on Mr. Dodge's withdrawal. Doorkeeper Polk's Case.

W. H. Prescott, John B. McDonald, and William H. Holt, all from New England, and at present employees in the Doorkeeper's department of the House, testified before the Committee on Civil Service Reform on Thursday relative to an arrangement made by and for them between the Doorkeeper, Representative Jones of New Hampshire, and Phelps and Landers of Connecticut, and themselves, according to which their salaries, which were of different grades, were pooled and equally divided between them. The testimony of these witnesses, although not revealing any criminal transactions of the Doorkeeper, disclosed an exceedingly loose management of the affairs of the office. It was shown that men were carried on the pay-rolls when they were not actually performing work, but some one else was doing the work for them; that one man was doing messenger's work, while a fireman, who had been discharged, and was to be reinstated, drew the salary and paid it over to the messenger. From the evidence before the committee, it clearly appeared that Polk was cognizant of these things, although it seems that his deputy, Donovan, made the arrangement and secured its being carried out.

The Eastern War.

The situation in Europe on the Eastern question is unchanged, except that the English Parliament has voted the war bill asked by the Government. It is stated that Germany has not entered into any engagement to support the new demands of Russia. Telegraphic communication with Constantinople is still almost entirely suspended, but it is known that the first reports of the general advance by Russia are substantially true.

England is sending more troops to Malta. The British fleet started from Besika Bay for Constantinople on Friday, neither Turkey or Russia objecting.

The insurgent government of Thessaly has declared that province annexed to Greece. The Greek army is returning home from the war on Turkey, having suffered a loss of three men wounded and one taken prisoner since active hostilities commenced; had the war progressed it is feared somebody might have killed a man.

Osman Pasha will be court-martialed. He is charged with burying prisoners alive. The Russians are so exasperated against him that he rarely leaves his lodgings.

News and Notes.

The new Herald building, on Washington street, Boston, is completed, and is not only a fine building but one of the best newspaper offices in the country. The entire building, which is one hundred feet high and contains six stories and a basement, is taken up by the Herald establishment.

Stanley, the African explorer, is greatly honored. He dined with the Prince of Wales Thursday evening; then went to a meeting of the Geographical Society, where he was received by some 3000 persons, including many of the nobility.

A girl thirteen years old, named Mary A. Gorman, was before the Municipal Court in Boston on Friday, charged with being a common night-walker. The evidence showed that the child had been placed in a house of prostitution by her two married sisters, who wished to get rid of caring for her.

An execution has been issued to a sheriff against the property of Ring-Thief Genet, a judgment against which for $204,000 was long ago entered.

Commodore Shufeldt recommends that the life-saving service be reorganized as a part of the naval system of the United States, and manned and managed by the Navy Department.

A horse belonging to the South Boston Horse Railroad Company died on Thursday of hydrophobia.

A man named McGuire, alias McCarthy, was arrested at Thorold, Ont., Friday, charged with having committed a murder in Pittsburg, Pa. He is said to be one of the Molly Maguire gang.

As Gen. James Shields views the European situation, according to the Bangor Commercial, a general war is now imminent. In his judgment, the natural alliances will be Russia and Germany on one hand and England, France and Austria on the other, while he thinks England with her vast navy will be able to compel the support of Italy and Spain. The general views events from the standpoint of an experienced soldier, and his opinions are entitled to generous respect.

Four hundred guests attended a fashionable wedding on the plains of Manitoba, recently. An ox roasted whole was the piece de resistance of the banquet, and as liquor is forbidden to be introduced upon the plains, the health of the newly married pair was drunk in pain-killer.

Michael Mehan, a well known sporting character of Boston, fired into a party of snow shovelers Thursday, because, as he said, they snow-balled him. Fortunately no one was hurt, but he was held in $1,200.

It has been decided by the Supreme Court of the United States, in the case of the United States vs. the brig Grace Lathrop, appealed from the Circuit Court for the District of Massachusetts, that masters of vessels plying between the United States and the West Indies are not required to call in the Shipping Commissioners when entering into contracts with seamen, such voyages being excepted from the operation of the act, and that in such voyages the owner, consignee or master of the ship may lawfully perform the duties of Shipping Commissioner. In another case, appealed from the same court, it is decided that the Shipping Commissioners' act does not apply to coastwise voyages from one port to another on our Atlantic coast. Justice Clifford delivered the opinions.

A young girl employed in a public house in Belfast, Me., has a passion for killing cats. She shuts the victim in a room, watches her chances to catch it by the hind legs, gives it a swing and dashes its brains out. At one time she had five laid out at once. Her hands have been fearfully bitten and clawed by the animals, but she still follows her deadly war on the felines.

The tomb of Washington at Mount Vernon is now protected from operations of thieves by a burglar alarm. Heretofore it would not have been a difficult task to steal the remains of the "Father of his Country," and hold them for ransom, as thieves might have landed at the wharf and proceeded to the tomb, which is not far distant, without being seen or heard from the Mansion House. Now the tomb is so thoroughly placed in connection with the house that it cannot be approached without an alarm being given.

Political.

Repeating, ballot-box stuffing and kindred felonies, under the present regime, seem to be embraced in the accommodating and elastic class known as "political offences," and amnesty for all "political offenders" is a cardinal doctrine in the creed of that vigorous conciliator, President Hayes. Therefore, he pardons Ephraim Holland, Esq., who engineered that stern reformer, Banning, into Congress when the people elected him to stay at home. Ephraim is to be congratulated. His branch of American industry is in a fair way to be adequately protected.—N. Y. Tribune.

During a lecture delivered by Colonel R. G. Ingersoll in Philadelphia, in February, 1877, some one called out to him, "How about the Louisiana Returning Board?" The orator said in answer, that he was not lecturing on politics, adding: "In sixteen States of the Union there is no genuine liberty, and for that reason I justify the action of the Louisiana Returning Board. When I read the evidence taken before the Senate I feel as if I could hear the drops of blood falling upon the withered leaves as men were whipped in the darkness of the night, and I thought if we were guilty of no other crime than refusing to receive the ballots of those who prevented others from voting, we could all stand an excellent chance of getting to Heaven."

New Hampshire Items.

Governor Prescott and wife had a brilliant reception at Hon. Thomas L. Tullock's residence in Washington, Friday evening. Nearly all the natives of New Hampshire resident there, to the number of one hundred and fifty or more, called during the evening to pay their respects, and were cordially received.

Hon. Oliver B. Buswell of Grantham, who was recently drawn as a petit juror in the Supreme Court at Newport, served his first term in that capacity just fifty years ago.

Mr. Jonathan Barnard's store in Newport was entered and robbed Thursday night by breaking the window of the front door. It is impossible to tell all that was taken. Ten dollars was taken from the money drawer, and other articles. No clue to the perpetrators has yet been found.

THE CITY.

The free evening school held in the school-room at the brick school house on State street under the management of the Young People's Union, has about seventy scholars.

Meeting in the chapel at Faith Home this (Monday) evening at 7:30. Reading from "Times of Refreshing;" theme, "the baptism of the Spirit; how found and how retained." Friends are cordially invited.

Capt. Moses L. Staples, of Wells, Me., who was for some years master of the schooner Mary Ella, first of this port and then of Kennebunk, and was the principal owner of that vessel at the time she was disabled and abandoned some weeks ago, has been in communication with Mr. Wm. F. Fernald of this city, in reference to the building of a schooner of about three hundred and fifty tons, to be ready to go on the berth early in the spring.

When Mr. Willard Sampson, of this city, left to enter the naval service during the rebellion, his mother presented him with a prayer-book, which he carried with him for some time but finally lost. Recently, after the lapse of fourteen years, Mr. Sampson's lost keepsake was returned to him from California, by Mrs. Ashela Thurston, it having been discovered at the Mare Island navy yard. As might be supposed, Mr. Sampson prizes his long-lost and singularly-recovered prayer-book very highly.

The Merrill will case was on trial before the Surrogate at New York on Friday, when Mr. Thurlow Weed was examined as a witness. Mr. George Merrill, the principal contestant, was also on the witness stand. He stated that he was born in Dover, Jan. 13, 1831, and lost his parents in early life, and was adopted by Capt. Merrill when about eight years of age. His name was George Millen Tibbets, and at the age of fourteen years he took the name of George Merrill at the request of his adopted parents. The trial will be resumed on Tuesday.

On Saturday night (though that night is not a good one for a show in this city, and the weather and walking were not of the best, in addition to which George Rignold was advertised to appear on Monday evening in his celebrated impersonation of Henry V.,) a good audience greeted the Globe Theatre Company's presentation of "the Octoroon" at Music Hall. They play is too well known to require a particular description; the acting was good, as would natural by be expected of a company from the Globe, and the spectators, judging from the generous applause bestowed, were satisfied that they got their money's worth. The New Orleans Colored Troubadours are capital in their slave songs and plantation melodies.

An Atkinson correspondent of the Exeter News-Letter writes: "The lecture given here on Tuesday last, by Sheriff J. Horace Kent, was well attended, considering the travelling. The lecture gave universal satisfaction. We did not expect to see any of the 'flowers of rhetoric' mingled with hard facts, but we found them pretty freely distributed,—enough so for ornament, but none too much for illustration. Mr. Kent is one of our best lecturers, although lecturing is far from being his profession. He lectures 'without money and without price' for the good of the cause of humanity. Dealing in hard facts and figures, and having had great experience with alcohol and its effects—both on himself and hosts of others—familiar with the criminal classes in all grades of crime, he is the man to bring home truth to the hearts and consciences and purses of the most unbelieving."

Shakespeare's historical play, Henry V., which is to be presented at Music Hall this evening with George Rignold in the title role, is such a play as is rarely presented in a worthy manner in towns of the size of Portsmouth; but Mr. Rignold, unless all the metropolitan papers have lied about him fearfully, is a finished and most pleasing actor, "every inch a king" in manner, an elocutionist of high order, and never drifts into rant. In the most exciting parts of the play he is very effective, and his wooing of the Princess Katharine is described by the Graphic as "a gem of comedy." He is supported by a large dramatic company; and special scenery, costumes, etc., necessary to the effective presentation of the play, are brought with them. There is a treat for lovers of Shakespeare and fine acting, at Music Hall this evening.

The Mazeppa Combination, that will appear at Music Hall to-morrow and Wednesday evenings, has been playing in Portland. The company was billed for four nights in that city, but was so well received and the audiences were so satisfactory that the season was extended three nights, and Biddeford, Great Falls and Dover, that were down on the list of places where the combination proposed to perform, were left out in the cold. The play is of the sensational spectacular order, and the sight of a trained horse on the stage, with the low price of admission, will probably suffice to draw large audiences. See advertisement for particulars.

NAVAL MATTERS.

Flagship Pensacola, of the North Pacific Squadron, was off Honolulu January 22d. Admiral Murray says that the islands are quiet, but there is some apprehension of trouble by the Queen Emma party on the meeting of the legislature, April 1st.

Paymaster Gerge H. Griffing, attached to the U. S. S. Enterprise, now at New Orleans, has been granted leave of absence for two weeks.

Lieut. George R. Durand is commissioned to be a lieutenant-commander in the navy from November 25th, 1877.

The President has nominated midshipman H. H. Hosley, of this State, for promotion to ensign. The Senate has confirmed the nomination.

SUPREME COURT—JAN. TERM.

EXETER, N. H., Feb. 10.

During the year 1873 Henry H. Titcomb, of East Kingston, sold to Charles Evans, of Kensington, a mare for the sum of $75, and a scaffold of hay valued at $50 more,—the hay to be delived at a given subsequent time. At the time appointed Evans declined to deliver the hay, on the ground that he had been cheated in the horse, but offered to return the mare to Titcomb if he (Titcomb) would refund $62.50 of the $75 paid down. This Titcomb declined to do, but offered to refund $50, which Evans would not accept. No understanding having been arrived at, a suit was commenced and entered at the January term, 1876, of the Supreme Court, by Titcomb against Evans, for the sum of $50, the value of the hay not delivered, and at the January term, 1877, the case was tried, the jury disagreeing, and the defendant Evans was allowed to make a reasonable and proper sale or other disposition of the horse, without prejudice to his legal rights. At this term, on Wednesday, the case was again put on trial; Gen. Marston, Hon. Thomas Leavitt and J. Warren Towle, all of Exeter, were counsel for the plaintiff, and Judge Wiggin for Evans. About forty witnesses were examined, and the case was submitted to the jury at eleven o'clock Friday, and they remained out until six o'clock, Saturday evening, at which time they brought in a sealed verdict, to be returned to the Court at ten o'clock on Monday. This case has cost the County at least $500, in addition to an equal amount to the contesting parties. During the trial the court room was crowded with the townsmen of the interested suitors, and while the jury were closeted many were the enquiries as to the probabilities of the verdict, but owing to the vigilance of the Sheriff nothing leaked from the jury room. The following telegraphic correspondence is said to have taken place Saturday:

———, Feb. 9.

EXETER, Feb. 9.

——— The last time I saw them most of them were sitting; one or two stood erect, and the rest were leaning against the wall. Full particulars next week. KENT.

Upon the jury in the horse case, it is said, were two clergymen. Whether a difference in doctrinal points or on the points of the horse consumed so much time in deliberation in the jury room, is not stated. Coffee was called for, but pistols are not allowed by the Commissioners. Much time has been spent in night sessions by the juries at this term.

The case of Norris against Ladd, both parties of Epping, was tried Saturday; jury returned a sealed verdict, to be announced on Monday. Stickney and Wiggin for plff.; Small and Frink for deft.

The cases in order for Monday and Tuesday are Nos. 313, 324, 329 and 357. Court will probably adjourn sine die on Saturday, the 16th inst.

POLICE COURT.

Saturday, Feb. 8th: Batchelder, J.

James Rand and Thomas Rand, out-of-town men, and James Dermody of this city, were all ordered to Brentwood for four months, as vagrants. The costs, $6.90 each, will sting out their time to about five months, so Mr. Pollard will be able to utilize them in the spring, at planting the farm.

THE VICINITY.

The Great Falls Free Press says that Mr. O. M. Davis will rebuild in the early spring the Sea Foam House, recently burned at Wells Beach.

Among the residents of Lake Weir, Florida, is Mr. F. C. Buffum, formerly of Kennebunk, who has a fine plantation and an orange grove of fifteen acres.

A petition is circulating in Newington, asking the President and Directors of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad to erect a depot near the Newington end of the new bridge.

The house of Mr. William H. Chase at York, together with nearly all its contents, was destroyed by fire on Thursday noon. Loss about $1500. The house was insured $750 and the furniture $50, in the Kittery and Eliot Company. The fire caught from the chimney.

A few nights since the summer residences of Mr. B. G. Perry and A. L. Kimball at Salisbury Beach, were broken into. Nothing of value was stolen from the former place, but a number of articles were taken from Mr. Kimball's house, although the value was not large.

At a recent legerdemain entertainment given in Greenland, a handsome frosted cake was given to the handsomest lady in the audience, and a tin dipper to the homeliest gentleman, the judges being selected from the audience. Miss Ella Wiggin was awarded the cake, and Capt. Fisher the dipper.

On Saturday, 2d inst., as a valuable span of horses belonging to Capt. John L. Jewell, of Stratham, were passing over the Dublin road, in Greenland, one of them was seized with a violent attack of cerebro spinal miningitis. The driver succeeded in getting the beast home on an ox sled, when all the remedies known were tried, but the animal died that night. Loss $300.

The house of Mark Foss, of Epping, was broken into a few days since, and a suit of clothes and other articles to the value of twenty-five dollars stolen. The robbery is supposed to have been done by tramps, as it occurred in the day time, the family being then absent. One of the neighbors saw two men getting into the house, but did not give any alarm, and the thieves were allowed to depart with their stolen goods in peace.

[Written for the Chronicle.]

ABOUT THE KEARSARGE'S FIGHT.

Some time ago I clipped from the papers two items concerning the U. S. S. Kearsarge, intending to use them as a groundwork on which to write something concerning that vessel and her famous fight with the British cruiser Alabama. [I know that the Alabama is generally spoken of as a "Confederate" ship, on account of her having been commanded by "Admiral" Semmes, the hero of sixty chronometers; but she was British built, armed with British guns, and those guns were captained by British seamen-gunners from the training-ship Excellent, of the Royal Navy; and the British people hailed every one of her glorious victories over unarmed American merchantmen as triumphs of a British vessel over the blanked Yankees. So I think she was a good deal more of a British vessel than a rebel one.] But I laid them away to await a more convenient season, and they have been laying away ever since, and my "something" has remained unwritten; but the old boat's recent arrival at the place of her birth has determined me to be lazy no longer,—and here you have the result.

I have had a look at the Kearsarge since her arrival, and though she is still the same old boat there are some changes in her. She carries the same pivot guns (eleven-inch ones—two of them) that she did when she sailed from this harbor on the 5th of February, 1860; but her four broadside guns are much heavier, for then she carried four thirty-two pounders, while now she carries four nine-inch guns. On her first cruise she carried on her forecastle a thirty-pounder Parrott rifle—a mighty poor concern it was, too, kicked worse than an army mule, and tried to jump over the foreyard every time it was fired; it is not there now,—replaced by a howitzer, I believe. She still carries the same old smoke-stack, with a little patch on one side and a big one on the other, to close the holes made by the passage of a shell from the Alabama; but the principal officers and a large proportion of the crew that went with her on her first cruise have since taken the long voyage into the great unknown; the captain, executive officer, chief engineer and other of the officers are dead, and many of the seamen.

But at this rate I shall never reach my extracts. The first one is as follows:

James H. Lee, one of the seamen on board the Kearsarge when the rebel steamer Alabama was captured, and one of the three sailors thanked by the Navy Department for conspicuous coolness and bravery during that contest, has died in New York of brain fever.

Until reading this item I was never aware that any three seamen were specially thanked by the Department, and even now I am ignorant as to who the other two were. That the thanks of Congress were voted to the captain, officers and men, I am aware, in a resolution as follows:

A Resolution tendering the thanks of Congress to Captain John A. Winslow, U. S. Navy, and to the Officers and Men under his Command on Board the U. S. Steamer Kearsarge, in her Conflict with the piratical Craft the "Alabama;" in Compliance with the President's Recommendation to Congress of the fifth of December, eighteen hundred and sixty-four.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the thanks of Congress are due, and are hereby tendered, to Captain John A. Winslow, of the United States navy, and to the officers, petty officers, seamen, and marines of the United States steamer "Kearsarge," for the skill and gallantry exhibited by him and the officers and men under his command, in the brilliant action on the nineteenth of June, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, between that ship and the piratical craft "Alabama"—a vessel superior to his own in tonnage, in guns, and in the number of her crew.

Approved, December 20, 1864.

Mark Ham, of Portsmouth, who was carpenter's mate, received a bronze medal, and two seamen, named Bickford and Smith, were made Master's Mates; but I never knew that Lee was specially noticed. Not but what he deserved it, (as did many others,) for he was an excellent seaman and a smart little fellow at all times; and he did his level best during the fight. He was sponger of the after broadside gun on the starboard side (the side engaged,) and worked like a Trojan; he had on no shirt when the fight commenced, and his blue undershirt had short sleeves, so that at first his neck and arms were bare; but as the fight progressed and he wiped the reeking sweat from his face and neck with his powder-stained hands, he gradually covered himself with so thick a coating of burnt powder that it was hard to tell where the blue undershirt ended and the skin began, and it is no great exaggeration to say that charcoal would have made a white mark on him. Whatever recognition Lee may have received, he deserved it; but I should really like to know who the other two men were that received the thanks of the Department.

There was one ludicrous incident during the fight, which I have never seen in print, and which it is hardly probable was referred to in the officers' reports to the Department. Under the top-gallant forecastle was a howitzer — a twelve-pounder boat-gun—and two old sea-dogs, Charley Butts and another, were set to work it, with a boy as powder monkey. It is not likely its pepper-corn shot did the Alabama much harm, but it made a nice noise, and at the worst did not harm our vessel any. But Charley and his mate, like many other old sailors, were regular old growls, and after having worked the gun until they were thoroughly enthused with the spirit of war they got into a dispute with each other on some trivial point of old-sailor etiquette, and actually whipped off their shirts to settle it then and there by a bout at fisticuffs, and were only stopped by the arrival of an officer, who set them to work with their pop-gun at the Alabama again. This incident did not come under my personal notice, but I know that the story of the old fellows' projected private fight at a time when we could not tell which ship was going to the bottom, made a good deal of fun among the men after the battle was over. Butts was a quartermaster; his fighting chum at the gun, named Cook, was captain of the afterguard; both were old whalemen. Butts, after his discharge from the navy, remained in Portsmouth for some time, and finally went to another city, where he died.

Before the battle commenced the broadside guns and the acrobatic rifle on the forecastle (and possibly Charley Butts' howitzer) were ordered to do their best during the fight to clear the Alabama's deck; the pivot guns were to whack their shells into her as near the water-line as possible, and to keep it up until one vessel or the other had got all she wanted.

Eastern Railroad.

It is with pleasure that we announce that the last monthly statement of the managers of the Eastern Railroad shows a gain on tickets, freight and reduction of expenses of nearly $50,000 for the month of December, 1877, over that of the previous year. Since the Revere accident and the great financial crisis the Eastern has been "under a cloud." With a change in financial matters and a very thorough change made in the management of the road by Gen. A. P. Rockwell, President, we feel that the Eastern will ere long take its accustomed position in the front rank. In the selection of Benj. F. Patrick as general passenger and ticket agent, he has shown that none but competent railroad men shall administer its affairs. For many years Mr. Patrick has been connected with the great railroads centering at Pittsburg, Pa., Baltimore and Chicago, with such roads as the Penn. Central, formerly Baltimore and Northwestern, Susquehanna, Pittsburg and Fort Wayne, Chicago and Northwestern, where he has achieved a splendid reputation as one of the most efficient and accomplished officers in the West. With such an efficient board of directors as were recently elected to sustain President Rockwell and General Ticket and Passenger Agent Patrick, the road cannot be otherwise than successful, as its merits deserve.—Boston Home Journal.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 226 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. 19eb13

The Standard Tooth-Wash

of the age, is Sozodont. It has distanced competition. Discolored teeth are rendered white by its use. The breath derives fragrance from its aroma. It prevents and arrests dental decay. The gums become rosier and harder under its operation. All its ingredients are vegetable and unique.

Every day adds to its popularity.

Croaking is not confined to the Frog Ponds. At this season almost everybody is hoarse. The bleating of distressed lungs is heard everywhere. Why is this, when Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar will cure any cough, cold or hoarseness in 48 hours? Sold by all Druggists. tm.b5

Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 minute.

An experienced traveller says: "After a week's sojourn at the Grand Central Hotel, I have no hesitation in saying that it is the best and cheapest first-class hotel in New York."

AS A RELIABLE REMEDY for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, or any affection of the throat and chest, use, according to directions given on each bottle, Madame Zadoc Porter's Cough Balsam. It is always reliable, and the possession of a single bottle may, in case of a sudden attack, prove to be worth fifty times its cost. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, Bible House, New York City. eod&wlsep15 78

Commonwealth Consolidated MINING COMPANY

THE Directors of the "COMMONWEALTH CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY" of San Francisco, call attention to the mining property of this Company, situated in the Tuscarora Mining District, Elko County, State of Nevada.

The property adjoins that of the well-known "Grand Prize," upon which a shaft is now being made in the shaft and levels of the Commonwealth Consolidated indicate the same vein, and of the same richness, as that found at even depth in sinking the shaft upon the "Grand Prize" now so successfully worked, and pay as its regular monthly dividends.

The Commonwealth Consolidated Mining Company consists of two distinct properties, known as the "All Alone" and "Veritas" mines, which have been consolidated into the above-named Company; both of these valuable properties have been prospected by shafts, the lodes found to be well-defined, and the ores are proved by assay to be rich in both gold and silver.

The Corporation is organized by one hundred thousand shares of stock, of the par value of one hundred dollars each, and instead of assessing the shares, as is customary, in most California mining stocks, the Directors have chosen to set aside 25,000 shares of the capital stock of the Company to be sold, and the proceeds placed in the treasury for a working capital.

This stock will only be issued and sold from time to time, as funds may be required to carry on the work, which is being pushed with energy under the able superintendence of a first-class miner.

The first allotment of shares to be sold for working capital has all been taken.

The Directors now propose to issue the second allotment for the working capital, and the price is fixed at Three Dollars per share, with the assurance to the Stockholders that their interest is to enhance the price of each issue from time to time, as the work of development gives more and the value of the property is enhanced thereby, until the requisite amount of working capital is obtained.

The "All Alone" shaft is now down to a depth of 75 feet, and a contract is about being closed to run it 200 feet deeper.

Messrs. OTIS & CO., members of the Pacific Stock Exchange, San Francisco, and Messrs. STONE & DOWNER, Boston, have been duly authorized to receive subscriptions as above for the Working Capital Stock.

The Officers and Directors of the Company are principally New England men, and the Board of Directors office is now established in the Boston hold. ers in the affairs of the Company will be administered upon a safe and economical basis, and a examination of the management as to the working of the mine and the expenditure of the money is invited and guaranteed at all times.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Gravel and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Ulcers, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet offered. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are sale and pleasant to take, but power in its core. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take, and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

JOHN H. BAILEY,
RICE BLOCK,
16 Market and 1 Ladd Street,

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all scurfiness, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation only, and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.

The wonder of medical science—half horse and half man, the fabled Centaurs, left their impress upon the history of the world.

The Centaur Liniments, for man and beast, are not less remarkable in their way. They have been before the public only six years, but in that time they have performed more wonderful works, have alleviated more pains and cured more bed-ridden cripples than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Salves and Ointments in existence. The immense and rapidly-increasing sale is indisputable evidence of the estimation in which they are held. They are already used in many of the hospitals of this country and Europe, and are prescribed by the best physicians and veterinary surgeons. Why should they not be? They have never failed to ameliorate suffering when cures from loss of bone or muscle are impossible. They contain Carbolic, Witch Hazel, Rock Oil, Arnica and Ingredients which must stimulate the fluids, soften the sinews and penetrate to the bone. We have never yet heard of the first fallure to benefit, even in stubborn cases of Rheumatism, Sciatica, and Neuralgia, while, for Flesh Wounds, Bites, Frosted Limbs, Burns, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., they are unfailing. What the White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is for horses and animals. We will guarantee that one dollar expended for Centaur Liniment will perform more and speedier results than can be obtained for five or twenty dollar, from any physician. We have made the treatment of flesh, bone and muscle ailments a specialty. We know that we have preparations which do what they are recommended to do. They are not curealls—they will not mend a broken leg, but they will alleviate pain and cure where any human agency can cure. Be sure and inquire for the Centaur Liniments and give them a fair trial.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Mothers,

There is the harmless and certain remedy for your children. CASTORIA is the result of twenty years' experiments by the celebrated Sam'l Pitcher, M.D

It is a vegetable preparation, as effective as Castor Oil, but perfectly pleasant to the taste. It can be taken by the youngest infant, and neither gags nor gripes. Dr. A. J. Green, of Boyston, Indiana, says of it:

MRS—I have tried the CASTORIA, and can speak highly of its merits. It will do away with Castor Oil. It is pleasant and harmless, and is wonderfully effective as an aperient and laxative. It is the very thing.

The CASTORIA destroys worms, regulates the Stomach, cures Wind Colic, and permits of natural healthy sleep. It is very efficacious in Croup, and for Teething Children. Honey is not planter to the taste, and Castor Oil is not so certain in its effects. It costs but 35 cents, in large bottles.

J. B. ROSE & Co., New York.

The latest, greatest, and most reliable remedy ever put together by medical science for Rheumatism, Wounds, Swellings, Burns, Caked Breasts, etc., is the Centaur Liniment. There are two kinds. What the White Liniment is for the human family, the strong-er kind, which is yellow in color, is for spavined, lame, and strained horses and animals. Their effects are wonderful.

Mothers who have weak and irritable children, can secure health for the child and rest for themselves, by using Dr. Pitcher's Castoria. It contains no morphine or any thing injurious. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and is certain to cure Wind Colic, regulate the bowels, and expel worms. For Teething children, there is nothing like Castoria. 6mayl

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial morality of man? An inferior compound never secure a superior article. Dr. Pierce's superior medicines have outvalued all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported feeds up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellow suffusion of eyes, or pain in the head, accompanied with bitter taste in mouth, coated tongue, loss of appetite, and bowels costive, you may rest assured that a Perfect Cure for "Torpid Liver or Billiousness," in many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms have been experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, and it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Anti-bilious Purgative Pellets, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Bronchial Coughs, Dyspepsia, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair their virtues of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and enclosed in glass vials, their vitality being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Costiveness, Piles, Sallow Skin, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA
For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

CATARRH
NEVER-FAILING RELIEF
AFFORDED BY
SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

IT is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the case may be, the first dose gives such evidence of its value in the treatment of Catarrhal affections that confidence is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, are justly feel proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R. I.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you a line to say that although I have been sceptical of all the nostrums advertised as "radical cures," I have never found anything that promises such relief and ultimate cure as that of SANFORD'S.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to persevere with any until I read the letter of Mr. BENNY WELLS, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc. THEO. P. BOGERT.

Daily Chronicle.

A Romance of Divorce.

About the first of January there appeared in the New York Herald an advertisement inquiring for the address of "the daughter of the late Horace Meech," to whom, it stated, the late William C. Glynn of Boston, had, by will, left a fortune of $80,000, application to be made to Mr. Choate, Tremont Street, Boston. Mr. Horace Meech was many years ago a well known resident of Albany. William C. Glynn was at the same time—perhaps a quarter of a century ago—a teacher of music in that city. Among his pupils was Miss Meech, the daughter of the aforesaid. Glynn fell in love with the young lady, and she, presumably, with him, and they were married. The parents were bitterly opposed to the match, and succeeded, in a few months, in persuading their daughter to leave him. A divorce followed. Glynn removed to Boston, and was lost to sight. His divorced wife soon married a young gentleman in Rochester, who died not long afterward in the South. The widow married for the third time a gentleman in Buffalo. He also died, leaving the widow with one daughter, now grown up, married, and herself a mother. The widow, in reduced circumstances, was living with a sister on Staten Island, when some Albany friends, seeing by chance the advertisement, acquainted her with its contents. She at once took measures to secure the bonanza, left her by her first love. It seems that Glynn, after removing to Boston, made a fortune in the music business. Time, however, nor circumstances, made him forget "the girl he left behind him," although she had thrice married, and had become a grandmother since his eyes had beheld her.—Syracuse Courier.

A Bridge Tester.

S. A. Frazer and I. N. Bartram of Sharon, Conn., have designed a bridge and truss-testing car, which meets the approval of practical men. It is an iron tank resting upon there trucks, the tank capable of holding eighty tons of water. On the centre truck are four hydraulic jacks, operated by one lever, and by these the entire weight of car and contents can be thrown upon the centre truck, so that the test of weight can be brought upon a very small space on the bridge. By the use of floats and indicating rods the exact weight as applied can be noted. A test rod running to the track supported by a roller on the rail, shows the engineer the least depression in the track or bridge. In case a weakness is discovered, the flood-gates are opened by a single lever, and the water instantly let off, relieving the bridge of eighty tons weight. The car will weigh about sixty tons, and when the eighty tons of water is added, the full test will be 140 tons; this weight may be lessened, if desired. The idea is that the State shall own one of these machines and direct the Railroad Commissioners to use it twice a year or more on every road in the State.

—In this Eastern war, like everything else, there's a woman in the case—Bess Arabia.

—The attention of a number of persons in the depot of the Boston & Providence Railroad at Boston recently, was attracted by the vociferous screams of a healthy-looking baby, which had been set by its somewhat verdant mother on top of one of the steam registers. She was vainly endeavoring to find what made the baby cry, and she spent some time looking for "that pin." Fortunately one of the employes took in the situation, and the baby was removed before it had got quite roasted.

—A woman has found out a comfortable secret, carrying a small bottle of hot water in the muff to keep the hands warm on long drives. The bottle is dressed in cardinal flannel, cross-stitched with silk and tied with ribbons, and is a very gay little companion. Children who have cold feet, and delicate girls should carry soapstone foot-warmers to school, and sit with their feet on them under their desks. There is no use in allowing a child to shiver, or go with cold, clammy feet, and burning head, by way of "hardening" it.

—A wonderful operation was recently performed by a Glasgow surgeon upon the throat of a cloth weaver, who had a malignant tumor in his larynx, which impeded respiration. It had been twice removed, but had as often recurred, and, seeing that the man's death was certain unless heroic measures were adopted, the surgeon removed the larynx entire. An artificial larynx was then constructed and introduced, and the man can now speak as well as ever. He can also introduce into his new organ reeds of various materials, which give his voice new and surprising tones at will.

The Jewell Murder.

A Candia man writes to the Exeter News-Letter concerning the Jewell murder, as confessed by "Jack" Robinson on his death-bed recently. The writer says Jewell's name was J. Jewell Beede; that he did not board at Mr. Langford's; that he went to Burbank's of his own accord, was not murdered by Robinson and his two accomplices at the time Robinson stated, and is known to have served in the army since that date with a Mr. Ferren of Raymond and a Mr. Norton of Candia, (in the same company as the latter.) He further says that Jewell had told of his experience on the night he ran away from Candia (for fear of a thrashing from Robinson and Ward Reynolds) to both Norton and Ferren; and that a Dr. Haynes, of Manchester, who lived in Candia at the time of Jewell's disappearance and whose life was said to have been threatened if he attempted to investigate the matter, denies ever having received any such letters as those referred to. This Jewell affair will have to be classed with the authorship of the Junius letters and the identity of the man in the iron mask.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9th.

The number in this community whose "bowels of compassion" are moved to any great extent toward John Bull in his humiliating dilemma, are very few. The course pursued during the war just closed has been characteristic of the Tory element in England. Its representatives never lost an opportunity to denounce the barbarous rule of Turkey in her Christian dependencies, but really encouraged her to continue them by the moral support accorded her. She probably hoped, indirectly, to cripple Russia by stimulating the Turk to resist the demands of the Russian to the bitter end, thus provoking intervention. Lord Beaconsfield has been careful to keep the Turk directly in his front to stop the Russian bullets before reaching his own precious carcass. It is remembered how the southern slave-holder was denounced by this Tory party for his crime and complicity with the slave-trade that the British navy was trying to suppress; how the Federal Government was declared equally guilty for its failure to free the slave by force; how anti-slavery societies were formed all over England to protest against our crime, in the interests of civilization, and to make us odious in the estimation of the world; how John Bull poked his meddlesome nose everywhere in matters exclusively our own; how he fairly oppressed us with his offensive suggestions and advice, and how he strove for years, quite successfully too, to foment sectional hatred among our people. The moment the rebellion was fairly inaugurated his admiration for the southerner knew no bounds; his manner toward him was what it has since been toward the deluded Turk; he was petted, familiarly tapped on the shoulder, and the evidence of early recognition thrust in his face, encouraging him to believe that it was only a question of a very short time; slave-holding became a virtue, for which the oppressed South was being persecuted by the grovelling Yankee Government; the cotton famine was urged as a reason for interference. This same bragging, blustering, hypocritical pretender eagerly lent himself to the scheme to draw the lines of our limits southward, and prudently sneaked home when he saw the collapse of the Confederacy at hand, leaving poor Maximilian to suffer from the confidence game played at his expense, as it had been on other victims before, and has been on the Turk since. No indeed! We think here, both "blue and gray," that we understand him too well to waste sympathy, now that he has been beaten at his own game of duplicity and double dealing. I hope I may not be accused of disregarding the "Monroe doctrine" because, en passant, I have paused to record something of the sentiment animating residents and visitors at the seat of Government toward the affairs of our trans-Atlantic neighbors.

The selfishness inherent in ordinary man is, we are forced to believe, more or less prevalent among members of Congress. This view seems confirmed by a careful analysis of the vote had the other day on the proposition to tax incomes, and by the tone taken by the discussions relative to another attempt in the same direction, and which it is believed will succeed. There appears no way of classifying those voting in favor and those against, except by the standard of their worldly possessions, the fortunate in this respect generally voting nay the, impecunious, aye; at least, this is the method generally adopted here in forecasting the next vote.

Doorkeeper Polk has given some of the "reformers" of Glover's smelling committees occupation right here at home. The substance of the evidence already heard, seems to amount to about this: Polk's election was a matter of bargain and trade—perhaps conspiring would more accurately define it—with men in and out of Congress, with axes to grind. He seems to be interested, pecuniarily, in no end of jobs before committees and seeking legislation. His "doubling up" process would seem a patentable improvement on any of the known tricks in vogue among Tammany thieves, past or present. Every principle of justice and equity appears to have been ignored in the administration of his office by Polk, and only the interests of his ring consulted. He has the cheek to demand that the committee reject all irrelevent testimony and confine its inquiries strictly to the original charges; but the matter has become too notorious to make it safe to whitewash it. Representatives Jones, Phelps and Landers, appear to be involved in a way that does not promise to enhance their reputation as reformers; and we are only on the outer verge of the circle of investigation as yet.

Enough of the trustees of Grace M. E. Church of this city objected to the burial from it of an unfortunate young lady who died of malpractice, to prevent the funeral services being held there; and the friends of this victim of a heartless wretch who ruined her and then seemed to have been privy to her death, were forced to forego public services, or only have such as could be held at the residence of the mother, lest the righteous souls of the trustees be shocked and the moral atmosphere of their church be contaminated by contact with the remains of this victim of a deliberate murder. Their course is severely commented on by church and world's people alike; and they will likely be made to feel that they have not increased the esteem in which they are held by their neighbors, nor fooled anybody as to the practical piety prompting their contemptible refusal to allow Christian burial to one of their kind.

KNOX.

Books, Magazines, Ect.

Harper's Magazine for March is received by W. E. Myers and Moses Brothers, and contains the usual amount of choice reading matter—even more interesting this month than usual—and superior illustrations.

The American Almanac for 1878, edited by Ainsworth R. Spofford, Librarian of Congress, is a veritable "treasury of facts, statistical, financial and political," and is one of the most valuable books of reference we have lately seen for business men, editors politicians and the general public. It not only covers most of the ground usually occupied by the political manuals, but contains tables of the values of gold, greenbacks, silver and bonds, postal rates, local and foreign, and an immense amount of other information, all in a most convenient form. Published by the American News Company, New York and Washington; price $1.50.

At Oshkosh, Wis., three gamblers laid a plan to clean out a greenhorn at poker. The victim was dealt four aces to induce him to bet, but was given six cards so as to make a misdeal. But "Greeny" backed his four for all he was worth and won, when his opponents charged him with having another card secreted about his person. A search revealed nothing, and he departed with his winnings. It was afterward discovered that he had slipped the extra card into a sandwich which he was eating while playing, and actually eaten it.

A cruel joke was recently played in Chicago upon a special revenue agent, who had come up from Florida on a special tour of inspection through the Marquette district of Lake Superior. He was exceedingly zealous, and noticing this fact a practical joker cautiously told him that he could everlastingly distinguish him by ferreting out a band of smugglers on Isle Royal, a mineral knob which lifts itself out of the northern central portion of Lake Superior, 100 miles from anywhere else. The agent accordingly started forthwith, but took the last boat of the season to the island, so there he still remains, and will remain, until next June, when navigation reopens, enjoying as best he can the society of the few Cornish miners and Indians who alone form the population.

THE CITY.

The baptism of seven persons, in connection with the Advent church, which was to have taken place on Sunday, was postponed to next Sunday on account of the snow-storm.

Bryant's Minstrels, under the management of Neil Bryant, are to give an entertainment at Music Hall on Monday evening next. Admission, thirty-five cents to gallery, fifty cents to lower floor; no extra charge for reserved seats.

Mr. Benjamin Weeks, we regret to hear, is seriously ill. Mr. Weeks is one of the oldest affiliated Masons in Portsmouth, if not the oldest one, having in 1825 joined Pythagoras Lodge, which was merged in St. John's Lodge at the time of the great anti-Masonic craze not many years later.

The Mazeppa Combination give their first entertainment at Music Hall this evening, with Miss Kate Fisher as Mazeppa, and her trained horse Black Bess as the "wild horse of Tartary." There are over twenty performers in the combination, and all the original music, marches, fights, etc., of the play will be given Admission—parquette 50 cts., gallery 25 cts. See advertisement.

The Reform Club meeting at Music Hall, Sunday evening, was not largely attended, though the lower floor of the house was nearly filled, the weather probably keeping many away; the speaker of the evening was Major A. D. Welsh, of Providence, R. I., and those who did attend were well repaid for so doing. Major Welsh declined to accept any pay from the club for his services, and not only that, but insisted on paying his own expenses. It was announced that ex-Senator James W. Patterson would lecture for the cause at the same place on next Sunday evening, and a committee, consisting of John E. Roberts, James Janvrin and John S. Treat, were appointed to visit the clergy of the city and invite them to postpone their evening services and attend the meeting in a body.

The Rignold Combination was greeted by a large audience at Music Hall, Monday evening, when the play of Henry V. was presented, with Mr. George Rignold as the king, a large and excellent supporting company, and all the needed accessories of scenery, costume, beautiful horse, etc. Mr. Rignold's acting has been so highly commended by the metropolitan papers that a great deal was expected of him, and these expectations were fully realized; he is a pleasing elocutionist, can be earnest and impassioned without falling into rant, appears as much like a king as any real king we are acquainted with, and in the scene where he sparks the Princess Katharine is "just lovely." The audience evinced a generous appreciation of the excellence of the entertainment.

POLICE COURT.

James Ducker, James Davis and Oliver Amazeen were each assessed $9.90, fine and costs, for drunkenness. Ducker and Davis went to Brentwood; Amazeen appealed, and was held in the sum of $50 to prosecute the appeal.

SUPREME COURT--JAN. TERM.

Monday, Feb. 11th; Bingham, J.

In the case of Titcomb vs. Evans, the jury returned a verdict which was construed to be for the defendant, and it was so entered, costs to be determined.

In Norris vs. Ladd, verdict for the defendant.

In No. 287, James L. Rundlett vs. Daniel W. Ladd, defendant was defaulted. Stickney and Wiggin for plaintiff; Small and Frink for defendant.

No. 313; Woodbury J. Dudley vs. C. F. Pressey; default; continued for judgment. Cross and Burnham for plaintiff; Hazzen & Hazzen for defendant.

No. 324; Joseph N. Emerson vs. Samuel Averill and Hannah Averill; default. C. U. Bell for piff.; Copeland for deft.

Darius Towle vs. Rowe, administrator of B. D. Cilley, on trial. Action to recover upon a mortgage. Defence, payment, and a plea that all of Towle's estate passed to his assignee in bankruptcy, under the United States bankrupt law. Hatch and Wood for plaintiff; Wiggin for defendant.

ABOUT THE KEARSARGE'S FIGHT.

I do not propose to re-hash the whole history of the fight, but only to mention a few incidents which "history" would probably regard as unworthy of record, even if she had ever heard of them. After the Alabama had reached such a distance from shore as suited Capt. Winslow, the Kearsarge was pointed straight for her, and kept on that course until the Alabama had fired three broadsides, only one shot of which did any damage—at the first broadside the Kearsarge's port foro-topmast backstay was cut away about forty feet above the deck; then the Kearsarge, which had hitherto not fired a gun, showed her broadside to the enemy and "trouble commenced." It was evident from the first that Semmes, relying on the presumed greater range of his British rifles, and the skillful markmanship of his British seamen-gunners, wanted to play a game at long bowls; but Winslow as evidently disapproved of this, and as the Kearsarge out-steamed the Alabama he was able to steadily decrease the distance between the two vessels, without running any risk of getting raked. Standing on an arm-chest on the starboard side of the quarter-deck, with half his body exposed above the rail, he was able to overlook his own deck and watch the enemy as well, and from that position he skillfully conned the Kearsarge until the Alabama was a wreck. The Kearsarge steaming full speed all the time, and constantly drawing ahead on the Alabama's bow, Capt. Winslow steadily edged down upon her and she as steadily edged away, and thus the two ships went swiftly round and round in constantly diminishing circles, the Kearsarge ever drawing nearer the foe. But though the captain paid keen attention to the steering, not only giving his orders verbally to the helmsman but conveying orders by the motion of his hand—in the way every seaman who has ever had to do any nice steering, or to order it done, so well understands—he still found time to keep a lookout for the enemy's missiles; and repeatedly directed the men near him to dodge when a shot would be seen coming apparently straight for them. The crew of the after pivot-gun (one of whom was Mr. Martin Hoyt of this city, now proprietor of the hair-dressing saloon No. 26 Congress street,) repeatedly got the word to drop, direct from the captain; and on such occasions they did drop with praiseworthy alacrity—to jump up and work away again the moment the shot struck or went howling by overhead, where a large part of the Alabama's shot did go. But though he many times ordered his men to dodge, Capt. Winslow wholly failed to dodge any himself; probably he hadn't time, or possibly he did not think of it. Other of the officers passed the same word to other guns' crews; and the gunners themselves, if they saw a big shot coming, would courteously step aside or make low obeisance to let it pass unmolested, without waiting for orders. It is certain that not a few lives were saved by this "dodge," for more than once shot passed harmlessly, so close to guns whose crews had just got out of the way that some of them must have been struck had they stood upright. And but very little time was lost by it, for the men merely threw themselves as flat to the deck as they could and still support themselves on their hands and their toes, quickly recovering their erect position again by the action of their arms and the muscles of their thighs. After the fight was over many of the men were so lame that they could scarcely walk, their thighs were so sore and stiff from the great strain (unnoticed during the fight) thus put upon them.

If rapidity of firing had won, Semmes' confidence in his seamen-gunners would have been well placed, for as to speed in serving their guns they beat our men all to pieces. The Kearsarge expended one hundred and seventy shot during the fight, the Alabama nearly four hundred, (three hundred and seventy, naval tradition has it;) and in the early part of the fight the disparity in the speed of firing was even greater than toward its end. I have seen accounts that said the Alabama's firing was as three to two; if the ratio had been put at two to one it would have been nearer the mark, though even then it would have been too low; but the Alabama's firing was very wild, while the slow service on our side kept the guns comparatively cool, and a much smaller proportion of our shot was wasted.

It is true that breechloading guns can be loaded much more quickly than muzzle-loaders, and all the Kearsarge's guns were of the latter kind; but the difference is not nearly great enough to account for the great difference in the number of shots fired by the two vessels, for the Kearsarge fought seven guns, viz.: her two pivot-guns, three broadside guns, (one of the larboard guns was shifted over before the fight commenced,) the rifle on the forecastle, and the howitzer. Nor were the Kearsarge's men deficient in drill, or probably slower at loading than the average of crews in our navy; and the ship's slow firing compared with the Alabama's was no doubt to a considerable extent due to the longer time and greater care taken in laying the guns after they were loaded. As an illustration: at one time, when the smoke from both vessels seemed all to be around the Kearsarge, so that the Alabama could not be seen at all, one of the pivot-guns and its crew were both idle, and one of the junior officers somewhat anxiously enquired what was the matter. "Nothing the matter, sir," replied the captain of the gun, "she's all ready to give him a dose." "Then why in h—l don't you fire?" demanded the officer indignantly, to which the seaman replied, "I'll fire, sir, as soon as I get sight;" and as he spoke the smoke blew away or the ship moved out of it, and a few moments later the eleven-inch missile from that gun sent a shower of spray into the air from close to the Alabama's water-line. Slow as the firing was, it was fast enough to answer its purpose; for in a few minutes over an hour from the time the first shot was fired, the piratical cruiser that had so proudly left the harbor of Cherbourg on that beautiful Sabbath morning in June, amid the plaudits and followed by the good wishes of "lovely women and brave men," to chastise the insolent Yankee that presumed to try her metal with the terrible Alabama, disappeared in the depths of the ocean.

Proud hearts were carried by the Kearsarge's crew as the long, low, black little ship steamed into the harbor of Cherbourg, past the huge, high-sided floating batteries of the French navy lying there, and in full view of the thousands of interested spectators who, swarming to every eligible point of view on the announcement that the Alabama had left port to fight the "checky" Union cruiser, had been eye-witnesses of the swift destruction of their favorite in the combat. The insulting sneers which in their hearing had been flung at our navy in the British and French ports where the Kearsarge had called, all came back to mind, and there was almost as much exultation in reflecting on how bitter the disappointment of America's alien enemies would be over the result of the fight, as there was over the victory itself. Few of all the thousands who watched the Alabama depart from Cherbourg that morning but confidently expected that the Yankee ship, unless she ran away, would be quickly and very soundly whipped; and they also ardently hoped such would be the result, for Cherbourg was heartily in sympathy with the Confederacy.

THE VICINITY.

A North Hampton man says there is no place in that town where ardent spirits are sold.

There were two pleasant gatherings in the Scotland district of York, Friday evening of last week. Miss Ida Freeman, daughter of Rev. Mr. Freeman of the Orthodox church there, entertained her Sunday school class of eight young gentlemen and ladies at her home; and a surprise party of about twenty couples called at Mr. Rufus Moody's and took possession, receiving a hospitable welcome and keeping up the evening's enjoyment until a late hour.

The project of a road to the beach at South Seabrook is meeting with much favor. All that is needed to accomplish this object is the building of half a mile of road from the main land across the marshes, with a bridge over Black river about forty feet in length. The beach is one of the finest on the coast, being a continuation of the famous Salisbury shore. It is expected that the citizens of Seabrook, Exeter, Kensington and South Hampton will organize a company and secure the building of a plank road.

Miss Almira Simpson is drilling the children of School district No. 5, (the "Brixham" district,) of York, for a concert to be given at the Orthodox church there, shortly. Miss Simpson's mother, Mrs. Eunice Simpson, is eighty-six years old, and though she broke her hip by a fall two years ago is still cheerful and vigorous, and bids fair to reach the age at which her mother died, one hundred years; she works every day except Sundays, and generally until nine o'clock at night, making patch-work quilts. One of her neighbors, Mrs. Ella Grover, of Beech Hill, a pensioner, is ninety years of age.

News and Notes.

Sunday morning one of the arches of a bridge over the Schuykill river at Philadelphia fell, carrying with it, in rapid succession, nine other arches, and completely wrecking 300 feet of the bridge. The loss is $100,000.

There is a rumor that a movement is afloat among the Fenians for a raid on Canada in the event of England becoming involved in war, and that some money has been collected for the purpose, but the general sentiment of the Irish people is opposed to any such movement.

The South Boston (Mass.) Iron Company is now under contract with the English Government for supplying it with projectiles for its 38-ton 12-inch rifled guns.

It is stated that Sitting Bull is endeavoring to form an alliance between several Indian tribes for the purpose of killing off the whites before they become too numerous.

Some time ago Mrs. Matilda Fisher, of Boston, accompanied by her daughter, went to Chicago with $15,000. They fell into the hands of a gang of rascals, who by bogus mortgages, seizures and theft secured nearly all their property, and then transported the old lady to Canada and stole her few remaining valuables. She begged her way back to Chicago and secured the arrest of the gang. In court the daughter, the mistress of one of the rascals, abused her mother roundly for arresting her paramour.

The striking Crispins at Lynn on Saturday evening created almost a riot. They not only refuse to work themselves, but assume by force to prevent others working who wish to. The city government has ordered the appointing of one hundred special police to protect the workers in the exercise of their rights.

The probating of the will of the late Patrick Dickie of New York, who left $900,000 in equal division to his six children, has brought out a fact which is likely to lead to an interesting trial. One of the daughters has been for some years in Bloomingdale Insane Asylum without having been adjudged insane, and it is charged that her incarceration is the result of a conspiracy entered into by certain interested parties to cheat her out of her share in the patrimony.

Father McDonald, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church of Manchester, sailed for Europe on Wednesday. His friends handed him a generous present of $1000 as he stepped aboard the train on his departure. This will be Father McDonald's first extended vacation since he located in Manchester thirty years ago. He stated before leaving that he had received contributions, since he went to Manchester, for building purposes, to the amount of a quarter of a million of dollars.

A citizens' meeting was held at the Merchants' Exchange in Portland, Saturday, and appointed a committee to wait on Mayor Butler to urge him to accept a renomination.

Fathers Heinan and Bunce of Mauch Chunk, Pa., read in their respective churches Sunday a letter from Archbishop Wood pronouncing the alleged miraculous raising to life of a dead woman a delusion, and warning the participants therein not to repeat the offence.

The ratification of the treaty of friendship and commerce between the United States and Samoa has been exchanged by Secretary Evarts and Mr. Mamea, Samoan Ambassador. The latter with his legal adviser, Mr. Colmesnil, will leave for Samoa within a few days. He will be conveyed thither from San Francisco in a vessel of the North Pacific squadron, as by the treaty the harbor of Pago-Pago is voluntarily ceded to the United States for a naval depot and coaling station. A survey of the harbor and adjoining waters will soon be made. The present revenues of Samoa are about $10,000 a year, but, with, for the first time, a tariff law, it is supposed the revenues will be increased to $400,000.

—A cautious Chicago lover wrote letters to his sweetheart in ink that would speedily fade out, so that when she desired to use them in a breach of promise suit they were only blank paper.

—A Maine innkeeper claimed that an individual "loafed" about his house to the annoyance of his guests and himself, and sued him for three years "rent" at three dollars per week. The defendant pleaded that he was only helping to fill up the house and make a show of business. The jury failed to agree.

—Two Germans, fresh from Cincinnati, visited New York, and one, well acquainted with the city, invited his friend to Delmonico's, where a dinner for two and a bottle of wine were ordered. The place and fare were praised until the bill of eleven dollars was presented. This they considered an extortion. They paid, however, and while they were walking down Broadway one excited German commenced to swear at the supposed extortion. His friend then said, "Do not shwear, Yawcob. It is wicked to shwear. God has punished dot man Delimonico." "How?" "I have mine pocket full mit spoons."

Commonwealth Consolidated MINING COMPANY

THE Directors of the "COMMONWEALTH CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY," of San Francisco, call attention to the mining property of this Company, situated in the Tuscarora Mining District, Elko County, State of Nevada.

The property adjoins that of the well-known "Grand Prize," and developments have been made in the shaft and levels of the Commonwealth Consolidated indicate the same vein, and of the same richness, as that found at even depth in sinking the shaft upon the "Grand Prize" now so successfully worked, and paying its regular monthly dividends.

The Commonwealth Consolidated Mining Company consists of two distinct properties, known as the "All Alone" and "Veritas" mines, which have been consolidated into the above-named Company; both of these valuable properties have been prospected by shafts, the ledge found to be well-defined, and the ores are proved by assay to be rich in both gold and silver.

The Corporation is represented by one hundred thousand shares of stock, of the par value of one hundred dollars each, and instead of assessing the shares, as is customary in most California mining stocks, the Directors have chosen to set aside 25,000 shares of the capital stock of the Company to be sold, and the proceeds placed in the treasury for a working capital.

This stock will only be issued and sold from time to time, as funds may be required to carry on the work, which is being pushed with energy under the able superintendence of a first-class miner.

The first allotment of shares to be sold for working capital has all been taken.

The Directors now propose to issue the second allotment for the development work, the price is placed at Three Dollars per share, with the assurance to the Stockholders that their intention is to enhance the price of each issue from time to time, as the work of development progresses and the value of the property is enhanced thereby, until the requisite amount of working capital is obtained.

The "All Alone" shaft is now sunk to a depth of 28 feet, and a contract is now being closed to run it 200 feet deeper.

Messrs. OTIS & CO., members of the Pacific Stock Exchange, San Francisco, and Messrs. STONE & DOWNER, Boston, have been duly authorized to receive subscriptions as above for the Working Capital Stock.

The Officers and Directors of the Company are principally New England men, and the Board of Directors offer their assurance to the Stockholders that the affairs of the Company will be administered upon a safe and economical basis, and an examination of the management as to the working of the mine and the expenditure of the money is invited and guaranteed at all times.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole living. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.
This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.
As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for the intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.
This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.
The wonder of medical science—half horse and half man, the fabled centaurs, left their impress upon the history of the world.
The Centaur Liniments, for man and beast, are not less remarkable in their way. They have been before the public only six years, but in that time they have performed more wonderful works, have alleviated more pains and cured more bed-ridden cripples than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Salves and Ointments in existence. Their immense and rapidly-increasing sale is indisputable evidence of the estimation in which they are held. They are already used in many of the hospitals of this country and Europe, and are prescribed by the best physicians and veterinary surgeons. Why should they not be? They have never failed to ameliorate suffering when cures from loss of bone or muscle are impossible. They contain Carbolic, Witch Hazel, Rock Oil, Arnica and ingredients which must stimulate the fluids, soften the sinews and penetrate to the bone. We have never yet heard of the first failure to benefit, even in stubborn cases of Rheumatism, Sciatica, and Neuralgia, while, for Flesh Wounds, Bites, Frosted Limbs, Burns, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., they are unfailing. What the White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is for horses and animals. We will guarantee that one dollar expended for Centaur Liniment will perform more and speedier results than can be obtained for five or twenty dollars from any physician. We have made the treatment of flesh, bone and muscle ailments a specialty. We know that we have preparations which do what they are recommended to do, and we are not curealls—they will not mend a broken leg, but they will alleviate pain and cure where any human agency can cure. Be sure and inquire for the Centaur Liniments and give them a fair trial.
J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Mothers,
There is the harmless and certain remedy for your children. CASTORIA is the result of twenty years' experience by the celebrated Samuel Pitcher, M.D
It is a vegetable preparation, as effective as Castor Oil, but perfectly pleasant to the taste. It can be taken by the youngest infant, and neither gags nor gripes. Dr. A. J. Greer, of Royston, Indiana, says of it:
SIRS—I have tried the CASTORIA, and can speak highly of its merits. It will do away with Castor Oil. It is pleasant and harmless, and is wonderfully efficacious as an aperient and laxative. It is the very thing.
The CASTORIA destroys worms, regulates the Stomach, cures Wind Colic, and permits of natural healthy sleep. It is very efficacious in Croup, and for Teething Children. Honey is not pleasanter to the taste, and Castor Oil is not so certain in its effects. It comes in 35 cent and large bottles.
J. B. ROSE & Co., New York.

The latest, greatest, and most reliable remedy ever put together by medical science for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Swellings, Burns, Caked Breasts, etc., is the Centaur Liniment. There are two kinds. What the White Liniment is for the human family, the stronger kind, which is yellow in color, is for spavined, lame, and strained horses and animals. Their effects are wonderful.

Mothers who have weak and irritable children, can secure health for the children and rest for themselves, by using Dr. Fitcher's Castoria. It contains no morphine or any thing injurious. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and is certain to cure Wind Colic, regulate the bowels, and expel worms. For Teething children, there is nothing like Castoria. 6imay1

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated, beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that warrants thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and a loomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as its effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P. P. P. P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Multum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, hereto fore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from Acid Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA
For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, stillingia, and Mandrake, with the iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions, which mar the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who e substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver Stomach, Kidneys Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from inert and ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

CATARRH
NEVER-FAILING RELIEF
AFFORDED BY
SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

IT is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of its value in the treatment of Catarrhal affection that confidence is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly feel proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R. I.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you a line to say that although I have been sceptical of all the nostrums advertised as "radical cures," I have never found anything that promises such relief and ultimate cure as that of SANFORD'S.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to persevere with any until I read the letter of Mr. HENRY WETS, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc.

THEO. P. BOGERT.

New And Yet Old.

There are many persons asking why the Advent people, as a sect, are teaching and preaching so much about the coming of Christ, while all other religious sects say little or nothing about it. I will inform them why the Advent people do teach it, and why the other sects do not.

First, we believe that Christ has been on this earth, and while here he spoke the truth and every word will be fulfilled. Christ said before, he went away, that if he went away he would come back again. His disciples saw him when he left the earth and ascended up to heaven and a cloud received him out of their sight; at that time two messengers from heaven said, "Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? This same Jesus which is taken up from you into heaven shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven." One of the objects which he is coming back for is, to raise the dead to life again that are in their graves, that he may judge and reward them according to their works; if they have been faithful until death, they will then have their bodies made immortal and crowned with everlasting life in the kingdom of God, (which is the new earth,) to be heirs with Christ, to what God has promised to him, the earth and nothing else; this has been the hope of the Church in all ages; if Christ does not come back and raise the dead to life again, the hope of the Church will never be realized. Paul says in the First Corinthians, 15th, chapter, if the dead rise not, our preaching is useless. So has all the preaching in all ages been useless if the dead rise not to life again; we believe by the preaching and believing and obeying the gospel of Christ as it reads, to be the power of God unto salvation and redemption to every one.

Second, why do not other religious sects teach more about Christ coming back? For this reason, they believe the lie the devil told our first parents, that "Ye will not surely die." By believing this lie they pick out certain passages of Scripture here and there, and by so doing disconnect them from other Scriptures which would give their proper meaning; by so doing they tell us when the spirit has gone out of the man the man is not dead but has gone to heaven. If this were true, there would not be any need of their teaching about Christ coming back; but it is not true, for Christ told his disciples that where he was going they could not come. After he had been dead three days and nights he said to Mary, "I have not yet ascended to my Father, but go to my brethren and say unto them I ascend unto my Father and your Father." If any person goes to heaven when they die, certainly Christ would have gone there, but did not. We are told in the book Ecclesiastes, 3d chapter, 19th and 20th verses, that which befalleth the sons of men befalleth beasts; as the one dieth so dieth the other; they have all one breath; so that man hath no preeminence above a beast; all go unto one place; all are of the dust; all turn to dust again. That which giveth man or beast life, the same when taken away from him causes death. The same goes to God who gave it, whether wind, breath or spirit, for all these expressions are made use of in the Bible for this purpose. There is one more text of Scripture made use of to prove that man does not die; it is found in Second Corinthians, 5th chapter, first verse: Paul says, for we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. In order to get the true sense of this Scripture we must let the verses following this speak, and the last verse in the preceding chapter, where Paul says the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal. If everything that is seen is temporal, then the heaven and the earth and all that is on it must be dissolved. We are told by Peter they shall be dissolved by fire. Paul in this 5th chapter, 1st and 2nd verses, brings this world and the one to come to view under a figure of two houses; the present house or world that we tabernacle in is to be dissolved. God who made this world or house, heaven and earth, by the word of his power, and made man to live in it, he now resides in heaven, but has promised he will create a new heaven and new earth. Paul says, in the second verse, for in this we groan, earnestly desiring to be clothed upon with our house which is from heaven. New house, new world; new heaven, new earth; that mortality might be swallowed up of life. Paul, speaking of this same thing in Romans, 8th Chapter, 22d and 23d verses, says, for we known that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain until now, heaven and earth and all therein, and not only they but ourselves also, who have the first fruit of the spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption,—to wit, the redemption of our bodies at the coming of Christ and the resurrection of the dead, and the restoration of all things that God has spoken of by the holy prophets since the world began. I believe that it will take place this year, 1878. WM. S. WILLEY.

Death of Gideon Welles.

Hon. Gideon Welles died at Hartford, Conn., Monday, at the age of seventy-five years and seven months, from the effects of a carbuncle on his neck. In early life he edited the Hartford Times; from 1827 to 1835 he was a member of the Connecticut Legislature, and from 1836 to 1841 was postmaster of Hartford, having been appointed by Andrew Jackson. In 1846 he took charge of a bureau in the navy department, and remained there until 1849. In 1860 he was a delegate to the Convention that nominated Mr. Lincoln for the Presidency, and on Mr. Lincoln's accession to that office Mr. Welles was appointed Secretary of the Navy. In this responsible position he rendered invaluable services to the Union cause throughout the rebellion, his able and vigorous management having had much to do with the creditable part taken in the war by the navy. After the war was over and Andrew Johnson had succeeded to the Presidency, on Mr. Lincoln's death, Mr. Welles became a decided "conservative" in politics, fully endorsing the "my policy" of Johnson, and remaining in his Cabinet as Secretary of the Navy, which of course estranged him from the party with which he had acted during and for some time previous to the war. Since the close of Johnson's term of office Mr. Welles has lived in retirement at Hartford. He has contributed to current literature many valuable papers touching the conduct of the war and other topics growing out of the great conflict, in all of which he displayed keen powers of analysis and conservative statesmanship. He was an earnest, upright and conscientious man, and his name will take high rank among the nation's honored dead.

The Eastern War.

Despatches from Europe, Tuesday morning, represent the position of affairs in Europe as extremely grave, and leave little hope of a peaceful adjustment. Russia has announced that her armies will occupy Constantinople, the British fleet having been ordered to that city. It is intimated that Russia's bold step was influenced by a secret understanding with other European powers, and that Turkey, holding England responsible for her defeat, is indifferent. England is busy with preparations for war, the dockyard workmen being ordered to work extra hours in fitting iron-clads for sea, and an extra force of men put on.

News and Notes.

Peter Wright & Sons, agents of the American Line of steamships at Philadelphia, are under arrest, charged with smuggling over $200,000 worth of goods.

Joseph A. Lamb, Mary A. Lamb and John F. Goss have been sentenced to the Maine State Prison for two years, for causing the death of Maud A. Holmes by means of malpractice.

Chicopee, Mass., has had a miracle, an old lady's lost sight having been restored as the consequence of a mass offered for her.

Arrivals at Canso from Fortune Bay, Newfoundland, report the cause of the failure of American captains to procure herrings was their unwillingness to pay the price demanded, and not outrage there, as reported in the Boston papers.

The Beecher-Tilton scandal is recalled by a suit brought against Loader, the man who, with Price, told a very gross story about the affair, which Price afterward acknowledged to be false. Loader was held on a charge of perjury and employed Joseph T. Warren as his lawyer, and Warren now sues him for $500 counsel fees. The case has been set down for trial at the next term of the New York city court.

Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, died in New York on Sunday, aged forty-six years. He was, at the time of his death, one of the three State Commissioners of Public Charities, Vice-President of the Union League Club, and a member of the Century, St. Nicholas and other clubs.

Brig Carrie Winslow, of Portland, 444 tons register, was run down and sunk on Monday morning by the ship British America, five miles southeast of the lightship in New York harbor. The captain and steward were drowned; the rest of the crew were saved by a tug. The brig was from Montevideo, with hides.

Schooner Sallie M. Steelman, from Charleston for Baltimore, was disabled in a gale Jan. 20th; on the 23d the provisions gave out; on the 24th the vessel sprung a bad leak, and on the 27th three of the crew gave up, completely exhausted, leaving but four men to do anything. After being without food for eight days, a negro sailor named George Seaman, who was crazed by hunger, attempted to kill Walter Sampson, but the latter instantly killed his assailant. Seaman's body was cut up, the upper part thrown overboard and the limbs salted down for food. From the thigh steaks were cut almost before the flesh was cold, and boiled. These were eaten with a relish by the starving men. Next day they were rescued by the schooner Speedwell, from Cadiz for New York.

New Hampshire Items.

The children and friends of Parker Cole of Meriden recently gathered at his home for the purpose of celebrating his eighty-third birthday. When his children departed Mr. Cole handed them a gift of a thousand dollars, and said he hoped they would come and see him often.

Warren H. Wilkinson of Springfield, Mass., has bought a large number of shares in the Monadnock mills of Marlboro. This movement, it is thought, will result in extending the manufactures of the latter place. Mr. Wilkinson now owns and operates large blanket mills in Holyoke, Mass.

Strafford Academy has received an endowment of $5000 from the late Rev. Daniel Austin of Kittery, Me.

The selectmen of the town of Auburn have recently paid an execution of $2500 damages, and $860 costs and interest, in favor of George H. Griffin, for injuries received from an alleged defect in the highway.

A strange noise in the house of George W. Worthen at Lebanon, led Mr. Worthen's son to make an examination. He unearthed a burglar, whom he captured after an exciting chase through the streets. The rascal proved to be E. A. Griffin, and he is under bonds for trial.

The College Glee Club at Hanover gave a telephonic concert, Saturday evening, stationed at Prof. Quimby's house, and the audience in a recitation room in Thornton Hall. It was a complete success. Words and tunes were easily recognized. An attempt is being made to stop the liquor traffic in Hanover. One dealer has paid $100. Another will be tried next Friday. A druggist notified not to sell refuses to fill physicians' prescriptions requiring liquor, or sell anything of an alcoholic nature for mechanical purposes.

Hon. Levi Underwood, who is well-known throughout New England, who has been Lieutenant-Governor of Vermont, and has for years been one of the leading lawyers of Vermont, was taken to the Concord (N. H.) Insane Asylum Monday. Mr. Underwood has been suffering with softening of the brain, and the disease made such serious progress as to necessitate his removal to an insane asylum.

Political.

The fact is made public by the Treasury officials that Whittaker, the New Orleans democratic judge who "railroaded" Anderson to the penitentiary, was a defaulter in 1866 for the sum of eleven hundred thousand dollars, on account of money used in speculation while Assistant Treasurer at New Orleans. Half a million was recovered from his bondsmen, and he owes the rest still. He escaped punishment by having been tried by a rebel jury. Only one larger defalcation against the government ever occurred.

The Boston Post, through its New Hampshire correspondents, is enjoying its annual diversion of carrying the State for the democracy. If New Hampshire had gone democratic on election day every time the Post has carried it for the party before election, there would not have been a republican official in the State for the past fifteen years. But the most extravagant of the correspondents this year only claims a thousand democratic majority, and figures on a larger democratic vote than was ever yet thrown, and a great diminution of the republican vote, to get even that majority, which is less than the Post claimed in the "Belknap expose" year, when the republicans made such a clean sweep of everything. The Post, as usual, will carry New Hampshire for the democracy until the voting takes place, when the republicans will do the work. Neither Sinclair nor Bingham will go to the U. S. Senate just yet.

The National Democratic Committee will meet in Washington on February 22, and it is intimated that Senator Barnum will be deposed from the chairmanship. Abram S. Hewitt was elected chairman by the committee just after the St. Louis convention at Tilden's request, as the latter desired his intimate friend to have control of the campaign. After the election Hewitt resigned, and the campaign committee, composed mostly of eastern men, elevated Mr. Barnum. The election of a chairman, therefore, will be one of the duties of the committee when it meets, and it is quite probable that Barnum will have to step down. The chairman should be a man in thorough sympathy with the party, which Mr. Barnum is not.—New Haven Union.

A bill has been introduced in the Wisconsin Legislature absolutely prohibiting all religious exercises in State educational institutions, and thus the question of the Bible in the public schools is now the theme of popular discussion there. Public meetings have been called in favor of and against the legislative bill.

THE CITY.

The house of Mrs. A. K. P. Deering, on Gates street, was sold by J. P. Morse, Esq., on Saturday, to Mr. George Bilbruck, for $1400.

A three-years-old child of Mr. Chandler M. Hayford of this city, fell from a chair on Sunday and broke one of his arms above the elbow.

It is said that the apples which formed a portion of the cargo of ship Granite State were sold in Rio Janeiro for eighteen dollars a barrel.

At the office of Morse & Ilsley, on Saturday, the unsettled book debts of the late firm of Hill & Carr were sold to a person residing in Boston, for two hundred and fifty dollars.

The schooner Lizzie M. Stewart, formerly of this port, bound from Boston for St. Thomas and a market, was spoken Feb. 3d. She had lost her mainmast and everything attached, but Capt. Perkins required no assistance.

Mr. Jeff. C. Tilton of this city, under whose direction the cantata of "The Fairy Bridal" was recently twcie given in this city by the Hutchings Association, is to yresent the same in Kittery soon, for the benefit of the Daughters of Rebekah. He will have assistants from this city.

Ship Midnight, Capt. Tucker, before reported abandoned to the underwriters, (at first reported abandoned in the Banda Sea,) put into Amboina, Java, leaky, discharged her cargo of petroleum, and was condemned and sold, bringing £540. A vessel to take her cargo forward to Yokohama, Japan, has been advertised for in Batavia.

The citizens of Portsmouth, we regret to say, (unpaid-for advertising has nothing to do with our sorrow,) did not on Tuesday evening have the pleasure of seeing Black Bess, "the wild hoss of Tartary," racing about Music Hall with Miss Kate Fisher lashed on her back, as previously announced per advertisement, —for particulars see small bills. The reason the wild hoss did not come here may be found in the following, which is from the Portland Advertiser of Monday: "The Mazeppa company, owing to the failure of the management, are left unpaid, and will give an entertainment Wednesday evening to raise money to take them home. Miss Marsh, with her usual liberality, has given them the use of the house."

POLICE COURT.

Tuesday, Feb. 12th; Batchelder, J.,

James Murphy, John Martin and William Snow, drunks, were all sent to Brentwood, to board out the sum of $0.90 each.

PORTSMOUTH GAS COMPANY.

The annual meeting of this Company was held at their office on Market street, on Tuesday afternoon, Gov. Goodwin, President of the Company, presiding. The following named officers were chosen:

Ichabod Goodwin, President;

Christopher C. Jackson, John Sise, Chas. A. Shannon, Aaron Akerman, Directors;

David Kimball, Treasurer;

Aaron Akerman, Superintendent;

Andrew J. Penhallow, Auditor of Accounts.

The President informed the stockholders that at the last meeting of the Board of Directors a semi-annual dividend of four per cent. was declared, payable on the fourth day of March, and that the rate for gas to consumers would be reduced on bills accruing after the commencement of the current year, so that the price would be $3.00 per thousand feet, which is as low as gas is furnished in any New England city excepting Boston. This Company supplies gas to about six hundred customers, and also to about eighty-one street lights for the city.

TWO'S CHOWDER PARTY.

"We'll Try" is the motto of Sagamore Steam Fire Engine Co, No. Two; and when they try they generally succeed, as was the case on Monday evening, when they tried to give a first-rate clam-chowder supper and have a pleasant social time, in the hall of their engine house. The Mayor and City Councils, Board of Engineers, officers of other fire companies, and a large number of citizens, were invited, and many of them were present. After the chowder (which was abundant and perfect) was duly attended to, Foreman Frank E. Osgood called upon Mayor Broughton for a speech, that gentleman responding briefly and happily, congratulating the company and the entire Fire Department on their efficiency, and assuring them that their efforts were appreciated by the municipal authorities and the citizens.

The Mayor was followed by William H. Hackett, Esq., in an amusing off-hand speech, in which he gave on entertaining history of his connection with the department years ago, congratulated the department on the steady and great improvement made in fire-extinguishing apparatus, and justly praised the successful efforts of the firemen to elevate the reputation of their organization by showing that gentlemen and reputable citizens make as good and fearless firemen as any roughs. He also assured them that the record of the Portsmouth Fire Department stands high with all the insurance companies in the country. Mr. Hackett was followed by Aldermen Hadley, Coffin, Norton and others, in short and appropriate speeches. The occasion was a very pleasant one to all concerned, agreeable alike to the firemen and their guests.

The company was organized in 1802. Hand tubs were used until December, 1864, when the steamer Sagamore was bought and placed in charge of the company, and has continued in service ever since except for a short time when she was off duty for repairs; there were but few repairs made on this engine from the time she was bought until she was sent to Portland last year; and she is considered as good as new at the present time. At the time the steamer was purchased Mr. Hiram C. Locke was foreman of the company, and held the position for two years; he was followed by Joseph H. Glines, who was foreman the same length of time; Edwin T. Morrison was elected and held the position one year, followed by Benjamin Plummer, one year; William B. Randall, two years; Willard Sears, two years; Richard T. Call, one year; Thornton Betton, one year and six months. The present organization is: Frank Osgood, Foreman; John D. Randall, Assistant Foreman; Herman Manson, Clerk; Francis Hersey, Steward; Daniel N. Cox, 1st Pipeman; Fred B. Haraden, 2d Pipeman. The company has always been noted for retaining members on its rolls for a long time, and we think has the honor of having there the oldest firemen now in the department, Mr. Allen Rand, who has been on the active list twenty-four years, and a member of this company all the time. Four of the foremen of the company have since been on the Board of Engineers, viz: Messrs. Locke, Sears, Call and Betton.

SUPREME COURT--JAN. TERM.

The following is the full text of the sealed verdict rendered Saturday evening by the jury in the "horse case:"

Henry H. Titcomb vs. Charles Evans. The jury render a verdict for the defendant as follows, namely: that Charles Evans keep the horse and the bay in dispute, and that Henry H. Titcomb keep the seventy-five dollars referred to, and all the interest that has accrued on it.

JOSEPH KIMBALL, Foreman.

The verdict was read by Col. Conner, the Clerk, in a slow and impressive manner, and at the close of the reading the audience were convulsed with laughter; and even Judge Bingham's dignity seemed shaken with risibility as he said it was evident a general verdict for the defendant was intended, and that he would at a subsequent time hear any suggestion of the counsel as to costs.

RYE LETTER.

RYE, Feb. 11th.

Elder O. S. Moulton, of Whitefield, lectured on temperance at the Advent chapel on Thursday evening, 7th inst.,—which is the only public indication as yet, that things are getting "red hot" in that direction.

Rev. Mr. Pettee, of Manchester, who is supplying the pulpit in Candia, and who graduated from the Andover Seminary last July, preached at the Congregational church last Sunday. He expects to go as a missionary to Japan in about six months.

Rev. S. B. Bowdish, of the Christian church, is absent on a trip to the West but will return next week. There were no services at his church last Sunday, and there were not over fifty persons in attendance at the Congregational church, on account of the storm.

An addition of about one hundred volumes has recently been made to the Sunday school library of the Christian church.

The statement in some of the papers, that an organ has been contracted for by the committee of the Congregational church, is premature; the matter is still undecided.

Prof. Albert Merlin had the Town Hall on Saturday evening, and failed to draw a crowd, notwithstanding he professed to be the "Great Australian Wonder," "Prince of Magic," "King of all astronomers," etc., and in addition, entitled his entertainment "Les Diables de Imaginaiers" which for many months was witnessed by "eager and excited throngs at the Grand Opera House, New York." Probably the contrast between the two places had a somewhat depressing effect, so that the whole programme was not carried out on this occasion, the omission including the gifts promised to the handsomest lady and the homliest man,—but as there were only two ladies and about a dozen of the other sex in the house, it was quite as well to omit that part of the entertainment, and the audience were perfectly satisfied with what they got.

The school in the west district closed last week. It was successfully taught by Mr. N. R. Goss, who, it has been intimated, may possibly open a high school in Town Hall before long.

The Sunday school connected with the Congregational church will probably give a Sunday School Concert in the church next Sunday evening, for which preparations have been in progress for some weeks under the direction of the superintendent, Mr. Jenness Marden.

The ice crop is about all harvested, and a large amount is under cover, ready for use when occasion requires. It is said to be of excellent quality.

Mr. W. J. Frazier, the superintendent of the Direct Cable at this station, is expected to return from England with his bride in the latter part of March or first of April.

The late snow storm recalls to mind the time when, to break out the roads, the Centre District could turn out twenty yoke of cattle; now there are not more than six,—and a sled with two horses did all the breaking out, with the help of men with shovels, that there was done after the late storm.

"Citizen," in the last Weekly, after congratulating himself at the outset that he is not known and cannot be found out, proceeds to throw more filth around in such a manner as to make it appear to decent people that he must have a very intimate acquaintance with such disreputable localities and associations as he refers to. What he means by the correspondent of the CHRONICLE "crawling out of the rum-shops' onslaught" is a mystery to said correspondent; but he is sure that he don't hide behind any "back stairs" for fear of being discovered, as "Citizen" seems to be doing. It's no wonder that he does not wish to be known; anybody who can deliberately write such outrageous and libelous statements about a place as he has about Rye, would not be likely to increase his circle of friends if he were found out, and it may be assumed without stretching the imagination to a great extent that there is not much assistance to be expected from him in any attempt at reformation, unless it can be done without it's being known that he had a hand in it. It must be fun to throw mud, when one is so sure that there is no danger of being detected. NAT.

[Written for the Chronicle.]

ABOUT THE KEARSARGE'S FIGHT.

[Concluded.]

This brings me to the last of my "extracts," which was taken from a Washington letter to the New York Tribune, published immediately after the death, a few months since, of Capt. Semmes:

A gentleman who during the war served for a long time on board the Confederate steamer Alabama, and afterward on the Georgia, which cruised in company with the Alabama, is now in Washington, and relates some interesting reminiscences of the late Admiral Semmes. The circumstances of the fight between the Kearsarge and Alabama are too well known to need repetition. The gentleman already referred to was a witness of this fight, but did not take part in it, being at the time on board a French tug. He says that Admiral Semmes made a great mistake in going out of Cherbourg to meet the Kearsarge at all. He said the immediate cause of his going out was a threat of Winslow to go into port with the United States flag flying over the inverted Confederate flag, and to sail around the Alabama as an insult. Semmes sent back word that if he would not do that he would go out and fight him.

Whether Capt. Winslow did send such a message as that or not, of course I have no means of deciding, but I believe the giving or accepting a challenge in any form by an officer of the navy is forbidden by law. But this statement leads me to refer to a belief I have frequently heard expressed by persons in Portsmouth, viz.: that Capt. Winslow did not want to fight the Alabama, that he would not have gone to Cherbourg from Flushing to find her if he could have got clear of it, that the Kearsarge was handled during the fight by her executive officer, and that the credit for the victory belongs to Lieut. Thornton and not to Capt. Winslow. Where or how the idea originated I cannot say; Lieut. Thornton was more popular with many of the men than the captain was, but I do not believe any of the Kearsarge's crew ever insinuated anything against the latter's courage or conduct as an officer; but the belief that he showed the white feather in the Alabama affair is certainly held by many individuals. Some years since I heard a man say, in a company of perhaps twenty persons, that Winslow wanted to "raise the blockade" of Cherbourg on the day before the fight, and clear out; and that he would have done so but for Thornton's remembrances, and his threat to demand a court-martial in case the Kearsarge did not stay to fight the Alabama. The man making this statement, however, was not only not one of the Kearsarge's crew, but never served in the navy at all. On another occasion I heard a somewhat similar statement made on the street, the speaker winding up by saying "Winslow was captain of the ship, but he wasn't the man that fought her." One of the Kearsarge's first crew, Mr. William Y. Evans, of this city, was among the bystanders, and immediately replied, "Well, he stood on the quarter-deck and gave orders—'starboard,' and 'port,' and 'steady'—to the helmsman, and was giving directions to the other officers all through the fight; and if that wasn't fighting his ship I don't know what you'd call it; you couldn't expect him to work all the guns himself!" If this belief were confined to people in Portsmouth and its vicinity it would not be worth mentioning, as history has already fixed Capt. Winslow's place on the record; but after the Kearsarge's recent arrival here I found to my astonishment that the notion that Winslow was lacking in courage, and was only held up to even a semblance of doing his duty by the persistent courage of his executive officer, has become one of the traditions of the navy, among the seamen. Just as the British man-of-war's man, after chanting the glories of Nelson for an hour, will privately inform you that "Nelson was an infernal old tyrant to his men, and was shot from the mizzen-top of his own ship by a man he had had flogged for nothing, and the old scoundrel ought to have been shot long before,"—just so the American man-of-war's man will boast of the Kearsarge's glorious victory, and then tell you in confidence that Capt. Winslow wasn't the man who really commanded her during the fight. One of the warrant officers recently detached from the vessel, in conversation with a gentleman of this city regarding the famous naval duel, told him this story; the recipient of this information, as it happened, was himself in the fight, and stationed in a position where he could not help observing Capt. Winslow's bearing all through it; and by a few questions he easily drew from the warrant officer an acknowledgment that he really knew nothing of the matter, and only went by "what they (the seamen) all say in the navy."

Of course there is no danger that this undercurrent of injustice to Capt. Winslow will tarnish his record, but it is none the less an injustice because it is slow down." Capt. Winslow's duty was a general supervision of the ship and a general direction of the crew; Lieut. Thornton's duty as executive officer was to see that the commander's general directions were effectively carried out, and to set an example of activity, courage and coolness to the subordinate officers and men; and both did their duty, the captain ably directing the fight from the quarter-deck, while his lieutenant was pretty much everywhere, even needlessly exposing himself (as it seemed) on the forecastle at the time the fight was at its hottest. Each in his proper position did his best—and that best was good enough to win the nation's gratitude for both, as well as for the other and less prominent actors in the affair.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Commonwealth Consolidated MINING COMPANY

THE Directors of the "COMMONWEALTH CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY," of San Francisco, call attention to the mining property of this Company, situated in the Tuscarora Mining District, Elko County, State of Nevada.

The property adjoins that of the well-known "Grand Prize," and developments thus far made in the shaft and levels of the Commonwealth Consolidated indicate the same vein, and of the same richness, as that found at even depth in sinking the shaft upon the "Grand Prize" now so successfully worked, and pay an its regular monthly dividends.

The Commonwealth Consolidated Mining Company consists of two distinct properties, known as the "All Alone" and "Veritas" mines, which have been consolidated into the above-named Company; both of these valuable properties have been prospected by shafts, the ledge found to be well-defined, and the ores are proved by assay to be rich in both gold and silver.

The Corporation is represented by one hundred thousand shares of stock, of the par value of one hundred dollars each, and instead of assessing the shares, as is customary in most California mining stocks, the Directors have chosen to set aside 25,000 shares of the capital stock of the Company to be sold, and the proceeds placed in the treasury (as working capital).

This stock will only be issued and sold from time to time, as funds may be required to carry on the work, which is being pushed with energy under the able superintendence of a first-class miner.

The first allotment of shares to be sold for working capital has all been taken.

The Directors now propose to issue the second allotment for the working capital, and the price is fixed at Three Dollars per share, with the assurance to the Stockholders that their interest is to enhance the price of each issue from time to time, as the work of development proceeds and the value of the property is enhanced thereby, until the requisite amount of working capital is obtained.

The "All Alone" shaft is now sunk to a depth of 28 feet, and a contract is also being closed to run it 200 feet deeper.

Messrs. OTIS & CO., members of the Pacific Stock Exchange, San Francisco, and Messrs. STONE & DOWNER, Boston, have been kind enough to receive subscriptions as above for the Working Capital Stock.

The Officers and Directors of the Company are principally New England men, and the Board of Directors offer our assurance to the Stockholders in the office of the Company will be administered upon a safe and economical basis, and a examination of the management as to the working of the mine and the expenditure of the money is invited and guaranteed at all times.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.

The wonder of medical science—half horse and half man, the fabled Centaurs, left their impress upon the history of the world.

The Centaur Liniments, for man and beast, are not less remarkable in their way. They have been before the public only six years, but in that time they have performed more wonderful works, have alleviated more pains and cured more bed-ridden cripples than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Salves and Ointments in existence. Their immense and rapidly-increasing sale is indisputable evidence of the estimation in which they are held. They are already used in many of the hospitals of this country and Europe, and are prescribed by the best physicians and veterinary surgeons. Why should they not be? They have never failed to ameliorate suffering when cures from loss of bone or muscle are impossible. They contain Carbolic, Witch Hazel, Rock Oil, Arnica and Ingredients which must stimulate the fluids, soften the sinews and penetrate to the bone. We have never yet heard of the first failure to benefit, even in stubborn cases of Rheumatism, Sciatica, and Neuralgia, while, for Fresh Wounds, Bites, Frosted Limbs, Burns, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., they are unfailing. What the White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is for horses and animals. We will guarantee that one dollar expended for Centaur Liniment will perform more and speedier results than can be obtained for five or twenty dollars from any physician. We have made the treatment of flesh, bone and muscle ailments a specialty. We know that we have preparations which do what they are recommended to do. They are not curealls—they will not mend a broken leg, but they will alleviate pain and cure where any human agency can cure. Be sure and inquire for the Centaur Liniments and give them a fair trial.

Mothers,

There is the harmless and certain remedy for your children. CASTORIA is the result of twenty years' experiments by the celebrated Sam'l Pitcher, M.D

It is a vegetable preparation, as effective as Castor Oil, but perfectly pleasant to the taste. It can be taken by the youngest infant, and neither gags nor gripes. Dr. A. J. Green, of Royston, Indiana, says of it:

"MS.—I have tried the CASTORIA, and can speak highly of its merits. It will do away with Castor Oil. It is pleasant and harmless, and is wonderfully effectious as an aperient and laxative. It is the very thing.

The CASTORIA destroys worms, regulates the Stomach, cures Wind Colic, and permits of natural healthy sleep. It is very efficacious in Croup, and for Teething Children. Honey is not pleasanter to the taste, and Castor Oil is not so certain in its effects. It costs but 35 cents, in large bottles.

J. B. ROSE & Co., New York.

The latest, greatest, and most reliable remedy ever put together by medical science for Rheumatism, Wounds, Swellings, Burns, Cracked Breasts, etc., is the Centaur Liniments. There are two kinds. What the White Liniment is for the human family, the stronger kind, which is yellow in color, is for spavined, lame, and contracted horses and animals. Their effects are wonderful.

Mothers who have weak and irritable children, can secure health for the children and rest for themselves, by using Dr. Pitcher's Castoria. It contains no morphine or any thing injurious. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and is certain to cure Wind Colic, regulate the bowels, and expel worms. For Teething children, there is nothing like Castoria. 6tmay1

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of our country? An inferior article never secures a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outsoared all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties remove it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness. Tropic Liver, or "Liver Complaint," and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If your blood, drowsy, debilitated, have a sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternate with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular pulse, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Vulcan in Parvo Physic, actually larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, pills of enormous size heretofore in use. As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative influence. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and enclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninjured for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They, however, are recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA
For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alterative, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who c substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leuchorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

CATARRH
NEVER-FAILING RELIEF
AFFORDED BY
SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

IT is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of its agency in the treatment of Catarrhal affections the confidence is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly feel proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R. I.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am indeed to drop you a line to say that although I have been sceptical of all the nostrums advertised as "radical cures," I have never found anything that promises such relief and ultimate cure as that of SANFORD'S.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to preserve with any until I read the letter of Mr. HENRY WELLS, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc.

THEO. P. BOGERT.

BRISTOL, R. I., July 24, 1877.

A Barking Girl.

The dreaded barking girl, Mary Klein, of the North Side, says the Chicago Inter-Ocean, has broken out again. She was discovered in an alley, near the corner of Lincoln and Hurlbert streets, baying at the moon. A policeman had his attention called to her, but, on his approach to arrest her, she sped away like a frightened fawn. No policeman on the force can be found who can run her down, and it was only by strategy, and gradually-surrounding her, that a number of policemen could finally succeed in catching her. Upon being captured, Mary Klein was taken to the Webster avenue Station, and there confined in a cell. A reporter of the Inter-Ocean hearing of the capture of the barking girl—the first one that was ever heard of, and who, when she had the first attack of the singular affection, nearly five months ago, an incredulous public accused of assuming the singular malady, went to interview her. When the reporter undertook this interview he had little idea of the subject he had taken in hand. He was led to an aisle of cells, and, when he entered this part of the building, he heard a sharp, quick bark, a perfect imitation of a bark that might have come from a black-and-tan dog. The quick, sharp bark of the irritated dog; the low, wailing note that a dog utters when asking to be let into the house; the continued growling sound that the animal makes at night when a stranger draws near, were among the phases of this strange and phenominal voice.

"Long John" Wentworth.

Long John was lightly resting on the simple but substantial chair which supports his ethereal form in his office yesterday afternoon, when there entered with a slow, uncertain step an elderly man, who looked as if he had never seen better days.

"I kem up to thank ye, Mr. Wentworth, for a favor ye done me the first time you was Mayor. I've had it on my mind for some time, an' I thought I'd come down an' tell you. But maybe ye don't remember me?"

"No, I don't," said Mr. Wentworth. "You see I've been Mayor several times, and as I gave my time to the business and have been very busy ever since, I can't remember every one I met. What did I do for you?"

"It was just like this: The fust time you was Mayor I started down to your office one day to ask a favor. I met you on the street an' said I was goin' to the Mayor's office, an' says you, 'This is the Mayor's office; I take it right around with me. What do you want?' says you. Says I, 'I want a pardon for my boy, who is in the Bridewell,' an' then I told you how he kum there. You just took a piece of paper, an' reached down an' wrote on my shoulder and gev it to me. I went to the Bridewell an' give it to the man an' sat down. When I saw the boy wasn't comin' I asked why they delayed, and said I'd brought a pardon from Long John. They asked me if I'd read the paper, an' I said 'No.' They gev it to me an' it read:

So I went home, an' the boy came when his term was out. He hadn't been long home till I made up my mind that you was right in not letting him go sooner, and since then I've come to the conclusion that it 'ud have bin better if you ordered him kept there ever since. So thought I'd just drop in an' thank you for not lettin' him out when I asked you."—Chicago Times.

Seeing the World.

Miss Mary Merriam is a respectable appearing woman of thirty, is not bad looking, and has every appearance of being upright and of good character. She is, however, without doubt, the queen of female tramps, and can discount the great majority of male tramps. She is not a genuine tramp—not of the regular kind who are a terror to the country and "work" cities and towns in a systematic manner, having their gate and door-posts-signs, etc., for of these she knows nothing, and with this class of people she does not associate, for they were no society to her, but she likes the business.

She was born in St. Albans in this State and her folks were farmers. She has since lived in Hermon with her brother Joseph Merriam, who does a good deal of trading in this city. Three years ago this fall she took it into her head to see the country and started out with neither scrip nor staff but a good pair of thick shoes. She walked across the country, braving all kinds of weather, and finally brought up in Clinton, Iowa, when she took the back track and returned to this city.

Two years ago she decided to start out again, and this time selected a longer tour. She walked through portions of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania and on to Washington, where she remained a few days and "did the capital" and then made a bolt for Savannah, Ga., where she remained a short time. When on she went again, doing the States of Kentucky, Tennessee, Iowa, Indiana, and finally got round to Kansas City. Here she stopped awhile and earned a new tramping outfit. Again she started, this time with the intention of crossing the plains to California, but finally stopped, when told by many persons that it would be very unsafe for her to think of attempting it alone.

She then started on a return trip, walking from Kansas City to Chicago, thence to Detroit, doing Niagara Falls, and crossing to Canada, thence to New York and through Massachusetts, arriving at her home in Hermon a little more than a week ago. She says she averages twenty-six miles a day. She says when she gets tired and out of clothes, she finds no trouble in getting a few days work and in this manner enjoys her life. —Bangor Commercial.

News and Notes.

Madame Restell, the noted abortionist of New York city, who lives in a palace and has amassed a fortune of a million and a half by her infamous vocation, having for "clients" many of the first families of the city, has been arrested for selling medicines warranted to procure abortion, to Anthony Comstock, agent of the Society for the Suppression of Vice. She was held in $10,000 bail, and offered that amount in U. S. bonds, but the judge demanded real estate security, and the Madame had to lodge in the Tombs for a night in default of bail.

The Secretary of the Navy has issued a general order announcing to the navy and marine corps the death of Honorable Gideon Welles and reciting the various distinguished positions held by that gentleman in public service, including the office of Secretary of the Navy from 1861 to 1869. The Navy Department will be draped in mourning until after the funeral, and public business in that Department suspended on the day of the funeral.

Tabitha A. Holton has been admitted by the Supreme Court of North Carolina to practice at the bar. She is the daughter of a clergyman and is 22 years of age, petite, and of modest, unassuming manners, says a southern paper. In that case she will hardly be able to win a cause by putting her "cheek" against the old heads of the other sex.

Several of the prominent New York banks have begun to dam against the silver flood, and are steadily substituting gold for their currency capital. The movement was begun by the Third National Bank, and has been followed up until the bulk of its capital has been exchanged for gold, and for some time its business has been transacted on a gold basis. The National Bank of Commerce has also invested a large amount of its capital in gold. The American Exchange Bank has adopted the same programme, and a million and a half of its capital is in gold.

Barnum, the great, is already pushing out his paragraphs for next summer's canvas show. He announces himself the happy possessor of eighteen elephants.

The bill reported from the Senate military committee by Mr. Burnside, to remove all restrictions now existing in regard to enlistments of colored citizens in the United States army, is a substitute for the bill referred to that committee, which provided that no distinction shall hereafter be made in the assignment of soldiers on account of color, but that all arms of the service should be open to them. The bill reported strikes out all of the original bill after the enacting clause, and provides for the repeal of sections 1104 and 1108 of the revised statutes, which direct that two regiments of cavalry and two of infantry shall be colored men, thus virtually disbanding such regiments and making it necessary hereafter to assign all colored recruits to white regiments indiscriminately. It is claimed that the opposition to the reception of colored soldiers into the regiments will be of such a vigorous character as to prevent any further enlistment of colored men should the bill become a law, and that the committee in reporting it did so with the expectation of such a result.

There is a terribly hypercritical school teacher in Hardwick, Vt. Just because a fifteen-years-old boy comes to school in a state of maudlin drunkenness, with two revolvers about him, the teacher complains.

Mrs. Kate N. Doggett of Chicago, the well-known writer on science and kindred matters, has reviewed Rev. Joseph Cook's lecture on "Hereditary Descent," and shows, by parellel columns, that a good deal of it was taken bodily and verbally from Galton's "Hereditary Genius," without a word of credit.

Samuel Weeks of Lyndon, Vt., married David Currier's sister for his second wife, and Currier married Weeks' daughter for his first wife, and after her death took for his second wife the widow of Weeks' son, who was also Weeks' niece. And the two men now want somebody to tell them what relation they are.

Carpenter's great historical painting of Lincoln signing the emancipation proclamation, presented to the United States by Mrs. Thompson, was formally accepted by Congress on the 12th inst. Two speeches were made; one by Alexander H. Stephens, Ex-Vice President of the Confederacy. The picture is said to be "great" only in the size of the canvas.

Gus. Johnson is under sentence to be hanged on the 15th of March in Rome, Ga., for the murder of a negro. If the sentence is carried out, Johnson will be the first white man hanged in the South since the war for the murder of a negro.

Eli W. Slack, from Wisconsin, who has been visiting a brother in Norwich, Vermont, for several weeks, recently eloped with his brother's wife. Their whereabouts are unknown, but they are supposed to have gone west. Slack has a wife in Westboro.

The Secretary of the Navy has received information that Capt. H. A. Adams, of Pennsylvania, died on board the Hartford at Montevideo, the first of February, after a prolonged malarial disease.

Boston, New York and Philadelphia capitalists have formed a concern with a paid-up capital of $1,000,000 to settle lands in the southwest with people from the north, and a large tract of timber land in Missouri has already been secured. Among those prominent in the management are General W. S. Rosecrans, General Gilmore and ex-Judge Fullerton of New York.

On a recent voyage of the English ship Glamis Castle, the captain appealed to the crew, composed of Englishmen, Scotchmen and Chinamen, to man a boat to rescue some shipwrecked sailors. Considerable risk attended the attempt, and the Englishmen and Scotchmen refused to respond to the appeal on account of their wives and families. The Chinamen, however, manned the boat, and succeeded in rescuing the captain and some of the crew of the shipwrecked vessel.

Mr. McVicker has peremptorily refused to lease his theatre in Chicago for Sunday evening entertainments.

Fernando Wood's new tariff bill is a wonderful muddle, abounding in absurdities. It imposes heavy, and in many cases prohibitory, duties on articles of raw material used in American manufactures, while the duties on foreign manufactured articles of the same material are reduced to a merely nominal figure.

"Sidonie" has been dramatized and produced at the Fifth Avenue Theatre in New York.

"The Exiles" have proved the most profitable card the theatres of Boston have for years enjoyed.

It cost the Metropolitan Horse Railroad of Boston twenty thousand dollars to dispose of the proceeds of the last snow storm that fell upon their iron.

A tramp walked into a house at Athol, Mass., lately, and picking up a small child told the woman of the house to get him something to eat or he would kill it. She went into the next room, but instead of bringing back food presented a pistol. The tramp made his exit backward, begging her not to shoot, and has not been seen since.

The Supreme Court of Georgia has decided that, "for a man, without some innocent reason or excuse, to put his arm around the neck of another man's wife is an assault and battery."

Political.

The suit against Anderson, of the Louisiana Returning Board, was not brought on an indictment by a grand jury—for even a Louisiana grand jury refused to indict him on the evidence offered. The proceedings against him were taken on what is called an "information," which is expressly prohibited by the constitution of the United States in cases of felony, but is permitted by the laws of Louisiana—which seem to pay as little attention to the Constitution as Louisiana judges do to either law or justice when a political opponent is to be punished. This "information" was brought by "Gen." Ogden, leader of the infamous White League gang of organized assassins, and of course an ex-rebel. The jury was carefully packed by Ogden and "Judge" Whittaker, one of the jurors having openly declared some days before the trial that Anderson was guilty and ought to be hung; this juror was challenged, but Whittaker allowed him to be sworn in—he was evidently just the kind of man that was wanted on that jury!

It turns out that Col. Polk, the ex-rebel colonel whom the democrats appointed Doorkeeper of the National House of Representatives, at one time had the names of nearly every member of his family, including his daughter, upon his official roll! Polk is evidently a legitimate successor of the doorkeeper who was a "bigger man than old Grant." A wonderful thing indeed is this democratic "reform;" that party got control of one office in which there is a good chance to steal, and has had three representative men in it—first Fitzhugh, then Patterson, and now Polk! What would they do if they only had all the offices to dispose of?

Louis Montplaiser and James Prince, the colored jurors in the Anderson (Louisiana Returning Board) trial have stated to responsible parties that their verdict "Guilty, but recommended to the mercy of the Court," was given under the impression that this was tantamount to an acquittal, and that they were so informed by the other jurors. Both are extremely young men, neither being over twenty-two years of age; and it is claimed that Prince is disqualified as a juror, having been born in 1858.

If three or four more commissioners to the Paris Exposition could get themselves appointed, the entire force of active adherents of the administration, with the shining exception of the Hon. Stanley Matthews, would soon be in Europe.—N. Y. Tribune.

The greenbackers of Chemung County, N. Y., have carried the county against the combined republicans and democrats.

Representative Aiken, of South Carolina, an ex-rebel colonel, a day or two since in the House proposed to put West Point up at auction or give it away; Hewitt, of New York, retorted that such a suggestion was very naturally to be expected from a delegate from South Carolina, whereat another ex-rebel, House of Tennesse, foamed at the mouth and denounced Hewitt as a demagogue. The fact is that the Confederacy, now that it is victorious in the National councils, cannot and will not forgive the army and navy for overthrowing the Confederacy in battle.

It is said that if Whittaker (the virtuous democratic judge who presided at the trial of Anderson, of the Louisiana Returning Board, and ruled ably in any direction necessary to secure a conviction,) had his deserts he would be in the penitentiary instead of on the bench. He is a wholesale thief, owing the government some eleven thousand dollars he stole when a collector of internal revenue, and a round six hundred thousand dollars more which he stole when Assistant Treasurer at New Orleans. He was tried for his crimes, but succeeded in getting a rebel jury who acquitted him without leaving their seats, in face of the most conclusive evidence,—since when he has been an ardent democrat, of course, and as ready to prostitute his judicial position "for the good of the party" as he was to steal the funds in his care for his own emolument.

The Biddeford Post calls the New Era, the greenback organ of Maine, the New Error. The Post is not for inflation to any great extent.

New Hampshire Items.

As yet there is scarcely any outward indication that a pitched battle will be fought four weeks from to-day for the political possession of this State. General Apathy appears to be in command of both parties. The republicans seem to be as easy as old Tilly as to the result, while the promised enthusiasm for the democratic ticket has not yet burst forth. A week or two may change all this, and probably will. Meantime if the democrats have any enthusiasm for their ticket, we should like to see it. If the republicans mean business they had better be about it.—Nashua Telegraph.

A few days ago, while William Barker of Unity was visiting a daughter in Claremont, he retired at night at an early hour, and to all appearances as well as usual, but soon came down stairs and told his daughter he was very sick, and died in a few minutes.

Hopkinton claims the honor of having produced the first African explorer in John Darwin Currier, the son of Dr. Stephen Currier, a local physician, who visited Africa in 1833 and subsequently, establishing a trading post on the southwestern coast, and making extensive tours into the interior, where he met with many strange adventures among the savages, wild animals and malarial diseases of the country. He died in 1837, but many of the articles which he brought to the State are still preserved by his friends. Once he was accompanied to this country by a colored boy, the son of the King of the island of St. Thomas, who attended school for awhile in Hopkinton, and then went back to his father. The young prince afterward started to return to America to complete his education, but, as he disappeared on the way, he is supposed to have been kidnapped and sold into slavery during the journey by some heartless speculator.

—"Blessed are the peace-makers," but Major S. A. Jones of the Aberdeen (Miss.) Examiner says he'll be "blessed" if he sees it. Two of his townsmen got into a fight the other day, and in playing the peace-maker role he "received a blow from a cudgel that was intended for Mr. Rogers, and a bullet through his arm that was intended for Mr. Cummings."

THE CITY.

St. Valentine's Day.

The schooner Mary S. Hontvet, Hontvet master, sailed for the Banks on Tuesday, 12th inst. She is the first of the fleet to start.

There will be a public meeting under the auspices of the Greenback Club, at Mechanic's Hall on Tuesday evening next, when Elliott King, Esq., of Portland, will deliver an address.

An inmate of the jail on Tuesday sent a dollar to Lovering's book-sale in Boston for a book, and on Wednesday received the book he sent for, and in addition fourteen volumes (a full set) of Hook's novels—every purchaser of a book at this sale receiving a present, and the prisoner's dollar having hit a good one.

Of Bryant's Minstrels, advertised to appear at Music Hall on Monday evening, the New York Telegram says: "It would be difficult to conceive a more versatile troupe of minstrels than that which has revived the memories and accomplishments of the original association whose name it bears. It is, perhaps, all things considered, a troupe of more varied accomplishments than its nominal predecessor, and although confined to old-time ministrelsy, indulges in many pleasant vocal and terpsichorean pastimes of modern introduction. All the names connected with it are well known, and embody talents that are truly wonderful."

The latest amusement the young ladies have adopted is to get a piece of what they call canvas, a sort of cross between a gunny-bag and a piece of sailcloth, and on it work, and make their gentleman friends also work, in impossible-colored worsteds, all sorts of astounding figures in natural and unnatural history, divinity, science and the fine arts, such as ships, anchors bigger than the ships, blue whales bigger than the anchors, green dogs bigger than the whales, striped crows bigger than the dogs, humming birds bigger than the crows, devils on velocipedes, fat Cupids, and other devices unlike anything on earth or anywhere else. When the gunny-bag is all covered with these pictures the interstices are filled in with worsted of some neutral tint for a groundwork, the concern is stuffed, laid on the end of a sofa, and called a "crazy pillow."

In the early part of the week there was in town a gentleman who proposed, with the aid of pupils from the schools, to give an extensive allegorical entertainment, the net proceeds to be devoted partly to the purchase of books for the high school library and partly expended for the interest of the grammar schools. The children of the lower schools had been interested in the matter and a rehearsal appointed for Tuesday afternoon, but the whole thing fell through owing to the young ladies of the high school generally declining to take part. At about four o'clock Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Wilson, who was then in the State street ward-room making things ready for the school that evening, was surprised by the sudden irruption of a troop of urchins, who in answer to her enquiries as to what they were doing there informed her that there was going to be a play and they were part of the performers—it was all right, even if she didn't know anything about it, and the man was coming to have a rehearsal between four and five o'clock. Troop after troop of youngsters arrived and poured into the building, until the astonished lady fancied there were some thousands of them present, and as their numbers increased and "the man" did not appear, the little scamps became more and more uproarious and totally unmanageable, and finally a police-officer had to be sent for, who ignominiously ejected the entire crowd. That was probably all the part they will take in the presentation of the Grand Centennial Tableaux.

SUPREME COURT--JAN. TERM.

In case Towle vs. Rowe, a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff.

No. 357, Smart vs. Tetherley, action to recover for a quantity of lumber, was tried on Wednesday. Small for plaintiff; Marston for defendant.

THE VICINITY.

The Dover Democrat is red-hot for the silver dollar.

Col. E. C. Bailey, of the Concord Patriot, lectured at Hampton Falls on Wednesday evening, in the new Town Hall.

On account of the prevalence of scarletina, the Hampton Falls school-house (on the Exeter road) has been closed.

N. F. Boothby's clothing and furnishing store in Saco was entered on the night of Tuesday, 12th inst., and about $200 worth of goods stolen.

Samuel S. Flanders, son of Moses Flanders of South Hampton, was gored by a bull which he was leading Saturday. His bowels were badly torn, but he will probably recover.

The store of Smith & Dow at North Hampton depot was broken into on Tuesday night, 12th inst., is as supposed by tramps, and about $80 worth of goods taken, consisting of rubber boots, men's overshoes, oranges, confectionery, etc. It is thought they were armed, as they took fifteen pounds of gunpowder.

Before Judge Shepley, in the U. S. Circuit Court, Wednesday, the case Pearl vs. the Jackson Co. of Nashua was heard on motion for preliminary injunction. At same time was heard a like motion in cases pending, where same question is involved, in Massachusetts and Rhode Island districts. The patent alleged to be infringed in this case was sustained and held valid in case Pearl against the Ocean Mills of Newburyport. The defendant attempted to show that a similar spindle existed before Pearl's invention, called the Whitney spindle, and that the result in the former case was improperly arrived at. D. Hall Rice and B. F. Thurston for complainants; Chas. Levi Woodbury for deft. The case is to be further heard to-day.

Mazeppa.

The following account of the first performance in this country of "Mazeppa," which was not performed in this city recently by Miss Kate Fisher and her combination, is of interest even if the wild hoss of Tartary did fail to come to time:

The scenic spectacle of "Mazeppa" was first produced in this country, at the Tremont theatre of Boston, in 1832 or '33. It had been for some months previously in rehearsal by Pelby at the Warren theatre, but from want of generosity toward a member of his company, as he alleged, named Gale, who was to sustain the part of Mezeppa, he left him and obtained a position at the Tremont theatre, and soon induced manager Barry to make preparations to bring out the since much renowned drama, Gale setting himself about training for the purpose a beautiful white steed, among the belongings of the theatre, that had been used in the spectacle of "Napoleon," and in the grand opera of "Masaniello," some time before. The entire company being pledged to secrecy as to what was going on, nothing was known outside in the matter until it was announced on a Saturday for performance the following Monday. The surprise of the theatre-going public, as well as that of manager Pelby of the Warren, was equalled by the complete success of the beautiful scenic play. The readers of "Mazeppa" had not imagined they would ever witness so near a realization of the thrilling poem, especially in the scene where the unfortunate hero is sent to seemingly certain destruction, lashed to the back of a steed that had never known whip or rein, or that an actor could be found who would run the risk of having his brains dashed out through the carelessness of another, perchance behind the scenes, while powerless to avert from himself such a catastrophe. The piece had a run for many nights in succession, people coming from far and near to witness it, and hundreds read the poem on which it was founded until they knew it word by word, to whom before it had been as unfamiliar as if in an unknown tongue. When the oft-repeated performances came to a close Gale purchased the noble animal who had done such good service, and taking him to New York and others of the large cities, induced the theatrical managers to bring out the drama, meeting everywhere the same success. Manager Hamblin, of the Bowery Theatre, New York, finally purchased the beautiful horse that had become so famous, named him "Mazeppa," and introduced him into others of the splendid scenic pieces for which "the old Bowery," in his day, is so well remembered. "Mazeppa" reached its highest splendor when Hamblin introduced into it the whole of Cooke's great circus company of London; fifty of the most beautiful Arabian horses and hundreds of men, an "army with banners," giving especial effect, as well as elsewhere, to the final scene, when Mazeppa returns with a host of warriors to take vengeance on his inhuman persecutor, who had doomed him to so terrible a fate. In later years "fair women" instead of "brave men," have taken wholly to themselves the initial role in the grand drama.

—A man in Brazil has confessed a murder committed as long ago as 1852. But justice has not been asleep all this time—four innocent persons were hanged for it in 1856.

—From five to fifteen books are left at their Hartford hotel daily for the autographs of Moody and Sankey. Moody writes his name and affixes either a text from the Bible or calls attention to a certain verse or chapter. Sankey does the same, and his texts always refer to praises of the Lord with songs and hymns.

—"A wise son maketh a glad father, but a foolish son is the grief of his mother." He standeth in front of saloons and on the street corners, and staareth at the people, especially if they be women; and, if the pavements be muddy, and she holdeth up her dress, he gazeth at her feet, and maketh rude remarks to his companions. He lieth in wait for those who know him not as a "beat." He talketh with them and flattereth them, and at last, prevalleth on them to "set 'em up."

—The late king of Italy was a good judge of men. His father, Carlo Alberto, was suspicious of Garibaldi, and would only give him a subordinate position in the army; but as soon as Victor Emmanuel was crowned he sought out Garibaldi and made him general, with large powers—a step that he never had to regret. He knew also that, in choosing Cavour, he would have frequently to yield his own opinions to that distinguished statesman and that he would have a cabinet of his own choice. To Cavour and Garibaldi is due a large share of the honor of accomplishing the unification of Italy.

—John McDonald, one of the seconds of the late John C. Heenan in his fights with Tom Sayers and Tom King, has published a statement in the London Sportsman, wherein he states that Heenan deliberately sold the fight with King, and that he received £4,000 for so doing. McDonald says that prior to the fight, Heenan, with two sporting men who accompanied him to England, and a prominent London bookmaker, met at a solicitor' office in the Strand, London. A written agreement was drawn up, signed and witnessed by all parties, and Heenan agreed to let King win the fight for £4,000. The bookmaker, who is still living, deposited the amount with the lawyer, who is still in practice in London, and he paid the amount to Heenan. Three days after the battle, McDonald was accused of drugging Heenan in the fight in question, but he did not deny it. He claims that he would not have yet published the swindle had Heenan been living, owing to obligations which bound him not to do so.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using.
